At Fairfield, Me., on the night of the 19th inst., the house of Timothy Osborne was struck by lightning; his daughter Mabel, aged twenty-two years, was instantly killed, and Mrs. Osborne badly injured.

Spring Medicine.

As a remedy to carry off the accumulation of thick bile from the liver and viscid secretion from the other glands of the system, the Swedish Botanic Compound is invaluable. It will arouse all the functions of the body to healthy action, purify the blood, restore the appetite, and carry off those symptoms of languor and heaviness everybody feels more or less as the warm season approaches.—Adv.

Two freight trains on the Pennsylvania railroad collided near Collins station on Tuesday morning, the 19th inst. Ten cars were wrecked, including four oil cars. The latter caught fire, and the whole mass was destroyed.

An Explanation.

The delicate, flowery and lasting fragrance of Floreston Cologne explain why it is such a favorite with the ladies.

Wm. H. Linscott, alias W. H. Willey, alias John H. Lucy, is charged with having more wives than the law allows, and the officers "want" him. It is said that he deserted his lawful wife and four children in Dover a year ago last May, and they are now in the poorhouse. Linscott, or whatever his real name is, went to Cohoes, N. Y., and engaged to marry the daughter of a prominent citizen; but on the day set for the wedding he ran off with another woman to Utica, and there married her. He soon deserted his latest wife, and went to Pennsylvania, where the officers are now looking for him, and where it is said he has been making love to another young woman.

A Big Success.

"My wife was sick two years with a complication of disorders her physicians could not cure, when I was led to try Parker's Ginger Tonic. It was a big success. Three bottles cured her, at a cost of a dollar and fifty cents, and she is now as strong as any woman."—R. D., Buffalo.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL, Conductor L. & B. R. R.

Mr. Wm. Westfall,

Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age, pain and disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N. Y., some time since, in a condition to excite the pity of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people are as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price (in postage stamps,) 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 21, 1882.

(Entered at the Post Office at Portsmouth, N. H. as second class matter.)

For Governor, Ben Butler.

Gen. Butler has been again nominated for governor of Massachusetts by a democratic convention. But the manner of nomination will be very agreeable to that portion of the democratic party of the old Bay state which has a regard for the traditions of the party. No delegate who had another choice was given an opportunity to express it. There was no balloting. And no negative was called. So much noise was made by the ayes when the nomination was proposed, and there was so much need of an apparently unanimous vote, that Judge Abbott, the president, said "it was hardly necessary to call the nays," and the gag was received with "another burst of applause."

Happy democratic party of Massachusetts! A professional politician who has belonged to all parties in turn is thrust upon them, and the ruling of the presiding officer suppressing every dissenting voice is hailed with vociferous applause. Nobody knows that even a majority of the convention voted for him. But the Post says "The regularity of his nomination no one can question."

Massachusetts Republican Convention.

The republicans of Massachusetts met in state convention at Worcester on the 20th inst. Senator Hoar was chosen president. An informal ballot resulted as follows: Scattering 108; W. W. Crapo, 504; Robert E. Bishop, 673. Subsequently Mr. Bishop was nominated by acclamation. It was voted to hold the next convention in Boston.

Odd Fellowship.

The annual session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge began at Baltimore on Monday, Sept. 18th. The representatives, escorted by drill associations of Baltimore and Alexandria, and a battalion from Washington city, paraded the streets, and marched to Odd Fellows hall, where an address of welcome was made by Grand Master McFarland of Maryland, with a response by Grand Sire Glenn of Georgia. The annual session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge was then begun. Twenty-seven grand lodges and twenty-six grand encampments responded to the roll call. The grand sire's report shows the condition of the order to be as follows: Grand lodges, fifty; subordinate lodges, 7,308; increase, 136; grand encampments, forty-one; increase, one; subordinate encampments, 1,829; decrease, eighteen; lodge initiations, 46,560; increase, 4,016; lodge members, 475,948; increase,, 19,006; encampment members, 80,643; increase, 3,145. Total relief, $1,831,171.38; increase, $135,192.16; total revenue, $4,854,877.17; increase, $236,030.40.

Providence, R. I., was designated as the place for the next annual session.

The grand officers were elected on Tuesday as follows: Grand sire, Eric J. Leach of Iowa; deputy grand sire, Henry F. Garey of Maryland; grand secretary, Theodore A. Ross of New Jersey; grand treasurer, Joshua Vansant of Maryland.

AROUND HOME.

The ships of the North Atlantic squadron commenced to get under weigh at ten minutes before two o'clock P. M. on Wednesday, the 20th inst., and the last vessel (the Kearsarge) passed Fort Point at 2:30, by which time the Tennessee was well out to sea. Quite a large number of spectators occupied the fort, and other places from which a good view could be obtained, to witness the departure of the squadron, which will rendezvous in New York about the 28th inst. The squadron has spent eighteen days in this harbor since its first arrival, and left a good deal of money with our business men.

An excursion party of 110 mail agents, under the conduct of Mr. T. B. Cheney, passed through this city on tee way to the mountains, Wednesday morning.

The team belonging to E. A. Chapman of York, which was stolen on Tuesday of this week shortly after noon while Mr. Chapman was in a place of business on Market square, was found the next morning on Warren street, hitched in front of the blacksmith shop of Mr. Ira C. Seymour. [Since the foregoing was in type we learn that the team was not stolen at all, the horse having walked around into Warren street while his owner was in the building, and stopped in front of the blacksmith shop, where he remained unfastened till evening, when some person hitched him. The team was recovered by the owner on Wednesday forenoon.]

Mr. Harry Lombard, who son was rescued from drowning some days ago through the courage and quick wit of Capt. Nat. Danielson, has presented the rescuer with a new suit of clothes as a token of his gratitude.

A large fleet of mackerel fishing vessels were plying their vocation near Cape Ann on Monday of this week; on Tuesday most of them were to the eastward of this port, in the vicinity of Boon Island; and on Wednesday they were still nearer the harbor, on both sides of the entrance. Some good takes, and many fair ones, are reported, a large school of mackerel having struck in.

The schooner Annie F. Conlon, Seaward master, remained in the lower harbor on the 20th, windbound.

The steamer Mystic has been fitted with a new rudder, and Capt. Trefethen says he can now put the boat within a sixteenth of an inch of any place desired. If he can do that, the passengers will be able to jump the rest of the distance without dislocating their ankles.

The evening train from North Conway for Boston over the Eastern railroad, on the 19th inst., when passing through Great Falls struck a French Canadian boy five years old, inflicting injuries from which he soon died.

Paymaster John F. Tarbell is detached from this navy yard, and ordered to the Boston yard. Paymaster C. F. Guild is detached from duty as inspector of provisions, etc., at this yard, and ordered to the receiving ship Wabash, at Boston. Paymaster John MacMahon is ordered to this yard.

Mr. Jedediah Rand, of Rye, has handed us a potato of the variety called "Early Beauty of Hebron," which weighs fourteen ounces. It is not so remarkable for its size, (though a fourteen-ounce potato is a pretty good sized one for this season in this vicinity,) as for its smoothness and freedom from blemish of any kind.

The present contract for the removal of Gangway rock will probably be completed this week.

The mooring buoys in the harbor, off the navy yard, are to be removed.

The Mystic took 10,000 feet of lumber to the navy yard on the 20th inst., for the department of yards and docks, from John H. Broughton.

A VESSEL WHICH WAS NOT LAUNCHED BY WATER.

As the traveller from Little Boar's Head drives to the North Hampton railroad station, he passes the "four corners," upon one of which is a large three-story dwelling house built a great many years ago by Capt. David Brown of North Hampton, and now occupied by one of his descendants. In front of the house Capt. Brown built, in 1819, the schooner "Ruth," of sixty-four tons register, old measurement. The spot is far from the sea, and no river or water is near. The vessel was hauled on the snow to the ocean by means of a long string of oxen, driven by a large number of men from North Hampton and the neighboring towns. To ensure the passage of the vessel through the fields and over the marshes there were laid in a barrel of rum, two barrels of crackers, and a liberal supply of dry cod-fish. The men received no pay for their labor in the transit, but were allowed a free use of the rum. The first day's progress was good, but the vessel did not get to sea by night-fall, and the voyage toward the salt water was interrupted, to be resumed the next morning at five o'clock. A severe snow storm began the next day, but the "spirit" of neighborly kindness was so general that every man was on hand with his oxen in the morning at four o'clock, ready for the job. During the second day, notwithstanding the supply of rum became exhausted, the vessel reached the water. The "Ruth" was owned by Messrs. David, Jonathan and Daniel Brown, and was employed in fishing. After some years, the business not proving remunerative, she was sold to Jeremiah and Moses Noble of Portsmouth, and became one of their fishing fleet.

Still further up the road, opposite the Leavitt mansion, was built in 1828 the schooner "Ranger," of fifty-seven tons, by Ebenezer Leavitt, and taken over land to salt water; but how much New England rum was required to complete the job we have no means of stating.

Apprentices.

One of the best carpenters in New York, who owns his shop and does a large business, said:

It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that the race of good workmen is dying out, and that were it not for the emigration of foreign workmen we would be at a loss for men to do even the commonest jobs. The best workmen do not come here at all, finding enough to do at home, so that those we do find are not such workmen as we had twenty years ago; but at least they are better than the men who have failed to learn a trade here. The newspapers say that men do not know their trades nowadays because their is no such thing as apprenticeship, and the reason we have no apprentices is that the trades unions will not allow more than one or two apprentices in each shop for fear of too much competition in the future. There was an attempt some years ago to restrict the number of apprentices, and I believe that in Chicago the boss masons are allowed but two apprentices, whether they employ five men or fifty. But all such rules are useless here because it is not in the shopowners' interest to have any apprentices at all. There is no such thing as a legal apprenticeship bond between a boy more than sixteen years of age and an employer; consequently a boy who is taught something useful in a shop will leave when he can get half a dollar more a week in some other place. A boy will not stay in a shop for more than a year without pay; we have to pay them for allowing themselves to be taught a trade. As boys are usually not worth their salt in a carpenter's shop we do without them. I have not had a boy for years, and will not until the law frames an apprenticeship indenture which will insure me some return for the trouble of teaching apprentices. The consequence is, that boys pick up a trade in a superficial way instead of learning it. Among the plumbers it is somewhat different, because every plumber has a helper, who, beginning as a boy, soon learns the trade, if he is bright.

"By the way," said a city belle to her bucolic cousin, "send me a bouquet of golden rod; I want to paint some." "There's no use in your trying to improve on it, ma'am," was the reply; "nature did a mighty neat stroke of painting herself when she put the finishing touches on the golden rod."

A despatch from St. Johns, Newfoundland, dated Sept. 19th, says: "The steamer 'Plover' arrived at Tilt cove to-day from Labrador. She reports fish and herring scarce, and the operations for the season pretty well over. The schooner 'Clare,' just from Round Harbor, brings information of eight schooners belonging to the Labrador fleet, on their way home, all poorly fished. The price of fish is steadily rising in consequence of the short catch. Several Gloucester fishing vessels put in here during the past few days with good fares. They report the weather fine and fish plenty on the banks."

Notice to Mariners.

Notice is given by the Lighthouse board that on and after Oct. 1st, 1882, the light from Eastern Point lighthouse, entrance to Gloucester harbor, Mass., will show as a red flashing light, instead of a fixed red, as now shown. The interval between the flashes will be five seconds.

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties instred in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

TUESDAY, Sept. 19th; Clark J.

At the regular term of the District Court of the United States, held in this city on the 16th inst., in the suit Charles W. Woodman, assignee in bankruptcy, vs. Roberts and others, judgment was ordered for the complainant. Wiggin for pliff.; Frink for defts.

Woodman, assignee, vs. Charles D. Towle, was postponed. Wiggin for piff.; Frink for Towle.

The court adjourned without day, after a brief session.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

TUESDAY, Sept. 19th; Clark J.

In case Henry L, King vs. Mary H. Adams and others, the action was entered "neither party." Leave was granted complainant to take certain original deeds from the files. Wallace of Milford, and H. S. Clark, for complainant; C. R. Morrison for Adams; Burns for H. Cooper.

Kennard M. Green, an alien, was admitted to citizenship.

The October term of the court will begin at Concord on Monday, Oct. 9th, (the 8th being Sunday;) the jurors will come in on the 10th. Judge Clark is to hold the term.

BURGLARY.

The store of A. P. Wendell & Co., on Market square, was broken into on the night of the 19th inst., by some person who was apparently well acquainted with the premises. Entrance was affected by breaking a pane of glass in the rear door of the store, and turning the key of the door, which was left in the lock; and a revolver, the most valuable one in the store, and twelve dozen of the most costly pocket-knives, were stolen. The door was left open by the thief or thieves in their retreat.

SAVINGS BANK REPORT.

The annual report of the Bank Commissioners of New Hampshire, made to the governor June 1882, has been printed and circulated. From this report we learn that there are sixty-five savings banks doing business in the state, having 104,432 depositors, and $36,181,186.70 on deposit, in addition to a guaranty fund and surplus amounting to $2,472,326.27. "That this large amount of deposit is securely invested," say the commissioners, "a premium account of $1,647,949.32, showing the actual value of the investments above their cost, is convincing proof."

During the year there has been a gain of 8743 depositors, this gain being almost uniform among the banks; and an increase of $4,312,860.10 in the deposits. And the commissioners say, that on the whole they think the depositors may congratulate themselves on the management of the institutions.

The examination of our own local institutions was made by Commissioner Lyman, who speaks of them in highly commendatory terms; of the Portsmouth Savings bank he says, "small depositors, for whom savings banks were instituted, have great reason to thank the managers of this institution for the special care with which their interests are protected." Of the Piscataqua Savings bank: "The treasurer has never received compensation up to the date of this examination, except the satisfaction of well discharging his duties and building up the bank." And of the Portsmouth Trust and Guaranty Company he says, "The promptness of this bank during all its misfortunes to pay deposits and dividends is appreciated, for its deposits increased since last examination $53,012.54." "Its guaranty is still large enough to make its deposits very secure." The condition of all Portsmouth savings banks is perfectly satisfactory, but their semi-annual statements have been so recently published that it does not seem necessary to copy the statistics.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

The convention of the republicans of Rockingham county, called to nominate candidates for county officers, was held at Exeter on Wednesday, the 20th inst.

The convention was called to order by Wm. B. Morrill, a member of the state committee, and permanent officers were chosen as follows: Charles E. Batchelder of Portsmouth, president; Sewell D. Tilton of Raymond, John Leavitt of North Hampton, and Thomas W. Rand of Rye, vice presidents; Albert H. Varney of South Newmarket, secretary.

The committee on credentials reported.

The first ballot was for a candidate for sheriff, and resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes	94
Necessary for a choice	48
Frank P. Cram of Hampton Falls had	1
J. W. Odlin of Exeter	3
George G. Lougee of Rye	13
John H. Kent of Portsmouth	77

And Mr. Kent was declared the nominee of the convention.

For a county commissioner, Newton Johnston of Portsmouth received on the first ballot seventy-nine votes, of eighty-two cast — a deserved compliment to an energetic and faithful official, who has carefully guarded the interests of the county. On the second and third ballots, for a second candidate for county commissioner, there was no choice; on the fourth ballot Wells C. Underhill of Auburn was nominated, receiving forty-seven votes. On the fifth ballot the ticket for county commissioner was completed by the choice of Joseph C. Burley of Epping, who had fifty-eight votes of eighty-five thrown. [The three gentlemen named comprise the present board of county commissioners.]

Proceeded to ballot for a candidate for county solicitor:

Whole number of votes cast	91
Necessary for a choice	46
Charles H. Knight of Exeter had	3
Irving T. George of Newmarket	4
G. C. Bartlett of Derry	16
Edwin C. Eastman of Exeter	18
Wm. Russell Foster of Portsmouth	22
Fred S. Hatch of Exeter	28

And there was no choice.

SECOND BALLOT.

Whole number of votes	92
Necessary for a choice	47
Knight	2
George	5
Bartlett	12
Hatch	23
Foster	23
Eastman	27

And there was no choice.

THIRD BALLOT.

Whole number of votes	88
Necessary for a choice	45
Bartlett	2
George	4
Hatch	22
Foster	27
Eastman	33

And there was no choice. The name of Fred S. Hatch was withdrawn, and the convention proceeded to the FOURTH BALLOT.

Whole number of votes	89
Necessary for a choice	45
William L. Foster had	1
E. G. Eastman	39
Wm. Russell Foster	49

And William Russell Foster was declared nominated.

George W. Weston was renominated for register of deeds, Woodbury M. Durgin for register of probate, and Winthrop N. Dow for county treasurer, by acclamation.

The nominating convention for the Rockingham senatorial district, comprising the towns of Atkinson, Brentwood, Danville, East Kingston, Exeter, Hampstead, Hampton Falls, Kensington, Kingston, Newton, Plaistow, Sandown, Seabrook and South Hampton, was held in Exeter at the conclusion of the county convention, and Francis P. French was selected as the candidate of the party in that district.

DROWNED.

Henry Tobey, aged thirteen years, son of Henry Tobey of Eliot, Me., was drowned on Wednesday forenoon of this week at the Portsmouth & Dover railroad bridge at Dover point. The boy and his father had been gathering rockweed up the river, and were proceeding homeward, Mr. Tobey being in a loaded dory, and the boy following in a light one; the loaded boat went through the bridge all right, but the boy's boat was carried against a pile and capsized, and the boy drowned.

This evening, at Music hall, Mr. Chas. L. Davis will appear as "Alvin Joslin," the New England farmer, a character in which he has won fame and much pelf, and given an evening's hearty enjoyment to scores of thousands of persons. See advertisement.

The Woman's Temperance League will hold a meeting this (Thursday) afternoon at three o'clock, for the first time in three months, and a full attendance is requested.

Lawrence Barrett, who is to play Hamlet in this city Saturday night, is to play with John McCullough and Mary Anderson in the grand dramatic festival at Cincinnati in April next.

Invalids, Epicures,

and, in fact, everyone should understand the value of that delicious food source—SEA MOSS FARINE. It is produced by inventive skill from the nutritious Irish Sea Moss, and is, without exception, the best Invalids' Food and most useful basis for light wholesome food and desserts now in existence. For puddings, jellies, creams, blanc manges and other table delicacies, the Sea Moss Farine excels everything known, and in the sick room it is simply indispensable.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truly called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is seriously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of the potent virtues, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It comes only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimony attests.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonderfully its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

Liquor Dealers' Convention.

At the liquor dealers' and saloon keepers' convention on the 19th inst, at Rock Island, Ill., the trustees' report was presented, showing the result of the past year's work. It takes a gloomy view of the adoption by Iowa of the prohibitory amendment; of the fidelity of Kansas to Gov. St. John; of Nebraska's prohibition tendency; of Missouri's "narrow escape" and of the growth of prohibition sentiment in the south. Illinois, they say, is like a feeble victim of this "robber of democratic government, constitutional and individual liberty." They attribute these prohibition successes to their sloth and inactivity. The business of Illinois is threatened. The board has been organizing, agitating and doing political and legal work. The services of Rev. C. C. Burnett of Iowa, and other lecturers, have been secured. This kind of agitation is deemed wisest, and the board recommend that means be provided to continue. There has been a large gain in the number of local societies, and an increase of forty per cent in membership has been achieved.

—Nobby fall pants have very tight legs with no spring at the bottoms. The object of the tailor is to make the wearer as nearly like a hair-pin as possible. A man in No. 10 shoes and a pair of trowsers that bind his ankles closely, presents a picture as graceful as those the Chinese are accused of drawing on tea chests. The stylish coat is the reefer, a double-breasted, short sack, which buttons nearly to the chin. The vest is cut very short.

Mr. Calvin M. Priest, of the New York Club stables, 15 and 17 E. Twenty-eighth street, New York, writes: We keep our stables constantly supplied with St. Jacobs Oil. in rheumatic affections, cuts, bruises, etc., occurring among horses, we have yet to find anything equal to the Great German Remedy.

A municipal ball was given at Monterey, Mexico, Monday night, the 18th inst., to celebrate the completion of the Mexican National railway, and was a brilliant affair. The Mexican National railroad was on Monday accepted by the engineer of the Mexican government.

Why suffer from corns? German Corn Remover eradicates them at once. 25c. Druggists.

On the steamer Asia, which foundered on Lake Huron during a terrible gale on the 14th inst., were a young man named Christie and his bride, who were married on the day of sailing. One man and one woman were the only survivors out of over one hundred persons.

The wreck of the ship Orient, before reported wrecked on the voyage from Ship island to Liverpool, has been towed to Southwest Pass.

Why Should They.

No man or woman can do satisfactory work when the brain is dull, the nerves unsteady, the system relaxed and they feel generally wrecked. Why should anybody drag through their work in this condition, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic will at moderate cost give them the strength and will to perform their duties satisfactorily.—Ed.

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who think these sufferings should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decay of man, or virtually impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

250th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic. The result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

MALARIA!

THE ONLY REMEDY KNOWN To Destroy this Deadly Pest.

The most alarming fact, in our sanitary conditions, is the prevalence of Malarial Poison not only in marshy, low-lying districts, but in the cities and upon elevated ground where, a few years since, it was unheard of. Frequently fatal disorders of the digestive functions, wasted and enfeebled body and even insanity are the dire effects of malarial poisoning, the sure precursors of death if the poison is not neutralized. The inhabitants of the Del. & Hudson Canal, as well as the inhabitants of the adjoining country, have been great sufferers from Malaria. Not until Dr. Keeley published their find a reliable remedy. Now thousands testify that there is but one real and speedy cure for malarial poisoning, and that is Dr. Keeley's "Favorite Remedy," which by its action upon the blood purifies it and restores a healthy tone to the entire system. As a preventive, in localities where this danger lurks, it is invaluable. The "Favorite Remedy" also cures the worst liver and kidney complaints, and all diseases caused by vitiated blood. For sale by all druggists, price $1. per bottle. It is an absolutely safe, purely vegetable remedy, and the greatest alterative medicine in the world. STRENGTH to vigorously push a business, strength to study a profession, strength to regulate a household, strength to do a day's labor without physical pain. All this represents what is wanted, in the often heard expression, "Oh! I wish I had the strength!" If you are broken down, have not energy, or feel as if life was hardly worth living, you can be relieved and restored to robust health and strength by taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, which is a true tonic—a medicine universally recommended for all wasting diseases.

501 N. Fremont St., Baltimore

During the war I was injured in the stomach by a piece of a shell, and have suffered from it ever since. About four years ago it brought on paralysis, which kept me in bed six months, and the best doctors in the city said I could not live. I suffered fearfully from indigestion, and for over two years could not eat solid food and for a large portion of the time was unable to retain even liquid nourishment. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters and now after taking two bottles I am able to get up and go around and am rapidly improving.

G. DECKER.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is a complete and sure remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Weakness and all diseases requiring a true, reliable, non-alcoholic tonic. It enriches the blood, gives new life to the muscles and tone to the nerves.

Capture of "Oklahama" Payne.

Lieut. Taylor of the ninth United States cavalry, with six soldiers, reached Little Rock, Ark., early in the morning on the 20th inst., having in charge the noted Oklahama Payne and twelve followers, consisting of ten men and two women. They were arrested seven miles from Fort Reno as trespassers on the Indian territory. At Henriette, Clay county, Texas, Payne got out a habeas corpus, but Taylor refused to surrender the party to the civil authorities, saying his orders were to deliver them to the United States marshal at Fort Smith. An order was then issued arresting Taylor for contempt of court, but he would not permit the sheriff to arrest him, and the former was unable to do so by force. The prisoners left Little Rock for Fort Smith on the first train, arriving the same evening.

A Hen Set on Golden Eggs.

A well-to-do farmer named Frederick Kline, who lives near Foster's Crossing, Ohio, has lost his surplus wealth in a manner that is calculated to destroy his confidence in all the safeguards with which treasures of gold can be surrounded. Some time ago he was a depositor in a Cleveland bank which suddenly suspended operations and was found to contain no assets. Farmer Kline, hearing of the suspension, came to the city to collect his account, and, finding that it was worthless, declared then and there, in a manner in which emphasis was not lacking, that he would never, so long as he lived, put another dollar in any bank or like institution. A shot time ago he came into possession of $800 in gold, hard cash. The question at once arose where he should put it for safety. Procuring a strong tin box he placed the money in it, fastening it securely, and put the box in the bottom of an old ash barrel in his woodshed, filling the barrel up with various kinds of rubbish. He placed a box on top of it, which he filled with straw, and placed in one corner a dozen eggs and an old setting hen. He argued that should the thieves come around they would never think of looking for anything valuable in the old barrel of rubbish, and even then should they chance to suspect the hiding-place the hen would make such a clatter that the household would be aroused. One Sunday when he had nothing else to do he examined the barrel. The hen was unusually cross, which pleased her owned, until he found that the tin box, with its contents, was gone. The neighbors who dropped in later in the day to console the old gentleman, explained the unusual irritability of the hen on the ground that she had been seriously disturbed the night previous by the visit of the thieves.

Frog Eaters.

The use of frogs as an article of food is increasing in Boston. The largest dealer sells about 150,000 a year, at 60 to 65 cents a dozen. In the busy season he employs 12 to 15 men, who go through Massachusetts and even into Maine and New Hampshire, catching frogs, which are shipped alive in boxes prepared for the purpose. The matter of keeping live frogs through the winter in quantities sufficient to supply the market requires considerable labor. A room has to be prepared with a moss floor, and the temperature of the room and of the water of the tanks in which the frogs are confined must be kept very even, and every frog, at least once a week, must be taken from the water and allowed to run loose upon the mossy floor to keep them in good condition.

—Mamma—"Oh, you naughty boy, to be drowning flies." Fred—"I'm not drowning 'em; I'm putting them into the water to cool 'em."

—A boy paid his first visit to one of the public schools the other day as a scholar, and when he came home at night his mother inquired: "Well, Henry, how do you like going to school?" "Bully!" he replied, in an excited voice. "I saw four boys licked, one girl get her ear pulled, and a big scholar burned his elbow on the stove. I don't want to miss a day."

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Sept. 20.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 1622; Sheep and Lambs 6000; Swine 13,534; Veals 69; Horses 64; number of western cattle 1377; eastern and northern cattle, milch cows, etc., 285.

Prices of Beef Cattle ℔ 100 lbs, live weight—Extra quality $7.50 @ $7.87½; first quality $6.50 @ 7.37½; second quality $5.50 @ 6.37½; third quality $4.50 @ 5.37½; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, etc., $3.50 @ 4.37½.

Brighton hides 10c ℔ lb.

Brighton tallow 7¼ @ 8c ℔ lb.

Country hides, heavy ones 9c ℔ lb; light ones, 7½c ℔ lb.

Country tallow 5c ℔ lb.

Calf skins 12½c ℔ lb.

Sheep skins 50 @ 75c each.

Lamb skins $1 @ 1 12½ each.

The quality of the western cattle brought in the past week was of a better grade than those in market one week ago. Cattle cost higher at the west, but the trade here has not improved any over that of one week ago, prices realized being about the same and trade slow. There were a few lots of cattle in which were of an extra quality, and for which more than 8c ℔ lb was being asked, but the range of prices of the larger portion sold was from 5½ @ 7½c ℔ lb live weight. A part of the western cattle did not arrive in market until late on Tuesday.

Working Oxen—There has not been a large lot of working oxen in market for some time past, a few pairs being all that the demand requires. We note sales of 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2700 lbs, $130; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 2800 lbs, $146; 1 pr, 6 ft 7 in, live weight 2700 lbs, $145; 1 pr, 6 ft 4 in, live weight 2450 lbs, $110.

Milch Cows, Springers, &c—Good cows sell readily, but common grades sell slow. We note sales of one very choice new milch cow at $75; 1 new milch at $60; 1 cow and calf at $57; 2 do at $45 each; 6 do at $45 each; 1 do at $55; 1 new milch cow at $58; 3 cows and calves $50 each.

Veal calves in fair demand at 3 @ 8c ℔ lb, live weight.

Sheep and Lambs—Most of those from the west were owned by Hollis & Co. Lambs costing from 6 @ 7c, and sheep 5 @ 6c ℔ lb landed at the yards. Those from Maine were all consigned to Hollis & Co to slaughter and market at a commission.

Store pigs sell dull at 6 @ 8c ℔ lb, or from $2 at $ 50 ℔ head. Western fat hogs cost this week 8½ @ 9½c ℔ lb, live weight.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I took for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL, Conductor L. & B. R. R.

Mr. Wm. Westfall,

Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age. Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age, pain and disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N[illegible]e time since, in a condition to excite the [illegible] of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people are as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 22, 1882.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N. H. as second-class matter.]

For Congress, Martin A. Haynes.

The republican convention at Dover on Thursday last nominated Hon. Martin A. Haynes of Lake Village, as a candidate for Congress for this district.

Mr. Haynes, several years ago, resided in this city, and was engaged in the counting room of the Rockingham Mill while it was in operation under the charge of Hon. Geo. C. Gilmore. He was then a sterling republican, and has never since been other than a reliable member of the party, doing noble service on all suitable occasions, by voice and pen, in behalf of the principles of the party with which he has appreciated.

Believing in the integrity of the Union, and seeing a duty before him, when our regiments were being formed in the late war he volunteered as a private soldier, and remained in the ranks until his regiment was mustered out of service. But though always ready to maintain the justice of the Union cause, he has never been bitter nor uncharitable in his allusions to the people of the south; when the confederate cause was crushed, the war for him was ended.

He has for several years served as clerk of the Supreme Court of Belknap county, and has ably edited the Lake Village Times. When his name was first mentioned as a candidate for Congress it met with a hearty response from those members of the republican party, all over the district, who wanted to see conventions controlled by the people instead of being managed solely in the interest of the political operators. The boys in blue were especially jubilant at the prospect of having the head of the G. A. R. in New Hampshire sent to Congress; and without being the possessor of large wealth, which could, in some quarters perhaps, secure supporters at the polls, he will be found to have earnest advocates in every town, volunteering to his aid.

Col. Haynes is a practical man, alive to the wants of the manufacturing and other interests in this district. He will be ready to aid in all proper measures that may commend themselves to the good judgment of a representative. He will be found to be industrious and approachable, and we hope to see his election by a handsome majority, such as an honest, straightforward man of the people like him deserves to receive at the hands of the voters of the first district.

New York Republican Convention.

The republican state convention of New Yoak met at Saratoga on the 20th inst., and resulted in a crushing defeat for the "half-breeds." E. L. Madden was chosen chairman, and Judge Folger was nominated for governor on the second ballot by a vote of 257 to 222 for Gov. Cornell, and eighteen for James W. Wadsworth. On motion of Senator Warner Miller, a strong supporter of Gov. Cornell's renomination, Judge Folger's nomination was made unanimous. The best evidence that the nomination is a good and strong one is found in the fact that it is vigorously denounced by the democrats.

News and Notes.

Oliver Ames of Easton was nominated for lieutenant-governor, Henry B. Pierce of Abington for secretary of state, Daniel A. Gleason of Medford for treasurer, Charles R. Ladd of Springfield for auditor, and Edgar J. Sherman of Lawrence for attorney-general, by the Massachusetts republican state convention.

Advices of Sept. 20th, from Pensacola, Fla., report the yellow fever spreading, there having been forty-one new cases and six deaths that day, nearly all the new cases being among the colored people.

In the case of the United States vs. John L. Rice, city marshal of Springfield, Mass., charged with unlawfully taking from the post office at Ludlow and opening a letter addressed to Mrs. Thomas Carr, with intent to obstruct correspondence and pry into the business of the husband of Mrs. Carr, the defendant contended that any letter he may have taken from the post office and opened, addressed to Mrs. Carr, was taken and opened with her permission. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.

George H. Carr of South Framingham, Mass., has been arrested for brutal cruelty to a child. It seems that Carr, who has only been in town for a short time, lives with a woman named Augusta Whitney, who, it is said, belongs in Uxbridge. She has a little boy, three years old, who, she says, belongs to a lady in Providence, and that she is boarding it. According to the reports the child has been badly abused, having been beaten often, and on two occasions burned. It is claimed that on one occasion Carr seated the child on a hot stove, severely burning it. Carr admits that fact, but claims it was accidental.

Thomas Griffin of Erving, Mass., was killed by the cars Sept. 20th while walking on the track.

Haverhill, Mass., has a new democratic paper, the Outline.

Ex-Senator Christiancy has been granted a divorce from his wife on the ground of desertion.

Raymond has arranged for a winter trip to California. The trip includes a sojourn of five months at the Hotel Del Monte, Monterey, Cal. The party is to leave Boston on Thursday, Nov. 30th, and to return June 30th next year. The price of tickets, including hotel board and all expenses, is placed at $750.

A special from Guaymas, Mexico, says: "A courier from Concordia, a town near Mazatlan, says that five people were killed in a church which was struck by lightning. A number of other persons were seriously injured in the rush to escape."

The trial of Thomas A. McDevitt, Benjamin B. Wiley, Christian Price and H. LeGrand Ensign, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the star route mail contracts, began in the United States district court at Philadelphia on the 20th inst.

James G. Blaine, J. Warren Keifer, Neal Dow and Senators Ingalls and Plumb, were members of a party of gentlemen who attended Emma Abbott's performance of "Lucia" in Topeka, Kan., Friday night, Sept. 15th.

Richard H. Jackson, of Providence, R. I., a colored hostler forty years old, committed suicide Sept. 20th by drinking rat poison and cutting his throat.

Mary A. Prince, a widow thirty years old, with one child, hung herself in Newport, R. I., Sept. 20th.

Vetal Du Puer, an old Frenchman who has been a ferryman in Madawaska, Me., for many years, rowed across the St. John river to get some liquor to use at the wedding of his daughter. The old man had not returned at last accounts, and his whereabouts is a mystery. Probably he was drowned. The wedding ceremonies were promptly performed, however.

Arabi Pasha asserts that all his acts were done by order of the khedive and sulton, and he was unable to restrain his army from fighting.

Lieut. Danenhower has completed his report on the circumstances attending the loss of the Jeannette, and presented it to Acting Secretary Walker, who says that the report will not be made public until Engineer Melville's report has been received, and perhaps not until the conclusion of the official investigation which will be made.

J. T. Trowbridge is to contribute the leading serial story to "St. Nicholas" during the coming year. It will be called "The Tinkham Brothers' Tide-Mill," and, like all of his stories, while neither unnatural nor overdrawn, will be vivid in style and exciting in incident. Many fathers, who are now subscribing to St. Nicholas for their children, will recall their own delight in reading his "Neighbor Jackwood" and "Cudjo's Cave."

New Hampshire's First Savings Banks.

From the bank commissioners, report we extract the following notice of the origin of savings banks in the United States and in New Hampshire. The petition alluded to was presented to the legislature in 1818:

The first savings bank in this country was established at Philadelphia in November, 1816, and the second on the next February in Boston, and the third in New York in 1819. In the Portsmouth Savings bank hangs the first petition, so far as we know, ever presented to the legislature of New Hampshire asking for a savings bank charter. Notwithstanding the respected names attached, the charter was not granted; but in 1823 the Portsmouth Savings bank, and the Savings Bank for the County of Strafford at Dover, were chartered, and commenced their still-continued business. All five of these early banks are, we think, still in active business, and no state can have more reason to be proud of its first two savings banks than New Hampshire.

AROUND HOME.

The longest and heaviest train which ever left the Eastern railroad wharf at Noble's island was hauled off on Tuesday of this week by shifting engine No. 104; it consisted of twenty-eight and one-half "long cars," each long car containing from ten to fifteen tons of stove coal. The Conway freight train on Tuesday morning comprised 58 1-2 cars, and the shifting engine was called into requisition to aid in starting it; and the White mountain excursion train the same morning left this city as a "double-header" of sixteen cars, the shifting engine giving this train also a push behind.

The democratic convention for the 22d (Newmarket) senatorial district was held at Newmarket on the 21st inst., and Lafayette S. Hall of Newmarket was renominated. This district includes ward three of this city.

A. A. Maxwell of Wells, a member of the senior class of Dartmouth college, has been chosen manager of the Dartmouth base ball nine for the ensuing year.

Balzac's Method.

When Bertall, the caricaturist, whose death was recently announced, was engaged in the work of illustrating Balzac's novels, he once upon a time came upon a difficult and involved passage, so abstruse that he took it to the author, with the humble remark: "I don't exactly catch the sense of this."

"Let's see it," said the novelist. "Oh, there's no meaning to it at all. That's why I put it in."

"Why you put it in?"

"Exactly. You see for the average reader all that is clear seems easy; and if from time to time I didn't give him a complicated and empty sentence, he would think he knew as much as I did. Consequently every now and then I tip him something heart-breaking; and he puzzles over it and rereads it, and takes his head between his hands and glares at it, and then, when he can make neither head nor tail of it, he is perfectly happy, and says: Great man, that Balzac; he knows more than I do!"

—A cynical old bachelor of Portland, Oregon, accounts for the fact that Portland is the wealthiest city of its size in the union, by stating that it rains there for six consecutive months in the year, and as women can't get out to go shopping the wealth naturally accumulates.

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest reference as both sides of the Atlantic, as an invaluable Tonic prescribed in cases of General Debility, Nervous Depression, Enfeebled Constitution and Female Weakness.

NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a specific for their benefit, as it strengthens the digestion, sharpens the appetite, invigorates and tones up the entire system, and secures a generous flow of milk.

WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from insomnia and weariness, the result of disease, over-study, or nervous attacks, will derive substantial benefit from its use. It removes the system to its normal condition and brings back the bloom of youth.

INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life, and restoring lost strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It quickens pulse upon the opposite nor affects the brain.

DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weaknesses of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It improves the digestion, purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and restores the spirits.

WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who require some artificial nourishment—and especially those who are inclined to Consumption—will find this preparation exactly suited to their needs. It is a marvelous tonic for Coughs and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.

AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The whole tendency of its action is to stimulate the digestion, to fabricate blood, and to build up the tissues; it invariably does this in a healthy and permanent way.

THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Fluid Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from alcohol. It is readily retained on the stomach and contains none but wholesome and nourishing ingredients. The genuine preparation bears on the label a fac-simile signature of Baron von Liebig, and a facsimile of his Signature, as well as that of A. VOGELER & CO., Nassauan, Mo., Sole Agents for America.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

256th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Sept. 21st, Mayor Treat in the chair:

Present the full board, except Ald. Anderson.

Records of last meeting were read and approved.

George A. Jackson was authorized to encumber Bridge street for building purposes.

W. I. Drake was granted leave to repair a drain on Atkinson street, Dennis Shea to repair one on Washington street, and W. A. Willey one on Langdon street.

A communication from A. J. Penhallow, concerning vaults, was referred to the health committee.

The trustees of the proprietors of the burying ground on South street asked to have a trap or catch-basin on Sagamore road, by which sand washed down the hill may be prevented from washing into the cemetery.

A communication from Oliver Ayers relative to an encroachment on Melcher street by the extension into the street of a fence at the premises lately owned by Lafayette Laighton, was referred to the committee on streets.

Pay roll of firemen and engineers, amounting to $1420.72, was ordered to be paid.

Petition of Wm. Conn for a crosswalk at Dover street was referred to the committee on streets.

A petition from residents of South street for the change of four naphtha lights on that street to new lamps without chimneys, was referred to the committee on street lights.

The mayor reported that he had conferred with the president of the Eastern railroad concerning the north pond; that he believed a plan could be devised which would abate the nuisance now existing, and that the president and engineer of the road would visit the city shortly to examine the premises.

The committee on streets were authorized to purchase a stone watering trough for the pump at the south ward-room.

Adjourned.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.

The republicans of the first congressional district met in convention at Dover on Thursday, Sept. 21st, to name the man who is to represent the district in the Congress of the United States for the two years commencing March 4th, 1883. Permanent officers were chosen as follows:

President, Hon. John D. Lyman of Exeter;

Vice Presidents, Samuel C. Fisher of Dover, John C. Bickford of Manchester, D. S. Foster of Canterbury, Gardner Cook of Laconia, John Rust of Wolfeboro, Samuel A. Haley of Newmarket;

Secretaries, J. Horace Kent of Portsmouth, W. B. Fellowes of Sandwich;

Committee on Resolutions, Morrill of Exeter, Putney of Manchester, Whitehouse of Rochester, Blaisdell of Gilford, Sawyer of Wakefield, Wyatt of Northfield.

The result of the first ballot was declared at two o'clock P. M., as follows:

Whole number of votes cast	295
Necessary for a choice	148
J. F. Briggs of Manchester had	1
Alonzo Nute of Farmington	1
Daniel Saunders of Durham	1
Gilman Marston of Exeter	2
Person C. Cheney of Manchester	4
Charles S. Whitehouse of Rochester	7
Emmons B. Phillbrick of Rye	8
Alonzo H. Quint of Dover	8
Andrew H. Young of Dover	56
Benjamin F. Prescott of Epping	84
Martin A. Haynes of Lake Village	133

And there was no choice. The name of Col. Andrew H. Young was withdrawn by C. E. Sawyer, and the convention proceeded with the

SECOND BALLOT.

Whole number of votes cast	287
Necessary for a choice	144
Whitehouse had	1
Philbrick	2
Quint	13
Cheney	29
Prescott	83
Haynes	149

And Martin A. Haynes of Lake Village (Gilford) was declared the nominee of the convention. Mr. Haynes was waited upon by a committee, returned with them to the hall, and accepted the nomination in a neat speech.

REPUBLICAN COUNCILLOR CONVENTION.

The republican convention for the first councillor district was held in the city council rooms at Dover on the 21st inst.

The convention was called to order by Hon. C. M. Murphy of Dover, member of the state committee, and the following-named gentlemen appointed a committee on permanent organization: W. B. Morrill of Exeter, Albert Little of Atkinson, Ora B. Patten of Kingston—which committee reported officers as follows:

President, William H. Hackett of Portsmouth;

Secretaries, Ezra H. Twombly of Dover, Henry D. Yeaton of Dover;

Committee on credentials, John Pender of Portsmouth, Horace Godfrey of Hampton Falls, William L. Hobbs of Dover, John W. Currier of East Kingston;

Committee to sort and count votes, Babb of Farmington, Little of Atkinson, Beatty of Kingston.

The committee on credentials reported 123 delegates present, and it was voted to proceed to ballot for a candidate for councillor, which was done with the following result:

Whole number of votes cast	111
Necessary for a choice	56
Fernando Moulton had	1
Albert L. Eastman	30
Amos C. Chase	80

And Mr. Chase was announced as the candidate of the convention. Having been apprised of his nomination, Mr. Chase appeared before the convention and in a short speech accepted the honor.

THE AQUEDUCT.

Now that the long and ruinous dry spell of the summer has been succeeded by rain enough to increase the stock of water in the wells and springs, it may not be amiss to call attention to the fact that that much-berated institution, the Portsmouth aqueduct, has furnished all through the season all the water required, and of the usual excellent quality. There have been complaints in many cities of a short supply; and in some other places, where the quantity was not seriously curtailed, the fluid was so offensive to the taste and smell that it could hardly be used. But even during the few days, near the end of the drought, when the pumping station at the Sherburne spring was not at work owing to the destruction of the building and machinery by fire, the Portsmouth aqueduct not only supplied all the water needed in the city, but answered all calls for water for the use of steamboats and hotels. It has been a somewhat popular amusement in the past to "blow up" the Aqueduct Co.; indeed, we are not sure but what this paper some years ago may have said something in that line on one or two occasions,—hence we are all the more ready to render credit when it is so plainly deserved.

COULDN'T PASS.

Locomotives No. 67 and No. 71 attempted to pass each other on the same track in the yard of the Eastern railroad in this city on the 21st inst., but failed. One was leaving the round-house and the other was on the way to enter it, and they bumped each other hard enough to disarrange things considerably; one could be made to go ahead, but would not go backward; the other would not budge either way under her own steam.

LAWRENCE BARRETT AS "HAMLET."

To-morrow evening, at Music hall, the dramatic treat of the season will be offered—Shakespeare's tragedy of "Hamlet," with the eminent artist Lawrence Barrett in the title role, supported by a strong company. Mr. Barrett's fame as a tragedian was long ago established, and "Hamlet" is said to be one of his most powerful assumptions. Tickets can be procured of Mr. Myers, at the Congress block bookstore.

Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars will hold a special meeting this evening. See advertisement.

Over a hundred and fifty sail of fishing vessels were at anchor in the lower harbor on Thursday.

The schooner Ann T. Sipples, some time ago reported as having put into Chatham, Mass., in distress, having sprung a leak on Shovelful shoal while on the way to this port with a cargo of coal, arrived here on the 20th inst. Forty tons of her cargo was discharged and sold in Chatham.

A boy named Murphy, sixteen or seventeen years old, howling and crying drunk, gave a musical entertainment in the police station on Thursday night.

Invalids, Epicures,

and, in fact, everyone should understand the value of that delicious food source—SEA MOSS FARINE. It is produced by inventive skill from the nutritious Irish Sea Moss, and is, without exception, the best Invalids' Food and most useful basis for light wholesome food and desserts now in existence. For puddings, jellies, creams, blanc manges and other table delicacies, the Sea Moss Farine excels everything known, and in the sick room it is simply indispensable.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, feelings all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the Liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and lets no to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

Philadelphia, Pa. (3) MRS. A. M. D.

MALARIA!

THE ONLY REMEDY KNOWN

To Destroy this Deadly Pest.

The most alarming fact, in our sanitary conditions, is the prevalence of Malarial Poison not only in marshy, low-lying districts, but in the cities and upon elevated ground where, a few years since, it was unheard of. Frequently fatal disorders of the digestive functions, wasted and enfeebled body and even insanity are the dire effects of malarial poisoning, the sure precursor of death if the poison is not neutralized. The boatmen on the Del. & Hudson Canal, as well as the inhabitants of the adjoining country, have been great sufferers from Malaria. Not until a few years past did they find a reliable remedy. Now thousands testify that there is but one real and speedy cure for malarial poisoning and that is Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which by its action upon the blood purifies it and restores a healthy tone to the entire system. As a preventive of localities where this danger lurks, it is invaluable. The "Favorite Remedy" also cures most liver and kidney complaints and all diseases caused by vitiated blood. For sale by all druggists, price $1 per bottle. It is an absolutely safe, purely vegetable remedy, the greatest alterative medicine in the world. STRENGTH to vigorously push a business, strength to study a profession, strength to regulate a household, strength to do a day's labor without physical pain. All this represents what is wanted, in the often heard expression, "Oh! I wish I had the strength!" If you are broken down, have not energy, or feel as if life was hardly worth living, you can be relieved and restored to robust health and strength by taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, which is a true tonic—a medicine universally recommended for all wasting diseases.

501 N. Fremont St., Baltimore

During the war I was injured in the stomach by a piece of a shell, and have suffered from it ever since. About four years ago it brought on paralysis, which kept me in bed six months, and the best doctors in the city said I could not live. I suffered fearfully from indigestion, and for over two years could not eat solid food and for a large portion of the time was unable to retain even liquid nourishment. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters and now after taking two bottles I am able to get up and go around and am rapidly improving.

G. DECKER.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is a complete and sure remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Weakness and all diseases requiring a true, reliable, non-alcoholic tonic. It enriches the blood, gives new life to the muscles and tone to the nerves.

Owing to gross mismanagement a passenger train from Mount Vernon for New Haven, standing on a side track in the tunnel at 4th avenue, New York city, at about nine o'clock in the morning on the 22d inst., was run into by a local train from Harlem, and the six rear cars of the New Haven train smashed. Mrs. Eugenie Aubert was instantly killed, and many others wounded, several of whom it was thought could not live. One young woman, Miss Lizzie Crommeline, had her left foot cut off.

A Big Success.

"My wife was sick two years with a complication of disorders her physicians could not cure, when I was led to try Parker's Ginger Tonic. It was a big success. Three bottles cured her, at a cost of a dollar and fifty cents, and she is now as strong as any woman."—R. D., Buffalo.

The buildings of Clarence Farnsworth, near West Rumney, were badly damaged by a terrible thunder storm on Tuesday night, Sept. 19th, which was accompanied by hail and wind. Much damage was done in Dorchester and other hill towns remote from communication.

Esthetic Housekeepers, with critical eyes, know the value of Electro-Silicon, the famous silver polish. It produces a beautiful lustre with less labor than any article that is free from destructive chemicals. Avoid imitations. Druggists.

Spring Medicine.

As a remedy to carry off the accumulation of thick bile from the liver and viscid secretion from the other glands of the system, the Swedish Botanic Compound is invaluable. It will arouse all the functions of the body to healthy action, purify the blood, restore the appetite, and carry off those symptoms of languor and heaviness everybody feels more or less as the warm season approaches.—Adv.

The Hillsboro County Baptist society held its annual meeting Thursday, Sept. 21st, at the Methodist church in Hudson. The speakers were Rev. J. A. Johnson, Rev. F. B. Ayer, Deacon William Brown, Frederic Alvord and others. The following officers were elected: Rev. F. D. Austin, president; Rev. J. A. Johnson, Rev. A. G. Toggard, vice presidents; L. Putnam, secretary and treasurer. The report of the superintendent showed that the society had done good work.

An Explanation.

The delicate, flowery and lasting fragrance of Floreston Cologne explain why it is such a favorite with the ladies.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hale Smith, widow of the late Hon. Jeremiah Smith of Dover, and mother of the present Hon. Jeremiah Smith of the same city, died on the 21st inst. in the 82d year of her age. Her husband died just forty years previously, on the 21st of September, 1842.

Oyster Sauce.

Take one pint of oysters and scald them in their own broth; add salt, pepper and a blade of mace. Let them boil up once and skim them out. Only Two Bottles.

Messrs. Johnson, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with request to send a good catarrh cure to two officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentlemen told them that both the officers and the wife of Gen. John C. Fremont Gov. of Arizona, had been cured of catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm.

Messrs. Ely Bros., Druggists, Owego, N. Y.—A few days ago I saw a lady who had used your Cream Balm for Catarrh, and had found more relief in one bottle than from all other remedies she had tried. I enclose $1 for two bottles. Yours respectfully, JAMES HITCHEN, M. D., Providence, R. I.

Mr. Wm. Westfall,

Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age, pain and disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N[illegible] time since, in a condition to excite the [illegible] of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people are as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1876.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyll n or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

RECENT INVENTIONS.

What Modern Scientists Have Done for the Public Welfare.

Distance Overcome—Seeming Impossibilities Easily Accomplished.

Proof That the World Moves and That Mankind is Progressing.

The present age is one of advancement. On every side the inventive mind, deep research and cunning hands are diligently striving to perfect schemes whereby the masses may be benefitted and elevated to a higher plane of usefulness in life. Science has dispelled superstition in all the civilized lands, and is rapidly making inroads in the climes where belief in witchcraft and the "black art" have for centuries made miserable the lives of the inhabitants. A hundred years ago, even in this beautiful section of the country, now almost the centre of civilization and culture, had a person asserted that the inflections of the human voice could be transmitted to a distance of a hundred miles he would have been treated either as a lunatic or an emissary of Satan. In a like manner would the compounder of any medical remedy have been treated had he claimed for his production the virtues now generally ascribed to Hunt's Remedy. In proof of this latter assertion, read the following statements made by well-known citizens of Providence:—Mr. Edward R. Dawley, with Waldron, Wightman & Co., gives a remarkable testimonial of the worth of Hunt's Remedy. Mr. Dawley said:—"For many years I suffered intensely with what I had every reason to believe was rheumatism. When I was first attacked I was confined to my bed and could not walk a step; I could hardly bear the weight of the bed-clothes, so excruciating was the agony I endured. Dr. —— (an old and well-known homœopathic physician), treated me, but I received no benefit from his medicines. Then I tried a physician of the other school, from whom I recived temporary relief, the effects of applying blisters. Still his course of treatment did not remove the cause of the trouble. I was subjected to attacks of frequent recurrence, which always gave me the same intense pain and left me in a bad condition physically speaking. I always noticed that before these attacks came on, my kidneys were affected. Then my limbs would begin to swell, and then the joints would enlarge. At every attack I would doctor myself thoroughly, trying this physician and then that, first following the advice of one, and then that of another, none of the treatments seeming to reach the cause of my affliction. Having been acquainted with the present proprietor of Hunt's Remedy for a long time I was induced by him to give the Remedy a trial, hoping that it might reach the seat of the disease, and after taking one bottle I found myself very much improved, and before finishing the second bottle I found myself very much improved, and before finishing the second bottle I found that I was feeling more relieved and was in better shape than I had been after any of my previous attacks. I felt then that I had at last reached a cure. I found that my rheumatism was but a series of attacks of kidney disease; as a matter of fact my rheumatism was mythical. I always keep Hunt's Remedy by me, and whenever I feel any effects of a cold in my kidneys, I resort to Hunt's Remedy always, with the sure prospects of immediate relief. I believe, sincerely, that the Remedy reached the cause of my whole trouble.

"I have known of a great many cases of kidney derangements that were cured by the Remedy. To my own knowledge it is, and has been for a number of years, used extensively throughout the State. It is extensively prescribed by several of our leading physicians, and they are free to admit that, for the treatment of the various kidney troubles, they can find no satisfactory substitute. Hunt's Remedy has been used very successfully, and with beneficial results, in my own family, outside of my own individual case. My relatives have also used it with good results. Not only that, but several of my friends and acquaintances, of this city and State, have had their attention called to Hunt's Remedy by me, and they have always found the same benefit in their own cases.

Mr. A. D. Nickerson, managing editor of the Evening Press and Morning Star, says: "I have used Hunt's Remedy and have been greatly helped by it. For the classes of diseases for which it is designed I know of no superior remedy."

The Rev. E. G. Taylor, D. D., of this city, says: "I think Hunt's Remedy is an excellent medicine. I had a disarrangement of the kidneys, and by advice used the Remedy, with beneficial effects."

Mr. Charles E. Medbury, bookkeeper for Messrs. J. B. & S. M. Knowles, silversmiths, No. 95 Pine street, this city, said that last fall he was cured of a kidney affection by the use of three bottles of Hunt's Remedy.

Mr. George O. Willard, city editor of the Evening Press and Morning Star, says: "I have been troubled with disarranged kidneys for a number of years. Lately, at the advice of my family physician, I have been using Hunt's Remedy, and with very beneficial results. The Remedy is, in my opinion, invaluable to those suffering with any disease of the kidneys."

Hunt's Remedy is invaluable in dropsical affections. Remarkable cures made through its agency are reported almost every day. The case of Mrs. C. Mattie Boss, residing at No. 49 Lester street, is a fair sample of what good can be accomplished by the Remedy. Mrs. Boss says: "A year ago last July I found to my surprise that I was suffering from a dropsical affection. My lower limbs were swollen so badly that they became as smooth as glass, and the skin almost as transparent. I called in Dr. Carpenter, who pronounced my disease dropsy of the lower limbs and heart. By his advice I took Hunt's Remedy, procuring two bottles. Before I had finished the second bottle the dropsy had entirely disappeared, the cure being effected in a fortnight. I consider the Remedy a very valuable medicine."

One of the most remarkable cures coming to my knowledge was the case of a very prominent manufacturer in the southern part of Rhode Island. He had suffered for a long term of years with kidney disease, yet less than two bottles of the Remedy entirely cured him. A sister of this same gentleman, a resident of Connecticut, was suffering with what her doctors called Bright's disease of the kidneys. She discarded their medicines, and took Hunt's Remedy, and was entirely cured by its use. It is my belief that the Remedy is destined to be the standard remedical agent throughout the country wherever known, as a specific for kidney diseases of all kinds, as it has already stood the trying test of years. Testimonials of its sterling worth are, to my own knowledge, constantly being received by the proprietor from all parts of the country."

Mr. Franklin Sanford of No. 5 Dodge street said: "About a year ago, when I was in Cincinnati, I was seized with a dropsical trouble, my limbs, from my knees down to my feet, being swollen to nearly twice their natural size. Not having time to see a regular physician, and wishing to start for the East as soon as possible, I stepped into a neighborhood drug store, and stating my difficulty, asked the proprietor if he could give me any relief. He smilingly answered in the affirmative, and reaching up to one of the shelves took down a bottle of Hunt's Remedy, directing me to take it and I would be cured. I remarked, 'You don't think this is any good, do you? This is a patent medicine?' The druggist replied that the medicine was very highly recommended, and on the strength of his assurance, I purchased the Remedy. Before taking one bottle all the swelling had entirely disappeared and I was cured. I consider my cure a remarkable instance, and would not now live a day without having a bottle of Hunt's Remedy in the house. It is a most valuable medicine, and cannot be spoken of in too complimentary a manner."

Physicians will not publicly indorse a proprietary medicine. The code of the profession forbids it; hence, though they may be thoroughly acquanted with the positively beneficial qualities of a patent medicine, they are bound upon honor not to vouch for it. As a matter of fact, Hunt's Remedy is extensively used by leading physicians. One of them said only a few days ago that he used it in his practice and prescribed it in certain cases. It was an excellent compound, and prepared solely from vegetable products. Knowing fully its valuable medicinal qualities he was free to use it. While he could not publicly indorse it, he would be glad to attach his signature to a circular intended for the profession only, urging its general use. He further said that the proprietor would greatly accommodate the profession if he would place it in the drug stores in bulk, and allow the physicians to send their patients for it on a regularly prepared prescription. The sentiments of this one practitioner but echo the oft-repeated expressions of many other shining lights of the medical profession.

In the words of the New York Medical and Surgical Journal: "It seems to be one of the very few combinations out of the multitude that has any decided value, or that is calculated to benefit the ailments for which it is designed."—Providence Evening Press.

The Maine Election.

The full returns of the state, with the exception of six small plantations which will not materially change the figures, give the following result:

For governor, total vote 138,175; Robie, republican, 72,554; Plaisted, dem. 63,756; Chase, straight greenback, 1298; Vinton, bolting republican, 262; Eustis, prohibition, 305. Robie's majority, 6933; Robie's plurality over Plaisted, 8798.

The pluralities of the republican candidates for congressmen aggregate a little more than Robie's.

In fourteen of the sixteen counties in the state the republicans elected their candidates.

The senate will consist of twenty-eight republicans and three fusionists, and the house of 108 republicans and forty-one fusionists. In two districts the representatives are not yet determined.

New York Democratic Convention.

The democratic state convention of New York commenced at Syracuse on the 21st inst. The leaders of the party had been prophesying a brief and entirely harmonious meeting, but only a temporary organization was effected on the 21st. At nine o'clock at night the committee on permanent organization decided upon Lester A. Faulkner, a red-hot Tilden man, for permanent president. There were three contesting delegations from New York, namely, the Tammany hall, Irving hall, and "county" democracy; the latter were accepted as to a certain extent the genuine article, and granted thirty-eight seats, Tammany receiving twenty-four and Irving hall ten. The fight between the Tildenites and the supporters of Big Injun Kelly is renewed with more bitterness than ever.

When the balloting commenced, on the 22d, Roswell P. Flower and Gen. Henry W. Slocum were the leading candidates; on the first ballot Slocum had 98 and Flower 97 votes, 193 being required for a choice; on the second ballot Slocum and Flower each had 123, with about 150 scattering.

FROM THE PROFESSOR.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 19th, 1882.

I herein give you a reason for my hurried departure from the District of Columbia.

On the 10th day of June of the present year, I obtained the President's approval of the act of Congress that conferred a pension of $12 per month on me; after obtaining a copy of the same from the state department, with which I made application for a pension certificate, to the Commissioner of Pensions, and in one month minus four days I obtained the certificate, which classed me on the invalid pension rolls, depriving me of the privilege of employment or pay from or in army or navy, to which a previous act of Congress gave me a preference. The special act of June 10th that conferred a pension on me, caused the rules and regulations of the pension laws to be stricken out, thereby annihilating the voice of the commissioner of pensions regarding whether or not I should receive back pay from the date of my discharge; and I was compelled to apply for the decision of the Chief Magistrate regarding it. I also made a request for employment on the navy yard at the same time, wishing to experiment with mercury, believing I can produce a motive power by the contraction and expansion of mercury by electricity.

The President requested me to hand in a statement of the facts, to which he would attend at the earliest opportunity. I handed my statement to his door-keeper, and was waiting an answer to the same, and at the same time making preparations to leave Washington, when Mr. Freas, the superintendant under Mr. Clark, the government architect, informed me that I must give up the key of the office with which I had been trusted, as a bad report of me had come to him. I immediately gave up the key, and as my stay in Washington would have become too expensive, more especially as my health had not been good for the preceding month, I concluded to start on the same day for New Hampshire, feeling assured that my old enemy was again at work to malign my character; and as Congress was about adjourning, I did not wish to place myself in his or their power by staying there after those who had thoroughly investigated it had left the District for their homes.

I was sorry to leave the office under the city halls, as I enjoyed the views from the extensive park surrounding it on the east, south and west sides thereof, which were beautiful places from which to take astronomic and scientific observations. During my sojourn there I was favored with two demonstrations of the reaction of the Electric Strata without lightning or explosions. The water clouds passed over rapidly with a strong southwest wind, after which the electric stratum rolled or spread over the firmament like a thin stratum of oil on water, not obstructing the starlight, but increasing it, almost equaling a mellow twilight; and as it passed over the face of the moon it become the cause of a large circle around it; I was satisfied I had discovered the cause of the circle around the moon. But a short time after that I beheld the same phenomenon in daylight, and saw the cause of the often-seen circle around the sun demonstrated; it was the reaction of the electric stratum so far above the water cloud as to prevent its being massed for explosion, and so thin and transparent as to leave but the well-defined circle to denote its presence.

Of course my midnight watchings excited comment, and the loss of my sleeping quarters was the result; but here in Portsmouth I have recourse to the housetop, and am in hopes thereby to escape the censure of busybodies.

News and Notes.

A boy employed in L. H. Mayott's gun store in Springfield, Mass., carelessly snapped the trigger of a loaded shotgun, which he was cleaning, last Thursday evening, and it went off, exploding about 200 shot cartridges in a neighboring show case. The boy was blown out of doors, the show cases were smashed, and the windows of Mayott's and neighboring stores were demolished. A kerosene oil lamp was upset and started a small fire, and the fire department was called out. The damage will not exceed $200. Four persons who were in the store at the time of the explosion miraculously escaped with slight injuries.

By request of Rev. Father Strain, President Angell of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals addressed the Roman Catholic schools of Lynn, Mass., on the 21st inst., and about 600 children organized into a "Band of Mercy," of which Father Strain is president.

The late Gertrude R. May of Norwich, Conn., willed $5000 to the Broadway church for a new bell, or anything else needed, $1,000 each to the industrial school for girls at Middletown and the old ladies' home at Norwich, and $9,000 after the death of two relatives, to the George Hall fund of the Hartford insane hospital.

A despatch from Vienna, Austria, says: "The Tyrol floods have almost entirely destroyed the towns of Innechen, Sillein, Tobloch and Welsberg. Houses are falling every hour at those places. The emperor has ordered four detachments of pontoniers and engineers to be sent to the distressed province to repair the damages caused by the floods. The railways in several parts of the province will not be in running order for a month. The rain fall continues. Twenty-six bodies have been recovered in the flooded districts."

A recent visitor reports ex-governor Horatio Seymour of New York as cheerful and chatty in spite of his seventy-two years. He cannot walk much, but drives into Utica on pleasant days and sits in his office on Genesee street, when not visiting his sisters, Mrs. Roscoe Conkling and Mrs. Rutgers Miller.

Gen. Bob Toombs is rapidly failing. Within a few months his eye-sight has nearly disappeared, his face has become sunken, and he nows appears like a feeble old man.

The Venetian police are inquiring into the existence of a plot against the life of Emperor Joseph. Domiciliary visits have been paid to the houses of suspected persons, and in the frontier villages. Inquiries made at Udine reveal the fact that twenty young men, most of them deserters from the army, assembled at that place, with the object of disturbing the visit of the emperor at Trieste by some abominable outrage. Lots were drawn and fell to one Overdank to carry out the plot; he has been arrested, and has attempted suicide. A Russian belonging to an anarchical club at Kief prepared the bombs which were to be used in perpetrating the outrage.

William Skelley of Bridgeport, Conn., sued lawyer Wildman some time ago for $10,000 damages for not properly defending him in a criminal suit. Wildman retaliates by having Skelley arrested for burglary, and put in jail in default of $1,000 bail.

The semi-annual meeting of the York County Conference of Congregational churches will be held with the church in Eliot on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 10th and 11th.

The Supreme Judicial court for York county commenced its October session at Alfred this week, with 409 cases on the continued docket, and 126 new entries. In the list of grand jurors are the names of Pascal M. Langton of Kittery, Albert A. Fernald of Eliot, Horace B. Tebbetts of Berwick, Oscar W. Clark of Wells, John F. Chase of Limington and Ira S. Libby of Limerick. Among the traverse jurors, George O. Shapleigh of Eliot, Charles E. Gerrish and Joseph H. Moody of York, Freeman C. Ham of South Berwick, George Guptill of Berwick, Alfred S. Morrill of North Brewick, Joseph A. Goodwin of Wells. Aaron L. Wilson of Kittery is one of the supernumeraries.

Various Causes—

Advancing years, care, sickness, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray, and either of them inclines it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR will restore faded or gray, light or red hair to a rich brown or deep black, as may be desired. It softens and cleanses the scalp, giving it a healthy action. It removes and cures dandruff and humors. By its use falling hair is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or the glands decayed. Its effects are beautifully shown on brashy, weak, or sickly hair, on which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth. Harmless and sure in its results, it is incomparable as a dressing, and is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR is colorless; contains neither oil nor dye; and will not soil or color white cambric; yet it lasts long on the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous, imparting an agreeable perfume.

THE WEATHER.

U. S. SIGNAL OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
September 23, 12:00 A. M.

Probabilities for New England:—

Partly cloudy weather and local rains, southerly winds, rising preceeded in eastern portion by falling barometer, stationary or higher temperature.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicate egrees above zero.

Cloudy.

A MISTAKEN SOUL.

The Times of Thursday evening, the 21st inst., had the following:

Thirty delegates from Rye, Hampton and other towns to the westward of this city going to attend republican conventions in Dover to-day got left at the Eastern depot in this city, and were obliged to wait for the 11:20 train. The candidates nominated and supported by their party will also get left on election day.

Our neighbor is sadly mistaken in his prediction, though he no doubt wishes it might by some miracle prove correct. The candidates nominated in Dover on the 21st will be sworn into office at the proper time. Mr. Chase, the candidate for councillor, will command the full strength of his party in the district, which in November, 1881, gave a republican majority of 1486 over all others, in a total vote of 16,802; and the clean, sensible, every-day man of the people nominated for Congress will be triumphantly elected, even though the democrats should put their wealthiest man against him.

AT MUSIC HALL TO-NIGHT.

This evening, at Music hall, will be afforded the only chance to see the great tragedian, Lawrence Barrett, which our theatre-goers will have this year. He will appear as Hamlet, with strong support. Shakespeare interpreted by Lawrence Barrett should fill the house to its utmost capacity.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Sept. 22; Batchelder J.

John Dago, a boy charged with throwing stones in the street, was discharged.

Michael Ledden, for discharging firearms in the street within the compact part of the city, was fined $1, with costs of $8.04; paid.

Jeremiah Murphy, Jr., for drunkenness, was sent to Brentwood for ninety days, costs being taxed at $6.90. A charge of brawl and tumult against Murphy was proved, and placed on file. He is a mere boy, but is said to be a bad lot.

WRECK.

The sloop yacht Wayward, of 20.29 tons register, owned in New York by J. G. Fowler, and sailed by Capt. Thomas Haley, ran ashore on Sea point, Gerrish's island, at about ten o'clock on Wednesday night of this week, in a thick fog, the wind blowing from the eastward at the time. The vessel went on in a bad place, (there are no very good places on Sea point for a craft to go ashore on, so far as we know,) and soon bilged, and started her stem and keel; and on Friday it was reported that she was hopelessly wrecked, and fast going to pieces. The sailing-master is reported as saying that the Whalesback foghorn was not heard on board the sloop, which is not to be wondered at, as the place where she struck is over two miles and a half from Whalesback in a direct line, and was dead to windward of it that night. All hands were saved. The yacht was on her way home to New York from St. John, N. B.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Paymaster Frank H. Hinman is ordered to duty at this navy yard as inspector of provisions and clothing, relieving Paymaster C. F. Guild, who is ordered to the receiving ship Wabash at Boston on the 30th inst.

The U. S. S. Vandalia was bending her sails and taking her stores on board at the navy yard on Friday, and driving ahead with all the other work required to fit her for sea immediately. The crew of the Vandalia, for some time quartered on board the old storeship Guard, have all gone on board their own ship, which is expected to go to sea about Oct. 1st.

The hours of commencing and knocking off work on the navy yard were changed on the 22d inst. for the winter, and now are from 7:40 o'clock A. M. to noon, and from one o'clock to 4:30 P. M.

The time-table of the steamer Mystic has been changed, to suit the winter arrangement of working hours on the navy yard. The corrected advertisement can be found in the "transportation" column.

HE MADE A "MISTAKE."

On Thursday forenoon last, during the rain, Mr. Frank B. Johnson having occasion to enter the Gibson house left his umbrella on the piazza, open. On looking for it a few minutes later it had disappeared, and Mr. Johnson, suspecting it to be a bit of "horse-play" on the part of some of the stable boys, proceeded to blow them up in good style. The boys as vigorously maintained their innocence in the matter, and a gentleman whose attention was attracted said he saw a well-dressed young fellow who passed along a few minutes before, take an open umbrella from the hotel piazza, and walk off down street with it over his head. Having got the man's description Mr. Johnson secured the services of the city marshal, and the pair soon confronted the umbrella speculator on the sidewalk of one of the streets near Market square. "That's my umbrella, and that's the man who stole it," said Mr. Johnson, pointing to the fellow, who at once tendered the umbrella, remarking, "Is this yours? Oh, I beg your pardon; it was a mistake!" Probably he did make a mistake in stealing the parachute of our ex-chief of police, but his excuse seemed rather thin to our city marshal, who took him to the station and locked him up. He gave the name of Ray B. Carpenter, and said he was a barber of South Berwick, Me. He was allowed to depart after some hours' confinement, Mr. Johnson not wishing to prosecute. Time was, and not long ago, when the sturdy ex-marshal would have been quite as likely to give the fellow a good thrashing as to call in the aid of the police.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman's subject at the Pearl street church, Sunday afternoon, will be "Things we ought to know."

Elder J. C. Wellcome will preach in the Advent church on Sunday.

Rev. John E. Johnson, of Philadelphia, will preach in the Episcopal church.

Rev. George L. Chaney, of Boston, will preach for the South Parish.

Wm. J. Fletcher, of Boston, will speak in Mechanics' hall under the auspices of the Society of Spiritualists, at 2:30 and 7:30 P. M.; admission free in the afternoon, (collection taken;) evening, ten cents admission. Tests given at close of each lecture.

Valuable real estate at auction to-day. See advertisement.

The contractor for the removal of the ledge of Badger's island point has completed the first breadth of his contract, and moved his gear to the outer end of the ledge again, to commence on another breadth.

The steamer City of Bangor has been laid up for the winter in Boston, and Capt. Ray and his crew transferred to the Acushnet. The latter boat has started to run on the winter arrangement, leaving Boston for this city on Tuesdays and Fridays at ten o'clock A. M., and this city for Boston on Wednesdays and Saturdays at five o'clock A. M.

The schooner E. A. Creed came in from the Shoals on Friday, and reported that the North Atlantic squadron was seen well to the eastward of the islands on the previous day.

A new front, of iron and plate glass, is to be put in the store on Market street lately occupied by Frank E. Dearborn as a hat, cap and fur store.

William Welch, driver of the Portsmouth Brewing Co.'s team, fell off the wagon on Friday forenoon, on Daniel street, through his foot slipping, and received a bad cut on the head.

The Eldredge Brewing Co. are going to lower the floor of the building on Bow street next west of the one now occupied by them as an office, put in a new front, and fit up a first-class office there for their own use. This building is owned by the company, their present quarters being rented.

About time for the issuing of the fall and winter time table for hours of labor (!) at the navy yard.—Times, 22d inst.

The "fall and winter time table" referred to went into effect on the morning of the 22d.

The house of Munroe Holmes, of Hampton, was struck by lightning during a shower on Thursday last, and damaged to the extent of about $200; the inmates of the dwelling escaped unharmed.

Four young men left Exeter some days ago in a small yacht, and went to Peake's island, Portland harbor, Me. It was reported on Friday that they left the island on the morning of the previous day for this port, and as they had not arrived or been heard from on Friday their friends were naturally very anxious concerning them. There are a number of places between Portland and this port where a small boat could take refuge, provided her crew were acquainted with the coast.

The medical examiner in the case of Frank W. Woodbury, an express messenger of Beverly, Mass., who received fatal injuries some time ago at Salem through a collision between two trains on the Eastern railroad, finds that his death was due to the carelessness of an employe of the road.

Sportsmen account for the unusual abundance of gray squirrels in corn fields and the immediate vicinity of barns and farm houses this fall, on the ground that the ordinarily shy creatures are driven from their favorite haunts, the woods, by a short supply of food, acorns and nuts of all kinds being very scarce, more so than for many years past.

Friday was the first day of autumn, according to the almanac.

A grand apron and necktie party will be given at Trefethen's hall, Kittery, Tuesday evening, Sept. 26th.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!
Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere Twenty-five cents a bottle. eod&wtjan82

Invalids, Epicures,

and, in fact, everyone should understand the value of that delicious food source—SEA MOSS FARINE. It is produced by inventive skill from the nutritious Irish Sea Moss, and is, without exception, the best Invalids' Food and most useful basis for light wholesome food and desserts now in existence. For puddings, jellies, creams, blanc manges and other table delicacies, the Sea Moss Farine excels everything known, and in the sick room it is simply indispensable.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is seriously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1, per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials attest.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders; its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

Exert an influence sublime
In ministering to human ill;
And many a pang along our way
Sanford's Ginger doth allay.

The Dominion government has ordered a rigid investigation into the cause of the loss of the ill-fated steamer Asia. Capt. Scott of the marine and fisheries department will have control of the matter.

Unlike other cathartics, Dr. Pierce's "Pellets" do not render the bowels costive after operation, but, on the contrary, establish a permanently healthy action. Being entirely vegetable no particular care is required while using them. By druggists.

Edgar E. Vivian, who has been a clerk at the Nevins Bagging company's jute mills in Salem, Mass., is alleged to have misappropriated about $100 from funds given him to pay the help, and fled.

Sick headache, nausea, rising of food, flatulency, seasickness, cramps and pains, hysteria, nervousness, languor, and loss of sleep call for prompt use of Sanford's Ginger, "the delicious."

George Sauter, aged forty years, a wheelwright in the Turners Falls, Mass., paper mill, while oiling some machinery on the 21st inst. got caught in the gearing, and had his head cut off.

You

will never regret sending two 3 cent stamps to pay postage, to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston Mass., for a copy of Dr. Kaufmann's great Medical Work; 100 pages, colored illustrations; of great value to every family.

At Pensacola, Fla., on the 21st, sixty new cases of yellow fever were reported, and two deaths. Fifteen trained nurses from New Orleans are doing excellent service.

A Loss Prevented.

Many lose their beauty from the hair falling or fading. Parker's Hair Balsam supplies necessary nourishment, prevents falling and grayness and is an elegant dressing.

Thomas L. Smith, proprietor of the Sherman house and other valuable real estate in Boston and Cambridge, Mass., a director and large owner in the Cambridge Gas Light Co., and an extensive wholesale dealer in liquors, died in Cambridge on the 21st inst., of heart disease, aged fifty-eight years. He was a native of New Hampshire.

Why Should They.

No man or woman can do satisfactory work when the brain is dull, the nerves unsteady, the system relaxed and they feel generally wretched. Why should anybody drag through their work in this condition, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic will at moderate cost give them the strength and will to perform their duties satisfactorily.—Ed.

In New York, on the night of the 21st inst., a saloon keeper named Patrick Dwyer was fatally shot by Charles Warren, an acrobat, in a dispute over a game of pool.

Puny, weak, and sickly children are made healthy and strong by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

MALARIA!

THE ONLY REMEDY KNOWN

To Destroy this Deadly Pest.

The most alarming fact, in our sanitary conditions, is the prevalence of Malarial Poison not only in marshy, low-lying districts, but in the cities and upon elevated ground where, a few years since, it was unheard of. Frequently fatal disorders of the digestive functions, wasted and enfeebled body and even insanity are the dire effects of malarial poisoning, the sure precursors of death if the poison is not neutralized. The boatmen on the Hudson and Delaware Canal, as well as the inhabitants of the adjoining country, have been great sufferers from Malaria. Not until a few years past did they find a reliable remedy. We now thousands testify that there is but one real and speedy cure for malarial poisoning and that is Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which by its action upon the blood purifies it and restores a healthy tone to the entire system. As a preventive in localities where the danger lurks, it is invaluable. The "Favorite Remedy" also cures the worst liver and kidney complaints and purifies the blood as vitiated blood. For sale by all druggists, price $1 per bottle. It is an absolutely safe, purely vegetable remedy, the greatest alterative medicine in the world. NOTED MEN!

DR. JOHN F. HANCOCK, late President of the National Pharmaceutical Association of the United States, says:
"Brown's Iron Bitters has a heavy sale, is conceded to be a fine tonic; the character of the manufacturers is a voucher for its purity and medicinal excellence."

DR. JOSEPH ROBERTS, President Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:
"I indorse it as a fine medicine, reliable as a strengthening tonic, free from alcoholic poisons."

DR. J. FARIS MOORE, PH. D., Professor of Pharmacy, Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:
"Brown's Iron Bitters is a safe and reliable medicine, positively free from alcoholic poisons, and can be recommended as a tonic for use among those who oppose alcohol."

DR. EDWARD EARICKSON, Secretary Baltimore College of Pharmacy, says:
"I indorse it as an excellent medicine, a good digestive tonic, and a non-intoxicant in the honest sense."

DR. RICHARD SAPINGTON, one of Baltimore's oldest and most reliable physicians, says:
"All who have used it praise its standard virtues, and the well-known character of the house which makes it is a sufficient guarantee of its being all that is claimed, for they are men who could not be induced to offer anything else but a reliable medicine for public use."

Rise of the Nile.

The greatest breadth of the delta or cultivated plain of Lower Egypt is about eighty miles from east to west; its length from the bifurcation of the river to the sea, is estimated at ninety miles. The interior of the country is covered with fields, orchards and plantations, chiefly of cotton.

The rise of the Nile, occasioned by the periodical rains of Central Africa, begins in June, about the summer solstice, and continues to increase until September, overflowing the lowlands along its course. The delta then looks like an immense marsh, interspersed with numerous islands, with villages, towns, and trees just above water. Should the Nile rise a few feet above the customary elevation, the inundation sweeps away the mud-built cottages of the fellaheen, drowns the cattle and involves the whole population in ruin. Again, should it fall short of the ordinary height, bad crops and dearth are the consequences. The inundations having remained stationary for a few days, begin to subside, and about the end of November most of the fields are left dry and covered with a layer of rich brown slime. This is the time the lands are put under cultivation.

During the winter in England, which is spring in Egypt, the delta, as well as the valley of the Nile, looks like a delightful garden, smiling with verdure and blossom. Later in the year the soil becomes parched and dusty, and in May the suffocating Khamsin begins to blow frequently from the South, sweeping along the fine sand, and causing various diseases until the rising of the river comes again to refresh the land. Showers are very rare in Egypt except on the sea coast; it rains occasionally at Cairo, and sometimes in Upper Egypt. The nights, however, are cool, and the dews are heavy. Strong winds blow from the north during the summer, at the period of the inundation, and are used in propelling vessels up the Nile, against the current.

An extremely low Nile is apt to produce disease both in man and beast. The humidity of the atmosphere is principally controlled by the rise and fall of the stream. Fogs prevail during the first two months of the receding of the waters. During May and June the Nile remains at its lowest. In the middle of September it is at its height, all the canals are filled, and the water is admitted into the fields. Such a surface materially alters the temperature, and light dews occur about sunset all through the lower country. As the river falls, leaving the land wet and exposed to the action of the sun, exhalations arise which render the delta somewhat unhealthy, the prevailing diseases then being opthalmia, dysentery, diarrhœa and ague. By the middle of November the river has retired within its banks.

The nilometer used for measuring the height of the Nile is situated on the island of Roda, opposite old Cairo. It consists of a square well or chamber in the center of which is a graduated pillar divided into seventeen cubits each about 21 7-16 inches long. Owing to the elevation of the bed of the Nile, the relative proportion of the rise of the water has been altered, and it now passes about one cubit and two-thirds above the highest part of the column. The state of the stream is proclaimed in the streets of Cairo during the inundation every day by several criers, to each of whom a particular district is alloted. From twenty-four feet to twenty-six feet may be taken as the ordinary maximum of the rise at Cairo.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend S. Sherson, Esq., at present a resident of the town of Rawlings, in the far-off territory of Wyoming. "Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator has helped me right along," says Mr. Sherson. Glad to hear it, old fellow. Yours was an aggravated case of heart disease. The remedy you mention does the same thing in this section too; and better still, it always cures heart disease.—Nash's Weekly Letter-File.

—"What do you think of my train of thought?" asked a lecturer of a supposed friend. "I thought it lacked only one thing," replied the supposed friend. "Ah!" responded the delighted lecturer, "What was that?" "A sleeping car."

—A Pennsylvania editor had just finished an able and lengthy editorial on the "Physical Degeneracy of Women," when a robust female entered the office with a cart whip in one hand and a copy of his paper in the other. As the editor threw open a window and was about to spring out, the woman modestly said she had "brought the lost whip advertised in yesterday's paper, and wanted the fifty cents reward offered."

*We are persuaded that the ancient Hermes with all the subtle art and natural resources of the Alchemist, was a very poor doctor compared with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass. Hermes may have been after all only a clever practitioner of the Black Art; but we know there is no humbug in the pharmaceutical chemistry of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL, Conductor L. & B. R. R.

I consider Swedish Botanic Compound the best Blood Purifier and Spring Medicine in use. W. B. WATSON, Lynn, Mass.

Mr. Wm. Westfall,
Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age, pain and disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N. Y., at the time since, in a condition to excite the sympathy of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people are as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," for sale by all druggists.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good catharic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

A Solid Front.

Hon. S. W. Hale in his speech at the meeting of the Republican State Committee last week said:

I am convinced that I shall get the usual republican majority in Cheshire county. Those of my own party who opposed my nomination have been coming to me, one after another, saying that they should support me, and that the opposition to me is fast disappearing.

This is as it should be. The emulation to secure the nomination, followed as it will be by a vigorous campaign on the part of the friends of the two leading candidates before the state convention, will result in a heavy vote for the republican nominees. The question now is one of Gov. Hale's majority over the Massachusetts man whom the democrats this year lead to the slaughter.

New York Democratic Convention.

On the third ballot Flower was dropped, receiving but fifteen votes; Slocum received 156; and Grover Cleveland of Buffalo, a man almost wholly unknown outside of his own city, received 211 votes, and was declared the nominee. Daniel B. Hill, an intimate friend of Tilden's and at present mayor of Elmira, was nominated for lieutenant-governor, and Gen. Slocum for congressman-at-large. The ticket is a fairly strong one, and all the more so from the fact that its head has been a nonenity except in local politics, where he is a decided power. During the convention Gen. Roger A. Pryor had a dispute with Anthony Barrett, another delegate, and was knocked down by a severe blow in the mouth.

The Comet.

Rough elements of the new comet have at length been made up by comparative observations, showing that its perihelion passage probably occurred August 30th. At the time of the first observation the comet was about 36,000,000 miles distant from the earth, and at the time of the third observation 32,500,000. This corresponds to a rate of speed of 1,500,000 miles per day. Assuming the above calculated results to be strictly correct, they indicate that the comet will approach within 15,000,000 miles of the earth, which is coming pretty close, though last year one of the small ones came within 12,000,000 miles of this planet, and this nearness was deemed extraordinary. The present comet will be nearest to the earth in the early part of October, but at that time will be visible only in the southern hemisphere, and will doubtless be an exceedingly brilliant object. It will probably be visible above the horizon for a few days here a little before sunrise, but the calculations upon the given data do not enable this to be confidently stated. This is unquestionably the first time in astronomical history that the orbit of a comet has been calculated upon observations taken in the daytime. As to the brilliancy of the new luminary no more can be said than that it must be an unusually brilliant object to be seen at all in the daytime. As it has happened the horizon at sunrise has on no one day since the comet appeared been clear at Cambridge, and consequently no opportunity has been had there to make comparison with former comets as to the relative degree or intensity of light. During the next fortnight it will probably increase in brightness as it nears the earth, and a good chance may yet occur for photomeric observations, for which this observatory is particularly well equipped. The above given results settle it that this not the comet of 1812.

News and Notes.

A demented daughter of James Cleveland, at Nashville, Tenn., poisoned the whole family of six, except her mother, Wednesday night of last week, by putting strychnine in the coffee. She has wandered off, and is supposed to have committed suicide. Mr. Cleveland has since died, and one daughter is in a precarious condition.

In Hot Springs, Ark., Friday, Charles Matthews, editor of the Hornet, was shot four times and killed, in an affray with S. W. Fordyce, vice president of the St. Louis & Texas Narrow Gauge railroad, and Col. Rugg, one of the proprietors of the Arlington hotel. It is not known whether Fordyce or Rugg fired the fatal shot. The affair grew out of a bitter newspaper controversy over local affairs. Fordyce returned to Hot Springs on the previous Tuesday evening after a trip along the line of the railroad.

River pirates boarded the schooner Ellen Tracy in Hempstead harbor, L. I., Thursday night of last week, beat Capt. Ketcham to insensibility, threw him overboard, robbed the vessel of $110 and escaped. Capt. Ketcham revived in the water and was rescued.

George Howard, with 3000 cattle, and John Keeley, with 4000, started in company from Arizona, Howard bound to Kansas City and Keeley to Denver, Colorado. Near North Trinidad, Col., where the two herds were to separate, on the plains, a dispute arose about sorting them out, and it was agreed that the quarrel should be settled by a rifle fight at fifty feet, between six picked men from each side. At the first fire four men fell dead, one of the Keeley party and three of the Howard party. This ended the dispute, the Howard party giving in to the demands of the other side. The dead were buried, and the two droves went on their separate ways.

Oscar Wilde visited the New York brokers' board on Tuesday of last week, and was received with such loud demonstrations of disrespect and disapproval that his friends had to remove him at once. The Evening Post remarks: "Mr. Wilde's friends ought to have announced that he was coming. A broker needs preparation to see an æsthete with composure."

Another call for $20,000,000 of bonds is expected to be issued in about two weeks.

The democratic congressional campaign committee is said to be hard up for funds.

The charge of dishonesty preferred against Rev. B. G. Northrop, secretary of the state board of education of Connecticut, has been disproved.

Mr. Christiancy's divorce suit cost him about $10,000.

It is reported that Gen. Butler has been retained to defend the Dorseys in the next star route trial.

The boiler of the ferry steamer Richelieu, plying from Lachine, near Montreal, Canada, to an Indian settlement across the river, exploded in mid-river on the 21st inst., killing Pierre Duquette, the pilot, and James Richardson and Percellius Amyot. The pilot's son is supposed to have been blown overboard. Several passengers were severely scalded, and three or four more deaths are anticipated.

Frank Harvey of Great Falls, a travelling agent of the Great Falls Manufacturing Co., was on Friday sentenced to the county jail for three months and to pay the costs of prosecution, for charging against the company expenses which he had never incurred.

There are in Phillips academy at Exeter this year 190 students, representing twenty-eight states and territories.

Some thief recently entered the rooms of Frank Hussey of Rochester, and stole a watch and $27 in money.

Mrs. Nancy Henderson of Rochester, ninety years of age, was seriously injured by falling down stairs a few days since.

Burglars broke into the shoe shop of R. J. Shaw in Dover one night recently, and stole goods to the amount of twenty dollars.

John McDuffee of Rochester has sold his New Durham property, formerly owned by the Union powder works, consisting of 900 acres of land, mostly covered with heavy growth, and 1,100 acres of water, to a wealthy syndicate of New York city.

At the New England fair in Worcester, Mass., the Great Falls manufacturing company was awarded the silver medal for their sheetings and shirtings. They received the same award last year.

AROUND HOME.

The valuable real estate opposite the Kearsarge house (the lot fronting on Congress street and running back one hundred and thirty feet to the old Athenaeum property, and the buildings thereon consisting of a three-story building fitted up for a store on the lower floor and a dwelling above, with a stable in the rear,) was sold at auction on Saturday by C. Dwight Hanscom for $4300, to Timothy H. Chellis.

The crew of the life-saving station at Rye beach this season consists of Samuel B. Caswell, (captain,) Clarence W. Mathes, Edward Downs, Albert Remick, Woodbury Jenness, Frederick Philbrick and John Mace. The men have all been in the service at the station before, except John Mace.

A correspondent of the Times suggests Mr. G. Harrison Jenness of Rye as a candidate for the democratic nomination for Congress from this district. "Harry" is a tip-top fellow personally, an ardent supporter of education, an easy writer and good speaker, and a good citizen on general principles; he was assistant engrossing clerk of the national house of representatives for about four years, ending in December last, and has done so much and so good newspaper work that it is no stretch of courtesy to enroll him as one of the fraternity. If nominated he would carry his own town with a rush, even should he be defeated (as he or any other candidate nominated by the democrats will be) by the strong candidate put up by the republicans.

Mr. John F. Ham, who was nominated by the republicans of the Newmarket senatorial district, declined the nomination, and Joshua B. Smith of Durham was nominated in his place.

The annual session of the York County Baptist association was held in South Berwick week before last. The subjects of missions, education, Sabbath schools and temperance, were discussed and endorsed by appropriate resolutions. The next session is to be held in Lebanon.

The Buxton & Hollis Agricultural society will hold the annual fair at South Buxton on the 10th, 11th and 12th of October. The towns of Dayton and Waterboro' have many members in this society, which owns good fair grounds in South Buxton, and has the use of a good race-track there.

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest eminence in both sides of the Atlantic as an invaluable Tonic and Restorative in cases of General Debility, Nervous Depression, Unhealthy Constitution and Female Weakness.

NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a specific for their troubles. It stimulates the digestive, sharpens the appetite, invigorates and builds up the entire system, and ensures a generous flow of milk.

WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from lassitude and weariness, the result of disease, are ready, or nervous strain, will derive substantial benefit from its use. It restores the system to its normal condition and brings back the bloom of youth.

INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life, and restoring lost strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment, the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It neither pains upon the appetite nor offends the taste.

DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weaknesses of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It improves the digestion, ruddies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and revives the spirits.

WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who require some artificial stimulant—and especially those who are inclined to Consumption—will find this preparation greatly suited to their needs. It is a specific for the Cough and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.

AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The whole tendency of its action is to stimulate the digestion of the producing foods, and its effect is invariably to give fullness and roundness to the female form, and robustness to the masculine frame.

THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Fluid Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from alcohol. It is readily retained on the stomach and contains none but wholesome and nourishing ingredients. The genuine preparation bears on the label a fine engraved likeness of Baron von Liebig, and a fac-simile of his Signature, as well as that of A. VOGELER & CO., Baltimore, Md., Sole Agents for America.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.
READ!

KNOW THYSELF.
THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
25th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,
is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,
is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.
N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

LIFE INSURANCE!
The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.
Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance, Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.
Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.
Circulars, giving full particulars, may be obtained of

MR. BARRETT AS HAMLET.

Notwithstanding Saturday night is not a good play-night in Portsmouth, and despite the unpleasant weather, Mr. Barrett had a good audience at Music hall last Saturday evening. The parquette was well filled by spectators who, without being demonstrative, shew they were capable of appreciating, by the closest attention, the strong points in Mr. Barrett's acting; while in the gallery there was a noted absence of the gamin element, which attends in full force upon the lower order of entertainments, and makes the place uncomfortable with repeated cat-calls and like hideous evidences of their presence. Mr. Barrett was received with a gentle amount of applause, and the compliments bestowed during the evening were marked by silent appreciation rather than by boisterous tokens of approbation.

Many would have preferred to have seen Mr. Barrett in one of his other well-presented parts, but all were doubtless gratified to witness Hamlet with the Barrett idea, differing somewhat from Mr. Booth's, but perhaps acceptable to the notions of to-day regarding this much-discussed and constantly-debated character. To say that Mr. Barrett pleased his audience is to speak but tamely of the enjoyment of Saturday evening. His acting, as is always the rule in his efforts, was apparently perfect. He speaks, walks and acts the gentleman, the prince, the royal Dane, so evenly that we see before us not Barrett, but Hamlet; and those who were so fortunate as to witness this wonderful tragedy, which has so much occupied the attention of critics and writers of various ages and tongues, will carry the remembrance of the pleasures of the evening for many a day. Without particularizing, we will only remark that in the soliloquy Mr. Barrett seemed to develope the whole force of Shakespeare's language, and without too much utterance, but in good taste and not stagely, he spoke as became a prince.

The support as far as the ghost was a part, was excellent. Polonius was well made up, and the part well rendered. The king could have been improved, both in manner and elocution; while the queen seemed to appear too young as the mother of a man so mature as Hamlet. We have as yet not reached in our researches anything which has warranted us in the belief that the queen of Denmark, and mother of Hamlet, wore her hair "banged." It may do for her to appear in that style in Boston or New York, or in places where the general audience may be composed of person careless or indifferent to historical proprieties, but before a cultivated and educated set of people who go on a rainy evening in these degenerate days of the drama to see one of Shakespeare's tragedies performed every rule of propriety should be observed,—though perhaps we may commend the innovation of the queen going into an adjoining room to shuffle off the mortal coil, (after she had by interfering with her husband's goblets become involved in a difficulty from which there was no way out,) instead of dying on the stage, as Mr. Shakespeare was wont to arrange it.

The difficult character of Ophelia was sustained by Miss Marie Wainwright as well, perhaps, as such a part could have been when her forte and training has been in a different style of art. She filled the part well, but it was a pity that in her madness she should have been obliged to display such method in gathering up and kicking around her train as she walked the stage or passed behind the scenes.

There was one commendable feature for which we will make our acknowledgements to the stage manager. He began the play at sixty minutes past seven o'clock. With very many managers who come here, eight o'clock means from a quarter of an hour to twenty minutes delay; but here was a commendable promptness which caught several late comers. This caused the first scene and a part of the second to be interrupted by the banging of seats, and the rising of seasonably-arrived auditors to allow others to be seated, while an occasional pair of number nines made music on the steps in the gallery. If our entertainments must begin at a later hour than in Boston and other cities, why can they not commence on time, and conclude at a correspondingly better hour? In this respect, the Saturday evening's entertainment was certainly to be commended, none the less than for its general merit and histrionic success.

THE WRECKED YACHT.

The report from the yacht Wayward, ashore on the rocks at Sea point, Gerrish's island, on Saturday, was to the effect that although considerably smashed up she was still holding together, and that preparations were being made for an attempt to float her with casks in case she did not go to pieces before the advent of favorable weather.

On Sunday she was floated, her ballast having been put out and her mast cut away, and she was taken into the cove to the westward of the point to await the arrival of a towboat to bring her into the harbor; with ten casks in her hold the yacht's deck was nearly level with the water.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Two of the mooring buoys belonging to the navy department have been taken up and landed on the navy yard.

Four large anchors have been embedded in the ledge north of ship house No. 5, preparatory to hauling up the U. S. S. Plymouth. Two other anchors are in the ship house, to be used at the same time.

Several sailmakers who had been employed on the sails of the Vandalia were discharged last week.

Commodore Joseph A. Smith, chief of the bureau of provisions and clothing, and paymaster-general of the navy, visited the navy yard on Saturday, and received the regulation salute.

A drunken fisherman who was taken into the police station on Thursday night last told a confused story concerning the drowning of a man who had been in his company, but no intelligible account of the matter could be gleaned from him. He was a foreigner, not very brilliant of intellect at the best, and with what mind he did possess muddled with strong drink. On Saturday night the true state of the matter was learned. It seems the crew of a gondola, coming up the river under sail on Thursday night, saw two drunken men in a dory, one of whom tumbled overboard, and was picked up by the gondola, which kept on up to the wharf. The cold bath partially sobered the man, and he told his rescuers that the dory was leaking badly and his companion very drunk; and the gondola men went out in a boat to find the dory, but failed, and supposed the man was drowned. In the meantime the man in the dory, partially sobered off by the supposed death of his mate, managed to reach the shore, and proceeded to the police station to tell the sad news.

Fifteen fishermen were housed in the station on Friday night, and all turned adrift Saturday morning.

The four young men (C. E. Purinton, L. B. Purinton and Charles Knight, of Exeter, and George Webster of Chester,) concerning whose safety much anxiety was felt on Friday and Saturday last, they having left Peake's island, Portland, Thursday morning, for Portsmouth, in a small sailboat named the Uurda, and failed to arrive here, were on Sunday reported to be all right, having put into Kennebunkport, Me., on account of fog and heavy weather.

The governor and council on Friday last appointed Hon. Daniel Clark of Manchester and Col. J. Horace Kent of this city trustees of the state industrial school.

Seven casks, containing 358 gallons of asbestos paint, were on Broughton's wharf Saturday afternoon, awaiting transportation to the Shoals. The Appledore house is to be painted in esthetic style.

A schooner whose name our reporter did not learn dragged ashore in Clark's island cove on Saturday, but came off at high water unharmed.

George E. Hodgdon, Edward Jervis, Augustus D. Walden, Freeman F. Sanborn, Edwin O. Randall, Walter S. Gray, Edward B. Prime, Michael Sheridan, John E. Fields and Charles L. Hoyt, all ex-members of Co. G, 10th Reg't N. H. Vols., went to Manchester on Friday of last week, to take part in the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the regiment's departure for the seat of war. About 130 veterans of the regiment took part in the celebration, under command of Gen. M. T. Donohue, who it is claimed was the youngest colonel in the army when he took command of the regiment—which regiment had the distinguished honor of being the first body of Union troops to enter Richmond after the retreat of the confederate forces.

In the list of premiums awarded at the state fair in Concord last week we find the following: Best netted tidy, second prize to Mrs. Lydia Hanscom of Portsmouth; best embroidered tidy, second prize to Mrs. George R. Connell of Portsmouth.

"Maj." Foster Shores, the brilliant and efficient "tiger" at Geo. William Ballou & Co.'s banking house on Devonshire street, is rusticating and breathing in mountain air for a few weeks at Franconia, N. H. "Sport" keeps him company. —Boston Post.

Remarkable Career.

A remarkable career was that of the Hon. John Tod, who died recently at Victoria, B. C., aged ninety-one years. In 1807 he entered the service of the Hudson's Bay company, and within a few years had visited almost every portion of the vast territory from Hudson's bay to the Columbia river. He visited Montreal in 1812, and Astoria, Oregon, in 1814. Afterward, in the Fence river country, he spent nine years without bearing his mother tongue or seeing the face of a white person. Forty years ago he was in charge of old Fort Kamloops, and one day, when almost alone, was surprised by a large party of Indians, who invaded the fort for the purpose of plunder, and, perhaps, murder. Quickly knocking out the head of one of several barrels of powder, he deliberately lighted a match and threatened to blow up the fort and every one in it if the Indians did not instantly leave the neighborhood, which it is needless to say they did. He was a member of the first executive council of Vancouver's island, and held that position several years, but retired to private life about fifteen years ago. He retained full possession of all his faculties to the day of his death.

A River of Hot Water.

The great Sutro Tunnel, cut to relieve the celebrated Comstock mines at Virginia City, Nevada, of the vast quantities of hot water which is encountered in them, affords an outlet to twelve million tons every twenty-four hours, or about three million gallons. Some of the water, as it finds its way into the mines, has a temperature of 136 degrees, while four miles from the mouth of the tunnel the temperature ranges from 130 to 135 degrees. To obviate the inconvenience which would arise from the vapor such a vast quantity of water would give off, the flowing conducted through the entire tunnel, four miles, in a light flume made of pine. At the point of exit the water has lost but seven degrees of heat. Sixty feet below the mouth of the tunnel the hot water is utilized for turning machinery belonging to the company, from whence it is carried off by a tunnel eleven hundred feet in length, which serves as a waterway. Leaving the castaway tunnel, the water flows to the Carson River, a mile and a half distant. This hot water is being utilized for many purposes. The boys have arranged several pools where they indulge in hot baths. The miners and others use it for laundry purposes, and arrangements are being made whereby a thousand acres belonging to the company are being irrigated. It is proposed to conduct the water through iron pipes, beneath the surface of the soil, near the roots of thousands of fruit trees which are to be planted, and in a similar manner give the necessary warmth to a number of hothouses to be used for the propagation of early fruits and vegetables.

Esthetic Housekeepers with critical eyes, know the value of Electro-Silicon, the famous silver polish. It produces a beautiful lustre with less labor than any article that is free from destructive chemicals. Avoid imitations. Druggists.

—One of Aristarchi Bey's memorable experiences during his residence at Newport this summer was the receipt of a letter from a local correspondent, addressed to "Mr. A. Bey."

"Troubles often come from whence we least expect them." Yet we may often prevent or counteract them by prompt and intelligent action. Thousands of persons are constantly troubled with a combination of diseases. Diseased kidneys and costive bowels are their tormentors. They should know that Kidney-Wort acts on their organs at the same time, causing them to throw off the poisons that have clogged them, and so renewing the whole system.

—"You will find the painting looks better a little way off," said the artist. And Fogg asked, quite innocently, "Would half a mile be far enough, do you think?"

"King" Kennedy, — A. J. Kennedy, Esq., fire marshal of New Haven, Conn., recommends St. Jacobs Oil as a specific cure for rheumatic pain. It proved so in his case.

—The Empress of Russia is said to be, in equestrian exercises, quite the rival of the Empress of Austria who once distinguished herself by riding at a fox-hunt without any saddle.

Puny, weak, and sickly children are made healthy and strong by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a sovereign remedy for all female complaints, such as Nervous Headache, Depression, and all weaknesses caused by the peculiarities of the sex, and to connect to women. This is no Patent Medicine, but is prepared by a lady physician, who has devoted her life to the study of female diseases and weaknesses. If you have tried everything else without success, try this, as it is a single trial, as it never fails to give satisfaction.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, try it. Its effects are wonderful. Sold by druggists, or sent, sealed, on receipt of $1 per bottle. Circular free. When ordering, please specify Ladies' Tonic. Address, as above, and Mark Twain's Autobiography, free.

Nervous Prostration or Female Weakness is usually the result. The Ladies' Tonic can be relied on to cure any case, no matter how long standing it may be. "LADIES' TONIC" can do all things for women.

MALARIA!

THE ONLY REMEDY KNOWN To Destroy this Deadly Pest.

The most alarming fact, in our sanitary conditions, is the prevalence of Malarial Poison not only in marshy, low-lying districts, but in the cities and upon elevated ground where, of late years since, it was unheard of. Frequently fatal disorders of the digestive functions, wasted and enfeebled body and even insanity are the direct effects of malarial poisoning, the sure precursors of death if the poison is not neutralized. The boatmen on the Del. & Hudson Canal, as well as the inhabitants of the adjoining country, have been the sufferers from Malaria. Not until a few years past did they find a reliable remedy. Now thousands testify that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a sure cure for malarial poisoning and that is Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" which by its action upon the blood purifies it and restores a healthy tone to the entire system. As a preventive in localities where this danger lurks, it is invaluable. The Favorite Remedy not only cures the worst liver and kidney complaints and all diseases caused by vitiated blood, but for sale by all druggists, price $1 per bottle. It is an absolutely safe, purely vegetable remedy, the greatest alterative, medicine in the world. Address the proprietor, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. all 4w

NOTED MEN!

DR. JOHN F. HANCOCK, late President of the National Pharmaceutical Association of the United States, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters has a heavy sale, is conceded to be a fine tonic; the character of the manufacturers is a voucher for its purity and medical excellence."

DR. JOSEPH ROBERTS, President Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"I indorse it as a fine medicine, reliable as a strengthening tonic, free from alcoholic poisons."

DR. J. FARIS MOORE, PH. D., Professor of Pharmacy, Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a safe and reliable medicine, positively free from alcoholic poisons, and can be recommended as a tonic for use among those who oppose alcohol."

DR. EDWARD EARICKSON, Secretary Baltimore College of Pharmacy, says:

"I indorse B. B. B. as a fine medicine, a good digestive agent, and a non-intoxicant in the fullest sense."

DR. RICHARD SAPINGTON, one of Baltimore's oldest and most reliable physicians, says:

"All who have used it prefer its standard virtues, and the well known character of the house which makes it is a sufficient guarantee of its being all that is claimed, for they are men who could not be induced to offer anything else but a reliable medicine for public use."

A Druggist Cured.

BOONSBORO, Md., Oct. 29, 1880.

Gentlemen: Brown's Iron Bitters cured me of a bad attack of Indigestion and fullness in the stomach. Having tested it, I take pleasure in recommending it to my customers, and am glad to say it gives entire satisfaction to all."

GEO. W. HOFFMAN, Druggist.

Naval Affairs.

Chief Engr. George W. Melville on the 25th inst. made his report concerning the loss of the Jeannette to the navy department, and was placed on waiting orders.

Passed Asst. Paymaster Stephen Rand, Jr., will relieve Paymaster I. Goodwin Hobbs at Newport, R. I.

Commodore O. C. Badger, commandant of the Boston navy yard, has received leave of absence for one month from September 29th.

There were eighteen deaths from yellow fever in Havana last week.

The Connecticut state fair at Meriden was given up after two days of waiting, in consequence of contined rain.

The British steamship Lepanto and the Netherlands Royal Mail steamer Edam were in collision at sea in a fog on Sept. 21st, and the Edam went to the bottom in a few minutes. Her crew and passengers, seventy-three in number, escaped with the exception of two men. The Lepanto arrived at New York on the 24th inst.

A train struck a team at Meriden, Conn., Sept. 23d, killed the horse and smashed the wagon, and threw the driver twenty feet in the air, but did not kill him.

You

will never regret sending two 3 cent stamps to pay postage, to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston Mass., for a copy of Dr. Kaufmann's great Medical Work: 100 pages, colored illustrations; of great value to every family.

George Folsom of East Monmouth, Me., Saturday, while on the great beams in his barn, lost his hold, fell and was killed.

An Explanation.

The delicate, flowery and lasting fragrance of Florestan Cologne explain why it is such a favorite with the ladies.

Seven black men, two white men and one white boy were publicly whipped in the jail yard at Newcastle, Del., Saturday, in the midst of a driving rain. The black men took their punishment as a matter of course, six receiving twenty, and one ten lashes. The white prisoners, two of whom received forty lashes, suffered excruciating agony, although jumping and begging for mercy. The boy's misery was pitiful, and his back was badly mutilated, although the sheriff was lenient with his blows. Two white men and one black man stood for an hour in the pilory, being drenched to the skin.

Oyster Sauce.

Take one pint of oysters and scald them in their own broth; add salt, pepper and a blade of mace. Let them boil up once and skim them out. To the broth add a cup of cream in which you have mixed a teaspoonful of Sea Moss Farine, boil a few moments, add a piece of butter and return the oysters to heat but not boil.

Immense damage was caused in Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, and parts of Massachusetts and Connecticut, by the heavy rains of the latter part of last week. The total loss cannot be even estimated as yet, but it will amount to at least $1,000,000.

A Big Success.

"My wife was sick two years with a complication of disorders her physicians could not cure, when I was led to try Parker's Ginger Tonic. It was a big success. Three bottles cured her, at a cost of a dollar and fifty cents, and she is now as strong as any woman."—R. D., Buffalo.

James W. Harris was brought before Commissioner Rand in Portland, Me., Saturday, for the purpose of giving bail. Messrs. Corey and Rice of Walter, Corey & Co. were accepted as sureties, bail being fixed at $2,500. Harris was set at liberty, but was immediately re-arrested on a charge of swindling through the mails, by advertising in a Vermont paper, the first charge having been based on an advertisement in a Maine paper. Harris was committed on a second charge, and his sureties gave him up. He will await the action of the grand jury.

It is surprising how rapidly and effectively St. Jacobs Oil finishes rheumatism.

The body of Capt. Andrew Doughty of Great Chebeague, Me., missing since election day, was found in Galt dock at Portland on Saturday.

Only Two Bottles.

Messrs. Johnson, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with request to send a good catarrh cure to two officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentlemen told them that both the officers and the wife of Gen. John C. Fremont Gov. of Arizona, had been cured of catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm.

Messrs. Ely Bros., Druggists, Owego, N. Y.—A few days ago I saw a lady who had used your Cream Balm for Catarrh, and had found more relief in one bottle than from all other remedies she had tried. I enclose $1 for two bottles. Yours respectfully, JAMES HITCHEN, M. D., Providence, R. I.

At Mount Holly, Ohio, one day last week, Stephen Day and his wife left their house for a short time, and on returning found that somebody had stolen all the savings of Day's life, amounting to $70,000, which he kept in a tin box; the unfortunate man is seventy years old.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend S. Sherson, Esq., at present a resident of the town of Rawlings, in the tar-off territory of Wyoming. "Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator has helped me right along," says Mr. Sherson. Glad to hear it, old fellow. Yours was an aggravated case of heart disease. The remedy you mention does the same thing in this section too; and better still, it always cures heart disease.—Nast's Weekly Letter-Sife.

The British steamship Nuphar went on a sand bar over a mile from shore at Seabright, N. J., last week, and on Sunday was reported as being full of water. The vessel is valued at $250,000, and her cargo at $50,600. There is a chance that she may be saved.

Spring Medicine.

As a remedy to carry off the accumulation of thick bile from the liver and viscid secretion from the other glands of the system, the Swedish Botanic Compound is invaluable. It will arouse all the functions of the body to healthy action, purify the blood, restore the appetite, and carry off those symptoms of languor and heaviness everybody feels more or less as the warm season approaches.—Adv.

Miss Sarah Elstone, the daughter of respectable parents living at Woodstock, Ontario, deliberately committed suicide by building a fire and standing over it until horribly burned from head to foot. She was of a religious turn of mind, and her last words were "I am going to Jesus." She left a note saying that she was tired of this world, and had made up her mind to sacrifice herself.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL,

Mr. Wm. Westfall,

Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age, pain and disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N. Y., at the time since, in a condition to excite the pity of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and have him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

BOSTON, January 1, 1882. 3aw(jan3)

A FATAL MISTAKE.

How a Blundering Judgement May be Responsible for the Most Serious Results.

—Mr. Edwin Booth said recently that he supposed his lungs were affected, having a persistent cough until he saw Dr. Mackenzie, of London, who found that this symptom arose from a disturbance of the liver.—N. Y. Herald.

The above item, which has been going the rounds of the press, is of no special significance other than to the personal friends of Mr. Booth, except that it brings to light a truth of the greatest importance to the world. Few people pass through life without the affliction of a cough at some point in their career. In most cases this is considered the result of a cold or the beginning of consumption, and thousands have become terrified at this revelation and have sought by a change of air and the use of cough medicines to avert the impending disaster. It may safely be said that more than half the coughs which are afflicting the world to-day do not have their origin in the lungs but are the result of more serious troubles in other organs of the body. "Liver coughs" are exceedingly common and yet are almost wholly misunderstood. Arising from a disordered state of the liver they show their results by congesting the lungs. In fact, the efforts of the liver to throw off the disease, produce coughing even when the lungs themselves are in a healthy state.

But it is a mistake to suppose that such delicate tissues as the lungs can long remain in a healthy condition when they are being constantly agitated by coughing. Such a theory would be absurd. Consumption, which was feared at first, is certain to take place unless something is done to check the cause. This must be plain to every thoughtful mind. It stands to reason, therefore, that the only way in which "liver coughs" can be removed is by restoring the liver to health.

In this connection another fact of great importance becomes known, which can best be explained by the relation of an actual event. Mr. W——, a wealthy cattle dealer of Colorado, became greatly reduced in health and came east to Chicago for the purpose of being cured. He consulted Dr. J——, one of the leading physicians of the country on pulmonic subjects, and began treatment for the cure of his lungs. But his cough increased while his strength decreased. Finally he determined to consult another physician and applied to Dr. B——. After a careful examination he was informed that his lungs was perfectly sound, while his kidneys were in a most terrible condition. He had all the apparent symptoms of consumption but he was suffering from the terrible Bright's disease. The symptoms of consumption are often the sure indications of Bright's disease.

The above truths regarding coughs have been known by the leading physicians for several years, but the public have never been informed of them. They are serious facts, however, and should be understood by all, so that dangers which might otherwise prove fatal may be avoided. They clearly prove one great truth which is that the kidneys and liver are such vital organs that their health should be constantly guarded. The distressing, hacking cough, which is often dreaded as the forerunner of consumption and the wasting strength which accompanies it, in all probability may arise from weakened or diseased kidneys or liver, to restore which would cause returning health. How this most desirable end may be attained has long been a problem, but few people of intelligence at the present day have longer any doubts that the popular remedy known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has done more to correct, relieve and restore these organs than any other preparations ever before known. There are hundreds of instances which have occurred within the past three months where individuals have believed themselves the victims of consumption, when, in reality it was deranged kidneys and liver, which this remarkable medicine has completely cured, as witness the following statement:

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 6, 1882.—I believe it to be a fact that thousands of cases of so-called consumption can be successfully treated by simply using Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure as directed. I was one of the "given up to die" persons—had every symptom of the last stage of consumption—bad cough of four years standing, night sweats, chills, etc., etc. A season south did no good, and the fact was the case looked discouraging. I took Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and in three months I regained over twenty pounds, and my health was fully restored.

There are thousands of people in America to-day who believe they are the victims of consumption and destined to an early grave and who are trying to save themselves by the use of consumption cures but are growing worse each hour. Let all persons stop, and calmly consider whether they are not seeking to check a disease in the lungs when it is located in the kidneys and liver. Let them then treat the disease in its original stronghold and by the remedy which has been proven to be the most effective and then look for the return of health and happiness which such treatment is sure to bring

News and Notes.

Alanson Cash, fifty years old, of Albany, N. Y., about ten months ago married Miss E. Hallenbeck, a girl of seventeen, in Dormansville, N. Y. A few days ago the wife left her husband, as is alleged to live with a young man who had been a former suitor for her hand; the husband found her at Dormansville last week, and as she refused to return to Albany with him he killed her and then himself.

The war in Egypt is practically ended, the last fortification held by the "rebels" having surrendered to the British. It is officially announced that Gen. Wolseley and Admiral Seymour, the British commanding officers, are to be raised to the peerage for their services.

Toussaint Webert, the thirteen-years-old son of Luc Webert of Biddeford, fell from a log in the Saco river, Saturday, and was drowned.

Charles S. Lawrence has been fined in $10,000 on a charge of wrecking a train near Webster, Mass. He belongs in Auburn, Mass., and is a well known scoundrel.

Joseph Dunn, of Whateley, Mass., has been arrested on a charge of murdering his wife by poison.

AROUND HOME.

The attention of ladies is invited to the change in Mr. M. C. Foye's advertisement.

Prof. George P. Chick, of Boston, will commence a select dancing school for ladies and gentlemen in Franklin hall on Friday evening, Oct. 20th, the term to consist of ten lessons. He will also open, on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 21st, at the same place, a juvenile class, exclusively for boys and girls from eight to fifteen years of age. See advertisement.

The fishing schooner Frank Foster, of Gloucester, Mass., struck on Hampton ledge Sunday, and came off leaking badly; she was taken on the marine railway at Gloucester on Monday, for repairs.

Mr. Frank W. Hidden, of Star island, Isles of Shoals, will leave shortly to take a position on board a Delaware steamboat.

That gray squirrels are very numerous this fall has several times been mentioned by us. The fact received an exemplification on Saturday, when Mr. Libby Bennett shot five nice fat ones in a couple of hours at Gerrish's Island. They were served up at the Sunday dinner in Sea-Side Lodge at Pocahontas point.

Mr. Peter Williams, a colored man of this city, was recently refused a room at a hotel in Concord, although several white guests who applied afterward were accommodated.

Mr. John O. Berry, of Rye, on Monday last shew us the biggest potato we have seen this year. It is of the Late Rose variety, grew on Mr. Berry's farm at Rye, and weighs one pound twelve ounces. A dozen such potatoes as that to a hill would be a good yield. Mr. Berry proposes to save this big potato, and plant it next spring.

George Q. Dow, of Epping, was the lowest bidder for the contract for dredging the Lamprey river at Newmarket. The job is a $10,000 one, on the start.

Charles P. & Jeremiah Young of Newmarket are going into the coal business, and will construct a coal-pocket capable of holding five or six hundred tons, on Young's wharf in that town.

The project of forming a company of light infantry in this city, which was agitated immediately after the disbanding of the City Guards, with good promise of success, seems to have fallen through. Some years ago Portsmouth boasted of two brass bands and four military companies—infantry, light artillery, heavy artillery, and cavalry; now it has no band, and one military company—the cavalry. The great trouble in Portsmouth is, as we are informed, the same that bothered Artemus Ward when he raised his company of "home guards" during the rebellion; everybody who enlists insists on being a brigadier general.

Mrs. Deborah B. Smith, who died recently in South Newmarket at the age of seventy-six years, was a descendent from revolutionary heroes on both sides. A writer in the Exeter Gazette says: "Captain Robert Pike, her maternal grandfather, enlisted a company at South Newmarket during the revolutionary war, and was seven years at their head, and only returned when his country was free. Simon Wiggin, Esq., of Stratham, her paternal grandfather, commanded a company which went to Portsmouth early in the struggle, and took a fort from the British. He also headed a paper to help pay the expenses of the war, which paper is still preserved at Concord, N. H. He was also one of the selectmen of Stratham who voted to send cattle to Boston to feed the poor, after Boston was evacuated by the British. * * During the late rebellion she was active in sending aid to our soldiers. Mrs. Smith attended the academy at South Newmarket, with the late Father Taylor, of Boston, and was present when he gave the valedictory. She took a deep interest in religious matters in her part of the town."

The wreck of the ship Orient, which was abandoned in the gulf of Mexico on the 9th inst., dismasted and waterlogged, floating with her second deck under water, her cargo of lumber keeping her from sinking, was towed to Southwest Pass on the 18th by the pilot boat Underwriter, and taken up to New Orleans on the 19th by tug boats. Her bow is badly stove, her upper deck nearly all gone, and her topsides carried away down to the second deck on the starboard side. Had she not been strongly put together, as was customary with ships built on the Piscataqua thirty years ago—and ever since, for that matter, up to the last one launched—the hammering she received from the sea would have made matchwood of her.

The foundation for a private summer residence for Jacob Wendell, Esq., of New York, is now being laid at Newcastle, on the land lying between the fort and the Albee cottage, recently purchased by Mr. Wendell. The structure will, it is stated, be about 100 feet long, forty feet wide, and of three stories, and quite attractive in design and finish. The lot contains thirteen acres, and runs from a point in the road leading from the Wentworth direct to the sea. Mr. Joseph R. Holmes of this city is laying the foundation for the house.—Journal.

Capt. J. C. Hoyt of Kittery, master of the schooner Mary J. Adams of this port, which arrived at New York last week from South Carolina, got home Monday from New York, sick with chills and fever. The schooner carries four men before the mast, all of whom were sick on the passage with the same complaint, and wholly incapacitated from duty; the captain, mate and cook were the only persons on board who could go on deck, and the captain was not fit to do so. They were all mighty glad when they reached port.

Albert A. Fernald of this city has sold to Julia Frisbee, of Kittery, the former homestead of A. G. Goodwin in Kittery for $950.

Messrs. James & Sylvester Bartlett of Eliot have gathered this season, from about nine acres of vines, 325 bushels of pickling cucumbers.

The cutter yacht Nemo, owned by Samuel H. Pillsbury of Kittery and enrolled in the fleet of the Saco yacht club, took the third prize in a race for third-class yachts at the mouth of the Saco river last week. The race was over an eight-mile course, the prizes being $15, $10 and $5. The Nemo lost her topmast during the race, but was only two minutes and twenty-nine seconds behind the leading boat at the finish.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

An order has been received on the navy yard establishing office hours for officers, clerks and writers as follows: From nine o'clock A. M. to noon, and from one to four o'clock P. M. Quite a number of them will have to alter their meal hours, or else go without anything to eat from morning till after four o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. W. B. Larkin has arrived to take the position of clerk to the inspector of provisions and clothing at the navy yard.

The lasters of H. L. Day's shoe factory in Biddeford struck on Monday at noon for higher wages, necessitating the shutting down of the whole factory. The strikers are following the direction of the Lasters' Protective Union, and strikes will follow in the other factories unless their demands are acceded to. The factories cannot be closed without great loss, and the demand of the strikers will probably be granted, or some compromise made.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.

READ!

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE: OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

226th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

BENJAMIN W. CURTIS.

Benjamin W. Curtis, M. D., whose death took place on Sunday evening, the 24th inst., was a native of Wells, Me., and sixty-seven years of age at the time of his decease. He had been in failing health for some time, but his death was unexpected by the public.

He graduated from Dartmouth college in 1836, having previously spent two years at college in Waterville, Me. He then taught school for several years in Virginia, and afterward studied medicine in the Pennsylvania Medical school at Philadelphia, of which institution he was a graduate. He practiced medicine in this city for upward of thirty years, and was a member of the Portsmouth Medical society at the time of his death. He was an active Odd Fellow and prominent citizen, had represented Portsmouth in the legislature, and held other offices. He married a daughter of the late Leonard Cotton, who with one daughter survives him.

A WAIF.

During the northwest gale about Sept. 16th, a pigeon came ashore at White island, Isles of Shoals, and was picked up by the light keeper. The words "Massachusetts Humane Society" were stamped with a stencil on one of the spread wings of the pigeon. Where did the bird come from? from some ship at sea? It would seem that if it had been blown off the land by the gale, it would not have been so exhausted on arriving at the island.

SEND ME "11" BARRELS.

A storekeeper of Kittery one day last week sent to a wholesale dealer in farm produce at Boston an order for two barrels of turnips, but instead of spelling out the number or using a figure "2," he made two straight marks, after this fashion: "11." [It is suggested to us that the storekeeper has probably been accustomed to keep tally on the counter with a piece of chalk for persons engaged in playing "auction pitch," which we believe is some kind of game played with checkers or dominoes.] The Boston dealer promptly forwarded eleven barrels of turnips, which were received in due time by the Kittery man, who flattered himself that he had now got turnips enough to last him until the crops came in next autumn; but some one else thought differently, and in his name ordered thirteen barrels more of the same vegetables, and they came down on the steamer Acushnet on Friday. The storekeeper was pretty mad, and refused to receive the goods, which were left in the steamer's freight house over Sunday; on Monday they were removed, having been sold by the shipper to other parties.

The two daughters of Mr. George Manning started for California by rail on Monday; their parents expect to follow them next year, and the whole family will probably take up their permanent residence in that state.

The Exeter boat Uurda, concerning the safety of which there was so much anxiety last week, came up the river on Monday afternoon between four and five o'clock, and proceeded on her way to Exeter. She had but three men on board of the four she started with, one of the party having left her at Kennebunkport, Me., and made the trip home by rail.

Mr. Warren Keen, who lives on Jones avenue, was stung on the knee by a wasp on Sunday, while in his house, and the leg was so swollen and painful on Monday that he was hardly able to walk. We do not know whether he killed the wasp or not, but hope he did.

The schooner Addie & Hattie, which has successfully fished for mackerel and swordfish since she gave up running to the eastward for lobsters last spring, is preparing to go pollock fishing off Gloucester, Mass., for the next six weeks, after which she will go into winter fishing in Ipswich bay.

The schooner Albert Woodbury, Downs master, arrived at this port on Sunday evening last from Boston. On the previous Monday she took into Boston sixty barrels of mackerel and thirty barrels of herring, and on Friday she took in seventy-five barrels of mackerel and twenty-five of herring, making two trips in one week. She reported a large fleet of mackerel fishermen off Newburyport. The Albert Woodbury sailed on Monday for the Shoals, to land Capt. Downs' mother, from this city, and then proceed on another cruise.

The schooner Mary S. Hontvet is fitting out for winter fishing.

The schooner Mayflower, of Bath, Me., 60.60 tons register, Capt. M. L. Pierce master and sole owner, bound from Eliot, Me., to the eastward for a load of wood, got ashore on Clark's island last Saturday, and the captain seeing little likelihood of her coming off, sold her to Mr. J. L. O. Coleman for about what her wreckage would be worth. The vessel however did come off without any trouble, and on Monday she was brought up to the city, to be beached on Noble's island for examination of her bottom. The wreck of the schooner Pulaski, of Thomaston, Me., which was burned and sunk off Rye beach a few weeks ago, has also been bought by Mr. Coleman.

The sloop yacht Wayward was towed in from near Sea point on Monday morning, and beached on Noble's island, inside of the bridge.

The floating stage of the navy yard landing on this side of the river will be replaced by one that is in thorough repair, to-day.

About fifty of the friends of a Water street business man who got married last week gave him a beautiful serenade on Saturday evening, fully expecting that their attentive courtesy would be acknowledged by an invitation in to coffee and cake at the least, but not so much as a smell of anything did any one of them get, nor even a chance to tell the color of the hall carpet. They say he may get married five hundred times in the future, and never another serenade will he have from them.

The steamer Fearless will be hauled out for the winter on the old slip at the Raynes shipyard to-day. The steamer James Sampson will continue on the Kittery Point route during the winter.

Baird's minstrels will give one of their first-class entertainments in Music hall on Saturday evening next.

If you have boots or shoes which need repairing, there is no place in the city where the work will be done better, cheaper or more promptly than at No. 12 Hanover street, by J. Wesley Young.

Three Puddle-dock gamins stole a wherry from a south end wharf, Sunday, and went to Peirce's island and opened a circus with the horses pastured there. Mr. Carlton, who has charge of the island, went in without a ticket, and the performers fled across the flats to the Newcastle bridge, and "ran their toll" to escape his wrathful pursuit, leaving the wherry on the beach, and Carlton sole master of the island. On Monday morning an officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was looking after the circus performers, to arrest them on a charge of throwing stones at and racing the horses in the pasture; the bridge proprietors also want their toll, and the owner of the stolen boat "just wants to see 'em once."

The roads in the surrounding country were badly washed and gullied by the recent heavy rains.

The Eastern railroad will sell excursion tickets from this city to Boston and return on Thursday, the 28th inst., for $1.70 each, good only for that day by any regular train to Boston, and to return by any regular train on the 28th and 29th. This will enable persons of moderate means to visit the great fair of the New England Institute, now under full headway in Boston.

Books are now being issued from the public library, the hours being from seven to nine o'clock in the evening. The new books are not ready to give out, the catalogues not being quite completed, and books are only issued on the old cards at present.

A series of horse races will take place at the Rockingham trotting park on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 4th and 5th. There will be three events each day, the purses aggregating $275.

The selectmen of Newmarket refuse to lay out and construct a road at the "bay side" in that town, as ordered by the county commissioners, and the town is threatened with indictment in consequence.

[For other local matter see second page.]

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good catharic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Alonzo Follett, a note broker of New York, has failed, with liabilities in the neighborhood of $500,000.

Pink gums and mouth and dazzling teeth
And breath of balm and lips of rose
Are found not in this world beneath
With young or old, save only those
Who ever wisely, while they may,
Use SOZODONT by night and day.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of you rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer im mediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere Twenty-five cents a bottle. cod&wtjan82

New Hampshire Items.

The three regiments of the New Hampshire National Guard went into camp at Manchester on the 25th inst., for five days.

Unpleasant weather prevailed in the White mountains all last week, and during Friday and Saturday it rained almost incessantly. An inch and a half of rain fell Saturday on Mount Washington. The highest wind that prevailed at the summit last week was 118 miles an hour. Going to the stormy weather, travel has been light for several days. The New York express and some of the trains on the other roads out of Boston were discontinued on Saturday. The morning express out of Boston over the Eastern railroad will run till Oct. 10th.

Dr. C. A. Fairbanks, of Dover, late county physician of Strafford county, on Saturday last published some serious charges of cruelty and improper treatment of paupers against Wm. T. Wentworth, superintendent of the Strafford county almshouse. Dr. Fairbanks' communication takes up three columns of the Dover daily papers, and he supports his charges with a number of affidavits from various persons, paupers and others. As the case stands, it is very important for Mr. Wentworth that he make a speedy and effective answer—if he can.

J. M. Chapman's box factory at Rumney has started up, after a vacation of two months.

Sunday was the last day of the Spiritualist campmeeting at Lake Sunapee. George A. Fuller of Dover, Mass., Dr. H. B. Storer of Boston, Joseph D. Stiles of Weymouth, and Dr. Anna M. Twiss of Manchester were the principal speakers.

Matthew R. Conly, fourteen years old, committed suicide Sunday morning at his home in Claremont, by shooting himself through the heart. He was reproved by his mother the previous night for handling firearms, which is the only theory for his act.

The wife of Dr. O. S. Hall of Rumney was severely injured a few days ago by being thrown from her wagon. She will recover.

W. F. Fackler, aged sixty years, was shot dead in New Orleans last Saturday by J. B. Rickliff.

The steamer Newport blew a patch off her boiler on the way from New York to Newport, Saturday night; no one was hurt, and the steamer, which put into New London for repairs, arrived at Newport on Sunday only five hours late.

"Great aches from little toe corns grow." German Corn Remover gives instant relief. 25c.

At Governor's island, New York, Sept. 25th, two soldiers were instantly killed by the premature discharge of a cannon while firing a salute to the French fleet.

A Loss Prevented.

Many lose their beauty from the hair falling or fading. Parker's Hair Balsam supplies necessary nourishment, prevents falling and grayness and is an elegant dressing.

By an explosion of fire damp in a coal mine at Plymouth, Pa., Sept. 25th, two men were killed and another fatally burned.

Why Should They.

No man or woman can do satisfactory work when the brain is dull, the nerves unsteady, the system relaxed and they feel generally wretched. Why should anybody drag through their work in this condition, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic will at moderate cost give them the strength and will to perform their duties satisfactorily.—Ed.

The sugar refinery of Harrison Havemeyer & Co. in Philadelphia was burned on the 25th inst. Loss estimated at over $1,000,000; insurance $575,000.

Beware of Swindlers.

We have exposed during the last year, many swindlers who advertise under the name of medicine, vile compounds which only increase human suffering. To all who need a pure medicine and blood purifier, we can honestly recommend Sulphur Bitters.—Editor Sun.

Two Frenchmen who were racing horses near the fair ground at Sheldon, Vt., recently, ran over and killed a little child by the side of the road.

Puny, weak, and sickly children are made healthy and strong by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

MALARIA!

THE ONLY REMEDY KNOWN

To Destroy this Deadly Pest.

The most alarming fact, in our sanitary conditions, is the prevalence of Malarial Poison not only in marshy, low-lying districts, but in the cities and upon elevated ground where, a few years since, it was unheard of. Frequently fatal disorders of the digestive functions, wasted and enfeebled body and even insanity are the dire effects of malarial poisoning, the sure precusors of death if the poison is not neutralized. The boatmen on the Del. & Hudson Canal, as well as the inhabitants of the adjoining country, have been great sufferers from Malaria. Not until a few years past did they find a reliable remedy. Now thousands testify that there is but one real and speedy cure for malarial poisoning and that is Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which by its action upon the blood purifies it and restores a healthy tone to the entire system. As a preventive in localities where this danger lurks, it is invaluable. The "Favorite Remedy" also cures the worst liver and kidney complaints and all diseases caused by vitiated blood. For sale by all druggists, price $1 per bottle. It is entirely vegetable, purely vegetable remedy, the greatest alterative medicine in the world. NOTED MEN!

DR. JOHN F. HANCOCK, late President of the National Pharmaceutical Association of the United States, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters has a heavy sale, is conceded to be a fine tonic; the character of the manufacturer is a voucher for its purity and medicinal excellence."

DR. JOSEPH ROBERTS, President Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"I indorse it as a fine medicine, reliable as a strengthening tonic, free from alcoholic poisons."

DR. J. FARIS MOORE, PH. D., Professor of Pharmacy, Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a safe and reliable medicine, positively free from alcoholic poisons, and can be recommended as a tonic for use among those who oppose alcohol."

DR. EDWARD EARICKSON, Secretary Baltimore College of Pharmacy, says:

"I indorse it as an excellent medicine, a good digestive agent, and a non-inoxicating to the best sense."

DR. RICHARD SAPINGTON, one of Baltimore's oldest and most reliable physicians, says:

"All who have used it praise its standard virtues, and the well-known character of the house which makes it is a sufficient guarantee of its being all that is claimed, for they are men who could not be induced to offer anything else but a reliable medicine for public use."

Daily Chronicle.

Congressman Haynes.

The nomination of Col. Martin A. Haynes for Congress in this district is one that will bring hundreds of votes to the republican ticket. It delights the veteran soldiers of the district, who see in it a handsome recognition of the men who carried muskets through the war; it pleases the plain people with whom his sympathies always have been and always will be, and it satisfies earnest republicans, who desire to be represented by one who has always been steady, stanch and willing in the support of their principles. In Manchester, where Col. Haynes was born and where his honored father lived and died, this nomination is especially strong, and it will do much toward healing any wounds made by the action of other conventions.

When the war broke out, Mr. Haynes was a boy seventeen years old, but strong, robust and full of the spirit which filled the ranks of the Union army with the best men that ever fired a shot in defense of any country or the support of any cause. He enlisted as a private, and until the war closed was constantly in the ranks doing all duties, facing all dangers, enduring all hardships, which the fortunes of war bring to brave men; and when the rebel flag went down, he came home one of the heroes of twenty-eight battles, as sound, and strong, and true as when he went away. Since his return, he has been engaged in the newspaper business, first as a reporter, and afterward as the editor and proprietor of the Lake Village Times, which until recently was the only republican paper in Belknap county. He is one of the best writers in the state, and a good speaker. He is an active republican, and one of the most genial and popular men that ever sat about a campfire.

His nomination is a clean one. It has not been brought about by the use of money, or crooked practices of any kind. He is entitled to and will receive not only the united support of the party, but that of hundreds of the democratic soldiers. When he gets to Washington he will vote right every time.—Mirror.

Engineer Melville and his comrades who survived the terrible expedition of the Jeannette were given a very cordial reception at Washington on Saturday.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend S. Sherson, Esq., at present a resident of the town of Rawlings, in the far-off territory of Wyoming. "Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator has helped me right along," says Mr. Sherson. Glad to hear it, old fellow. Yours was an aggravated case of heart disease. The remedy you mention does the same thing in this section too; and better still, it always cures heart disease.—Nast's Weekly Letter-File.

Frank Reed, aged sixteen, of Watisfield, Vt., was dangerously wounded on Saturday afternoon by the accidental discharge of a revolver in the hands of a companion. Fatal consequences are anticipated.

"We are persuaded that the ancient Hermes with all the subtle art and natural resources of the Alchemists, was a very poor doctor compared with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass. Cuticura
THE NEW BLOOD PURIFIER
Resolvent

Mr. Albert Kingsbury, Keene, N. H., troubled with bad humor on hands and neck, caused by lead poisoning. (He's a painter.) At times it would break out, crude poison, and the skin separate from the flesh in large pieces, suffering great continual itching and stinging. Purchased your remedies, used Cuticura Resolvent internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and in less than three months effected a complete cure, and has not been troubled since. Corroborated by Bullard & Foster, Druggists, Keene, N. H.

Mother Died from it

J. W. Adams, Newark, Ohio, says: "Cuticura Remedies are the greatest medicine on earth. Had the worst case salt rheum in this county. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe Cuticura would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head were covered for three years, which nothing relived or cured until I used the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier) internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally.

Psoriasis.

H. E. Carpenter, Esq., Henderson, N. Y., cured of Psoriasis or Leprosy, of twenty years' standing, by the Cuticura Resolvent internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally. The most wonderful case on record. Cure certified to before a justice of the peace and prominent citizens. All afflicted with itching and scaly diseases should send to us for this testimonial in full.

Salt Rheum.

Those who have experienced the torments of Salt Rheum can appreciate the agony I endured for years, until cured by the Cuticura Resolvent internally and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally.

Mr. Wm. Westfall,

Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age, pain and disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N. Y., at the time since, in a condition to excite the pity of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people are as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, October 19, 1876.
R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I shall give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

A Good Speech.

The following was the speech of Martin A. Haynes to the convention which nominated him for Congress:

"Mr. President, and Gentlemen of the Convention: I thank you for the cordiality of your greeting. It indicates a unity of sentiment that is very auspicious of success, and consequently very gratifying to the candidate. I appreciate the honor of being named as the choice of one-half of the republicans of my native state. I appreciate especially the honor of being placed, as I am, to a certain extent, as a representative soldier of the state of New Hampshire; not especially of the soldiers who, like my good friend and old commander here present, bore upon his shoulders the well earned stars of the general — not of the soldiers who, like many in our midst, wore with honest pride the insignia of their rank, the knightly bars and the lordly leaves, but the plain, private soldiers, who, without even the chevrons of the corporal to grace their sleeves, in time of war won victories with their muskets for the flag to which they owed their allegiance, and in time of peace with their ballots have won victory after victory for the party to which their allegiance went. I accept the action of to-day, so far as it has any significance in their election, as being not a matter personal to myself, but the declaration of a great party that no man need feel ashamed of the honest, undecked blue he wore; that it is not presumption for the old rank and file to aspire to be captains in civil life, and that the bars of civil promotion are not irrevocably and forever closed against every man who happened to wear a private's uniform when the sunset gun of the rebellion was sounded at Appomatox.

Gentlemen, pledges are too often but mere idle words lightly spoken, and as easily broken. I consider it my good fortune that I have arrived at this point unbound by pledges and unhampered by promises—free as air to do just as my conscience and my judgment dictate. My platform can be stated in a very few words. I shall always be true to the great principles of equality and human rights instilled into me by old Free Soil ancestry, and should the action of to-day be ratified at the polls I shall never forget that I am the servant of the people of the First district of New Hampshire, and charge myself, so far as lies within my powers and opportunities, with the guardianship of their interests, whether they be those of our old historic city by the sea, or our spindle cities by the Merrimack and Cocheco, the hundred villages that cluster around our waterfalls, or of that great class who turn the furrows on our thousand hills and reap the harvests from our valleys.

Gentlemen, I thank you for your confidence, and I accept the nomination you have tendered. I shall use all honorable efforts that can be used by a man without a 'barrel' to secure my election. I am at your service."

News and Notes.

Hon. Selwyn Z. Bowman was nominated for Congress by the republicans of the 5th district of Massachusetts on the 26th inst.

The new prefect apostolic appointed by the pope over the vast district along the north shore of the St. Lawrence, from Blanc Sablan to Hudson bay, has made an urgent appeal to public charity in behalf of the scattered settlers and fishermen of the Labrador coast, who are, he says, threatened with starvation through the utter failure of their crops and of the seal and cod fisheries this season.

A heavy fall of roof coal occurred Monday in the Kingsland mine of the Maryland Coal company at Lonaconing. Four miners, including the mine boss, Wm. Byers, are known to be under the coal. The dead body of James Brebaney has been brought out. Louis Cook, another miner, has been brought up in a dying condition.

Lawyer Scoville on Sept. 25th filed his answer to his wife's petition for divorce. He charges her with unchaste conduct; that she fell desperately in love with one George E. Earlie, and that she visited him so constantly that he was obliged to change his boarding place, and that she told her husband she was as much Earlie's wife as if she had been married to him a hundred years; also that she had been led into queer notions by George Francis Train.

Three employes of the Harlem railway have been arrested for criminal carelessness in connection with the tunnel disaster.

The expedition which sailed last July from St. Johns, N. F., to furnish supplies to Lieut. Greeley's arctic expedition, failed to reach their destination, but depots were established to secure Greeley's safe retreat, if necessary, a year or two hence. No anxiety for the fate of Greeley's party is entertained. They are amply supplied with stores of all kinds for at least two years. The impossibility of annually reaching the station was foreseen and provided for.

John Garland, aged fifty-five years, was discharged from his fourth term in a Canadian penitentiary a few days ago. On the night of Sept. 23d he stole three horses; on the 25th he was arrested in Montpelier, Vt., and the horses, with a wagon and harness he had stolen in Franklin, Vt., recovered. He was held in $1000 on each charge.

It is announced that Senator David Davis will in a short time marry Miss Annie Barr of North Carolina, a beautiful and cultivated woman of thirty years of age, and an heiress.

Joseph Dunn, of Whately, Mass., now under confinement for poisoning his wife, is a brutal-looking fellow about forty years old, with but one ear. His wife was about sixty years old. Dunn worked on his wife's farm as a laborer at one time, until his wages due amounted to $200, when the woman compromised payment by marrying him. The marriage took place five years ago, and Dunn has for some time treated his wife very cruelly. He murdered her with arsenic.

The full bench of Massachusetts has sustained the defendants' exceptions in the suit of the Commonwealth against the Boston & Maine railroad, which corporation was indicted for causing the death of Sherburn T. Sanborn, September 22d, 1880. The decision was based on the ground that the negligence or carelessness of a corporation, or the unfitness or gross negligence or carelessness of its servants or agents, must be distinct averments, and proved as alleged.

Five members of the board of aldermen of Burlington, Vt., have been indicted by the grand jury for neglect of duty in that they refused to open a city liquor agency. The county commissioners appointed a liquor agent unsatisfactory to the aldermen, and they refused to open the agency, which has been closed a year. The penalty under the indictment is a heavy fine.

A few months since a man by the name of Warner was found dead in or near a spring in South Canaan, Conn., it being supposed that he had died in an epileptic fit. His neighbors thought he was a man in moderate circumstances, but while the administrator was looking over his effects in an old tool chest, which stood by an open window, he found bank books, government bonds and gold and silver amounting to between $30,000 and $40,000.

The Portland Advertiser notes that civil service reform has received due attention in the republican conventions of New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Connecticut, but was entirely ignored by the republicans of Maine. "It was a bad oversight for Maine," remarks the Advertiser. Considering that the republicans got about 7,000 majority in Maine, and elected a governor by a majority vote for the first time since 1877; got a majority too that is larger than their party is sure of getting in Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Hampshire combined, it rather looks as if the Maine republicans didn't waste many tears ever that oversight.—Boston Post.

—A hackman recently went into the surf at Long Branch and encountered a huge shark. Their eyes met for an instant, when the shark blushed and swam out.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts a box everywhere. eod&w1jan1

Another "Samuel of Posen" Liable to Run the House.

Some time ago a young Hungarian Jew applied to Captain Smith of the Brunswick Hotel for employment, stating that he was penniless and desired to gain an honest livelihood. Captain Smith said he could take the position of hotel bookblack, which, while rather humble, about a well patronized public house is quite lucrative. The young man said he would accept the position and went to work. He stayed just five weeks and in that time had cleared fifty nine dollars over and above expenses. He then left for San Antonio, much to the relief of the proprietor of the Brunswick, who was afraid if he remained much longer, like "Samuel of Posen," he would own the house. Before leaving Austin he purchased a ticket in The Louisiana State Lottery, and just received information that he has drawn one-fifth of the capital prize of $75,000, giving him $15,000. When that young man again visits Austin he will register his name on the Brunswick book, giving the autograph all of the aristocratic titles included to recently acquired wealth.—Austin, Tex., Statesman, Aug. 16th.

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest eminence on both sides of the Atlantic, as an invaluable Tonic and Restorative in cases of General Debility, Nervous Depression, Enfeebled Constitution and Female Weakness.

NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a specific for their troubles. It stimulates the digestive, sharpens the appetite, invigorates and builds up the entire system, and excites a generous flow of milk.

WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from lassitude and weariness, the result of disease, over-study, or nervous strain, will derive substantial benefit from its use. It restores the system to its normal condition and brings back the bloom of youth.

INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life, and restoring lost strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It neither pals upon the appetite nor offends the taste.

DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weaknesses of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It improves the digestion, purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and revives the spirits.

WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who require some artificial restorative—and especially those who are inclined to Consumption—will find this preparation exactly suited to their needs. It is a specific for Coughs and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.

AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The whole tendency of its action is to stimulate the digestion of the producing foods, and its effect is invariably to give fullness and roundness to the female form, and robustness to the muscular tissue.

THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Fluid Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from alcohol. It is readily retained on the stomach and assimilates most but wholesome and nourishing ingredients. The genuine preparation bears on the label a fac-simile of his Signature, as well as that of J. VOGELIUS & CO., BALTIMORE, MD., Sole Agents for America.

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.

READ!

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

25th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 135 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

BAIRD'S MINSTRELS.

On Saturday evening, the 30th inst., Baird's Mammoth Minstrels will give an entertainment which it is safe to say will delight all lovers of first-class variety shows. Mr. Baird has within a few years jumped to the front rank as a manager in his line, and the last performance he gave here was one of the best entertainments of the kind ever offered in Music hall. The Argus, of Salem, Mass., thus spoke of the appearance of this organization in that city:

Unlike most companies of the kind, the performance went far ahead of the advertisement, which augurs well for the success with which the company is meeting. The first part of the programme was really a musical gem, the sweet melodies of which were interspersed with happy jokes and witicisms by the ten end men, who introduced some bran new conundrums, and kept the house in one continuous giggle. The sketches were new and lively, and were received with rounds of applause. Probably the most novel departure in minstrelsy is the pedestal clog dance introduced by the Four Invincibles—Messrs. Leslie, Clarke, Gardner and Johnny Mack—and the dancing of the Midget Four on each others heads—which surpasses anything of the kind we have ever seen. Each number on the bill was faithfully presented and admirably rendered. Mr. Baird has thirty-five people—each one a bright star in his particular line. The band concerts excel anything of the kind on the road, while the whole entertainment may be justly termed the par excellence of refined minstrelsy.

"MY PARTNER."

Bartley Campbell's noted picture of California life, "My Partner," will be presented in the Franklin theatre on Saturday evening, Sept. 30th. The play was performed in this city about two years ago, and was received with great favor by a large audience. Though the scene of the play is placed amid the mixed surroundings of a California mining region, the work is free from coarse rowdyism, the pistol and bowie knife swagger, which has hitherto been made the chief, if not the only material in dramas of border life. There are no revolver discussions and lynchings, no eruption of red shirts and slang phrases, but in their place the home utterances of men and women who might have lived and had their being anywhere else than in California.

"ACROSS THE CONTINENT."

An opportunity to go "Across the Continent" with Oliver D. Byron and his dramatic company will be afforded at Music hall on Monday evening, Oct. 2d, when and where the sensational comedy-drama of that name will be performed. The New York Times, speaking of this play and company, says:

"Across the Continent," Mr. Oliver Doud Byron's specialty piece, is generally considered one of the best plays of its class, as it certainly is one of the most successful, having completed the decade of its unparalleled career. This is to be explained by the fact that it is on a large scale, requiring really the services of two ordinary companies to portray it; and also by the careful, spirited acting Mr. Byron throws into it, in the leading part of the "Ferret." Not only is there exciting melo-drama, hairbreadth escapes, and a grand closing tableau of rescue by United States troops, but in the prologue there is a full concert scene, giving half an hour's agreeable interlude of fun and minstrelsy by capable performers.

"THE WORLD."

The great spectacular drama, "The World," will be given on Music hall stage next Tuesday evening, Oct. 3d. Of the scenes in this piece the Boston Advertiser says:

Two of the scenes are especially fine and realistic. One is that representing the deck of a great ocean steamer, which, with its bridge, its smoke-stack, escaping steam, masts, rigging, and in the reality is remarkably complete; and the sensation of the explosion, flames, panic of passengers, and general breaking-up of the ship is thoroughly thrilling. The other is the raft scene, which comes next after. Here the water effect is as perfect as anything ever seen here on the stage, and the billow-tossed raft, with its starving freight, is admirably managed. The sky effects, including a sunrise at sea, and the distant vessel, add to the vividness of the picture.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

The democratic county convention of Rockingham county was held in Epping on Tuesday, Sept. 26th, and candidates chosen as follows:

For sheriff, Henry F. Wendell of Portsmouth;

For county solicitor, Calvin Page of Portsmouth;

For register of probate, Frank P. Brown of Seabrook;

For register of deeds, Albert J. Sanborn of Seabrook;

For treasurer, John J. Pillsbury of Northwood;

For county commissioners, Edward R. Noyes of Hampstead, Benjamin F. Haley of Newmarket, James D. Brown of Hampton Falls.

The convention was well attended and harmonious, there being no special contest over any of the nominations except that for county solicitor, for which four ballots were taken.

AROUND HOME.

An out-of-town photographer was on Tuesday engaged in taking views of the stores and principal buildings on Market street and in its vicinity—possibly for an illustrated article in some of the popular magazines.

The sea was rough outside the harbor, Tuesday morning, and a brisk breeze blowing from the northeast. A large fleet of mackerelmen was in the lower harbor in the forenoon, and showed no disposition to go out. Schooner Annie F. Conlon, bound east, remained in the lower harbor; and the schooner Kate Lilly, from Bath for Boston with a load of lumber, came in during the forenoon. The schooner Emily A. Staples, Coleman master, from Eliot for Boston with bricks, remained at anchor in the cove near Fort Constitution.

Mr. Edmund B. Dearborn arrived home last week from a voyage to Port au Prince, West Indies, in the barque Wheatland of Boston, commanded by Capt. Parker of Winthrop, Mass. The yellow fever and small pox were prevalent at San Domingo when the Wheatland was there, but communication with the shore was limited as much as possible, and the diseases did not appear on the vessel. On her next trip Mr. Frank E. Dearborn will go out in her, as a passenger.

Fifty-five feet of the old coal-shed of C. E. Walker & Co., which is 115 feet long, is to be removed, and attached to the western end of the rigging-loft building; and the rest of the shed will be moved thirty feet shoreward, to make more room on the wharf.

An excursion train from North Conway for Boston passed through this city on Tuesday morning. It comprised sixteen passenger cars, all well filled.

The Boston Traveller of Tuesday evening, in an article on the coming visit of the president to Boston, said: "Last evening a telegram was sent to President Arthur at New York stating that by direction of His Excellency Gov. Long a staff officer would be at Portsmouth, N. H., on the evening of the 10th of October, who will accompany the presidential party to Boston."

Congressman Robeson and family on Monday left Albert Batchelder's at Little Boar's head, Rye, where they have been for the season.

Paschal Hall, who lives on the farm in South Newmarket near the Stratham bridge where his grandfather lived and died, fell from the scaffold in his barn to the floor on Tuesday, and received injuries which it was expected would prove fatal.

Mr. E. C. Stimson has tendered his resignation as a teacher in the public schools, to take effect next month.

Mr. Burlington Paul and wife, of Kittery, celebrated their tin wedding on Monday evening of this week. About one hundred persons assembled, and the presents, useful and ornamental, of tin and other materials, were numerous and valuable. Supper was served, and the occasion was enjoyable throughout.

Mr. Charles Langton of Kittery has this season raised twenty-five bushels of very handsome spring wheat from an acre of ground.

Gen. Stephen L. Butterfield, of Kittery, who has been indisposed ever since the election in Maine, having been greatly exhausted by the arduous labors of the campaign which resulted in such a glorious victory (for the opposition,) will spend a brief period in the vicinity of Bangor, where he resided in his youth, to recuperate. The general and his daughter will start on their eastern trip to-day.

The supreme court at Dover was on Monday engaged in trying a case that caused more than usual interest. Henry Sayward, of Niles & Co.'s express, sued for the recovery of $500 from Conductor Stevens of the Boston & Maine railroad, which he let him have in July, 1881, for the purpose of speculating in stocks. The plaintiff claims that he simply lent the money and had no interest in the gain or losses of the speculation, but the defendant was to return him the $500 on the 1st of January, 1882. In defence, Stevens claims that the money was lent on the understanding that they equally share in the profits and losses. There was a heavy loss, and Stevens tendered Sayward $78 as his share of what was left. Sayward refused to take it, and sued for the whole sum of $500. The jury were out all night, but failed to agree.

The first, second and third regiments, New Hampshire national guards, with heavy artillery, and the Manchester and Peterborough cavalry, went into camp for a five days' muster at Concord, Monday. The regiments turned out in good numbers and made a fine appearance. The camp, which is named Camp Governor Bell, is upon the grounds where the state fair was recently held. The day was spent in preparing the camp and the usual military preliminaries. A parade took place in the afternoon.

The funeral of the relict of Ex-Gov. Smith, and mother of Judge Jeremiah Smith of Dover, occurred Monday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Morrison of Philadelphia. The same clergyman officiated at the death of her husband forty years ago. He delivered a most telling eulogy on the many good qualities of the deceased. The funeral cortege was the largest seen in Dover for many years.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a valuable remedy for all Female Complaints, Pain and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, and all weaknesses caused by the peculiarities of which are so common to womankind. This is not a "Cure-all" Advertisement, but is the result of long experience, and if your druggist does not keep it, you can buy one bottle of druggist for $1.00, and if you do not find it the best medicine you ever used, return the empty bottle to us, and we will refund your money. Ladies' Tonic is a simple remedy, it never fails to give good and permanent satisfaction.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint peculiar to our sex, buy such the doctor's prescription for your case, and try Ladies' Tonic. It will not disappoint you, and positively cure in any case of Female Weakness or inability which is in the power of medicine to cure. Ladies who know how to appreciate a good medicine, and ladies who know how to appreciate a good medicine, and ladies who know what they want, ask for LADIES' TONIC—the old and always reliable.

MALARIA!

THE ONLY REMEDY KNOWN
To Destroy this Deadly Pest.

The most alarming fact, in our sanitary conditions, is the prevalence of Malarial Poison not only in marshy, low-lying districts, but in the cities and upon elevated ground where, a few years since, it was unheard of. Frequently fatal disorders of the digestive functions, wasted and enfeebled body and even insanity are the dire effects of malarial poisoning, the sure precursors of death if the poison is not neutralized. The boatmen on the Del. & Hudson Canal, as well as the inhabitants of the adjoining country, have been great sufferers from Malaria. Not until a few years past did they find a reliable remedy. Now thousands testify that there is but one real and speedy cure for malarial poisoning and that is Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which by its action upon the blood purifies it and restores a healthy tone to the entire system. Its wonderful cures in localities where this danger lurks, it is invaluable. The "Favorite Remedy" also cures the worst liver and kidney complaints and all diseases caused by vitiated blood. For sale by all druggists, price $1 per bottle. It is an absolutely safe, purely vegetable remedy, the greatest alterative medicine in the world. NOTED MEN!

DR. JOHN F. HANCOCK, late President of the National Pharmaceutical Association of the United States, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters has a heavy sale, is conceded to be a fine tonic; the character of the manufacturers is a voucher for its purity and medicinal excellence."

DR. JOSEPH ROBERTS, President Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"I indorse it as a fine medicine, reliable as a strengthening tonic, free from alcoholic poisons."

DR. J. FARIS MOORE, PH. D., Professor of Pharmacy, Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a safe and reliable medicine, positively free from alcoholic poisons, and can be recommended as a tonic for use among those who oppose alcohol."

DR. EDWARD EARICKSON, Secretary Baltimore College of Pharmacy, says:

"I indorse it as an excellent medicine, a good digestive agent, and a non-intoxicant in the usual sense."

DR. RICHARD SAPINGTON, one of Baltimore's oldest and most reliable physicians, says:

"All who have used it praise its standard virtues, and the well-known character of the house which makes it is a sufficient guarantee of its being all that is claimed, for they are men who could not be induced to offer anything else but a reliable medicine for public use."

Daily Chronicle.

A Clergyman's Ruse.

A venerable clergyman, says the Boston Courier, arose slowly in the pulpit, and glancing around on the thinly-scattered congregation, said in an emphatic tone, in which there was more of sorrow than of anger: "My beloved brethren, I am in hopes that there will be more present next Sabbath, as I will then have occasion to reveal a scandal which has oppressed my heart. It concerns the members of this church very deeply, and no one who has a regard for eternal happiness should be absent." When the benediction was pronounced the handful of people slowly dispersed, but behold how much good seed a few can scatter! The next Sunday the sacred edifice was packed. There was, indeed, hardly breathing room when the white-haired sage once more lifted his head above the pulpit cushions, and a silence as of death fell upon the expectant throng. He stood a moment looking upon the unwonted scene, and then his voice in silvery cadences broke the hush of anticipation. "Dear friends," he said, "the scandal I would reveal is this—you will gather in this place in crowds to hear mischievous gossip, but will not listen to explanations of the inspired word. Now, my children, I offer my resignation. I am going to Europe for six months, and I shall pay my own expenses." But no one of the vast multitude took the lesson to himself; he applied it to his neighbor.

—The preachers have nearly all returned to their pulpits. The war against Satan will now proceed with renewed vigor. The devil no doubt takes advantage of the summer vacation of the clergy, and deserves all the reproach that will be heaped upon him.

—An Irishman who had hitched a mule in the neighborhood of a spot where some men were engaged in blasting, was cautioned by one of them to take the animal away. "Never mind me," replied Pat; "I'm contin H yez are." "Yes, but don't you know that the cart by the post there contains dynamite?" "Dyamite, is it? Well, thin, if it's got faylins yez had bether remove it where it won't be harrumed, for if that mewel gets the foorst kick I wouldn't give much for it."

—On the banks of the Kennebec river, a few miles below Bath, lives an old lady Years ago she cried so violently when about to be married that it was with difficulty that she could be pacified. On being interrogated as to the cause of her great grief she replied that it made her sad to think she was to live so near the steep bank of the river, where her children would daily be in danger of being drowned The lady has now lived there fifty years, and has never had a child.

Only Two Bottles.

Messrs. Johnson, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with request to send a good catarrh cure to two officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentlemen told them that both the officers and the wife of Gen. John C. Fremont Gov. of Arizona, had been cured of catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm.

Messrs. Ely Bros., Druggists, Owego, N. Y.—A few days ago I saw a lady who had used your Cream Balm for Catarrh, and had found more relief in one bottle than from all other remedies she had tried. I enclose $1 for two bottles. Yours respectfully, JAMES HITCHEN, M. D., Providence, R. I.

Medway and Franklin, Mass., were alarmed on Saturday, Sept. 23d, at midnight, by a great explosion, which shook buildings, and the cause of which is not yet made known. It is suggested that an immense meteor fell into the valley of the Charles river and exploded.

Of all inventions for solid comfort German Corn Remover stands at the head. 25c.

The lapse of a century and a quarter does not seem much to have improved oriental soldiers at the expense of those of the occident. Supposing Arabi Pasha's army to have numbered 40,000 men at Tel-el-Kebir,—as according to one Egyptian account it did,—it was beaten in a few minutes by about one-third that number of Englishmen. At Plassey, India, in 1757, 3100 Englishmen and Sepoys, under Clive, defeated more than 40,000 Hindoos, in an hour.

Mr. Burton, of Ridway & Burton, stove dealers, Cincinnati, Ohio, says: Two bottles of St. Jacobs Oil cured my boy of rheumatism when everything else failed.

In Somerville, Mass., a few days ago, a number of boys employed in the glass works struck for higher pay, which was refused. They went to work again on being told by the chief of police that they must otherwise go to school.

Send stamp for names of those who have been cured.

Both parties now claim that they will carry the state of New York. The difference is that the democrats began claiming first, putting their prospective majority at 50,000. The democrats claim that united they can carry the state, but the republicans have different notions.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

Jerry Cox and Lewi Bryson had a pistol fight in the Baptist church at Hampton Cross Roads, Va., on Sunday, Sept. 24th. Bryson was mortally wounded, and fell on a bench, but managed to raise himself, and shot Cox dead. The congregation were very much annoyed at the circumstance.

Why Should They.

No man or woman can do satisfactory work when the brain is dull, the nerves unsteady, the system relaxed and they feel generally wretched. Why should anybody drag through their work in this condition, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic will at moderate cost give them the strength and will to perform their duties satisfactorily.—Ed.

Newton Wallace, Ella Wallace, Abraham Lucas and Belle Lucas, were drowned in the river at South Lebanon, Ohio, Sept. 26th, through the capsizing of a boat while skylarking. One other occupant of the boat was saved.

Oyster Sauce.

Take one pint of oysters and scald them in their own broth; add salt, pepper and a blade of mace. Let them boil up once and skim them out. To the broth add a cup of cream in which you have mixed a teaspoonful of Sea Moss Farine, boil a few moments, add a piece of butter and return the oysters to heat but not boil.

Mrs. Bush and five children were drowned in Heathville, Va., on the night of Sept. 22d, through the carrying away of their dwelling by the breaking of a dam.

Lynn, Mass.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL,
Conductor L. & B. R. R.

I consider Swedish Botanic Compound the best Blood Purifier and Spring Medicine in use.

Mr. Wm. Westfall,

Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age, pain and disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N. Y., at the time stated, in a condition to excite the pity of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people are as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good catharic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [In postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

A Winter Trip to California.

Messrs. Raymond and Whitcomb, the successful excursion managers, have hit upon a novel enterprise. They are to take a party of eastern people out to California for a five months' sojourn at the elegant Hotel del Monte, Monterey. This place, one of the most delightful health and pleasure resorts in the world, is charmingly described in the October number of Harper's Magazine. A circular giving all required details regarding the trip may be had by addressing W. Raymond, No. 240 Washington street, Boston.

New Hampshire Items.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Salmon Falls Manufacturing Co. will be held to-day.

Two Frenchmen, named Bullock and Greenwood, section hands on the Concord railroad, were killed at Garvin's Falls, Sept. 26th. They were walking upon the track, and stepping off to avoid a down train were struck by the locomotive of the up express. They lived in Suncook, and were aged about thirty and twenty-two years respectively.

John P. Ladd, aged eight years, was instantly killed by the Montreal express as it was entering Manchester about six o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 26th. The boy attempted to cross the track in front of the engine.

Judge John G. Jewett, of the Laconia police court, has been appointed superintendent of public instruction in that town, and has entered upon his duties.

A new postal route has been established between Rochester and East Northwood.

Mr. Daniel MacGregor recently gave to Pinkerton academy, at Derry, a valuable collection of minerals and natural history specimens.

Mrs. G. W. Sargent of Hill, sixty-one years of age, never saw the inside of a passenger car until Sept. 19th, when she took her first ride on a trip to visit the state fair at Concord.

Two democratic congressional delegates who reside in a town not far from Canterbury, in the first district, attended the republican congressional convention in Concord by mistake.

Joseph Lamoureu was arraigned before the police court in Laconia recently, and pleaded guilty to stealing $15 from the money-drawer in the counting room of the Laconia Grist Mill company. He was bound over to appear before the supreme court, and for want of sufficient bonds went to jail.

On Thursday night, Sept. 21st, in the freight yard of the Northern railroad at West Lebanon, a fireman named Will E. Dudley was run over and killed, through getting one of his feet caught between the main rail and a guard rail while coupling cars.

The buildings of Clarence Farnsworth, near West Rumney, were badly damaged by a thunderstorm Tuesday night, Sept. 19th, which was accompanied by hail and wind. Hollis Presby's barn, at Lisbon, was struck by lightning during the thunder-storm of the 19th, and burned. Mr. Presby was slightly injured while attempting to rescue the cattle, which he succeeded in doing with much difficulty.

Hon. Thomas Cogswell, of Gilmanton, lost a valuable bull recently, by a very singular accident. The animal reached in between two rocks to drink, and then by drawing back his head instead of raising it, he was caught between the rocks, and drowned in the water which he was trying to drink.

George W. Murray and wife, of Canaan, were thrown from a carriage at a railroad crossing in Grafton, Sept. 18th, and both considerably injured.

The annual conclave of the Grand Commandry of Knights Templar of New Hampshire was held in Concord on Sept. 26th.

News and Notes.

The driving wheel which runs the mule spinning department in the American Linen mill at Fall River, Mass., burst Tuesday morning, Sept. 26th. John Barnard, aged twenty-eight years, and unmarried, was struck by the flying fragments, and died of his injuries in a few minutes. Thomas Moore and James Downs were injured by flying debris, but not seriously.

Wellington Brothers, of Boston, dry goods jobbers, have made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors, to whom are owed several hundred thousand dollars. It was an unpleasant surprise to a number of firms which had estimated the Wellingtons' credit as perfectly good.

Capt. Joseph C. Hamilton of the ship Undaunted, of Bath, Me., and Charles A. Cummings, her first mate, have been arrested on a charge of cruelty at sea to the crew. Two of the crew allege that all the crew were landsmen, not understanding English, and that they (the two) were cruelly beaten many times. One of the seamen, it is alleged, in fear fell into the hatchway and was killed. Another seaman, it is alleged, was hung up by the wrists and brutally beaten. The captain and mate were held in $1,000 bail each.

Thomas Dodd, of Covington, Ky., after paying court for a year to Annie Welsh, a girl sixteen years old, and ruining her, on the night of Sept. 24th was married in church to a Miss Hale. Dodd's parents, who knew nothing of the intended marriage until informed that it was taking place, hastened to the church, arriving there just as the carriages were leaving, and pelted the bridal party with stones until stopped by the police. On the following night the parents of the Welsh girl went to Dodd's house, called him to the door, and shot him dead.

Miss Abbie Roberts of Bar Harbor, Mt. Desert, Me., met with a shocking accident while employed in the laundry of the Rodick hotel, Sept. 26th. Both hands were caught in a mangle, jammed to the thumbs, and held against the hot iron until the machine could be taken apart. She will lose one hand; perhaps both.

City Marshal White of Augusta, Me., through his attorneys, Messrs. Baker & Baker, has brought action for libel against the Portland Argus, laying the damages at $10,000. The alleged libellous article was a letter from the Augusta correspondent of the Argus, shortly after the liquor riot in Augusta, sharply commenting on the conduct of the police force during the trouble, and intimating as the reason for remissness that the city marshal was a partner in Hoyt & Co.'s express, the express company which carried the contraband beer to Augusta.

John Abbott, colored, and Hattie Holden, white, are under arrest at Worcester, Mass., while a case of child murder is under investigation. The body of a child was found, and near it was a newspaper with Abbott's name on it. The girl admits giving birth to a child of which she says Abbott is the father, and that Abbott took it and disposed of it.

While George Lapham, aged twenty-eight years, was adjusting timber in a dam at North Adams, Mass., Sept. 26th, he fell into Hoosac river and was drowned. His body is stowed under a lot of timber, and cannot be found.

The premises of Daniel W. Pope of Kirby, Vt., were entered one night recently, his harnesses cut in pieces, wagon thills broken and boot stolen, and forty young apple trees cut down. This took place in the same neighborhood where Mr. Parker had several cattle poisoned last summer.

The murderer McCaffrey of Waterbury, Vt., has been indicted by the grand jury. His peculiar conduct at the time he murdered his wife and mother last spring led the authorities to believe him insane, and he has been kept at Brattleboro, but he has since been rational, and it is thought that his insanity was a pretence.

H. N. Pepper and wife of Worcester, Mass., lately separated, the former keeping their seven-years-old boy. Friday afternoon, Sept. 22d, Mrs. Pepper, accompanied by her father, went to the shoe factory where Pepper worked, and attempted to take away the child. This the father successfully resisted, the other workmen taking his part.

Rev. Joshua Provine Bond Eddy, formerly a preacher, died in squalor and wretchedness at Philadelphia on Sept. 25th, at the age of eighty-four years. He left property estimated to be worth fully $100,000, but was too miserly to allow himself even the necessaries of life. He was a colored man.

In the district court at South Framingham, Mass., Sept. 26th, G. H. Carr and Mrs. Augusta Whitney were tried for cruelty to a child, and were placed under $300 bonds to appear before the grand jury. The evidence for the state showed that the child had been cruelly whipped and knocked down by Carr, placed in a tub with its clothes on, and the tub filled with cold water, and in one case the child had been put on a hot stove and severely burned. The evidence for the defence was a general denial.

A tramp attacked a Chicago editor with a club, Sept. 27th, and was shot dead.

Mrs. Ole Bull has just returned from Norway, with much fresh and important material for the "Life of Ole Bull," which she is preparing.

The strike of the lasters in Day's shoe shop at Biddeford was of short duration, their demands for increased pay being quickly complied with; the other employes of the shop then demanded a similar increase, (twenty-five per cent.) and got it. Other shoe manufacturers of the city have been notified by their help that an advance in wages must be made, and some of them have made it.

Miss Elizabeth Stuart Phelps spends her summers at East Gloucester, Mass. She is now reading the proofs of "Doctor Zay," her latest work, and many think her best, which will be published early in October, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney some years ago put no little wit and wisdom into a book called "Mother Goose for Grown Folks." She has recently added a good deal to it, several new pictures have been made for it by Augustus Hoppin, and it will shortly be published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., in uniform style with her other books.

—Arabi Bey had a lot of sympathy in this country until he got licked. Everybody now says that he was a cantankerous rebel who ought to have been clubbed on the start.

—There is a man in Green Bay who has taken his wife back three different times after she has eloped with other men. He says that he shan't do it but once more. There are some things that can't be forgiven.

LIFE INSURANCE!
The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.
Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.
Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.
READ!

KNOW THYSELF.
THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
258th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,
is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,
is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.
N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 27; Batchelder J.

William McPherson, charged with stealing from Atwood Gammon a dog valued at $100, was held in $300 to answer before the supreme court. Not being able to furnish sureties, he was committed to jail.

Martha Tredick, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90.

REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The republican convention for the 24th senatorial district (wards one, two and four of this city) was held in the court house on Wednesday forenoon, Sept. 27th, at eleven o'clock.

The convention was called to order by J. Horace Kent; William E. Hadley was chosen permanent chairman, and Newton Johnston secretary. The committee on credentials reported fourteen delegates present, and a ballot was taken for a candidate, with the following result:

Whole number of votes cast	14
Necessary for a choice	8
Titus S. Tredick had	2
William H. Sise	3
John Laighton	9

And John Laighton was declared the nominee of the convention.

Messrs. Joseph H. Gardiner, William H. Lovell and Charles N. Osgood, were appointed a committee to notify Mr. Laighton of his nomination, and the convention adjourned without a day.

MASONIC INSTALLATION.

The following-named brethren were installed as officers of Naval Lodge, No. 184, F. & A. M., of Kittery, Me., on the evening of Wednesday, Sept. 27th, by Past Master W. W. Locke:

Theodore Wilcox, W. M.;
Edwin A. Duncan, S. W.;
Samuel Taylor, J. W.;
Jacob Patch, Treas.;
Levi L. Goodrich, Sec.;
John Seibold, S. D.;
A. A. Peterson, J. D.

After the installation, work was exemplified on the third degree. A number of prominent masons were present from this city.

COCHECO MANUFACTURING CO.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cocheco Manufacturing Co. was held at Dover on Wednesday, Sept. 27th. Hon. Amos A. Lawrence presided. The report of the doings, while showing less net profit than for the year previous, was quite satisfactory, a surplus having been earned above the usual dividend; 12,064 bales of cotton were used, and 2,767,417 yards of cloth manufactured. The officers of last year were unanimously re-elected, viz.:

Amos A. Lawrence, John A. Burnham, J. Ingersoll Bowditch, T. Jefferson Coolidge, John McDuffee, John L. Gardner, Jr., Howard Stockton, directors;
Howard Stockton, treasurer;
Z. L. Wallingford, clerk.

Several of the stockholders accepted an invitation to pass over the Dover horse railway in an observation car.

The stockholders, with invited guests, dined at the American house, Rev. Mr. Mellen of Dover officiating as chaplain.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Naval Constructor Robert W. Steele is detached from this yard, and ordered to relieve Constructor Edward Hartt at New London on Oct. 10th. Naval Constructor George R. Boush has been ordered to this yard. Constructor Steele has been at this station less than six months, but during that short period he has made many friends who will regret that the requirements of the service should necessitate his transfer to another field of labor.

The officers of the Vandalia gave a complimentary dinner on board the ship, to the officers of the yard and prominent citizens, on the afternoon of the 27th inst., and a dance at Franklin hall in the evening.

One-third of the force in the construction department at the navy yard was suspended on Wednesday evening, Sept. 27th, until Monday, Oct. 2d, owing to lack of funds.

Of "My Partner," which is to be presented in Franklin theatre on Saturday evening, the New York Star says: "'My Partner' is entitled to much praise for its strong, pathetic story, its intense situations, and its forcible but natural presentation of California scenes and California life." Tickets can now be procured at Alfred Stavers' furnishing goods store.

Charles Howard, who is admitted even by his professional rivals to be the best impersonator of the aged negro on the stage, will appear on Saturday evening at Music hall with Baird's minstrels.

A very heavy sea was reported as running outside the harbor on Wednesday of this week, and large flights of sea-birds moving along the shores. The roar of the surf was heard in this city through the night more distinctly than for years, and the "Jersey bull" bellowed louder than ever before.

Mayor Treat has been notified that some creditor of Mr. Norton, holding a judgment for about twenty dollars against him, wants the amount which Norton may recover from the city in his patent-valve suit, and claims a lien on the proceeds of any judgment which Norton may in any event obtain.

The schooner Clara E. Simpson, Capt. Swett, was towed to sea on Wednesday, the 27th inst., by the tug Clara Batemen. There were about eighty vessels, coasters and fishermen, in the lower harbor on Wednesday forenoon.

The Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. Edw. D. Coffin commanding, will go into camp at Greenland on Monday, Oct. 2d, for five days. The camp will be named Camp Gov. Goodwin.

Mr. True W. Jones, head brewer at the Bay State brewery in South Boston, has been eminently successful in the business. His interest in Portsmouth and everything concerning its welfare is unabated, and a large number of Portsmouth men are employed in the brewery. Mr. William T. Jones, son of Mr. Nathan Jones of Newington, is there learning the business. "Billy" is now a stout young fellow with whiskers of the most ferocious pattern, and looks first-rate.

Residents on a part of South street complain, and apparently with some reason, that so far as they are concerned the city might as well be without a fire department, as it is no protection whatever to their property, there being no water available for the purpose of extinguishing fires within three-quarters of a mile of one portion of the street. A reservoir on Mount Vernon street was asked for some years ago, but nothing was ever done about it.

Several small pilot fish were caught on the flats near Pest island, on the 24th inst., by some gentlemen in a boat.

The yacht Gitana, which had been lying in the lower harbor for several days, was on Monday evening of this week finely illuminated with about two hundred Chinese lanterns of various colors and designs. A row of lanterns encircled her, about three feet above the rail, while others were displayed under her awning, and in the rigging from the deck to the topmast heads. Fireworks were set off, and added to the fine effect of the display. The Gitana sailed on Tuesday evening, the 26th inst., for the westward.

Charles Sinclair, who was killed on Monday evening of this week about a mile from the Newmarket depot, by being run over by a train on the Boston & Maine railroad, was an unmarried man about sixty-five years old, and worked for Mrs. Sallie Young, who lives near where the accident happened; he had been to the village to purchase groceries, and on his return fell on the track, in a fit as is supposed. He was the third man living on the Young place to be killed by the cars within twenty years, the first being Mr. Joseph Young, who was run over about twenty years ago, and the second a Mr. Dudley, Young's brother-in-law, who was killed about five years since.

"St. Nicholas" has a long array of attractions for the coming year. Besides the serial story by J. T. Trowbridge, there will be a historical novelette of the thirteenth century, by Frank R. Stockton, author of "Rudder Grange," etc.; "The Story of Robin Hood," by Maurice Thompson, author of "The Witchery of Archery;" a capital story of the battlefield of Plevna, during the Russo-Turkish war, by Archibald Forbes, the war correspondent; a novel play for young people, by William M. Baker, author of "His Majesty, Myself," with other plays and special features by Mary Cowden Clarke, E. S. Brooks, and others; an article on Elizabeth Thompson, the celebrated painter of battle-scenes, written by her sister, and illustrated with several fine sketches by the artist herself, drawn expressly for St. Nicholas. Then there will be a short serial dealing with the great Mississippi flood of 1882, and stories by Louisa M. Alcott, H. H. Boyeson, W. O. Stoddard, Joaquin Miller, Noah Brooks, Edgar Fawcett, and other distinguished writers. The new year of St. Nicholas begins with the November number.

—Confederate bonds are quoted at $6 on a thousand again. The confederacy is as dead as anybody could wish it to be, "except those bonds."

Invalids, Epicures,

and, in fact, everyone should understand the value of that delicious food source—SEA MOSS FARINE. It is produced by inventive skill from the nutritious Irish Sea Moss, and is, without exception, the best Invalids' Food and most useful basis for light wholesome food and desserts now in existence. For puddings, jellies, creams, blanc manges and other table delicacies, the Sea Moss Farine excels everything known, and in the sick room it is simply indispensable.

The Phosphates of the Wheat are its most valuable food property, and are, when properly prepared, the most acceptable nutriment with which to build up the system.

The Blood, Brain and Nerves are the tissues which bear the strain of every day work and life, and in order to save sickness it is wise to BUILD FOR HEALTH.

Wheat Bitters are prepared, not by fermentation but by solution and are richest in the Phosphates, while the starch and impure matter are eliminated. These take in themselves a basis, to which is added the best and choicest medicinal qualities, necessary to make it a tonic and bitter. It is at once healthful, pleasant to the taste and must not be confounded with the thousand and one cheap alcoholic bitters which are sold as cure-alls. Medicine is doubly effective when used with food, and in no form is this so complete.

A New Food-Fish.

Capt. Joseph W. Collins of Gloucester recently arrived home from a trip in smack Josie Reeves of New York to the edge of the Gulf stream, in search for tilefish, in the interest of the United States fish commission. The smack fished for three days over the ground where tilefish have been found in the greatest abundance for the past three years, making two sets of trawls a day, and covering fifty miles of territory, without taking a tilefish. The trip, however, resulted in the discovery of a new kind of food fish, believed to be of great value, specimens of which were brought up on trawls from a depth of about 125 fathoms. The fish somewhat resembles sea bass, with specific differences, the underside being beautifully mottled with delicate shades of pink on cream colored ground; the back is mottled pink and reddish brown. The fish has thirteen spines in the dorsal fin, and the pectoral fins are unusually large. The specimens taken were from one to four pounds in weight. When cooked the flesh was white and delicious. Specimens have been sent to Washington for identification and a name. Barnard Phillips of the New York Times, a connoisseur in fish food, who accompanied the expedition, pronounces it a rare acquisition to the class of food fishes. The lobster traps set to secure bottom specimens brought up only slime, eels, mixine and a crab. There is no doubt this apparatus may be made to contribute largely to the cause of science by vessels at anchor on hard bottom in deep water. Prof. Baird proposes to have wire traps constructed and sent out on Gloucester bankers to test their value in this direction.

A Big Success.

"My wife was sick two years with a complication of disorders her physicians could not cure, when I was led to try Parker's Ginger Tonic. It was a big success. Three bottles cured her, at a cost of a dollar and fifty cents, and she is now as strong as any woman."—R. D., Buffalo.

Spring Medicine.

As a remedy to carry off the accumulation of thick bile from the liver and viscid secretion from the other glands of the system, the Swedish Botanic Compound is invaluable. It will arouse all the functions of the body to healthy action, purify the blood, restore the appetite, and carry off those symptoms of languor and heaviness everybody feels more or less as the warm season approaches.—Adv.

A man on Sunday, Sept. 24th, threw himself head-first from a tower in Central park, New York, to the tiled plaza below, breaking both legs and arm, and cutting a deep gash in his head. He lived a few hours, but would not give his name. Several persons saw the act.

DR. JOHN F. HANCOCK, late President of the National Pharmaceutical Association of the United States, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters has a heavy sale, is conceded to be a fine tonic; the character of the manufacturers is a voucher for its purity and medicinal excellence."

DR. JOSEPH ROBERTS, President Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"I indorse it as a fine medicine, reliable as a strengthening tonic, free from alcoholic poisons."

DR. J. FARIS MOORE, PH. D., Professor of Pharmacy, Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a safe and reliable medicine, positively free from alcoholic poisons, and can be recommended as a tonic for use among those who oppose alcohol."

DR. EDWARD EARICKSON, Secretary Baltimore College of Pharmacy, says:

"I indorse it as an excellent medicine, a good digestant, and a non-intoxicant in the fullest sense."

DR. RICHARD SAPINGTON, one of Baltimore's oldest and most reliable physicians, says:

"All who have used it praise its standard virtues, and the well-known character of the house which makes it is a sufficient guarantee of its being all that is claimed, for they are men who could not be induced to offer anything else but a reliable medicine for public use."

"THE WORLD."

"The World," the great spectacular sensational drama which is to be given in Music hall on Tuesday evening by the Boston Theatre Co., was presented in Bangor last Tuesday evening, and the Whig and Courier of next day said:

The most sanguine expectations of our people were more than realized, and the audience were vouchsafed the enjoyment of a masterly presentation of this spectacular production under highly favorable circumstances. The spacious stage of the new theatre is admirably adapted to plays of this class, and the company were therefore able to present "The World" on a scale of grandeur and magnificence the like of which has never before been approached in this city. The five acts from the beginning to the close are full of interest, enlivened with exciting adventures, and attract the closest attention of the audience throughout. The great interest in the play, however, comes from the wonderfully realistic scenes in the second act, the explosion of the steamer, the riding of the raft on the waves, and the rescue by a passing vessel. When the terrific explosion took place the scene was highly sensational. The scene of the raft pitching and tossing on the rolling billows, with its forlorn occupants, is one of the grandest ever attempted on any stage. And the final rescue, just as the bright orb of day rises over the waste of waters, is inspiring in the highest degree. That such realism is possible on the stage is almost beyond comprehension. The applause with which these brilliant effects were greeted was prolonged and deafening. Throughout the entire entertainment the interest was intense and the people very demonstrative. * * Those who fail to witness the grand spectacular drama of "The World" will ever after regret it.

The body of John Johnson of Barnet, Vt., a young man twenty-one years of age, who left home on Saturday morning, Sept. 23d, was found on the following Tuesday in the Connecticut river, near where his coat and hat were found on the river bank. He evidently deliberately took off his coat and hat, and plunged in. Mr. Johnson was the youngest son of Moses D. Mr. Wm. Westfall,

Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age, pain and disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N. Y., some time since, in a condition to excite the pity of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people are as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

INVISIBLE POISON.

How It Works Its Way Into the Body and How to Counteract It.

One of the great scourges of the present year in all parts of America has been malaria. This is a trouble so treacherous in its nature and so dangerous in its results as to justly cause apprehension wherever it has appeared. But there are so many erroneous ideas upon the subject that a few words are in order at a time when people are subject to malarial influences.

Malaria, which means simply bad air, is the common name of a class of diseases which arise from spores of decaying vegetable matter, thrown off from stagnant pools or piles of vegetation undergoing decomposition. These spores when inhaled with the breath or taken into the system with water soon enter the blood and germinating there find a foothold, whereby the whole system is poisoned and the various functions disordered. When the germ theory of disease was first advanced it was supposed that these spores were of animal nature, and like the bacteria in diphtheria were propagated in the blood, but they are now conceived to be of vegetable origin, like the fungi found on decaying wood or in cellars. The source of this state of the air is generally swamps or stagnant pools, which, partially dried by the hot sun, send forth vapors loaded with this malarial poison. These vapors descend to the earth in the night, cooled by the loss of temperature, and breathed by sleepers are readily inhaled. Hence persons living near stagnant pools or marshes are liable to be afflicted with chills and fever, and such localities are never healthy, though they are more so when the streams flowing into them are pure, and also when the water is high. Again the drainage of hours, slaughter houses, barns, etc., are a fertile source of malaria. One will often notice in coming into the neighborhood of one of these sluggish streams that passes through almost every village a most villainous smell caused by the offensive refuse which communicates its bad odor to the atmosphere, especially on hot days. This absorbed into the system by the lungs or taken in through water, which also absorbs it from the air, poisons the blood and deranges the whole system. This poison is also developed in force in wells and springs when they become low, and the result of drinking these is the same as breathing the poisonous air. In a time of drouth the great quantity of vegetation that dries up in the meadows, stubble fields and pastures, the corn fields and forest leaves produce the same effluvia. On the prairies when large tracts of prairie ground are turned over, the decaying vegetation is a widespread cause of malaria.

The evils which follow malarial poisoning are almost infinite. Disease of a malignant and dangerous nature, accompanied by the symptoms the most distressing are certain to manifest themselves and life is a burden so long as this poison remains in the system.—The indications of malarial poisoning are loss of appetite, shortness of breath, pains about the heart, wasting of flesh and strength, despondency, nervousness, chilly sensations, unaccountable lassitude, dull pains in various parts of the body, headaches, dizziness, a coated tongue and dry mouth, night sweats, muscular debility, puffing under the eyes, an unusual color, odor or sediment about the fluids passed from the system, etc. Any one of the above symptoms may be an indication of malarial poison in the body which necessitates immediate and careful attention.

But if malarial poison could not find a lodgement in the human body, it would be just as harmless as the oxygen of the air. The great difficulty is that, after being absorbed into the system, it produces obstructions in the stomach and lungs, clogs the circulation of the blood, affects the kidneys, liver and other organs, and brings on diseases of a most dangerous character. There is only one known way by which these diseases may be avoided or cured after they have once made their appearance, and that is by keeping the great purifying organs of the body in perfect health. These organs are the kidneys and liver. No one whose kidneys or liver are not in a perfect condition was ever afflicted by malarial poison. And when these organs are disordered, they not only permit, but invite, these diseases to make their inroads into the body. It is now admitted by physicians, scientists and the majority of the general public that one medicine, and only one whose power has been tested and proven, has absolute control of, and keeps the kidneys and liver in constant health and hence prevents malarial sickness. This remedy is Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, the most popular medicine before the American people, and sold by every druggist in the land. It fully counteracts the evil effect of malarial poison in the system, and not only banishes it, but restores the members which that poison has weakened. How well it does this can be learned from the following:—

Kansas City, Mo., June 26, 1882.—Moving from the state of New York to the western country, I was attacked with malaria and general debility. I had lost all appetite and was hardly able to move about. I had tried a great many remedies, but nothing bettered my condition until I began using Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, which seemed to help me right away, and I feel as well as I ever have in my life. It is a blessing to people in this malarious country. C. F. Willman, 1412 Grand Ave., of William & Co., Hardware.

This great remedy has proven its power in innumerable cases, and is to-day more extensively used in malarial districts, whether in cities or in the country, than any or all other remedies for the cure of the same class of disease. No one can afford to trifle with the first symptoms of malaria, but instant care should be taken to check it on the start before its evil influences overshadow the life.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of the vegetable ingredients, all of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Democratic Congressional Convention.

The democratic convention for the 1st congressional district met in Dover, Sept. 23th. Isaac Bradford of Exeter presided, 196 delegates being present. An informal ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes	196
C. A. Bachelder of Laconia	2
Gilman H. Jenness of Rye	3
James A. Wason of Manchester	3
Daniel Marcy of Portsmouth	6
John G. Moses of Portsmouth	6
C. A. Gallagher of Manchester	6
Thomas J. Smith of Dover	10
Isaac Bradford of Exeter	18
Silas Hutchins of Laconia	41
George N. Cheney of Manchester	101

Hutchins said he was not a candidate, and a similar statement was made by Mr. Jenness. A formal ballot was then taken:

Whole number of votes	191
Necessary for a choice	96
Smith had	4
Bachelder	2
Gallagher	6
Bradford	2
Chandler	171

And Mr. Chandler was declared the nominee, the nomination being made unanimous.

Another Political "Fight."

At Lancaster, S. C., Sept. 27th, at a political meeting, a fight was inaugurated by the colored republicans attacking the white democrats; four colored men were killed and many wounded, but none of the white men were hurt. As this report comes from democratic sources, it is hardly necessary to suggest that the "fight" was merely another Coushatta or Edgefield affair, where the wicked negroes persisted in getting in the way of democratic bullets, in order to give the democracy a bad name.

News and Notes.

The statement that Gen. Butler had been retained for the defence of Dorsey in the trial of the next star-route case is denied. The general has all he can do just now to make out a case for himself as claimant for the governorship of Massachusetts, in order that he may be the next democratic candidate for the presidency.

A Boston dress maker who went into a watch dealer's store on Winter street several years ago to look at some gold thimbles, was charged with having stolen two thimbles which had been mislaid and were missing from the stand where they belonged. She complained that her pockets were seached, and sued the dealer for $5000 damages. The jury were convinced by Gen. Butler sufficiently to give the injured frock-builder $600 as a reparation for her sufferings, and such part of this sum as is not used up by the lawyers and the costs incident to the attempt at securing justice, will be for the enjoyment of the fair innocent.

Baker Pasha has been appointed general of the Egyptian army, and will commence reorganizing it at once. Baker Pasha is the fellow who was kicked out of the British army, in which he was a colonel, for attempting a criminal assault upon an unprotected young woman not of the "upper class," who was so unfortunate as to be locked into a railway carriage in company with the high-toned ruffian.

The American Bank Note Co., of New York, have secured the appointment of a receiver for the Yorktown Centennial association. Reckless and disgraceful conduct is charged against the association, and from what the public long ago learned of the celebration the stories will readily be believed.

The latest issue of "American Statesmen," edited by John Morse, Jr, is "Andrew Jackson as a public man: what he was, what chances he had, and what he did with them; by Wm. Graham Sumner, professor of political and social science in Yale college."

The sixteen chapters of this book comprise what may be regarded as an authentic account of the events of marked importance in Gen. Jackson's career. Andrew Jackson was once so much idolized by a large part of our male population that a fair and impartial account of the hero could hardly have been written; but as his name has passed into history, and he is now judged by a more correct standard, his biography, like that of any other departed prominent man, should contain an unprejudiced review of his career, especially in his political course.

Jackson, the much-admired man of the people, the man who swore by the Eternal, was, as was known in his day, "run," as the term goes, by shrewd politicians who humored his weaknesses, flattered him, and catered to his prejudices. His administration is marked as the period at which the corrupt use of the "spoils" of the public service as a cement for party organization under democratic-republican self-government, was inaugurated. Between March 4th, 1829, and March 22d, 1830, 491 postmasters and 239 other officers were removed, and as the new appointees changed all their clerks, deputies, etc., it was estimated that two thousand changes in the civil service took place.

Prof. Sumner gives us a sketch of Jackson's military and political career. In all statements likely to provoke any controversy or incite denial, the citation of authority is given at the foot of the page. The book contains a fair account of the general's career, compiled we think with much care, and it will be appreciated by every candid reader.

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest reputation on both sides of the Atlantic, as an invaluable Tonic and Restorative in cases of Impaired Digestion, Depression, Enfeebled Constitution and Female Weakness.

NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a remedy for their troubles. It stimulates the digestive, sharpens the appetite, invigorates and builds up the entire system, and excites a generous flow of milk.

WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from inactivity and weakness, the result of disease, overwork, or nervous strain, will derive substantial benefit from its use; it restores the system to its normal condition and brings back the bloom of youth.

INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life, and restoring lost strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It lies like a pleasant dream upon the stomach and relishes the taste.

DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weaknesses of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It improves the digestion, purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and revives the spirits.

WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who take some artificial restorative—and usually find pills are inclined to Constipation—will find this preparation admirably suited to their needs. It is a specific for the Costive and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.

AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The chief endeavor of the action is to stimulate the digestive and assimilative functions, so that the effect is invariably to give firmness and consistency to the flesh, and substance to the emaciated frame.

THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Malt Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from alcohol. It is readily dissolved on the stomach and contains no obnoxious and nourishing ingredients. The genuine preparation bears on the label a fac-simile of the signature of Baron von Liebig, and a facsimile of his Signature, as well as that of J. YORDELEY & CO., Blackstone, Mass. LIFE INSURANCE!
The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.
Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.
Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOW THYSELF.
THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
250th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE WEATHER.

U. S. SIGNAL OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
September 29, 12:00 A. M.

Probabilities for New England:—

Partly cloudy weather and local rains, north to east winds, falling, followed in southern portion, by rising barometer, stationary or higher temperance.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 52 degrees above zero.

Cloudy.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Sept. 28th, Mayor Treat in the chair:

Present the full board, except Ald. Green of ward four.

Records of last meeting were read and approved.

Bills of Timothy Leary, $17.45, John Blake, $16.50, Robert Harrington, (bill not in,) and Clarence Jenness, $13.50, approved by the street commissioner, were ordered paid.

Miss L. A. Nutter, Mrs. E. S. Ryder, Miss Frances A. Mathes and Mrs. J. G. Harvey, on behalf of the Riverside Band, asked leave to occupy an upper room in the court house one day in every second week, for a sewing school. Granted.

Luther E. Martin was granted leave to encumber Congress and Vaughan streets for the purpose of repairing buildings.

Wm. Conn was granted a crosswalk on Islington street.

Adjourned for one week.

The Common Council was in session, but no business was sent to the aldermen.

"MY PARTNER."

Of "My Partner," which is to be presented in Franklin theatre on Saturday evening, the New York Despatch says: "It is strong alike in story and incident, and there is every indication of a prosperous run and a large amount of admiration and popularity in store for it." The Clipper says "the play is not only good, but liberally cast, having no fewer than four leading men to give it an effective interpretation." Tickets at Stavers'; popular prices. See advertisement.

BAIRD'S MINSTRELS.

"The best minstrel performance that was ever given in Marblehead," was what everybody said about the entertainment given by Baird's Minstrels on Saturday evening. The tone was far above that of the ordinary run of minstrel troupes, many of which seem to imagine that in order to gain success, the broadest and most suggestive allusions must be indulged in. There was nothing of this in the performance of Saturday night. From first to last, in unbroken succession, without a delay or a "stage wait," there was a continual flow of song, dance and burlesque. It is difficult to say which part of the whole performance was best, where each individual number was so perfect. Special mention is due to the artistic excellence of "the four invincibles" whose exemplification of the poetry of motion was a new revelation in clog-dancing. The company is meeting with success and crowded houses, as is fit and proper.—Marblehead Statesman.

At Music hall Saturday evening. Tickets now on sale at Myers' bookstore.

"Who is George Byron Chandler?" was eagerly asked in all quarters on our streets last Thursday afternoon, by democrats and republicans alike, when it was announced that a man of that name had been nominated for Congress from this district by the democratic convention at Dover; but nobody could tell who he was for a long time, until at length a bank official made known that he is the cashier of the Amoskeag national bank of Manchester, of which Hon. Moody Currier, the unsuccessful candidate for the republican gubernatorial nomination, is president.

Hon. James G. Blaine passed through this city on Thursday.

There was a frost in low lands in the vicinity of this city, Wednesday night.

The storm signal, which had been displayed for a good part of the time for the previous two weeks, continued up on Thursday night, and the two hundred or more vessels that had gathered in the lower harbor still remained. Six coasters started to leave in the morning, but all were glad to run in again as soon as they got outside. The new schooner Annie F. Conlon, bound for the Kennebec, and the Clara E. Simpson, bound to Baltimore, remained at their anchors, as did also the schooner Mystery, Seaward master, from Bangor for Hingham with lumber, which arrived the previous evening. Of the brick fleet, the Hattie Lewis was at Portsmouth bridge, and the D. K. Ham, J. M. Eaton and Emily A. Staples down below, all loaded and waiting for a chance to run to Boston.

There was a dance at Mechanics' hall on Thursday evening, under the management of E. B. Dearborn and S. P. Osgood; the attendance was large, and a good time was had by all.

Mr. B. F. Mugridge, who sold out his grocery store and business on Pleasant street to Mr. John J. Laskey several months ago, intending to go west and grow up with the country, has reconsidered the matter, and will continue to live here. He will open the store on Market street formerly kept by L. V. Newell, over the door of which a handsome sign has been put in position.

During the high tide of last Thursday afternoon the water was just level with the cap-sill of Broughton's wharf—higher than it had been before for many months.

Chief Engineer D. B. Macomb, U. S. N., has returned with his family to his residence in Middle street.

The Methodist society of the navy yard village, Kittery, had a harvest supper in the vestry of the church on Wednesday evening, Sept. 27th. There was an installation of officers on the same night by Naval Lodge, F. & A. M., of Kittery; and the members of the lodge, with the visiting brethren from this city and other places, were invited by Bro. E. C. Nealley to partake of the good things provided by the ladies of the church, and did so, experiencing marked satisfaction therefrom.

The tides on Wednesday and Thursday of this week ran very high. On Wednesday a large schooner, engaged in discharging 900 tons of coal at Seavey's island (navy yard) for the government, was compelled to stop work for several hours, near high water, owing to her rising so far above the chute; and on Thursday she not only had to knock off work, but got hung on the wharf, and stuck until the tide had dropped some distance, when she slipped off apparently uninjured. At high tide on Thursday the water extended clear across the middle of the pier on the south side of the dry dock.

John E. Quinn is building a stable on the lot formerly owned by the late Thomas J. Connelly, on the corner of Gates and Mechanic streets.

Mayor Treat has had placed at the pump near the south ward-room building a stone trough, in accordance with the order passed by the board of aldermen on motion of Ald. Green some weeks ago.

The ladies of the Portsmouth Humane society will hold the first meeting at Mrs. Lyman's, No. 2 Austin street, on Monday, Oct. 2d.

The democrats made some good nominations in their county convention. Henry F. Wendell, Esq., the nominee for sheriff, has had large experience as a deputy, and would make a good high sheriff. Calvin Page, whose friends succeeded in wresting the nomination for the office of solicitor from the grasp of the Towle faction at Exeter,—against the virtue of whose orthodoxy there have for some time past been painful rumors at the democratic council fires,—would make a good man to prosecute cases for violating the liquor law; his experience in defending persons charged with this kind of offence would be of great service to the county. As to the ability of the other candidates we are not informed, but if they are proportionately as good as the Portsmouth nominees, the democracy can boast of a strong county ticket.

L. F. Hanson of Newmarket, formerly of Co. G, 10th Reg't N. H. Volunteers, received an appointment as clerk in the pension department at Washington, on Sept. 22d of this year. Mr. Hanson left Manchester for the war on Sept. 22d, 1862, just twenty years previous to his appointment in the pension office. On the 22d day of February, 1865, he was taken prisoner, and was discharged from prison on the 22d day of the month, and reached home from the war on the 22d day of the month.

The democratic convention of the Rockingham (21st) senatorial district met in Exeter on Wednesday, Sept. 27th, and nominated James H. Rowe of Brentwood.

The republican convention of the Dover senatorial district was held in Dover on Sept. 27th, and nominated J. Frank Seavey of Dover. Mr. Seavey is a member of the present senate, and the only one renominated thus far, we believe.

Joseph Dearborn of Biddeford has granted the demands of the shoemakers in his factory, who left their work and waited upon him asking an increase of wages, amounting to about twenty-five per cent. It is rumored that L. P. Day, on account of the feeling growing out of the strike in his factory, will remove his business to Wakefield, Mass.

In Brown vs. city of Dover, suit brought to recover for damages occasioned by driving against lumber left in the street, the jury brought in a verdict of $1000 for plaintiff. Gen. Marston, for the city, moved to set aside the verdict on the ground that the suit should have been brought against the firm of builders who placed the lumber in the street, and not against the city.

"ACROSS THE CONTINENT."

At Music hall, Monday evening, Oliver D. Byron and his comedy company will play "Across the Continent," and as they have been playing it for ten years, and have made great gain thereby, it is not unreasonable to assume that they play it well. Of their appearance in Boston the Post said:

Mr. Byron was more effective than usual, and carried the sympathy and held the attention of the audience in every scene. His support was the best a Boston audience has seen for a long time in this play. Harry Hudson (handsome Harry,) as the villain, acted splendidly, and in the closing scene where he and Ferris meet in a hand-to-hand encounter the whole house fairly screamed with joy at the realistic effect. Miss Kate Byron was excellent as the handsomely-dressed daughter of the merchant. Some half dozen specialty artists delighted the audience with their pleasing acts of singing and dancing.

Tickets to be had of Mr. Myers; now on sale.

Readers of Bjornson's novels will be interested in the following brief extract from the preface to "Magnhild," which will soon be published in a translation by his friend Prof. R. B. Anderson: "The celebration on the 10th of August, 1882, of the twenty-fifth anniversary since the publication of 'Synnove Solbakken' was a great success. The day was celebrated by his friends in all parts of Scandinavia, and by many of his admirers in Germany, France and Italy. At Aulestad (his home in Norway) more than two hundred of his personal friends from the Scandinavian countries were assembled, among whom may be mentioned the eminent Swedish journalist Hedlemd, the Danish poet Drachmann, and the Norwegian author Kristofer Jansen. Over Aulestad, which was handsomely decorated, floated Norwegian, Danish, Swedish and American flags. There was a grand banquet, at which speeches and poems were not wanting. Mr. Bjornson received a number of valuable presents, and countless telegrams from Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, France, Italy, England and America."

Ernest King, Esq., editor of the Fall River, Mass. Sun, editorially mentions that he was cured of severe rheumatism by St. Jacobs Oil.

A shock of earthquake, lasting fifteen seconds, was felt in St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 27th.

William G. Sherburne, a prominent citizen of Lowell, Mass., was arrested Sept 27th by a United States deputy marshal, on a charge of perjury.

As a tonic and nervine for debilitated women nothing surpasses Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." By druggists.

James Tarbox of Topsham, Me., nineteen years of age, was thrown to the ground on Sept. 27th by a colt he was breaking, and when found life was extinct. No bones were broken, and there were no marks or bruises to indicate how the accident occurred.

"Troubles often come from whence we least expect them." Yet we may often prevent or counteract them by prompt and intelligent action. Thousands of persons are constantly troubled with a combination of diseases. Diseased kidneys and costive bowels are their tormentors. They should know that Kidney-Wort acts on their organs at the same time, causing them to throw off the poisons that have clogged them, and so renewing the whole system.

Ex-Sec. Blaine is strongly opposing the coalition movement in Virginia.

Capt. Hamilton and Mate Cummings, of the ship Undaunted, arrested in New York for brutal cruelty to seamen, were of course discharged.

The best preparation of iron a doctor can prescribe is Brown's Iron Bitters, because it does not injure the teeth as other iron medicine will.

A bad case of varioloid was discovered in a crowded neighborhood in Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 27th.

James Elliott, the prize fighter, was arrested in New York and held in $1000 bail, Sept. 27th, on a charge of having engaged to fight Tug Wilson in the prize ring. He went to jail in default of bail.

—There is no doubt about the grain trade of St. Louis being on the increase. A boy was shot there Saturday while stealing a bag of oats.

MALARIA!

THE ONLY REMEDY KNOWN To Destroy this Deadly Pest.

The most alarming fact, in our sanitary conditions, is the prevalence of Malarial Poison not only in marshy, low-lying districts, but in the cities and upon elevated ground where, a few years since, it was unheard of. Frequently fatal disorders of the digestive functions, wasted and enfeebled body and even insanity are the dire effects of malarial poisoning, the sure precursors of death if the poison is not neutralized. The boatmen on the Del. & Hudson Canal, as well as the inhabitants of other adjoining country, have been great sufferers from Malaria. Not until a few years past did they find a reliable remedy. Now thousands testify that they owe their real and only cure for malarial poisoning and that is Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which by its action upon the blood purifies it and restores a healthy tone to the entire system. As a preventive in localities where this poison lurks, it is invaluable. The "Favorite Remedy" also cures the worst liver and kidney complaints and all diseases caused by vitiated blood. For sale by all druggists, price $1 per bottle. It is an absolutely safe, purely vegetable remedy, the greatest alterative medicine in the world. Address the proprietor, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. all 4w

NOTED MEN!

DR. JOHN F. HANCOCK, late President of the National Pharmaceutical Association of the United States, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters has a heavy sale, is conceded to be a fine tonic; the character of the manufacturers is a voucher for its purity and medicinal excellence."

DR. JOSEPH ROBERTS, President Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"I indorse it as a fine medicine, reliable as a strengthening tonic, free from alcoholic poisons."

DR. J. FARIS MOORE, PH. D., Professor of Pharmacy, Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a safe and reliable medicine, positively free from alcoholic poisons, and can be recommended as a tonic for use among those who oppose alcohol."

DR. EDWARD EARICKSON, Secretary Baltimore College of Pharmacy, says:

"I indorse it as an excellent medicine, a good strengthener, and a non-intoxicating tonic in the sense."

DR. RICHARD SAPINGTON, one of Baltimore's oldest and most reliable physicians, says:

"All who have used it praise its standard virtues, and the well-known character of the house which makes it is a sufficient guarantee of its being all that is claimed, for they are men who could not be induced to offer anything else but a reliable medicine for public use."

John Ashcombe, Jr., who was to have been married a week ago to an estimable young lady of Chicago, but disappeared the evening of the wedding, and was thought to have committed suicide, has been heard from in New Orleans. Every preparation had been made for the wedding. His salary was only $1,000, but he had engaged board for himself and wife at a fashionable house for $24 per week, and made other lavish arrangements. The lady is very dangerously ill from the shock. Ashcombe is the son of a wealthy Englishman, and deserted an affianced when he came to this country. He is now "doing" the south on money sent from home as a wedding gift.

—We know an old maid who says it's bad enough for men to get married, without fools of women imitating them.

Spring Medicine.

As a remedy to carry off the accumulation of thick bile from the liver and viscid secretion from the other glands of the system, the Swedish Botanic Compound is invaluable. It will arouse all the functions of the body to healthy action, purify the blood, restore the appetite, and carry off those symptoms of languor and heaviness everybody feels more or less as the warm season approaches.—Adv.

The sensational story purporting to give the details of a duel at a Baptist church at Wytheville, Virginia, on Sept. 24th, in which two men were killed, is wholly untrue, and based on an affray between two negroes on the 16th of September, neither of whom was seriously injured.

Only Two Bottles.

Messrs. Johnson, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with request to send a good catarrh cure to two officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentlemen told them that both the officers and the wife of Gen. John C. Fremont Gov. of Arizona, had been cured of catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm.

Messrs. Ely Bros., Druggists, Owego, N. Y.—A few days ago I saw a lady who had used your Cream Balm for Catarrh, and had found more relief in one bottle than from all other remedies she had tried. I enclose $1 for two bottles. Yours respectfully, JAMES HITCHEN, M. D., Providence, R. I.

A report has been taken to Quebec by a passing steamer from Bird Rock light, in the gulf of St. Lawrence, to the effect that telegraphic communication with Bird Rock has been interrupted or broken, and the lightkeeper's boats smashed, thus cutting off connection with the mainland, and all means for procuring provisions. The party on the rock, numbering eleven persons, had been without bread for twelve days. The steamer supplied the famished party with food sufficient for pressing wants.

Choice Extracts from Druggists.

"We know the value of malt, hops, quinine bark and asparagus composing Malt Bitters."

"Best kidney medicine on our shelves."

"Our lady customers highly praise them."

"Physicians prescribe them in this town."

"The largest bottle and best medicine."

"Our best people take 'Malt Bitters.'"

"Sure cure for chills and liver disease."

William McCormick, aged thirty years, was run over near Wollaston, Mass., on Wednesday evening, Sept. 27th, by a freight train, his dead body being found on the track in fragments next morning.

A Much Married Woman.

Mrs. Fowler, of this city, was married last January to her sixth husband, and strange as it may seem, five of them died exactly two years from their marriage-day. Her present husband has been sick for the last four months with chronic jaundice, and was given up by four of our best physicians; as a last resort he began using Sulphur Bitters, and yesterday told our reporter that they had saved his life, smilingly saying that he guessed Mrs. Fowler would be unable to take a seventh better half for some time to come.—Exchange.

The show-case of O. S. Kamp & Co., in the exposition building at Cincinnati, was robbed of diamonds valued at $10,000 on the night of Sept. 27th. The case was opened with skeleton keys by some person who was evidently concealed in the building after it was closed for the night. There is no clew to the thieves.

A Loss Prevented.

Many lose their beauty from the hair falling or fading. Parker's Hair Balsam supplies necessary nourishment, prevents falling and grayness and is an elegant dressing.

Mrs. Horton of Providence, R. I., eighty-seven years old, fell down stairs in a house at Taunton, Mass., where she was visiting, Sept. 27th, and died in a few hours.

Why Should They.

No man or woman can do satisfactory work when the brain is dull, the nerves unsteady, the system relaxed and they feel generally wretched. Why should anybody drag through their work in this condition, when a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic will at moderate cost give them the strength and will to perform their duties satisfactorily.—Ed.

At New Britain, Conn., Sept. 28th, a carriage containing Chauncey T. Welton and wife was struck by a train; the man was killed, and his wife fatally hurt.

Do not delay, but bear in mind that consumption often begins with a neglected cold or cough. Adamson's Botanic Balsam wins the day in curing coughs and colds. Price 35 and 75 cts. Trial bottles, 10 cts.

Miss E. A. Crommelin died in New York on the 28th of September, from injuries received in the tunnel disaster, when one of her feet was cut off.

Mr. B. P. Owen, city editor of the Richmond Whig, was cured by an application of St. Jacobs Oil of severe pains.

There were sixty-six new cases of yellow fever and six deaths in Pensacola, Fla., on Sept. 28th. Total up to that date, six hundred and thirty-seven cases, and sixty-two deaths.

Cuticura

THE NEW BLOOD PURIFIER

Resolvent

Mr. Albert Kingsbury, Keene, N. H., troubled with bad humor on hands and neck, caused by lead poisoning. (He's a painter.) At times it would break out, crack open, and the skin separate from the flesh in large pieces, suffering great continual itching and stinging. Purchased your remedies, used Cuticura Resolvent internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and in less than three months effected a complete cure; and has not been troubled since. Corroborated by Bullard & Foster, Druggists, Keene, N. H.

Mother Died from it

J. W. Adams, Newark, Ohio, says: "Cuticura Remedies are the greatest medicine on earth. Had the worst case salt rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe Cuticura would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head were covered for three years, which nothing relived or cured until I used the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier) internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally.

Psoriasis.

H. E. Carpenter, Esq., Henderson, N. Y., cured of Psoriasis or Leprosy of twenty years' standing, by the Cuticura Resolvent internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally. The most wonderful case on record. Cure certified to before a justice of the peace and prominent citizens. All afflicted with itching and scaly diseases should send to us for this testimonial in full.

Salt Rheum.

Those who have experienced the torments of Salt Rheum can appreciate the agony I endured for years, until cured by the Cuticura Resolvent internally and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally.

MRS. WM. PELLINGTON, Sharon, Wis.

Mr. Wm. Westfall,

Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age, pain and disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N. Y., some time since, in a condition to excite the pity of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people are as follows. It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

At Newton, Kansas, on the evening of Sept. 27th, a cyclone passed through the southern part of the city. It demolished the Evangelical church during service, but none of the audience were seriously injured. No other damage was done. The church was a frame structure, and had been poorly constructed.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER is a scientific combination of some of the most powerful restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom. It restores gray hair to its original color. It makes the scalp white and clean. It cures dandruff and humors, and falling-out of the hair. It furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a hair dressing. It is the most economical preparation ever offered to the public, as its effects remain a long time, making only an occasional application necessary. It is recommended and used by eminent medical men, and officially endorsed by the State Assayer of Massachusetts. The popularity of Hall's Hair Renewer has increased with the test of many years, both in this country and in foreign lands, and it is now known and used in all the civilized countries of the world.

Salmon Falls Manufacturing Co.

The annual meeting of the Salmon Falls Manufacturing Co. was held Sept. 28th, and the following-named officers elected:

Directors, Amos A. Lawrence, John A. Burnham, Charles U. Cutting, True M. Ball, William G. Means, Edward I. Browne;

Clerk, O. S. Brown;

Treasurer, Howard Stockton.

Of Course.

A private dispatch received in Washington on Sept. 29th from South Carolina, shows that the so-called negro riot at Lancaster in that state was simply another demonstration of the Red Shirt democracy, at which only negroes were killed, —as we suggested would prove to be the case when the first report was made. The dispatch says that the democratic rifle club at Lancaster murdered seven colored republicans. These were the only casualties. The murder took place in the district in which Col. Cash is running as the democratic candidate for Congress, and as it has a republican majority of many thousands, very energetic means are required to make sure of Cash's election.

A Plain Speaking Judge.

Judge Fox, of the municipal court of Taunton, Mass., on opening court last Thursday forenoon made use of the following plain talk, which must be very pleasant reading to the officers of the Bristol County Agricultural society, who appear to have richly merited the severe condemnation they received:

There are thirty-four men in the dock this morning, the largest number that was ever before this court at one time. I think the Bristol County Agricultural society, instead of receiving a bounty from the state as a beneficent institution, ought to be indicted for keeping a liquor and gambling nuisance. Probably a more drunken, disorderly crowd never assembled in this city than was to be seen yesterday, and it is a shame and disgrace that such a nursery of drunkenness and crime should be opened every year in this community. There are men and boys in the dock this morning who took their first experience in drunkenness yesterday, all because the liquor was set before them openly and under the sanction of an agricultural fair. It is idle to say that this business can't be stopped; the officers of the society have the premises entirely under their control, and it can be stopped if they will.

No Clergymen—Only a Banner.

The announcement having been made that a Baptist minister of Thomaston, Me., had been arrested in St. John, N. B., for eloping with the wife of a prominent citizen of Thomaston, a despatch from the latter place says the alleged minister is not a resident of Thomaston, and has no congregation there. The fellow is a tramp revivalist—one of the bummers who make a living by professing piety, and who by their glib tongues, personal magnetism and skillful advertising, often manage to draw after them hundreds of weak-minded people who are proof against the gospel when preached by educated and reputable Christian gentlemen. He ran a series of revival meetings in Thomaston last winter, occupying the old Town church, formerly occupied by the Baptists; but this was against the earnest protest of the Baptist minister, and a gross scandal which at length came out caused the self-styled "evangelist" to leave. He and the woman he eloped with have been living in St. John as husband and wife. The pair were arrested at the instance of an officer from Maine, but were discharged by the court, having committed no crime rendering them liable to extradition. The man's name is Edwin H. Ellis, and his paramour is the wife of John S. Rose. After being dismissed from his first arrest, Ellis was again taken in custody on a capias for non-payment of a board bill.

News and Notes.

The officers of the Maine state prison are in pursuit of Charles E. Prescott, a murderer who has been in prison the last three years. He is the one who carted the murdered man around Portland all day in 1879 covered up with canvas.

Mr. Joseph Purington, a resident of Bath, Me., seventy years of age, and bearing with many the reputation of being wealthy, had been missing since Sept. 23d from his work, and his absence led to inquiry, and finally the discovery on the 27th of his beaten and bruised body lying in a pool of blood upon the floor of his dwelling, where he lived alone. Eight bruises were counted upon his body, and the trunk where his money is reported to have been kept was rifled of all its contents. The old man was still alive, but speechless, and could tell nothing of who or what his assailants were. His papers of value were found, but no money.

A telegram of Sept. 29th from Vienna reports the discovery of another great comet that morning.

Six "teams" of the Boston Press Rifle association contested for prizes at the Walnut hill range on Thursday last, each team consisting of five men. The six papers represented were the Globe, Post, Herald, Transcript, Advertiser, and Star. The Globe team won the gold medals, the Post team the silver medals, the Herald team (victorious in three previous contests) the bronze medals, and the Star team the leather medals, the latter making the poorest score; there were five medals of each kind, one for each member of the contesting teams. The grand prize was a trophy, which must be won three times in succession before it becomes the property of the winning team.

The steamship Pennland arrived at New York Sept. 28th from Antwerp, having on board the mail-bag of the sunken steamship Edam, which was picked out of one of the Edam's lifeboats by the pilot boat Phantom. The lifeboat was full of water, and had to be cast adrift again by the pilot boat.

It will cost Union county, New Jersey, $100,000 to replace the twenty-seven bridges carried away by the recent freshet.

On Sunday night, Sept. 24th, William McDonald and James Henderson had a dispute over some liquor at Moose River, Me., and Henderson beat McDonald so severely that he died. The murderer has been arrested.

When the grand jury reported in the United States circuit court at Portland, Me., Sept. 28th, there was quite a surprise party. Mr. Henry M. Bragg of Boston, the friend of J. W. Harris, the alleged swindler, had gone down to see Harris from Boston. Harris was arraigned on an indictment for fraud, and then to the astonishment of everybody, but to none more than the parties themselves, J. W. Harris and W. E. Harris, his son, of Chelsea, and Henry M. Bragg of Boston, were indicted for conspiracy. Bragg was completely nonplussed, especially when the marshal invited him to a seat in the dock. The prisoners were held in $5,000 bail, and the trial fixed for Oct. 5th.

Thursday morning, Sept. 28th, the lasters in C. R. Emery's shoe factory at Biddeford sent a committee to him requesting an advance to correspond with a recent advance in other factories there, but he refused to recognize the committee, and the lasters left the factory. The strikes have been instigated by the Lasters' Protective Union, had proved successful in all previous cases, and it was thought that owing to the pressure of work Mr. Emery would be compelled to yield.

Words of Wisdom.

No doctor will fail to impress his patients "that the mouth and teeth should be healthy because it receives the food and prepares it for its digestive work." Use SOZODONT, gratify your family physician, and enjoy life comfortably.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts a box everywhere. eod&wtjan27

The next volume in the "American Statesmen" series will be on John Randolph, by Henry Adams, son of Charles Francis Adams. This series already includes John Quincy Adams, Alexander Hamilton, John C. Calhoun, and Andrew Jackson, and is a notable addition to the literature of biography and American history.

The holiday edition of "Aldrich's Poems" (complete) will appear early in October. It will have a new steel portrait of Mr. Aldrich, unusually fine illustrations, a novel style of binding, and cannot fail to be a very attractive gift-book.

Recent sales of both the "Century Magazine" and "St. Nicholas" have been unusually large. A new edition of the September Century is on the press, and the publishers have just ordered a second printing of the October number. The New York Evening Post, in referring to the increased circulation of that magazine in this country and England, calls it "now perhaps the most judiciously edited magazine in the world."

—A French newspaper says that married people in Sweden have more fights than anywhere else on earth. Going to sewing society in Sweden must be real fun.

—"But," continued Mrs. Fogg, "there is reason in all things, you know." "Excepting, of course, most of the things you say," rejoined Fogg, the hard-hearted monster.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Sept. 20.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 2235; Sheep and Lambs 7699; Swine 16,601; Veals 65; Horses 84; number of western cattle 1953; eastern and northern cattle, milch cows, etc., 260.

Prices of Beef Cattle ⅊ 100 lbs, live weight—Extra quality $7.37½ @ $8 12½; first quality $6.25 @ 7.25; second quality $5.37½ @ $6 12½; third quality $4.37½ @ 5.25; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, etc., $3.37 @ 4.25.

Brighton hides 10c ⅊ lb.

Brighton fallow 7½ @ 8c ⅊ lb.

Country hides, heavy ones 9c ⅊ lb; light ones, 7½c ⅊ lb.

Country tallow 5c ⅊ lb.

Calf skins 12½c ⅊ lb.

Sheep skins 50 @ 75c each.

Lambs skins $1 @ 1 25 each.

There were more cattle in market this week than there were one week ago, and the quality of them was of a better grade. Trade has been slow, and prices upon all a grades declined fully ½c ⅊ lb from those of our last quotations. Many of the best lots of cattle were intended for the English markets. Most of the sales effected were for common grades of heavers, principally ranging from 5½ @ 7½c ⅊ lb live weight. The trains were late, and a part of the western cattle did not arrive in market until noon on Tuesday.

Working Oxen—The trade for working oxen has not been very active for some time past and a few pairs each week has been all the market required, prices for them ranging from $96 @ $170 ⅊ pair.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $10 @ $15; 2-year olds $18 @ $28; 3-year olds $28 @ $45 ⅊ head. Prices for small cattle depend much upon their value for beef, most of them being sold to slaughter.

Milch Cows and Springers—Extra cows sell at $50 @ $75 ⅊ head. Those of an ordinary grade range in price from $30 @ $50 ⅊ head. We note sales of 2 milch cows at $55 each; 1 do at $60; 2 do at $42 each; 2 springers for $85; 1 extra new milch cow at $75; 3 do at $45 each.

Veal Calves in good demand at 5 @ 7c ⅊ lb, live weight.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west cost the same as those in one week ago. Sheep cost 5 @ 6c and lambs 6 @ 7c ⅊ lb, live weight. Eastern sheep and lambs are mostly consigned to G W Hollis & Co to slaughter and market at a commission.

Swine—Store pigs 6 @ 8c ⅊ lb, live weight, or from $1 50 @ 5 50 ⅊ head. Fat hogs cost, landed at the slaughter house, 8¾ @ 9½c ⅊ lb, live weight.

Lynn, Mass.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cough and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL,

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER. READ!

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion (in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

238th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

For puddings, jellies, creams, blanc manges and other table delicacies, the Sea Moss Farine excels everything known, and in the sick room it is simply indispensable.

WHEAT BITTERS

THE BEST AND The Richest BLOOD, BRAIN and NERVE -F-O-O-D-

CAREFULLY PREPARED, THOROUGHLY TESTED, ACCEPTABLE AND RELIABLE.

The Phosphates of the Wheat are its most valuable food property, and are, when properly prepared, the most acceptable nutriment with which to build up the system.

The Blood, Brain and Nerves are the forces which bear the strain of every day work and life, and in order to overwhelm them it is wise to BUILD FOR HEALTH.

Wheat Bitters are prepared, not by fermentation but by solution and are richest in the Phosphates, while the starch and impure matter are eliminated. These Phosphates in themselves a basis, to which is added the best and choicest medicinal qualities, necessary to make it a tonic and bitter. It is at once healthful, pleasant to the taste and must not be confounded with the thousand and one cheap alcoholic bitters which are sold as cure-alls. Medicine is doubly effective when used with food, so as to nourish while it corrects.

Sold by druggists, $1.00 per bottle.

WHIPS! All qualities and prices; LARRABEE'S, 26 Congress

Remember That

Farm implements and machines rust out much more than they wear out. Therefore, whenever a tool or machine, whether a hoe or a reaper, is laid by for any time, it should be protected from injury by rusting. Take half a pound of lard, add to it a piece of rosin half the size of a hen's egg, and melt them over a slow fire. This may be done in an old tomato or fruit can, or in some other convenient vessel. When completely melted remove from the stove, and stir with a stick until cold. This makes a soft ointment which may be applied with a cloth, or brush, or a swab made by wrapping a bit of cloth around the end of a stick or a piece of shingle. Whatever metallic tool, or part of a tool put away for the winter, is smeared with a thin coating of this, will be perfectly protected from rust. Not only the coarser implements of the farm, but knives and forks not often used in the household, may be protected. A mere film is all that is required. Not ing pays farmers better than a little care rightly bestowed upon their implements.

George F. Gage, while taking some stock from his farm in Bedford to the Goffstown fair on Tuesday morning, Sept. 26th, fell from his team in a fainting fit, and was injured about the head by the wheels running over him, so that he died on the following Thursday. Deceased was thirty-eight years of age, and married.

Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. No cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. By druggists.

Frank D. Currier of Canaan has been appointed secretary of the New Hampshire republican state committee, vice James E. Dodge of Manchester, declined.

A Big Success.

"My wife was sick two years with a complication of disorders her physicians could not cure, when I was led to try Parker's Ginger Tonic. It was a big success. Three bottles cured her, at a cost of a dollar and fifty cents, and she is now as strong as any woman."—R. D., Buffalo.

Miss Betsey Cook, aged ninety-five years, the oldest person in Kensington, died Sept. 25th. Her father was a soldier in the revolutionary war.

An Explanation.

The delicate, flowery and lasting fragrance of Floreston Cologne explain why it is such a favorite with the ladies.

On Thursday afternoon, Sept. 28th, fire broke out in the farm house of Ezekiel Wentworth, a mile and a half west of the town of Rochester. The farm house, all the outhouses, several hogs, thirty tons of hay, farming implements, etc., were destroyed. Loss $2500; partially insured. Cause, a defective chimney.

Doctor Yourself

and save money, and perhaps your life; send two 3 cents stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy of Dr. Kaufmann's great medical work, 100 pages, elegant colored plates.

David Tandy, a soldier of the war of 1812, well known in Concord as the "Street minstrel," died recently at the age of eighty-five years.

Fruit of the tropic's burning clime,
Thy wondrous virtues, fadeless still,
Exert an influence sublime
In ministering to human ill;
And many a pang along our way
Sanford's Ginger doth allay.

William Brown of Amherst, a farmer aged ninety years and five months, died Sept. 29th on the farm where Horace Greeley was born. Mr. Brown had lived on the place fifty years.

Sick headache, nausea, rising of food, flatulency, sealeskness, cramps and pains, hysteria, nervousness, languor, and loss of sleep call for prompt use of Sanford's Ginger, "the delicious."

Rev. E. T. Farrell, a late graduate of Andover theological seminary, was ordained, and installed over the Hopkinton Congregational church, on Wednesday, Sept. 27th.

The best preparation of iron a doctor can prescribe is Brown's Iron Bitters, because it does not injure the teeth as other iron medicine will.

It is told of a zealous female member of an anti-cruelty-to-animals society in New Hampshire that she had been in the habit during the summer of catching her house flies in the wire cage traps, and then relieving her conscience by taking them up to the other end of the street and discharging her prisoners—we hope not under the open windows of other people. —Boston Transcript.

CatarrH

DIRECTIONS.

For Catarrh, Hay Fever or Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be in the blood, cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.

FOR DEAFNESS, Apply a particle into the ear, rubbing in thoroughly.

Hay-FeveR

A fair trial will convince the most skeptical.—

ELYS' CREAM BALM

Effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment, as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. MALARIA!

THE ONLY REMEDY KNOWN To Destroy this Deadly Pest.

The most alarming fact, in our sanitary conditions, is the prevalence of Malarial Poison not only in marshy, low-lying districts, but in the cities and upon elevated ground where, a few years since, it was unheard of. Frequently fatal disorders of the digestive functions, wasted and enfeebled body and even insanity are the dire effects of malarial poisoning, the sure precursors of death if the poison is not neutralized. The boatmen on the Del. & Hudson Canal, as well as the inhabitants of the adjoining country, have been great sufferers from Malaria. Not until a few years past did they find a reliable remedy. Now thousands testify that there is but one real and speedy cure for malarial poisoning and that is Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which by its action upon the blood purifies it and restores a healthy tone to the entire system. As a preventive in localities where this danger lurks, it is invaluable. The "Favorite Remedy" also cures the worst liver and kidney complaints and all diseases caused by vitiated blood. For sale by all druggists, price $1 per bottle. It is an absolutely safe, purely vegetable remedy, the greatest alternative medicine in the world. Address the proprietor, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. all 4w

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 26th, the day before the republican state convention, the Times said:

"Solid for Hale," is what they say of the Portsmouth republican delegation. We were impressed with the great weight of this delegation to-day when we saw them leave this city for Concord on the noon freight train. What a pity it will be to disappoint this crowd of the anointed.

Now the Times says that only one of the republican delegation from this city voted for Moody Currier (who is president of the national bank in which George B. Chandler, democratic candidate for congressman from this district, is cashier,) as a candidate for governor, "when nine had been expected and expenses paid." What does our brother mean?

On Thursday evening, the 28th, the day of the democratic convention for the first congressional district, our democratic neighbor serenely remarked:

On account of a democratic convention in Dover, and the excursion to Boston, Portsmouth is remarkably quiet to-day.

This is simply awful, implying as it does that the worthy and reputable citizens who represented Portsmouth in the democratic convention at Dover are responsible for whatever disturbances of the city's quiet we are troubled with. We felt very bad when we read it, and hereby announce that we don't believe anything of the kind.

THE PRESS VICTORIOUS.

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 27th, about six o'clock, Mr. Joshua L. Foster of Dover, editor of the Democrat, was assaulted on the street by a burly, drunken ruffian of that place named Frank Conly, alias "Slasher." It is well known in this city, where Mr. Foster so long made his home, that his disposition is mild and gentle, as is usual with editors; but when the profession was thus rudely assailed he struck out from the shoulder, and knocked the rough end-over-end, repeating the operation twice, by which time the bully had got his fill of fighting the press, and ran off. At the time we are writing the "Slasher" has not been caught, but we hope he will be—and hung.

"MY PARTNER."

"My Partner" will be given at Franklin theatre this evening. Though a California drama it is not of the blood-and-thunder variety; it has a good plot, and many strong situations. It was played in Dover on Thursday evening, and gave great satisfaction to a large audience.

BAIRD'S MINSTRELS.

Baird's Minstrels will give an entertainment at Music hall this evening. The company is one of the best variety troupes ever organized, and gives a first-class show. See advertisement.

The Tennessee, (flagship,) Kearsarge and Enterprise, of the North Atlantic squadron, which sailed from the lower harbor on Wednesday, Sept. 20th, arrived in New York on Thursday, the 28th. They must have had a nice time at sea, for there has hardly been a decent day since they sailed.

Hon. Frank Jones has a large gang of men at work digging out an ice-pond on the Sagamore road, just below its junction with the Wentworth house road.

A party of gipsies are camping on the Sagamore road, below the bridge.

Quite a number of persons are engaged in the fall house-cleaning at the Wentworth. A large lot of blocking has been hauled to the stables, and these buildings are at once to be removed quite a distance down the hill towards the other outbuildings east of the house, preparatory to a future enlargement of the hotel building.

The democratic senatorial convention for the Portsmouth district will be held in this city on Wednesday, Oct. 4th, at eight o'clock P. M., in the court house.

The sea-shore was visited on Friday by many persons, who saw the finest display of ocean spray seen for many a day.

Collector Howard is absent on official business in the northern part of the state.

Chief Constructor Wilson, U. S. N., will return to Washington on Tuesday.

Paymaster Chas. F. Guild, U. S. N., left town on Friday evening to go on duty as paymaster of the receiving ship Wabash at the Boston navy yard.

The vesper service at the South Parish will be resumed to-morrow at half-past seven o'clock. The Sunday school will meet at the chapel on Court street at quarter before three. The morning service will be appropriate to the completion of the pastor's twenty years' ministry. At the vespers the pastor will begin a few sermons upon the Epistle to the Romans, the epistle containing some of the most important doctrinal and practical truths with which Christianity is associated. All are invited.

Naval Construcjor Geo. R. Boush, who is ordered to this navy yard, is a native of Virginia. He had a practical training for his present position, entered the service Aug. 5th, 1869, and was commissioned as constructor March 12th, 1875. He was at one time stationed at the Norfolk navy yard, and subsequently relieved Constructor Samuel M. Pook at the New York navy yard, where he has been stationed for the past three years. His son, Clifford J. Boush, is an engineer in the navy. Constructor Boush reported for duty at the yard on Friday last.

The tide of last Thursday afternoon was an unusually high one, but that of Friday afternoon was two inches higher, according to the gauge at the navy yard.

The topmast of the navy yard sheers, which was taken down some weeks ago, will not be replaced. It was of no use anyway, except to hoist a flag on.

Hon. James G. Blaine took a drive from Kittery to York beach on Thursday afternoon last. He saw one of the most magnificent storm scenes of the year, the surf being heavier than for many months.

Rev. W. W. Dow, of Norfolk, Mass., formerly of this city, has received a call from the Congregational society at Kittery.

"Uncle Ben" Moulton, of Ground Root hill, York, while returning from Cape Neddick on Tuesday evening of this week, turned out of the road to allow another team to pass, and one wheel of his wagon struck a stone, throwing Mr. Moulton out and breaking one of his legs. The old gentleman has been very unfortunate of late, his house having been burned a short time since, with all its contents.

Mr. Charles Card of Dover point, who has for the past season been connected with the Dover Point house, went across the river into Maine on Thursday, Sept. 28th, on a gunning excursion, and returned at night with twenty-one nice gray squirrels, all large and fat. Most of them were shot near the Summit house at Mt. Agamenticus, York.

The cranberry crop in York is reported as being very light this year, and the berries much smaller than usual.

The sea was running very high at York beach on Thursday last, and breaking clear over "yellow rocks," at Union Bluff, at high water, up to the piazzas of the cottages.

A despatch of Sept. 29th, from Biddeford, says: "The shoe manufacturers of this city and Saco held a meeting last night to consider what action to take with regard to the strike in their factories. It was decided that they could not maintain advanced prices, and this morning S. Newcomb discharged his cutters, and as soon as work can be cleared up all the factories will close. This morning L. H. Day started for Massachusetts to engage a factory. Sweetzer & Co. of Saco received a letter from Portsmouth, N. H., offering them a factory for ten years free of taxes. His help threatened to leave if their wages were not advanced, and he will close his factory with others, discharging his cutters this noon."

SUNDAY SERVICES.

At the Court street Christian church, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., the tenth anniversary service will be held. All are welcome.

Elder E. C. Barnes will preach in the Advent church on Sunday.

Rev. Charles E. Hovey, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will preach in the Episcopal church.

The pastor of the South Parish will occupy the pulpit on Sunday.

The Belknap Tocsin of Sept. 28th said: "Mrs. A. A. Johnson, of this town, state inspector of the Ladies' Relief Corps, leaves this afternoon for Portsmouth, where she will inspect Storer Relief Corps, No. 6, of that place, this evening. The Ladies' Relief Corps is an auxiliary to the G. A. R., and accomplishes a vast amount of good."

A two-mile bicycle race, at the Grafton county fair at Plymouth on Wednesday of this week, was won by Mr. Frank J. Philbrick of this city.

—The following inscription may be seen in a cemetery in Dorchester: "Here lies the body of John Jones, lost at sea and never found."

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind. Dec. 1, 1880.
For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

Fish Famine.

Never, within the memory of the oldest fish-dealer in Fanuel Hall market, says the Boston Traveller of Friday, Sept. 29th, has fish been so high or so scarce as at the present time, especially in so far as the three great staples, cod, haddock and halibut are concerned. This great scarcity is accounted for in part by the severity of the storm, and in part from the enormous schools of dogfish encountered, which succeeded in driving off the other fish. As early as half past four o'clock Thursday afternoon, all the wholesale dealers on Commercial wharf were entirely cleaned out, and fresh fish was to be had neither for love nor money. There was but one fare discharging at the wharf, made up of hake, which was bringing the unprecedented price of five dollars per hundred pounds by the cargo. On Wednesday codfish sold for $13 by the hundred. Thursday morning cod and haddock were bringing nine dollars each per hundred by the cargo, and halibut from ten to fourteen dollars by the hundred, as to quality.

An Apology for Slang.

In slang, humor or implied fun-satire of some sort is more or less an element. For example, when a gentleman who is inclined to talk somewhat tediously upon a subject which he has at heart, and on which his hearers are not much inclined to listen, is told to "hire a hall," he is generally able to see some satire, and the others some fun in the recommendation. Slang has, in many cases, a pith and pungency which makes it not only pardonable, but tolerable. It often expresses a feeling, if not a thought, of the passing day, which could not be so forcibly expressed—for the day—in any other phraseology. It is generally evanescent; but sometimes it endures and becomes a part of the recognized vocabulary of a language. For example, the word mob was originally slang. It is supposed to be a contraction—the first syllable of mobile vulgus, a scornful phrase for the lowest order of common people. Tandem, also, was originally a slang word. It is Latin for "at length;" but as applied to driving two horses at length instead of abreast, it is just such Latin as nunquam animus for "never mind." Another slang word, swell, meaning grand, fine, pretentious, is now perceptibly passing into the recognized vocabulary of good usage. It is a very convenient and expressive word, and is now used by the best speakers of English without hesitation. It can hardly fail to appear in "the dictionary" of the next generation.—Richard Grant White.

Skobeleff and MacGahan.

It is not yet forgotten in the United States that, when poor MacGahan, the famous American correspondent, (who, in company with Frank Millet, a Boston boy, did so much work, for which Forbes got all the praise,) was dying with the black fever in Constantinople, Skobeleff was the only man who dared to visit him. But the famous soldier and the modest journalist were great friends, and when the former heard one day, when the Russian army was camped on the banks of the Bosphorus, that the latter was very ill, he galloped into the Turkish capital, and throwing himself from his horse in front of a hotel, rushed into the place, demanding to be shown to MacGahan's room. The nurses told the general that no one was permitted to enter the sick man's room, as it was certain death to a stranger if he breathed the atmosphere poisoned by the dread disease. But Skobeleff dashed the men out of the way, and was soon at MacGahan's bedside. Then he took the poor sufferer up in his arms, and, as he kissed the fevered face and the sunken eyes, he said, as kindly as ever a fond mother spoke to her babe: "My dear, dear brother, did you think I had forgotten you altogether? Why, bless your dear, great heart, I did not know until to-day that you were sick." While his loving tears were bathing MacGahan's hair, the angel of death came into the room, and suddenly and silently the soul of one who was always gentle, good and brave took its flight, and the famous Russian soldier held in his arms the lifeless form of his much-loved friend.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

Mr. Wm. Westfall,

Of Duchess Co., N. Y., 80 Years of Age, Suffered Continually for Many Years from Stone in the Bladder.

Great age, pain and disease are a sad combination. Yet Mr. William Westfall, formerly of Rock City, Duchess Co., N. Y., now of Washington Hollow, in the same county, came to the office of Dr. David Kennedy, the eminent Physician and Surgeon of Rondout, N. Y., some time since, in a condition to excite the pity of the most cold-blooded and hard-hearted person in the world. We say he came—he was, rather, carried to the Doctor's office, for he was totally helpless, and bore the weight of 80 years besides. He had suffered long from Retention of Urine, and had all the symptoms of an aggravated case of calculus formations in the bladder. The usual instrumental examination revealed the presence in the bladder of a urinary calculus of uncommon size. Dr. Kennedy frankly told Mr. Westfall that, owing to his age and debility, an operation was out of the question, but that he could, by the prescription of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," together with local treatment, make him comfortable and leave him to live out all his days. The outcome of this was that the patient enjoys good health to this day.

The Reasons Why

Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is being extensively used by our people are as follows: It is a combination of vegetable alteratives. It is pleasant to the taste, adapted to both sexes and all ages, is effective in affording immediate relief in all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver Complaints, Constipation of the Bowels and derangements peculiar to women. At the same time purifies the blood, thus giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease or age. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

If you are a mechanic or farmer, worn out with overwork, or a mother run down by family or household duties try PARKER'S GINGER TONIC.

If you are a lawyer, minister or business man exhausted by mental strain or anxious cares do not take intoxicating stimulants, but use PARKER'S GINGER TONIC.

If you have Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Kidney or Urinary Complaints, or if you are troubled with any disorder of the lungs, stomach, bowels, blood or nerves you can be cured by PARKER'S GINGER TONIC.

If you are wasting away from age, disease or any disease or weakness and require a stimulant take GINGER TONIC at once: it will invigorate and build you up from the first dose but will never intoxicate. It has saved hundreds of lives. It may save yours.

PATENTS!

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State St., Opposite Kilby, Boston.

SECURES PATENTS in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. No agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps.] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, OCT. 2, 1882.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N. H. as second-class matter.]

"All is Quiet Now."

A special despatch from Charlotte, N. C., to the Boston Herald, dated Sept. 30th, says that eight negroes have "died from the effects of wounds received in the Lancaster, S. C., fight," and adds: "All is quiet now in the village of Lancaster." No doubt of it; that was just the end the democratic rifle club had in view when they planned the desperate "fight" in which eight colored republicans were murdered, and not a white democrat so much as scratched. There have been so many just such "fights" in the south that the people of the north know just how to look at them; but then the district in which Lancaster is located will give a big democratic majority at the coming election. "All is quiet now in the village of Lancaster."

Naval Affairs.

Commodore A. A. Semmes has been appointed president, and Capt. Richard W. Meade, Comdr. Henry L. Howison, Medical Inspector Albert L. Gihon, Chief Engineer James W. Thompson and Naval Constructor Edward Hartt members of a board to inspect all naval vessels not actually in service, and report to the secretary of the navy which vessels are unfit for service and which of the vessels now under construction would involve a disproportionate and unreasonable expense for their completion, with the reasons which influence them in making these recommendations.

Commo. Wm. G. Temple, Capt. J. N. Miller, Comdr. F. V. McNair and Master Samuel G. Lemly, have been appointed a board to enquire into the circumstances attending the loss of the Jeannette.

Chief Engr. Wm. F. Stamm is ordered to the Lancaster, and as fleet engineer of the European squadron.

Commander Charles V. Gridley has been ordered to duty in charge of the navigation department at the Boston navy yard.

Commander George Dewey has been detached from duty as secretary of the lighthouse board and ordered to settle accounts, and then hold himself in readiness for sea service; Commander Henry F. Picking from duty as inspector of the first lighthouse district on the 3d of October, and ordered as secretary of the lighthouse board on the sixteenth of October.

Master B. A. Fiske is detached from the Minnesota Sept. 30th, and granted leave of absence for one year from October 1st; Midshipman John A. Dougherty from the Jamestown, and ordered to duty on the coast survey; Assistant Engineer William B. Boggs from the Passaic, and ordered to duty as instructor at the Vanderbilt University, at Nashville, Tenn.; Master Richard H. Townley is granted leave of absence for one year from October 1st, with permission to take charge of the department of military science and tactics of the University of Nebraska.

Commander Francis J. Higginson has been ordered to command the Miantonomah on the 5th of October; Commander A. C. Crowninshield to duty as lighthouse inspector of the first lighthouse district on the 5th of October; Lieutenant James W. Graydon to the Kearsarge; Lieutenants James C. H. Arnold and William A. Morgan, and Passed Assistant Surgeon Richard Ashbridge, to the Miantonomah on the 5th of October; Lieutenant O. W. Farenholt and Master A. J. Dabney to examination for promotion; Passed Assistant Surgeon L. B. Baldwin to take passage in the steamer of the 10th of October for Aspinwall, thence to Panama, and on arrival to resume duties on board the Pensacola; Assistant Engineer George E. Burd to the Passaic.

Rear-Admiral Balch, commanding the Pacific station, reports to the navy department, under date of Callao, Peru, September 5th, that the Lackawanna was at that port, the Essex at Coquimbo, and the Iroquois was due at Panama, where she had instructions to await the arrival of the remainder of her crew and a draft of boys from the training squadron. No reports had been received from the Alaska since her departure for Honolulu on July 23d.

From all accounts, the secretary of the navy with his able chiefs of bureau have certainly done good work this summer on their tour of inspection of the different navy yards and ships of war. This plan of the secretary's is a most excellent one, as it is not only makes himself and the chiefs of the different important bureaus of the navy familiar with the practical working of the yards, but also gives a good opportunity to talk over matters that no amount of correspondence would do. We hope the secretary will make this tour of inspection every year, as it cannot but meet with the hearty approbation of the thinking people of this country.—Nautical Gazette.

News and Notes.

In Portland, Me., Sept. 29th, a teamster named Walter Nickerson, seventeen years old, was arrested for outraging a seven-years-old girl

The Providence railroad is said to be so well satisfied with the Pintsch light on its steamboat train that there is talk of introducing it on all its trains. The invention, as at present perfected, consists of a tubular receiver placed under each car, with a capacity of 344 feet of gas, under compression of eight and one-half atmospheres, or 127 pounds to the square inch. From this reservoir, tubes one-quarter of an inch in diameter run to the various burners.

Thomas McCabe, the boy murderer who shot and killed his step-mother, Catharine McCabe, while committing a robbery on May 13th at her residence in New York, has been sentenced to state prison for seven years.

Edward Hovey, the young man who shot his sister-in-law, Mrs. Vermilyea, in New York, has been sentenced to be hanged November 17th.

W. G. Whittaker, of Philadelphia, has been arrested for attempting to murder his entire family, consisting of a wife, six children and a young man named Cooper, a boarder. Whittaker put arsenic in a bucket of water with which tea was made; all the family except Whittaker drank the poisoned tea, and several of them are in a critical condition.

The propeller Vulcan, of the Bridgeport company's line between Bridgeport, Conn., and New York, while off Penfield reef on the night of Sept. 28th was struck by a heavy sea which caused a portion of her cargo to shift, throwing her on her beam ends. While in this position seas washed into the engine room, putting out the fires. Capt. Wilcox, seeing no possible chance of reaching port, headed his vessel for shoal water, and grounded her off the west end of the Seaside park. The captain and crew then took to the small boats, and reached the shore in safety. The steamer lies with about six feet of water over her main deck at high tide. Her cargo, which consisted principally of spelter, rags, wools and oil, will probably be saved in part.

In Boston, last week, James Reed was tried for murdering his wife by beating and kicking her, and throwing her down stairs; it was an exceedingly brutal affair, yet the circumstances that both were crazy with drink, and that the throwing of the woman down stairs might have been unintentional, led the jury, in returning a verdict of guilty of manslaughter, to recommend the prisoner to the mercy of the court, and the ruffian was let off with a year in the house of correction.

Tott J. Dunkle, the last of the Kewanee, Ill., bank robbers, was arrested in Battle Mount, Dakota, Sept. 28th. Dunkle is twenty-five years old, and lived in Des Moines, Ia., where his father for many years was a merchant and occupied eminent social positions. Young Dunkle was highly esteemed, and was never before known to be engaged in any questionable business. He was traced from Des Moines, which place he left soon after the robbery, to Wyoming territory, thence to Dakota, and was taken while armed with a rifle. He had $1500 in his possession.

The dead bodies of three negroes, evidently murdered, were found in a skiff at Battle's Landing, Ga., Sept. 29. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the crime.

Sherill's hotel, in Watango, N. C., was burned on the night of Sept. 28th by the explosion of a kerosene lamp. There were two circus performers asleep in the room where the lamp burst, one of whom was terribly burned about the body, the other having his eyes destroyed.

Fifty-two new cases of yellow fever, and eleven deaths, were reported at Pensacola on Sept. 29th.

Cholera has appeared in Tehauntepec, Mexico, but is said not to be of a very virulent type.

AROUND HOME.

It is stated that Secretary Chandler, while visiting the navy yard, was delighted at the skill displayed by some of the officers in playing lawn tennis, but was convinced that the officers could have better opportunity for perfecting themselves in this accomplishment if they were placed on waiting orders, than if obliged to be on duty whereby their time would to a certain extent be occupied in other pursuits.

The gentlemen composing the board of commissioners appointed by Gov. Bell, under the act of the legislature of 1881, to examine into the condition of the insane poor in county almshouses, and to report as to the mode of care and maintenance of the same, reached this city from Ossipee, where they visited the Carroll county farm last week, and on Saturday went to Brentwood to examine the Rockingham county farm. The members are Jos. B. Walker of Concord, John J. Bell of Exeter, and Dr. A. F. Stillings of Concord.

Mr. John O. Berry of Rye exhibited on Market square last Saturday a well-heaped bushel of potatoes of the "Brownell Beauty" variety, raised by him, which would take the premium at any agricultural show. Sixty potatoes, averaging one pound each, filled the measure. Mr. Berry says they were selected from a lot of twenty-five bushels.

The "band-stand" which has been over Gangway rock for so long was removed on Friday of last week, the owners having finished their contract; it is said that the contractors were offered the chance to continue the work at the same rate of pay as they have been getting, but declined to accept the offer, there being "no money in it" for them. The navy yard anchor-hoy was on Saturday engaged in picking up the heavy anchors to which the stays of the band-stand have been secured, which indicates that work on the rock is ended for this year.

The body of Harry H. Tobey of Eliot, the boy who was drowned at the Dover point bridge on the 20th ult. by the capsizing of his boat, came to the surface on Friday last near where he was drowned, and was picked up by James Hanson and son, of Eliot. The remains were buried on Saturday.

Capt. Hoyt of Kittery, master of the schooner Mary J. Adams, now in New York, left home on Saturday to rejoin his vessel, though still suffering from the chills and fever.

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest eminence on both sides of the Atlantic, as an invaluable Tonic and Restorative in cases of General Debility, Nervous Depression, Dyspeptic Constipation, and Female Weakness.

NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a specific for their trouble. It stimulates the digestive apparatus, sharpens the appetite, invigorates and builds up the entire system, and excites a generous flow of milk.

WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from lassitude and weariness, the result of disease, over-study, or nervous strain, will derive substantial benefit from its use. It restores the system to its normal condition and brings back the bloom of youth.

INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life, and restoring lost strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment, the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It neither puts upon the appetite nor offends the taste.

DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weaknesses of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It improves the digestion, purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and revives the spirits.

WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who require some artificial restorative—and essentially those who are inclined to Consumption—will find this preparation exactly suited to their needs. It is a specific for the Colds and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.

AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The whole tendency of its action is to stimulate the digestion of fat-producing foods, and its effect is invariably to give fullness and roundness to the female form, and robustness to the masculine frame.

THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Fluid Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from alcohol. It is readily retained on the stomach and contains none but wholesome and nourishing ingredients. The genuine prepared in bears on the label a fac-simile of Baron von Liebig's signature, and a fac-simile of his Signature, as well as that of A. VOGELER & CO., Baltimore, Md., Sole Agents for America.

HEART DISEASE

Now IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for Kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Graves, Cleveland, says, "Fully one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.

READ!

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

235th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, enclosed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing which can cure that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION, is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book than every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions drawn up by the secretary were submitted and adopted by the Portsmouth Medical Association at their last meeting, Sept. 29th:

Whereas, it has pleased the Almighty to remove by death our brother Dr. Benjamin W. Curtis, who died at his residence in this city on the 24th inst., in the 67th year of his age,

Therefore, resolved that we, appreciating his worth and abilities and feeling the loss which we and the community have sustained by his death, deem it fitting and proper that we should offer this slight tribute to his memory.

Resolved, that his long and successful practice in this city has endeared him to the hearts, not only of his brother members in the profession, but to those to whom he was called to minister in suffering and disease, they will fully attest his high standing as a kind and skillful physician, while the many positions of honor and trust conferred upon him by the public are the strongest evidence of his value as a citizen.

Resolved, that we, as members of the Portsmouth Medical Association tender to his family our warmest sympathies in their deep affliction, and that these resolutions be spread upon our records in commemoration of the esteem in which our brother was held.

A. B. SHERBURNE, Sec'y.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S ENTERTAINMENTS.

The company which played "My Partner" at Franklin theatre on Saturday evening gave a good show, playing the piece for about all it is worth,—and it is one of the best of its kind, having a pathetic story and many strong situations, with but very little of the blood-and-thunder element about it,—but the audience was not nearly what was merited, the minstrel entertainment at Music hall no doubt attracting many who would otherwise have attended the Franklin theatre.

Baird's Minstrels, at Music hall, had a small audience down stairs, but a big one in the gallery, where a large delegation of man-o'-war sailors and marines, many of them being pretty well "set up," divided with the stage performers the honors of the occasion, it sometimes being hard to tell which caused the most amusement. There were some specially meritorious features in the performance—the stage performance, we mean — notably the trombone playing of Mr. Nathan Carl, the remarkable contortions of "Prince Pharoah," the dancing and posturing of the clog team, and the bell-ringing and singing.

A TWENTY YEARS' PASTORATE.

A large congregation assembled at the church of the South Parish on Sunday, when Rev. James DeNormandie preached to his people for the first time for several weeks. It was the twentieth anniversary of his installation as pastor of the South Parish, which occurred on the first day of October, 1862. There were profuse and tasteful floral decorations, among which were the anchor, cross and harp, elaborately formed. In front of the desk was suspended a shield, with flowers forming the figures "1862—82."

Mr. DeNormandie's sermon contained a retrospection of his pastoral labors for the past twenty years, begun while the war of the rebellion was an exciting episode of our history. He alluded to the many changes in Sabbath observances, and to the removals by death of members of the parish. Of 574 persons recorded as attendants in this church twenty years since, but 101 survive to-day. Of the twenty-six sister churches whose pastors or representatives participated in the installation ceremonies twenty years ago, but two to-day have the same ministers settled over them. The sermon was not to any great extent statistical, but practical. The pastor referred to his efforts and aims during his pastorate, and to the dangers which the prosperity even of our country, during the last two decades, had wrought. The discourse was listened to throughout with the closest attention, and was one of those successful efforts of Mr. DeNormandie, who is ever able to present on such occasions, in the most interesting and touching manner, an eloquent and timely production.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

During the month of September there arrived at this port a total of sixty-three vessels, of which fifty-two were schooners, ten steamers, and one brig. In August the arrivals numbered 104,—ninety schooners, thirteen steamers and one brig. The coal receipts in August amounted to 23,450 tons; in September to 13,736 tons, the great falling off in the number of arrivals and the quantity of coal received being largely due to the long-continued bad weather.

Of the vessels arriving in September six were loaded with lumber, three with cement, two each with fire-wood, lime and railroad ties, one with stone, and one (from the Grand banks, and subsequently went to Gloucester, Mass., to sell her fare,) with fish. There were three arrivals of foreign schooners, from foreign ports, all the other vessels being American, and coastwise. All the August arrivals were American, except one brig, which was from Turk's island with salt.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Sept. 30; Batchelder J.

Daniel F. Emerson and Ellen M. Bartlett, of Northwood, were held in $300 each to answer before the supreme court on a charge of adultery. In default of bail they were committed to jail. This case is supplementary to a suit for divorce against the woman by her husband on the ground of adultery, and is brought under a new rule adopted by the supreme court, to the effect that in all cases of divorce for adultery the evidence shall be sent to the county solicitor, with directions to prosecute if a case can be sustained.

"ACROSS THE CONTINENT."

Of "Across the Continent," which is to be performed at Music hall this evening, the Chicago Tribune says: "There is a touching narrative running through the entire drama which interests the audience from the rising of the curtain to its fall. The scenes are the most effective we have ever witnessed in this city; the situations of the piece are—to use a theatrical phrase—immense; and there is a fine oportunity for good acting, not only on the part of the hero of the piece, but also of the subordinate characters." Seats can be secured at Myers' bookstore.

"THE WORLD."

The great spectacular drama, "The World," will be given at Music hall tomorrow evening by the Boston Theatre Co., and will no doubt draw a large audience. The Boston Journal says of it that "The story, the acting, the scenery, and the wonderful effects, make it one of the most notable productions of the time, and it has won the admiration of many thousands of theatre-goers;" and the Boston Gazette says the raft scene "is perhaps the finest and most admirably-contrived effect ever seen on any stage. The water is managed with surprising skill, and is the most perfect result in its kind hitherto achieved in this connection. The gloom, the sunrise, the appearance of a ship in the distance, the signal gun, and the vessel bearing down to the rescue of the sufferers, form a tableau which fairly makes one hold his breath with suspense." Tickets at Myers'.

The 11th year of the settlement of Rev. John A. Goss as pastor of the Court street Christian church commenced on Sunday last, and the morning service had special reference to the occasion.

The record of the police station for the past month bears 107 names, thirty-two of the persons designated being lodgers, and forty-nine drunks.

The Mutual Union Telegraph Co. last week commenced painting the poles set in our streets, white on the lower portion and a brick-dust red above.

Mr. Daniel S. Broderick of New York, son of Mr. John Broderick of this city, paid a flying visit to his early home last week, having come on as far as Boston on business.

Most of the large fleet of coasters that had laid at anchor in the lower harbor for several days sailed on Sunday morning. The many vessels made a fine show as they early put to sea, with a fair prospect of a good run and clear weather. At sunset a light schooner from up river was towed outside of Kitts' rock, and stood to the eastward.

It was stated on Saturday that Mr. Chas. E. Buzzell, late teacher of the Walker school, would be appointed to the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Edward C. Stimson.

The White mountain train over the Eastern railroad which left Fabyan's at 3:15 o'clock on Saturday afternoon of last week, when near Rochester was thrown off the track by obstructions on the rails, evidently placed there by train-wreckers. Oliver Goldsmith, the engineer, and A. M. Randall, an express messenger, were injured, but not seriously.

Mr. Flagg F. Grant, who is acting as station agent at the Eastern depot in this city during the temporary absence of Mr. Winslow T. Perkins, will resume his position as clerk of the Rockingham house on Mr. Perkins' return.

The great comet may be seen if the weather is clear, for a few days, from four o'clock in the morning till daylight, in the east, a little southerly of the sunrise. It is a magnificent object, having a bright nucleus, and a long tail extending far into the heavens.

Words of Wisdom.

No doctor will fail to impress his patients "that the mouth and teeth should be healthy because it receives the food and prepares it for its digestive work." Use SOZODONT, gratify your family physician, and enjoy life comfortably.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere Twenty-five cents a bottle. eod&wtjan82

The other, day over at the Pacific Yacht club reception at Sausalito, a grave-looking man, in a brown coat, tapped one of the energetic dancers on the arm and requested a few moments' private conversation.

"Well, sir," said the heated waltzer, after he had excused himself from his partner and elbowed his way into the dressing-room. "Speak quick. What can I do for you?"

"I see you wear Feeley's old-style knob extension," said the grave man, earnestly. "Now that was all very well five years ago, but science, my dear sir, is always on the march."

"What the blazes are you talking about?" asked the round-dancer, much mystified.

"Another great objection is the extreme weight of the old style. They are really no better than solid wood. Now, why not try one of our latest improved, with Duflicker's patent attachment?"

"Patent what?"

"Why, patent leg," said the agent, blandly fishing out an order book. "Ours only weigh four pounds, and have the side pivot action. French kicking spring, and all the latest wrinkles. Only $45 by ex—"

"What the blazes do I want with a false leg?" roared the other, much disgusted; "I've got two real ones of my own."

"Why, you don't mean to say that you haven't got a false leg on?" said the agent, much bewildered.

"No, sir—you can see for yourself," and he held up his calves to be pinched. "False leg, indeed!"

"Then what in the name of thunder did you mean by staggering round in there just now like a pair of tongs in a fit? Are you knock-kneed, or what?"

"Why, you old fool!" retorted the young man with deep scorn, "don't you know anything? I was dancing the Racket," and he rushed off consulting his programme, while the unsophisticated leg man went around trying to convince the floor managers that a dangerous lunatic had managed to work his way in there somehow.—San Francisco paper.

—An old miser, who was notorious for self-denial, was asked one day why he was so thin. "I do not know," said the miser; "I have tried various means for getting fatter, but without success." "Have you tried victuals?" inquired a friend.

*It is impossible for a women to suffer from weakness after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

On Thursday morning of last week Melissa Power and Addie Johnson, young women, fought with butcher knives in the yard of their residence at New Orleans, La., about a young man who had been paying attentions to both. Both women were frightfully cut on the face and all parts of the body. Melissa Power received a stab wound in the breast from which she died almost instantly. Addie Johnson is in a critical condition.

,,*Figures are not always facts," but the incontrovertible facts concerning Kidney-Wort are better than most figures. For instance: "It is curing everybody," writes a druggist. "Kidney-Wort is the most popular medicine we sell." It should be by right, for no other medicine has such specific action on the liver, bowels and kidneys. Do not fail to try it.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a sure cure for all Female Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, and all weaknesses caused by those irregularities which are so common to womankind. This is no Patent Medicine, but is prepared, after years of experience, and recommended, knowing that it will, at one time or another, bring down, worn out or over-worked member of the sex.

If you have tried other remedies without success, do not be discouraged, but give "LADIES' TONIC" a single trial. It never fails to give quick and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, lay aside the doctor's prescription for once, and try "Ladies' Tonic," which we guarantee will positively cure you. One Bottle is Sufficient.

Women's Medical Institute is an Association of Wives and Mothers of years' experience, who give advice and answer letters from ladies, free.

Also will be given for any case of Female Weakness or Inability which "Ladies' Tonic" will not cure. This is a bona fide offer, made by reputable ladies who know from experience what "LADIES' TONIC" can do. Send stamp for circular.

MALARIA!

THE ONLY REMEDY KNOWN To Destroy this Deadly Pest.

The most alarming fact, in our sanitary conditions, is the prevalence of Malarial Poison not only in marshy, low-lying districts, but in the cities and upon elevated ground where, a few years since, it was unheard of. Frequently fatal disorders of the digestive functions, wasted and enfeebled body and even insanity are the dire effects of malarial poisoning, the sure precursors of death if the poison is not neutralized. The boatmen on the Del. & Hudson Canal, as well as the inhabitants of the adjoining country, have been great sufferers from Malaria. Not until a few years past did they find a reliable remedy. Now they thousands testify that there is but one real and speedy cure for malarial poisoning, and that is Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," which by its action upon the blood purifies it and restores a healthy tone to the entire system. As a preventive in localities where this disease lurks it is invaluable. The "Favorite Remedy" also cures the worst liver and kidney complaints and all diseases arising from vitiated blood. For sale by all druggists, price $1 per bottle. It is an absolutely safe, purely vegetable remedy, the greatest alterative medicine in the world. Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind. Dec. 1, 1880.
For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils? Why have that terrible Headache? Why lay and toss on that bed of pain with Rheumatism? Why not make you remain sick? Your nerves are all unstrung and need a gentle soothing tonic to assist nature to repair the damage which your excesses have caused. Sulphur Bitters is just a cheap rum or poor whiskey drink, to be taken by the glass like other proprietary stimulants. Roots, Barks and Berries combined with the choicest TRACTS OF SULPHUR is such proportions as to make it NATURE'S GREAT NERVINE.

SULPHUR Bitters

The Dose is small—only a Teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it and you will be satisfied. Get it of your druggist. DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE.

The public debt was reduced $14,805,948.93 in September.

At San Antonio, Texas, Saturday evening, C. M. Barnes, correspondent of the New York Herald, was shot by W. R. Lyle, reporter for the Evening Light, during a quarrel concerning an article written by Lyle. Barnes lies in a precarious condition, Lyle was arrested.

On Thursday, Sept. 28th, near the line of the Memphis & Little Rock railroad, in the bottoms between the St. Francis and Mississippi rivers, the body of John Diamond, a track walker employed by the company, was found with two bullet holes in his body, and his pockets emptied and turned inside out. Within four years four men have been murdered for money in that locality.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., Dear Sir—I have advised many ladies to try your "Favorite Prescription" and never see it fail to do more than you advertise.
Yours truly, MRS. A. M. RANKIN,
141 Bates Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

The ship Undaunted, while being towed under the Brooklyn bridge over the East river, Sept. 20th, had her fore and main topmasts carried away at the head by the topgallantmasts striking the bridge.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend S. Sherson, Esq., at present a resident of the town of Rawlings, in the far-off territory of Wyoming. "Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator has helped me right along," says Mr. Sherson. Glad to hear it, old fellow. Yours was an aggravated case of heart disease. The remedy you mention does the same thing in this section too; and better still, it always cures heart disease.—Nast's Weekly Letter-File.

Some one on Friday night, the 29th ult., wrecked the monument recently erected in Hollywood cemetery at Richmond, Va., over the grave of the daughter of Ex-President Tyler. The drapery of the statue of the Madonna which surmounts the monument had been broken, and underneath had been written, "This is a botched job." The statue was a fine work of art imported from Italy. The vandal is not known. Several hundred dollars reward have been offered for his detection.

Spring Medicine.

As a remedy to carry off the accumulation of thick bile from the liver and viscid secretion from the other glands of the system, the Swedish Botanic Compound is invaluable. It will arouse all the functions of the body to healthy action, purify the blood, restore the appetite, and carry off those symptoms of languor and heaviness everybody feels more or less as the warm season approaches.—Adv.

John F. Burrall, late grand secretary of the grand lodge of masons of Illinois, was taken to Springfield from Minneapolis on the 30th ult., charged with the embezzlement of nearly $8,000. He waived examination, and in default of $10,000 bonds was committed to jail. Burrill's retirement from office about two years ago was caused by a domestic scandal, and a suit for divorce by Mrs. Burrill. Since that time an investigation of his accounts developed the alleged defalcation.

The Safest Way.

The safest and surest way to restore the youthful color of the hair is furnished by Parker's Hair Balsam, which is deservedly popular from its superior cleanliness.

There are an unusually large number of students in attendance at most of the academies in this state this fall, but the attendance upon the state normal school at Plymouth continues lamentably small, amounting to only about forty pupils, all females.

How She Saved Her Darling.

"I shall not feel so nervous again about baby's teething," writes a grateful mother. "We almost lost our darling from cholera infantum, but happily heard of Parker's Ginger Tonic in time. A few spoonfuls soon cured baby, and an occasional dose keeps us in good health."—Brooklyn Mother.

Covetousness In Disguise.

The wonderful success of James Pyle's Pearline has given rise to a flood of imitations with an "ine" to their names, evidently to have them sound like Pearline. Enterprises of this sort are quite liable to be more selfish than beneficial.

Frank E. Kenion of Keene committed suicide by taking an overdose of morphine Saturday night. He leaves a widow and two children. He had appeared strange for several days.

"Ladies' Tonic,"

The Great Female Remedy is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and is their favorite prescription for ladies who are suffering from any weakness or complaints common to the sex. It is sold by druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Ladies can obtain advice free. Send stamp for names of those who have been cured.

The Nashua republicans, Saturday evening, organized a campaign club at a meeting in the court room. Charles Holman was elected president, E. J. Copp secretary, Frank Maynard treasurer, with an executive committee of one from each ward.

If you come home late bring your wife a bottle of German Corn Remover. Result happiness.

The house of Frank Tanner of Milton, about one mile from the village, was entered Saturday afternoon by a masked robber, and $218 taken. Mrs. Tanner, who was alone in the house, was frightened away by the robber threatening to shoot her if she made any alarm.

A friend to the rich and poor. A medicine that strengthens and heals, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

Only Two Bottles.

Messrs. Johnson, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with request to send a good catarrh cure to two officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentlemen told them that both the officers and the wife of Gen. John C. Fremont Gov. of Arizona, had been cured of catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm.

Messrs. Ely Bros., Druggists, Owego, N. Y.—A few days ago I saw a lady who had used your Cream Balm for Catarrh, and had found more relief in one bottle than from all other remedies she had tried. I enclose $1 for two bottles. Yours respectfully, JAMES HITCHEN, M. D., Providence, R. I.

F. W. A. BERGENGREN, M. D., Proprietor.
Lynn, Mass.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL,

A Brave Lady.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

MRS. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible state she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or faint." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good catharic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aches and pains, slight chills with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

AROUND HOME.

The Alliance, Comdr. Wadleigh commanding, arrived off Sandy Hook on Saturday evening, from this port.

It is reported that M. C. Foster, of Waterville, Me., has contracted with Mr. Philbrick of Rye to build a hotel to take the place of the Farragut house, the work to be done in time for next summer's travel.

Miss Betsey Shapleigh, an old resident of Rye, died in Brentwood on Sunday last; she was supposed to be nearly ninety years of age.

The following officers on shore duty at this navy yard are ordered to continue in the performance thereof: Commodore C. H. Wells, Lieut. W. H. Reeder, Capt. A. E. K. Benham, Commander A. R. Yates, Boatswain J. T. Choate, Sailmaker J. A. Birdsall, Commander R. J. Cromwell, Gunner T. R. Wilson, Medical Inspector C. J. Cleborne, Paymaster Jno. MacMahon, Paymaster F. H. Hinman, Chief Engineer B. F. Garvin, Passed Assistant Engineer W. H. Nauman, Naval Constructor George R. Bousb, Chaplain Wm. H. Stewart, Carpenter Leonard Hanscom, Mate John L. Vennard.

Mr. George Lang, of Lee, who died last month in the 91st year of his age, was born in Greenland, and was one of a family of twenty brothers and sisters, of whom only one, (Joseph Lang of South Newmarket, now eighty-two years old) survives. Deceased was a member of the legislature in 1831, with Ezekiel Webster, James Wilson, Franklin Pierce and other afterward-famous men. He leaves a large property.

All the fields in Rye are covered with sea-weed and kelp, hauled from the beaches, and the roads are still filled with teams engaged in the work. The quantity thrown ashore by the late gales is greater than for many years past.

The Newmarket Advertiser says there have been six fatal accidents on the railroad between Newmarket village and Diamond bridge, a distance of about a mile, within the past eighteen years. Three of the persons killed were Joseph Young, Otis Dudley and Charles Sinclair, all from one house, Young having been run over about eighteen years ago, and Sinclair killed on the 25th of last month; the other three were a Dover man who fell under a train at the depot while alighting, a Mrs. Langmaid, killed about three years since, and a corn-doctor named Maress, killed two years or so ago. Besides these, a Mrs. Hayes, a man named Hickey, and an unknown man, have been killed at the junction within ten years past; and a young man named Sanford had both legs cut off near Smart's bridge last fall.

The apple crop of Rye this year is not of much account for the market, but a good many cider apples were raised, and are now being made into that beverage.

The fishing schooner Celia is being fitted with new standing rigging.

A Boston gentleman who was driving on the post road in Kittery, last Monday afternoon, had his carriage run into and badly smashed by an ox-team on the way from this city to York. The gentleman, who was not hurt, was brought to this city by a farmer living near the scene of the accident.

The long drought did not kill the roots of the grass in the hay fields and pastures, as it was feared would prove to be the case, and the rains have caused it to start up in fine style. "Fall feed," which was at one time expected to be a total failure, is abundant, which will give the farmers many more tons of hay to sell.

Several weeks ago the New Hampshire house at York beach was raided by Sheriff Roberts of Alfred, who made a seizure of liquors and arrested C. E. Nason, the proprietor. H. P. Copp's saloon was also raided, with the same result. Nason and Copp were taken to Alfred, and assessed about $150 each, fine and costs, from which both appealed. Nason said he had got all that he wanted of York beach, and has since sold the New Hampshire house to L. E. Decatur of Great Falls.

Mr. Theo. Keen, who has carried the mail between the Kittery Depot, Kittery, and Kittery Point post-offices for about twenty years, in connection with his line of stage coaches, has relinquished its further transportation to the contractor, Mr. J. Q. Rose of Ossipee, N. H. Mr. Rose has sublet the contract for the remainder of the term, which ends June 30th, 1885, to Mr. David K. Manson of Kittery Point, who will run a passenger coach in connection with carrying the mail. Mr. Keen will continue to run his stage for a few weeks, until the last of the summer boarders have left the Point and intermediate places; after which he will give his entire attention to his steamboat line between this city, Kittery, Newcastle and Kittery Point.

Franklin W. Thompson, proprietor of the Thompson house at York beach, who died a few days ago, is said to have been the pioneer landlord at that beach. He was a stage driver in New Hampshire for nearly fifty years.

"General" Shattuck, of York, who lives near the head of the river, went out one day last week to knock over enough of the many gray squirrels around the place to make a mess for dinner. The general was armed with an old Queen Anne's musket, and perceiving a squirrel in an apple tree he let drive with the ancient weapon. The squirrel was pulverized, and the limbs of the tree shot away in such manner as to leave a round hole two feet in diameter from one side to the other, while the sportsman went end-over-end backward until stopped by the stone wall, when he picked himself up considerably bruised, and it is said with his collar-bone broken. A few days before this the general drove off two Portsmouth gunners who were shooting squirrels on his place; he says now that he don't care if they kill all the squirrels there are—he has had all the gunning he hankers after this season.

The farmers of York have commenced making cider, of which some of them will produce considerable quantities; but the crop of apples for eating or sending to market will be small.

The schooner Gulnare, Goodwin master, was lying at York bridge on Monday, bound for Lanesville, Mass., with thirty-five tons of pressed hay, put on board by Mr. C. F. Plaisted of York corner.

Our old friend Abe B——, the mason, of Eliot, went gunning on the 2d inst. Seeing a gray squirrel run across the road, and up an elm tree in front of Squire H——'s house, he stepped to the door and asked if he might shoot it, and receiving permission, he blazed away at the animal like a platoon of light infantry. After firing three shots, without apparently in any way disturbing the squirrel, a boy came along and killed it with a stone at the first throw. Abe proposes to enter for the next international contest at Creedmoor.

During the late dry spell an ox belonging to Mr. Joseph Manson, of York, went to a well on the Shattuck farm, and attempted to get a drink from it. As the well was ten feet deep, and the water only two feet, the thirsty creature of course failed in his attempt; but he slipped head foremost into the well, and was killed. The ox was a fine one, measuring seven feet in girth.

A despatch of the 2d inst., from Biddeford, reported the trouble between the shoe manufacturers and their help as still unsettled, though all the hands except the lasters were anxious to return to work. It was stated that the strike was engineered by shoe manufacturers in Lynn, Mass., who were under-bid by the Biddeford manufacturers.

The "Art Amateur" for October is especially rich in practical hints and directions for art work and home decoration. The supplement of designs contains, besides those for flower and figure painting, a notable one for an embroidered panel of "Birds and Wild Roses," the first of a series from the Royal School of Art Needlework at South Kensington. The frontispiece is a fine drawing by Piton of a superb portrait plaque from the famous Deck factory. A spirited sketch of the "Genius of Music" by the French decorator Galland forms another full page illustration; a decorative ceiling by Faivre, and two of the Vanderbilt painted windows, are also given. There is a vigorous article on the artists Courbet and Baudry, and a very interesting account of the new art of "Lustra Painting," lately taken up by the British "upper ten." If any of our readers are still unacquainted with the Art Amateur it will pay them to send for the October issue. Price, $4 a year; single numbers, thirty-five cents. Montague Marks, publisher, No. 23 Union square, New York.

"Captain Mansana, and other stories, by Bjornstjerne Bjornson: " translated by Prof. R. B. Anderson; author's edition. Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co. Price $1.00; sold by W. G. Myers.

This is the first publication of Captain Mansana in English. It was written shortly after the author's visit to Italy in 1772. "The Railroad and the Churchyard" was written many years ago, and "Dust" is a new story published this year in a new magazine in Norway. The present volume completes the publication of the short stories of Bjornson, and it will be followed by Magnhild, which will close the series, making in this authorized American edition a complete set of the novels of this eminent Norwegian writer.

As the funeral procession of the late Alanson Wentworth was nearing the old cemetery in Stoughton, Mass., Saturday afternoon, the horse attached to the rear carriage, containing Mrs. A. S. Porter of Brockton, became frightened at the sudden stopping of the carriage ahead, and turning around started upon a run, overturning the carriage, throwing Mrs. Porter out, bruising and otherwise injuring her severely. The carriage was badly smashed, but the horse escaped serious injury.

—Alcohol can now be produced from acorns, and the song will soon be: "Tall larks from little acorns grow."

—The new depot at Hannibal, Mo., cost $150,000, and was opened with a ball and banquet. If you get round to Hannibal within two years you may be able to get some relics of that banquet at the railroad restaurant.

—A Jerseyman went to Mauch Chunk, Pa., to spend his vacation, and during the first night three old hens, which had gone to roost on a tree outside his bed room window, were disturbed by a cat and flew into his apartment. The Jerseyman awakened and slashed a pillow around until the bewildered fowls found their way out. The next morning he told his host that he should come there every summer, for during the whole night he had seen but three mosquitoes.

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest reknown on both sides of the Atlantic as an invaluable Tonic and Restorative in cases of General Debility, Nervous Depression, Enfeebled Constitution and Female Weakness.

NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a specific for their trouble. It stimulates the digestive, sharpens the appetite, invigorates and builds up the entire system, and enables a generous flow of milk.

WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from Scrofula and wasting, as a result of disease, scrofulous, or nervous strain, will derive substantial benefit from its use. It restores the system to its normal condition and brings back the bloom of youth.

INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life and restoring lost strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It neither pals upon the appetite nor offends the taste.

DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weaknesses of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It regulates the digestion, purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and revives the spirits.

WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who require some artificial restorative—and especially those who are inclined to Consumption—will find this preparation exactly suited to their needs. It is a specific for the Coughs and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.

AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The whole tendency of its action is to stimulate the digestion of the producing foods, and its effect is invariably to give fullness and roundness to the female form, and vigorous to the masculine frame.

THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Fluid Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from alcohol. It is readily retained on the stomach and contains none but wholesome and nourishing ingredients. The genuine preparation bears on the label a fac simeprint likeness of Baron von Liebig, and a facsimile of his signature, as well as that of A. VOGELER & CO., Baltimore, Md., Sole Agents for America.

HEART DISEASE
IS YOUR HEART SOUND?
Many people think themselves sick and doctor for Kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.
The renowned Dr. Clendinning, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."
The heart weighs about ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.
Dr. Graves a celebrated physician, has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

LIFE INSURANCE!
The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.
Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.
Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.
READ!

KNOW THYSELF.
THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
38th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,
is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,
is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.
N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

ST. MARY'S BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.

Owing to some trouble in the St. Mary's Benevolent association, the majority voted to dissolve the organization and divide the assets; and to this end an auction sale of certain property was advertised to take place on the 4th inst. The minority applied to Judge Clark of the supreme court, who granted a temporary injunction against the proceedings of the majority, and a hearing will be had during the October term of the court on the question of making the injunction permanent. Of course the proposed sale is abandoned for the present.

PRESENTATION.

On Friday evening of last week Mr. Winfield S. Smith, who for two years past has been foreman of the stitching-room in the Portsmouth Shoe Factory, but is shortly to remove to Lynn, Mass., was called upon at his residence by about fifty of the employes of the factory, and presented with a handsome ice-pitcher, Miss Alice Twombly making on behalf of the company a very neat address, to which Mr. Smith appropriately responded. A nice supper was served, and vocal and instrumental music enjoyed during the evening.

CAMPING OUT.

The Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. Edward D. Coffin commanding, went into camp on the academy grounds at Greenland on Monday, to remain five days. The command made a fine appearance, fifty-two saddles being filled. While the company was mustering one of the members met with a severe accident, the circumstances being as follows: Mr. Daniel J. Ayers, of Christian Shore, was riding down from the Creek, and on reaching Albany street the horse (which has been engaged for some time past in hauling grains from the Jones brewery) suddenly turned into that street, throwing Mr. Ayers off and breaking both bones of one leg just above the ankle.

The camp has been named "Camp Governor Goodwin."

The official inspection of the company will take place on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

"THE WORLD."

The Manchester Mirror of last Saturday had the following:

Among the best things seen upon the stage in this city last season, was the Boston Theatre company in "The World," and those who have a pleasant remembrance of its many excellences will doubtless welcome its reappearance next Friday evening. The play has a thrilling plot, and its scenic effects are the most realistic ever witnessed in this city. Those who have never seen "The World," should not fail to be present when it revolves next week.

At Music hall this evening. Tickets at Myers'.

A RELIC.

The Journal of last week contains an article by James R. Stanwood, Esq., giving a brief history of the "Old State House" in Boston, with an account of its recent restoration by the city councils of that city. Mr. Stanwood was one of the committee to whom the work of restoration was entrusted.

While on a visit to his native town Mr. Stanwood discovered in the shop of Mr. Frazer the old carved wooden centrepiece which for more than a hundred years occupied a place in the ceiling of the South meeting-house in this city. Whether the old centrepiece was removed when the meeting-house was reconstructed by Mr. Libbey, to whom the South Parish sold it, or whether it remained in its place until the meeting-house was demolished by the city about 1865 to make room for the south ward-room, the writer is not informed; but we think it was given to Mr Frazer by Mr. Libbey. It was in a good state of preservation, and the idea suggested itself to Mr. Stanwood that it might be utilized in the restoration of the state house, the centrepieces in that building, if there ever were any, having been lost. For that purpose Mr. Frazer cheerfully gave it to Mr. Stanwood, who removed it to Boston, where it was accepted and approved by the committee and architect as a relic of the period in which both buildings were constructed, suitable for the restored rooms. Three copies of the old centrepiece were made, two of which were somewhat enlarged for use in the halls, and one, much reduced, was placed in the vestibule. The venerable relic was then returned to Portsmouth, and by Mr. Stanwood again presented to its original owners—the South Parish. We are informed that it is to be placed on the ceiling of the pastor's room in the chapel on Court street.

THE WILSON HOUSE.

The Wilson house obstruction of Vaughan street still exists, the present city government apparently finding the old house as much of a "lion in the way" as the last one did, and being equally averse to taking any decisive action in the premises. True, the late board of aldermen did order the street commissioner to cut the house down on a line with the street; but that vote was the sheerest buncombe, for the board very well knew knew that the street commissioner was not such a fool as to make himself personally liable to heavy exemplary damages for the commission of an illegal act, simply on their irresponsible order. But the present board has not done even so much as to pass a buncombe resolution.

We are very anxious to have the street completed in accordance with the order of the court and the plan of the Eastern railroad, so we will give the city fathers some advice, free gratis for nothing. There are two ways of getting rid of the old house, or that portion of it which sticks out into the street. One is, for the city to send two men with a cross-cut saw, and let them saw the house down on the street line when Mrs. Wilson is absent, so she could not scald the men while they were at work; and the city teams might haul the stolen piece of the house away somewhere, and hide it so that the unterrified widow could not find it and stick it on again. This plan is shockingly illegal, of course, and if carried out would no doubt result in the putting in jail of the mayor and entire board of aldermen; but the public wouldn't mind that any, so long as the street was cleared.

The other plan is, to let the $75 long since paid to a mortgagee go, and make a legal tender of payment to the owner of the property, of the sum awarded by the county commissioners, $75. If the city government is waiting, as is alleged, for the mortgage to be foreclosed, in order that the money paid the mortgagee may be metamorphosed into a legal payment to the owner of the property, we shall not see the obstruction removed this year, and quite probably it will still remain to ornament the street when the "sons" come home in 1883. The present board of mayor and aldermen should consider that the people are quite as much interested in having the street which cost them so much made safe and passable, as they are in having any blunder of the late board covered up.

A PLEASANT OCCASION.

On Saturday evening, Sept. 30th, Mr. Joseph L. Marden and wife, of Kittery Point, Me., were surprised by a call from a party of friends, some thirty in number. The occasion was the fortieth anniversary of their wedding day. A short notice of their history may not be uninteresting.

Joseph Langdon Marden is a native of Rye, N. H., but early in life removed to Kittery Point, where he has since remained. He was married in 1842 to Miss Sarah D. Seaward of Kittery Point, by Rev. I. J. Wetherbee; the marriage ceremony was performed at the Freewill Baptist parsonage, near their present residence. Twenty-two years of their married life were spent in the eastern part of the village, commonly known as Bridgetown; during the remaining eighteen years they have resided upon Tenney's hill, where they now are. Seven children have been added to them, five of whom are now living,—one in Kennebunk, Me., one in South Newmarket, N. H., one in Gloucester, Mass., one in Boston, Mass., and one in Columbus, Ohio.

The evening was pleasantly passed; music and conversation enlivened the hours, and a bountiful collation was duly prepared. The presents were thirty in number, and many of them were quite valuable. Among the guests present were Rev. C. L. Plumer, Dr. E. Q. Adams and wife, Mrs. Mary J. Williams, Miss Millie Williams, (who presided at the organ,) Mr. Meshach Tobey and wife, and last, but not least, Mr. Hervey Seaward, son of Joseph L. Seaward, who came in literally at the eleventh hour, and who was greeted with great enthusiasm. The exercises closed with remarks and prayer by Rev. C. L. Plumer, and singing of "Auld Lang Syne." We wish them many recurrences of their wedding anniversary. A.

The tug Clara Bateman on Monday towed down the schooner Charlotte Buck; gave the new schooner Annie F. Conlon, Seaward master, a pull from the lower harbor to sea, the schooner proceeding to the eastward; and then brought up a small schooner loaded with lime, and berthed her at Concord railroad wharf.

John S. Rand, Esq., of this city, was chosen one of the executive committee of the Young Men's Christian Association at the convention held at Franklin Falls last week.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" is to be played in Music hall on Thursday evening, Oct. 5th, by the "Ideal Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Co.," with a double supply of Topsy and Lawyer Marks. Blanche Sherwood is Topsy No. 1, and Florence Sherwood is Topsy No. 2.

A boy about thirteen years old, son of Mrs. Phinehas J. Goodrich, of Cabot street, had one of his arms broken by the rough play of some other boys on the stone steps of the academy building, Monday forenoon.

A young man named William Berry, a coal-heaver on the Concord railroad wharf, on Monday afternoon fell overboard between the steamer Harrisburg and the wharf; in his descent he narrowly escaped striking a fender, but fortunately did miss it, and was fished out by Bartholomew Lynch with a shovel, with no other harm than a wetting.

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

WHEAT BITTERS THE Great LIQUID FOOD FOR BLOOD, BRAIN AND NERVES.

IS A SUPERIOR NUTRITIVE MEDICINE, RICH IN PHOSPHATES AND NOT A CHEAP, ALCOHOLIC DRINK. It is highly recommended by Chemists and Physicians as

as it does not stimulate the brain or irritate the system and leave deleterious effects behind the contrary, it furnishes just that which is necessary to the brain, strengthens and quiets the nerves, purifies the heart's blood, and thereby makes only the best flesh, bone and muscle. It works wonders, curing NERVOUS and GENERAL DEBILITY, MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA, INSOMNIA. Produces a healthy action of the Liver and Kidneys, fortifying the system against the miasmatic influences, and will be found invaluable in all pulmonary and bronchial difficulties. DELICATE FEMALES, NURSING MOTHERS and WEAKLY CHILDREN can find no remedy equal to this healthful blood and nerve food tonic. For sale by all Druggists. $1.00 per bottle. Prepared only by WHEAT BITTERS CO. Office 19 Park Place, New York City.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S

VEGETABLE COMPOUND,

Is a Positive Cure

For all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

A Medicine for Woman. Invented by a Woman. Prepared by a Woman.

The Greatest Medical Discovery Since the Dawn of History.

It removes the drooping spirits, invigorates and harmonizes the organic functions, gives elasticity and firmness to the step, restores the natural lustre to the eye, and plants on the pale cheek of woman the fresh roses of life's spring and early summer time.

Physicians Use It and Prescribe It Freely.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S BLOOD PURIFIER will eradicate every vestige of impure blood, and give tone and strength to the system, of man, woman or child. Insist on having it.

Both the Compound and Blood Purifier are prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price of either, $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, or of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Inclose 3ct. stamp. Send for pamphlet.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

John Mansell of Dover, Me., eighty years old, was instantly killed on Friday by a horse running away down hill at Charleston, throwing him on a pile of rocks.

C. Wolfe of Pine Bluff, Ark., whose wife had reproached him for drunkenness, shot himself with a pistol, and fell dead at her feet.

Mr. George Travis, wife and children of Bridgeport, Pa., were badly poisoned Friday night, the 29th ult., by eating bologna sausage purchased at a grocery store.

A boarding house occupied by quarrymen was burned at Lemont, Ill., Sunday morning, 1st inst. Two young men, named Coova and Green, failed to escape and were burned to a crisp.

At Jefferson Spring, Jefferson county, Ark., Sept. 28th, an aged farmer named P. L. Dunn, whose wife had abandoned him, put the muzzle of a pistol in his mouth and blew out his brains.

Three children of Hilaire Roapeau, a farmer of St. Simon, county of Rimouski, P. Q., aged two, four and seven years, respectively, were burned to death in a fire that broke out in the dwelling house at night, and extended to the farm buildings.

All the members of the city council of Williamsport, Pa., are under arrest upon information of several property owners, charged with failing to keep the streets in proper condition. They gave bail for their appearance at court.

A six-weeks-old infant was found drowned near the Linen mills in Fall River, Mass., Sunday morning. The police suspect that a woman named Ellen Taylor drowned it, and they are searching for her.

Good Advice.

You will prevent and cure the greater part of the ills that afflict mankind in this or any section, if you keep your stomach, liver and kidneys in perfect working order. There is no medicine known that does this as surely as Parker's Ginger Tonic. It will keep your blood rich and pure, and give you good health at little cost. See other column.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a sure cure for all Female Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, and all weaknesses caused by those irregularities which are so common to womankind. This is no Patent Medicine, but is prepared, after years of experience, and recommended, knowing that it will give new life to any broken-down, worn out or overworked member of the sex.

If you have tried other remedies without success, do not be discouraged, but give "LADIES' TONIC" a single trial. It never fails to give quick and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, lay aside the doctor's prescription for once, and try "Ladies' Tonic," which we guarantee will positively cure you. One Bottle is Sufficient.

Women's Medical Institute is an Association of Wives and Mothers of years' experience, who give advice and answer letters from ladies, free.

Proof will be given for any case of Female Weakness or Inability which "Ladies' Tonic" will not cure. This is a bona fide offer, made by responsible ladies who know from experience what "LADIES' TONIC" can do. Send stamp for circular.

MALARIA!

THE ONLY REMEDY KNOWN

To Destroy this Deadly Pest.

The most alarming fact, in our sanitary conditions, is the prevalence of Malarial Poison not only in marshy, low-lying districts, but in the cities and upon elevated ground where, a few years since, it was unheard of. Frequently fatal disorders of the digestive functions, wasted and enfeebled body and even insanity are the dire effects of malarial poisoning, the sure precursors of death if the poison is not neutralized. The boatmen on the Del. & Hudson Canal, as well as the inhabitants of the adjoining country, have been great sufferers from Malaria. Not until a few years past did they find a reliable remedy. Now thousands testify that there is but one real and speedy cure for malarial poisoning and that is Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. It is invigorating upon the blood purifies it and restores a healthy tone to the entire system. As a preventive in localities where this danger lurks, it is invaluable. The "Favorite Remedy" also cures the worst liver and kidney complaints and all diseases caused by vitiated blood. For sale by all druggists, price $1 per bottle. It is an absolutely safe, purely vegetable remedy, the greatest alterative medicine in the world. Address the proprietor, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. all 4w

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind. Dec. 1, 1880.
For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

Chronicle Correspondence.

MT. MORRIS, OGLE CO., ILL., Sept. 11th, 1882.

Mr. Editor: This is a township situated about 100 miles west of Chicago, on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad. It has been the educational centre of the Methodist denomination of the northwest for a great many years, it having been settled about the same time as Chicago, and the school established in 1841. From various causes of late years the school was not as prosperous as formerly, and the buildings in 1878 were sold to the Dunkard denomination, and they have established a college which is in a very prosperous condition. There is but one other similar school in the United States, and that is in Ashland, Ohio. They are a peculiar people in many respects, like the Quakers dressing plainly, not voting, and practicing feet-washing by the elders of the church when the sacrament is administered.

The mercury stands this morn at fifty-two degrees, and it is very comfortable near a blazing fire, while the fields and the prairies are covered with fresh and green vegetation, in striking contrast to the dry and parched coast of New England I left a few days ago. Rain has fallen in great abundance all through the season, and the crops are all the farmers can desire. The wheat is now being threshed and got ready for market, and it is strange to me to see the machines drawn through the streets by the engine which is used for the threshing.

There is a good deal of market gardening done here for Chicago and other markets, our next neighbor having eight acres set with blackberries and five with raspberries. From three acres which had come into bearing this year he picked 119 bushels, and sold them at $4 per bushel.

I shall soon leave this part of the country for northern Minnesota, and it may be will write you a few lines from that point.

Yours, M. A. G.

—Some genius has invented a little article called a "fire-kindler." Unless it is made in the shape of a coal-oil can, the newly-imported servant girl will not touch it. If it contains something that will explode and knock the domestic end-over-end over two or three chairs and burn off her eyebrows without doing any other damage, there may be a large demand for the "fire-kindler."

—Will some one who is versed in the science of sound, please get up and explain why a hotel waiter, who can't hear the call of a hungry man two feet and a half away, can hear the jingle of a quarter clear across a dining-room.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend S. Sherson, Esq., at present a resident of the town of Rawlings, in the far-off territory of Wyoming. "Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator has helped me right along," says Mr. Sherson. Glad to hear it, old fellow. Yours was an aggravated case of heart disease. The remedy you mention does the same thing in this section too; and better still, it always cures heart disease.—Nast's Weekly Letter-File.

—A particularly tough cockatoo has just died in Baden-Baden, and a church gets a legacy on the occasion. The money was left by a woman who died twenty years ago, to be paid to the church when her pet gave up the ghost, and the bird has persistently lived.

Fruit of the tropic's burning clime,
Thy wondrous virtues, fadeless still,
Exert an influence sublime
In ministering to human ill;
And many a pang along our way
Sanford's Ginger doth allay.

—Some one says, "Bread and butter is the dress of the world; love and kindness the trimmings." We'll bet $400 the man who wrote that isn't married. Any married man knows that the trimmings always cost four times as much as the dress.

Sick headache, nausea, rising of food, flatulency, seasickness, cramps and pains, hysteria, nervousness, languor, and loss of sleep call for prompt use of Sanford's Ginger, "the delicious."

I would say to my friends, and all who chance to read this, that I have used Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam in my family for a long time, and consider it a very valuable medicine. It cures when all other remedies fail, and I would cheerfully recommend it to those afflicted with Coughs, Colds, Asthma, etc.

Covetousness in Disguise.

The wonderful success of James Pyle's Pearline has given rise to a flood of imitations with an "ine" to their names, evidently to have them sound like Pearline. Enterprises of this sort are quite liable to be more selfish than beneficial.

Mrs. Benjamin Williams, of What Cheer, Iowa, on the 2d inst. shot dead a man named Allison, and then blew her own brains out. The woman's intimacy with Allison, who was a boarder in her house, caused her husband to leave her; she left a letter of regret for her wrongdoing, and commended her children to the care of relatives.

"Ladies' Tonic,"

A Brave Lady.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 4. 1882.

A Long Contest.

The republican convention of the sixth congressional district of Massachusetts had a hard struggle to nominate a candidate. The convention met on Sept. 28th, and adjourned on the morning of the 29th after fifty-three ballots, the candidates being Henry Cabot Lodge, Elisha S. Converse, Joseph Davis and Rufus S. Frost, and no one having a majority of the votes nor anything near it.

The convention reassembled on the 2d inst., and commenced voting, the first ballot standing: Lodge 38, Converse 82, Davis 18 and Frost 17, the same as the informal ballot on the opening day, and the first formal ballot. Hour after hour the balloting was kept up without the change of a vote, until the 106th ballot, when four of the Converse men voted for Carroll D. Wright. On the 120th ballot, which was taken at three o'clock in the morning on the 3d, the vote stood: Converse 48, Lodge 41, Davis 10 and Frost six.

At 5:51 o'clock A. M. on the 3d, after a session of nearly thirty-six hours, a choice was effected, the final vote (the 130th) being as follows: Whole number 105; necessary to a choice, 53; Davis ten, Frost one, Lodge 39, Converse 55,—and Elisha S. Converse, mayor of Malden, was declared the nominee of the convention, the nomination being made unanimous.

Naval Affairs.

Commodore O. C. Badger, commandant of the Boston navy yard, having been granted leave of absence for one month, left on the 2d inst. for St. Louis, Mo., to attend the marriage of his son.

Commodore A. C. Rhind has been detached from duty as president of the board of inspection, and placed on waiting orders.

Medical Inspector Newton L. Bates is detached from the naval hospital, Yokohama, Japan, and ordered to the Lancaster and as fleet surgeon of the European station.

Captain George E. Belknap informs the secretary of the navy that the Alaska, which left Callao, Peru, July 29th, arrived at Honolulu September 6th; all well on board.

The training ship Jamestown, at Hampton Roads, has been ordered to sea for a ten days' cruise, and afterward to proceed to Gardiner's bay, Long Island sound.

Lieutenant William K. Kilburn has been detached from the Tennessee, and ordered to the Yantic; Master Walter S Hughes from the Passaic, and ordered to the Jamestown; Master George H. Worcester from the New Hampshire, and ordered to the Minnesota.

Captain R. W. Meade, Commander Henry L. Howison, Medical Director A. L. Gibon, Chief Engineer James W. Thompson, Jr., and Captain P. C. Pope, United States marine corps, have been detached from duty as members of the board of inspection, and placed on waiting orders.

Lieutenant J. W. Miller has been detached from the Jamestown, and granted six months' leave of absence from the first of October.

Assistant Paymaster Livingston Hunt, son of the ex-secretary of the navy, has been relieved from duty as assistant naval storekeeper at Villefranche, France, and ordered to return to this country.

Lucky Mr. Finnegan.

"Is it true, Mr. Finnegan, that you were the lucky holder of a ticket that obtained a prize in the last drawing of the Louisana State Lottery?" asked a World reporter of Mr. Michael A. Finnegan, of No. 1 Elder place, in this city, a day or two ago.

"I was, sir," replied Mr. Finnegan. "I had a fifth of the ticket that drew the second capital prize."

"That prize was $25,000," said the reporter, "therefore your share must have been $5,000."

"That's just what it was;" replied Mr. Finnegan.

"Are there any circumstances of interest connected with the matter, Mr. Finnegan?" asked the reporter.

"None, excepting that the drawing of the prize was a matter of interest to me—that's all. I bought the fifth ticket without thinking much about it—it cost only a dollar, you know—and waited for the drawing without letting the thought of it interfere with anything else I had in mind. After a while I heard that the ticket in which I had a fifth interest, No. 22,350, had drawn a prize. I very naturally went to the principal office of the company in this city to inquire about it.

"Did they give you a satisfactory answer there?"

"Indeed, they did, sir. They promptly told me that the information I had received about my ticket drawing the prize was correct."

"How did you get the ticket cashed?"

"Of course I asked them if they could cash it for me, or should I have to wait awhile for the money. They explained to me that they could cash a'l the prizes, not exceeding $1,000, that were drawn in Boston, but that claims in excess of that amount would have to be sent to the home office in New Orleans for collection. So I gave my ticket to the Adams Express company to collect for me, and in a few days received the money for it."

"Was there any deduction from the amount called for by the face of the prize?"

"There was not, sir. The amount was paid in full, without any deduction."

"What did you think, Mr. Finnegan, about the probabilities of collection when you first learned that your ticket had been successful?"

"I took it for granted that it was all right, because I had heard, in many cases, that the company was fair and square, and always fulfilled its obligations to the letter. So I was not at all surprised when the express company brought me back the money. I was sure the company would do by me as I had the best reason to believe it had always done by others, and I wasn't disappointed."

"Then you feel perfectly satisfied with your venture, and that the company has treated you honorably."

"Indeed I do, sir, and I wish every man in business was as fair and honorable as this company is."

Mr. Finnegan is a genial gentleman, of medium height and pleasant speech. He is too level-headed to allow this little instance of good luck to change the even tenor of his way. The World reporter, who has been for years acquainted with him, knows that he is too sensible a man to be thrown off his balance, even by the acquisition of $5,000. Mr. Finnegan, as already stated, resides at No. 1 Elder place, off Brighton street, where he is receiving the hearty congratulations of his friends and neighbors upon his good fortune.—Boston (Mass.) World, Sept. 29.

Why They Shut the Stage Door.

A correspondent of the San Francisco Post relates the following incident of a stage ride through the mountains: We were going to say that on this particular trip we passengers were exceedingly annoyed by the persistence with which young Foss (the driver) demanded that the stage doors be kept closed, particularly when their being opened caused an appreciable circulation of air. Just as we were rounding a particularly narrow turn in the face of the cliff, Foss noticed that the inside door, so to speak, was again being held ajar. Promptly putting on the brakes and bringing his horses to a halt, he descended.

"Do you see that rock?" he said, pointing to a huge bowlder ahead that barely left room for the stage to pass.

"What of it?"

"Only this. Last season a stage was passing that rock when somebody opened the door. The door caught on the rock, and as it opened further just ripped the whole business over the cliff. That little speck way down there is one of the hind wheels caught on a tree. Now will you keep that door shut?"

It took half an hour to get that door opened when we got to Calistoga, every individual on board having separately tied it shut with his handkerchief, except a good-looking young lady, who used a string. Where she got the string is a mystery; but, as her bustle dropped off as she alighted, it is fair to sup—but no matter about that now.

—"Where's Snoggleton?" asked the proprietor of an Arkansaw newspaper, entering the office and enquiring for the editor. "He hasn't come down this morning," replied a reporter. "What's the matter?" "Well, he got into a dispute last night and a fellow shot his head off." "Did he leave any copy?" "No, sir." "How in thunder did he expect this paper to run without copy? Blamed if I go to his funeral!"

—On leaving her home in Licking county, Ohio, last fall, Aura M. Scott left her skirts behind, and went to Cincinnati in male clothes. Although only eighteen, and not coarse in form or feature, she readily passed for a boy. Perhaps the deception was made easy by her careless manner of smoking, drinking and swearing. She was successively a porter, clerk in a notion store and conductor of a horse car before being found out. Of course she got detected in the last occupation. She didn't hug the pretty women when helping them on and off the car, and didn't fail to observe the ugly ones.

—There is a story of an imperial highness waltzing thrice in the same evening with an English lady at the court in Berlin. She naturally felt, and frankly expressed, herself highly flattered by the compliment. "I did not intend it as a compliment," was the answer. "Then," said the lady, somewhat upset, "your highness must be very fond of dancing." "I detest dancing," was the still unsatisfactory response. Undeterred by her ill success, our fair Englishwoman still prosecuted her inquiries. "What, then, may I ask, can be your imperial highness' motive for dancing?" "Madame," was the exalted personage's curt reply, "I dance to perspire!"

AROUND HOME.

Mr. Jefferson Lewis, of Kittery, raised 500 bushels of potatoes this year, on low land with a clay subsoil; in ordinary seasons his crop would be small on such ground, but the dry weather of this season gave him a big yield.

Mr. Fred McIntire, son of Leonard McIntire of Beech ridge, York, for some years a student at New Hampton (N. H.) Institute, and later a school teacher in York, was sunstruck while working in his father's field last August, and for a time was quite ill; but he has now recovered his health, and commenced the study of law in Massachusetts.

Mr. Leonard Cook, of Kittery, this year raised sixty bushels of barley and thirty of wheat; his potato crop was nothing to brag of, the drought having seriously affected his high lands. He cut seventy-five tons of English hay and twenty-five tons of salt hay.

Mr. C. C. Barrell, of "head of the river," York, has already pressed fifty tons of hay, and sold it at $16 per ton to Mr. Charles Blaisdell, who has purchased of different parties in the town this fall between 200 and 300 tons, most of which he has shipped in schooners from Sewall's bridge to Rockport, Mass. Mr. Barrell raised this season ninety-two bushels of small grains.

Rev. W. W. Dow, after a long and prosperous pastoral service in Massachusetts, has felt compelled to remove to this vicinity, on account of relatives dependent on his care, made so by the sad death of his sister last year, by disaster. Mr. Dow makes this change at a sacrifice of personal interests, and has complied with a request to supply the Congregational church in Kittery.

Asa McIntire and sons, of Beech ridge, York, raised over eighty tons of English hay and fifteen tons of marsh hay this season. Mr. McIntire says the salt hay is much better than usual this year, owing to the low run of tides and the absence of showers when the marshes were being cut over; he thinks the old notion that salt hay was improved by being wet with salt water after being mowed was all bosh, and that the less water that touches the grass after being cut, the better.

The Dover Democrat reports the catching by James W. Twombly of that city, at York beach on the 1st inst., of a shark eight feet long and two feet ten inches across, and weighing five hundred pounds.

Words of Wisdom.

No doctor will fail to impress his patients "that the mouth and teeth should be healthy because it receives the food and prepares it for its digestive work." Use SOZODONT, gratify your family physician, and enjoy life comfortably.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere Twenty-five cents a bottle. eod&wtjan82

The Change of the Seasons.

During the past summer weather wise prophets have been disturbed by the fact that in the city of New Orleans the weather has been much cooler than in the Northern states. Why this is it is hard to determine, but inquiries are daily made by the curiously disposed, who make inquiries of M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., in regard to the next Monthly Grand (the 148th) Distribution of The Louisiana State Lottery, which takes place on October 10th, under the management of Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va., when $75,000, $25,000, $10,000, etc., will be given to some one purchasing a ticket for $1, or a fractional portion at same rate.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver trouble, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Clendinning, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart trouble and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. ☞

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decay of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

250th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION.

NAVY YARD CHANGES.

Secretary Chandler has been busily engaged revising and amending the report of the board of officers to which was committed the task of reassigning naval officers to what are known as the shore-duty stations. By a section of the last naval appropriation bill, all assignments to such stations expired October 1st, unless the secretary of the navy should direct their continuance, which must in such cases be for a limited period. The reassignment now made will result in the practical abolition of a number of unnecessary positions of this class, and those which have been continued beyond the 1st of this month will expire in the early part of April, 1883.

Under these provisions, the following officers have been detached from the Portsmouth navy yard: Commander Thomas H. Eastman, Commander Chas. J. Barclay, Lieutenant Herbert Winslow, Gunner Eugene Mack, Boatswain John J. Killin, Sailmaker James W. Wingate.

"THE MILL WILL NEVER GRIND"--TILL IT'S FIXED.

Mr. Henry A. Yeaton, of the firm of J. Brooks & Co., tried the experiment of running the north mill, but owing to the dilapitated condition of the machinery he soon found that there was no money in it. It seems too bad that a grist mill cannot be maintained here; but the Eastern railroad does not appear to be willing either to put the mill in order (and in its present condition want $100 per month rent,) or to lease it on such terms that the lessee could afford to make the necessary repairs; it looks as though the old mill must stop. The best run of stones are useless for want of a water wheel to drive them, the old wheel having been broken by the carelessness of employers of the railroad in allowing ties to get into the pond and from thence into the turbine wheels. Mr. Rand, the miller who has run the mill for a long time, has an offer to go to South Royalston, Mass., and will probably accept. x.

THE COMET.

There were more houses partially lighted up, and more people on the streets, between half-past four o'clock and half-past five, Tuesday morning, than has occurred before in this city for many years at that unseasonable hour. This is the story told by the police; we know nothing about it personally. We have attempted for several mornings in succession to get up to see the comet, but have as regularly failed, and have now given it up as a hopeless task; it seems a great waste of energy for a man to get up at five o'clock just for one comet, and we have concluded that we shall never see this one until it rises before three o'clock in the morning, or after ten in the forenoon. The scientists say the magnificent stranger will be visible but a few mornings more, after which it will be seen by the people of the southern hemisphere; we are willing to take their word for it.

DOGS AND SHEEP.

Farmers in Kittery, Eliot and York, who own sheep, complain much of the depredations of dogs among their flocks, those which are not killed or maimed being so harassed by the worthless curs that there is little profit in keeping them. Over sixty sheep and lambs, some of which had been engaged to be sold at $4 to $5 per head, have been killed within a few months, in the Scotland and Bell Marsh districts of York alone; Charles P. Junkins of Scotland had about a dozen fine ewes killed, and Joseph Moody more than half as many; and Leonard Junkins, George Stimson and Jacob Day of Bell Marsh, and many other farmers in both the sections named, have suffered in the same way to a greater or less extent. At Deering's hill, on the Kittery and Eliot line, Mr. Charles H. Spinney recently saw a red dog, supposed to belong in Eliot, running a flock of sheep, and started for him with a gun. In getting over a stone wall he tumbled, and landed with the gun under him, the weapon being discharged by the concussion. Mr. Spinney was greatly astonished, and immediately arose; but the dog, having probably never before seen a man act that way with a gun, was scared almost out of his wits at this new-fangled mode of attack. Mr. Spinney says that when he regained his feet that dog was a mile off, going toward Eliot at such speed that his tail stuck straight out behind, the terrified brute not being able to depress it to the position in which frightened dogs usually carry their caudal appendage.

The official inspection of the Portsmouth Cavalry will take place this afternoon at two o'clock, at Camp Gov. Goodwin, Greenland.

The democratic senatorial convention for the Portsmouth district will be held in the court house this evening.

The schooner D. K. Ham is to go on the marine railway to-day. The schooner Celia will go on when the D. K. Ham comes off; the latter is to receive a new suit of sails.

There was but a small audience at Music hall on Monday evening to see "Across the Continent" performed by the Oliver D. Byron combination.

There was a heavy frost on Monday night, the 2d inst.; and shallow puddles, and buckets of water left out of doors during the night, were in many cases found skimmed with ice on Tuesday morning.

The state board of equalization has assessed the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire $3,007.25; the Boston & Maine railroad, $16,811.14; the Concord & Portsmouth railroad, $5,459.52; the Dover & Winnipesaukee railroad, $3,839.43; all for the year 1882.

The double Topsys of the Misses Sherwood, and the Eva of little Romaine, are really wonderful pieces of acting. Miss Blanche Sherwood as Topsy No. 1 is all that could be desired, while Topsy No. 2 is as well rendered by Miss Florence Sherwood.—Montreal Herald.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" at Music hall on Thursday evening, by the Sherwood combination. See advertisement.

The schooner Free Wind, formerly of this port, arrived at Wilmington, Del., Sept. 27th, after an eventful passage. On the 26th, when about twenty miles from Wilmington, the vessel misstayed and ran into an unknown three-masted schooner, smashing her boat and damaging her greatly, the Free Wind also suffering badly. On the day of her arrival at Wilmington the Free Wind dropped anchor at the mouth of Wilmington creek, owing to her mainsail being blown to pieces, and while furling the sail a seaman was knocked overboard and drowned. An unknown three-masted schooner has been seen abandoned on Brown shoal, and is supposed to be the vessel run down by the Free Wind.

The Swamscot Machine Co., of South Newmarket, paid a dividend of $2 per share on the 2d inst.

There was a large attendance at Music hall on Tuesday evening, when "The World" was performed by the Boston Theatre Co. The scenic and mechanical effects surpassed anything ever before seen on that stage, and the decidedly sensational play seemed to give intense satisfaction to the audience.

C. Sullivan & Co. of this city on Tuesday slaughtered a fine pair of fat cattle, weighing 2870 lbs. on the hoof, bought from the Thaxter farm at Gerrish's island, Kittery.

Horace McIntire and others have finished their contract for widening, straightening and rebuilding the Bass Cove road, so-called, in York. Mr. McIntire, with William Furbish and Edward Grant, is now at work straightening and improving a road at Harris' cove, Raynes' neck, near York harbor. It is reported that the long-talked-of road from Lobster cove to York harbor will be laid out and constructed before another summer, the Norwood family having withdrawn their opposition, and the county commissioners having decided to go on with the work.

Mr. Joel Nowell of Kittery is building a house at Castle hill in that town, for a dwelling for himself.

Hon. James G. Blaine, who has been stopping at York beach as the guest of Mrs. J. Bigelow Lawrence, was quite ill on Satruday and Sunday; he was at the worst on Sunday evening, and on Tuesday was reported to be quite comfortable.

Mr. Charles W. Plaisted of York corner on Tuesday brought to this city a load of fine looking Early Rose potatoes, and sold them to H. F. Gerrish. Mr. Plaisted's farm, which is run by himself and brother, contains about seventy acres, of which twenty-seven acres are under cultivation. They this season raised 180 bushels of potatoes, on high land, and cut forty-five tons of hay; they keep a bull, four cows, four steers so much alike that they cannot be told apart, and two horses.

Mr. Phineas Drake, one of the former employes of this office, gave us a call on Tuesday, having just arrived from Wells beach, where he has officiated during the season as head waiter at the Atlantic house. This real "seaside hotel" (it is but a few yards from the surf in high tides and heavy weather) is conducted by C. O. Chamberlain & Co., the proprietors, formerly of the Highland house at Biddeford pool; the steward this season was C. V. Carter, late of the Parker house, Boston; and C. B. Gannon, late chief confectioner at Copeland's, was head cook. From the 1st of June to the 30th of September 1551 paying guests were entertained at the house. Mr. Drake expects to go to Florida within a few days, to take post as assistant steward in one of the large hotels in Jacksonville.

Miss Anita Q. Dumas, daughter of Col. Steb. H. Dumas of the Boar's Head hotel, has with her mother left Hampton for Europe, to spend the winter. The young lady will pass the time in studying music at Bayreuth, Germany.

F. W. A. BERGENGREN, M. D., Proprietor.
Lynn, Mass.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL,
Conductor L. & B. R. R.

I consider Swedish Botanic Compound the best Blood Purifier and Spring Medicine in use.
W. B. WATSON, Lynn, Mass.

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

Is a Positive Cure

For all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

A Medicine for Women. Invented by a Woman. Prepared by a Woman.

The Greatest Boon of Her Sex Since the Dawn of History.

It revives the drooping spirits, invigorates and harmonizes the organic functions, gives elasticity and firmness to the step, restores the natural lustre to the eye, and plants on the pale cheek of woman the fresh roses of life's spring and early summer time.

Physicians Use It and Prescribe It Freely.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulant, and relieves weakness of the stomach.

This feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this Compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S BLOOD PURIFIER will eradicate every vestige of humors from the blood, and give tone and strength to the system, of man, woman or child. Indict on having it.

Both the Compound and Blood Purifier are prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price of either, $1. Six bottles for $5. Sent by mail in the form of pills, or of lozenges, on receipt of price, $1 per box for either. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Enclose 3ct. stamp. Send for pamphlet.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and torpidity of the liver. 25 cents per box.

New Hampshire Items.

The October term of the Circuit court of the United States for the district of New Hampshire will begin at Concord on Monday, the 9th inst. The jurors will come in on Tuesday, when trials will begin. District Judge Clark will hold the term.

The dwelling house of Paul Twombly, situated in Farmington, near Chestnut hill, was burned on the evening of the 2d inst. The furniture was saved. The fire was caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp which one of the inmates was carrying in the attic. Loss $1000; no insurance.

Burglars broke into the grocery store of George Osborne at Gonic on the night of Sept. 26th, and stole a small quantity of goods and seventy-five cents in change; they were probably frightened away.

The restaurant of the observatory at Garrison hill, Dover, was broken into on Friday night, Sept. 29th, and sugar, cake and pies, confectionery, cigars, and what change was in the drawer, stolen; the value of the whole was about $50. Entrance was effected by breaking a pane of glass, and throwing back the catch of the window.

The poor sufferer that has been dosing himself with so-called Troches and thereby upset his stomach without curing the troublesome cough, should take our advice and use at once Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and get well.

David H. Evans of Wakefield, the oldest citizen of New Hampshire, died in Wakefield on Friday, Sept. 29th, at the advanced age of 104 years and four months. About eighty years ago he was a resident of Dover. He moved from there to Rochester, and from there to Wakefield, where he lived continuously for seventy-six years in one house.

"Figures are not always facts," but the incontrovertible facts concerning Kidney-Wort are better than most figures. For instance: "It is curing everybody," writes a druggist. "Kidney-Wort is the most popular medicine we sell." It should be by right, for no other medicine has such specific action on the liver, bowels and kidneys. Do not fail to try it.

The verdict in the case of Fred Brown vs. the city of Dover has been set aside by the court, on the ground that it was against the law and evidence. Brown was awarded $1000 as damages for injuries received from a lot of lumber in the street.

Ladies who possess the finest complexions are among the patrons of Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hill's Hair Dye, black or brown. Dyspeptic and nervous people, "out of sorts." Colden's Liquid Beef Tonic will cure. Ask for Colden's; no other. Of druggists generally.

Mrs. Murch, seventy-two years old, cut her throat on Sunday night in Concord, and will probably die.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a sure cure for all Female Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, and all weaknesses caused by those irregularities which are so common to womankind. This is no Patent Medicine, but is prepared, after years of experience, and recommended, knowing that it will give new life to any broken-down, worn out or nervous member of the sex.

If you have tried other remedies without success, do not be discouraged, but give "LADIES' TONIC" a single trial. It never fails to give quick and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, lay aside the doctor's prescription for once, and try "Ladies' Tonic," which we guarantee will positively cure you. One Bottle is Sufficient.

Women's Medical Institute is an Association of Wives and Mothers of years' experience, who give advice and answer letters from ladies, free.

$100 will be given for any case of Female Weakness or liability which "Ladies' Tonic" will not cure. This is a bona fide offer, made by responsible ladies who know from experience what "LADIES' TONIC" can do. Send stamp for circular.

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind. Dec. 2, 1880.
For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. E. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier,

SULPHUR BITTERS.

Why suffer with Boils? Why have with that terrible Headache? Why suffer with Rheumatism? Why have pain, with Dyspepsia? Your nerves are all unstrung and need a gentle soothing tonic to assist nature to repair the damage which your excesses have caused. Sulphur Bitters is not a cheap rum, or poor whiskey drink, to be taken by the glass, like other preparations which stimulate only. It is composed of the Roots, Barks and Herbs, combined with the purest TINCT OF SULPHUR in such proportions as to make it NATURE'S GREAT NERVINE.

SULPHUR Bitters

The Dose is small—only a Teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it and you will be satisfied. Get it of your druggist.

Daily Chronicle.

News and Notes.

At a meeting of the mayor and aldermen of Bath, Me., Oct. 3d, it was voted that the mayor be authorized to offer a reward of $500 for the discovery of evidence that shall lead to the conviction of the person or persons who committed the assault on Joseph Purington, or who were accessory to his death.

Two weeks ago, William H. Cope of Philadelphia was taken ill, but improved rapidly, under the care of a physician, until a few days later he was married to Miss Mary O'Neill. A few hours after the marriage, Mr. Cope was taken violently ill, and the next day he died. The marriage and death notices appeared in the same newspaper on the same day.

A most daring daylight robbery occurred at Attleboro, Mass., on the morning of the 3d inst., at the ticket office of the Boston & Providence railroad station. The station agent was temporarily called away, and on his return found the ticket office had been opened with a jimmy and about $200 had been taken, but a large quantity of gold was left. Quite a number of people were standing outside the station leaning against the windows at the ticket office, but the thieves escaped undetected.

The new steamer for the Portland Steam Packet company, now being built by John Englis & Sons of Brooklyn, will be 250 feet long, have 100 state rooms, and accommodate 750 passengers.

A western apple seed concern has located a branch at Randolph, Vt., using a process by which a bushel of seeds are separated from 100 bushels of apples in an hour. The agent expects to ship 400 bushels of seeds this fall.

The wholesale liquor men of Fall River, Mass., have advanced the price of beer fifty cents a barrel.

Covetousness In Disguise.

The wonderful success of James Pyle's Pearline has given rise to a flood of imitations with an "ine" to their names, evidently to have them sound like Pearline. Enterprises of this sort are quite liable to be more selfish than beneficial.

Five aldermen of the city of Burlington, Vt., were indicted by the grand jury of the county for their official action in refusing to open the city liquor agency. They furnished bail in $75 each, and on the 3d inst. were dismissed, the court holding that they had violated no duty.

The best spring medicine known is that wonderful tonic, Brown's Iron Bitters.

The thief who stole a horse and buggy wagon from the stables of E. D. Fuller of St. Albans, Vt., a short time since, has commenced a ten years' sentence in the state prison.

Why Welcome.

What makes Floreston Cologne welcome on every lady's toilet table is its lasting fragrance and rich, flowery odor.

Advices from Rockland, Me., say the alleged knocking down and robbing of John Fuller proves to have been committed by himself. He is said to want to arrange his business so as to fail successfully. Detective Wood of Boston worked up the case.

Good Advice.

You will prevent and cure the greater part of the ills that afflict mankind in this or any section, if you keep your stomach, liver and kidneys in perfect working order. There is no medicine known that does this as surely as Parker's Ginger Tonic. It will keep your blood rich and pure, and give you good health at little cost. See other column.

"Tug" Wilson, the prize fighter, has backed out of his proposed fight with Jim Elliott, and Wilson's backer loses $500 in consequence. Glad of it.

Beware of imitations. German Corn Remover is the only genuine. A magical cure.

There was a grand regatta announced to take place on Lake Massabesic, Manchester, on the 3d inst., and many prominent oarsmen were advertised to appear, among them Plaisted, Conley, Hamm and Elliott, neither of whom appeared; Courtney was there, but refused to row in any race. There was a large crowd present, but the "race" was a ridiculous fizzle, and was generally denounced as a pool-box affair.

Young, middle aged, or old men, suffering from nervous debility and kindred weaknesses, should send two stamps for large treatise, giving successful treatment. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

General Manager Dodge of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad is at Nantucket, his health not permitting him to take a European trip as he intended. It is considered very doubtful if he ever recovers.

"Ladies' Tonic,"

The Great Female Remedy is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and is their favorite prescription for ladies who are suffering from any weakness or complaints common to the sex. It is sold by druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Ladies can obtain advice free. Send stamp for names of those who have been cured.

Mrs. Mary Goodman of Nashua met with a serious accident, Sept. 24th, while passing out of church. As she was going down the steps she stepped on her dress, fell, and struck the stones in such a manner as to break the bones of one leg at the knee joint.

Spring Medicine.

As a remedy to carry off the accumulation of thick bile from the liver and viscid secretion from the other glands of the system, the Swedish Botanic Compound is invaluable. It will arouse all the functions of the body to healthy action, purify the blood, restore the appetite, and carry off those symptoms of languor and heaviness everybody feels more or less as the warm season approaches.—Adv.

The subject of establishing and maintaing a draw-bridge at Weirs is under consideration.

A Brave Lady.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER, Hawlands.

BOSTON, January 1, 1882.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, OCT. 5, 1882.

Naval Affairs.

The United States ship Lancaster, flagship of the European station, arrived at Trieste on the 8th of September from Villefranche, via Messina. It was expected that she would be detained at Trieste at least three weeks, overhauling cylinders. The Quinnebaug arrived at Messina (on the way to Villefranche) on the 14th of September.

The navy department received a cable message October 2d from Montevideo, announcing the arrival of the United States ship Galena, and the sailing of the Marion.

The Nipsic left Villefranche on the 22d of August and Messina on the 28th, for Alexandria.

Guiteau's Poisoned Bouquet.

Prof. W. C. Tilden has submitted to District Attorney Corkhill of the District of Columbia his official report of a chemical examination he has just concluded of the poisoned bouquet that was given to Guiteau by his sister, Mrs. Scoville, the day before his execution. The report says that the large bud (a half opened flower) contained over five grains of white arsenic (arsenious acid.) This quantity was not only sufficient to cause death to any human being, had it been swallowed, but, owing probably to ignorance, was so largely in excess of a fatal dose that the intent of the person who thus prepared the flowers would have been defeated by emetics. The original amount of arsenic was greater than found, as the petals of the flowers failed to retain in a dry state some which adhered when moist. The exhibits of the chemical process employed are deposited in the army medical museum. The qualitative tests were those of Reinsch, Trescenius, Von Babo and Marsh. Mr. Corkhill says that he is now at work trying to discover who it was that poisoned the flowers, and if the person could be discovered he would be held to answer the charge.

Item For The Ladies.

The Boston Saturday Evening Gazette says of Wm. S. Butler & Co.'s fall opening:

Yesterday this attractive Tremont-street store was in holiday attire, it being opening day. Floral arches tastefully arranged formed the windows and potted plants standing in the doorway told the passers-by that it was a notable occasion, and they should view the new goods displayed for the autumn shopping. So many ladies like to practise the millinery art at home, and make their own and their children's hats, that Butler's millinery goods are always in demand. At the opening were to be seen all the latest novelties in feathers, flowers, ribbons, piece goods, and untrimmed hats and bonnets. The variety was extraordinary, the loveliest birds having apparently contributed to make the counters and show cases as brilliant as possible. There were new shapes in beaver and felt hats for children, which only needed some of the pretty moss trimmings and variegated feather ornaments in the opposite department to make a becoming headgear for little wearers. Ladies also can easily arrage a tasteful bonnet from these beautiful goods. They seem to fascinate every beholder. Millinery is just now paramount to all other attractions for the toilet, but the dress trimmings, of which there was a handsome display, must not be forgotten. Gimps, passementeries, sparkling jets, chenilles, fringes, and an immense variety of buttons suitable for elegant outside wraps were seen to advantage. Children's worsted goods are very pretty this season, their little Jersey coats and Tam O' Shanter caps rivalling their gayly striped stockings. There are two fashions in hosiery. Either very dark brown or black ribbed stockings are worn, or the new Balmoral stripe, which reminds experienced mammas of the Scotch designs in vogue some years ago. No one could pass by the counter devoted to lace goods without looking at the large lace collarettes or the pretty muslin squares. The latter came this autumn with wide hems and large polka dots. A gorgeous horseshoe, composed of fancy jewelry and edged with flowers, surmounted the department of fancy goods. It was a pretty device, and showed off the new lace pins and ear-rings to perfection. But each department indicated the festive opening by some fanciful and tasteful arrangement, and visitors voted the whole store not only pretty to look at, but an irresistible magnet for the contents of their purses.

—If men should kill their worst enemies, suicide would be more frequent.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The U. S. S. Vandalia left the navy yard a few minutes before one o'clock on the 4th inst., and proceeded to the lower harbor, where she came to anchor to take her ammunition on board, preparatory to sailing on the 5th to rejoin the North Atlantic squadron. The Vandalia arrived here on the 23d of June, making her stay three months and twelve days, during which time she had been docked and had her bottom overhauled, received a new suit of sails, and had her engines and boilers put in good condition.

Chief Engineer Ezra J. Whittaker, who has for a few months past been on duty at this navy yard in charge of stores, has been detached under the new orders. A chief engineer on the same duty at the Boston yard has been at the same time retained.

AROUND HOME.

A full attendance is requested at the meeting of the Woman's Temperance League this (Thursday) afternoon.

There was a heavy frost on Tuesday night, the 3d inst.

Mr. E. C. Stimson of this city, who recently resigned the position of teacher in the public schools which he so acceptably filled, did so in order to enter the Boston law school for the two-years' course. While engaged in his law studies Mr. Stimson will have charge of one of the evening grammar schools of Boston.

The receipts of the internal revenue office for the district of New Hampshire during September were $25,736.18, against $25,193.72 for the corresponding month in 1881. Number of special-tax licenses granted during the tax year of 1882 to retailers of spirits, 1086; to retailers of malt liquors only, 240.

The Boston Post says: "Mrs. Celia Thaxter has taken a suite of five rooms at the Hotel Winthrop, Bowdoin street, for herself and family for the winter."

Mr. Fred. Pickering of Newington was on the 4th inst. reported to be very low with typhoid fever, serious fears of a fatal result being entertained. Mr. James Pickering, one of the constables of the town, was reported as quite ill with inflammation of the bowels.

The following-named schooners arrived at this port on the 4th with coal to J. Albert Walker: E. M. Reed, with 707 tons; Cook Borden, with 310 tons; Quoddy, with 268 tons.

"He is too honest to be bribed and too sharp to be fooled; he belongs to no ring and he owns no barrel; he has a large circle of personal friends and his nomination will prove a strong one among the comrades of the Grand Army. He will certainly bring strength to the republican ticket in this vicinity, and democrats will be forced to put in some good work to neutralize it. Col. Haynes is a warm partisan, but he fights fair, and while we shall feel called on to do our level best to defeat him, we are sensible that nothing will be made out of any personal attack on him." This is the Laconia Democrat's opinion of Col. Haynes, our candidate for Congress in this district.

Hon. James G. Blaine left York beach at half-past one o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, the 4th inst., and drove to the Eastern railroad station at Kittery, where the directors' car was in waiting to convey him to the eastward. He was pale, and appeared somewhat weak, resulting from his recent illness while at the beach.

The marine railway at Kittery had quite a number of engagements ahead on the 4th inst., to take up vessels, the list being as follows: Schooners D. K. Ham and Gold Hunter, sloop C. T. Derry, schooners Water Lily, Celia and Golden Gate—to go on in the order named. The Celia has already received new standing rigging, and will have a new suit of sails before she goes out again.

Mr. W. D. Perkins drove Mr. Blaine from York beach to Kittery depot on the 4th inst., in R. H. Beacham & Son's cabriolet.

John B. Donovan, a Biddeford lawyer and member-elect of the legislature, was married on Monday, Oct. 2d, to Miss Ella Emery, daughter of William Emery, Esq., of Alfred. The ceremony was performed at the Cathederal of the Immaculate Conception, Portland, by Bishop Healy and Rev. Father Linehan.

The "Cape Cod Folks" libel cases have been taken from the records at Plymouth by counsel of both sides. That of Adelaide A. Fisher was closed by the death of the plaintiff, and the entry was made, "dismissed without costs." In the other three cases—those of Rosetta Nightingale, Cynthia Cahoon and Stanton Fisher—the entry "neither party" was made. Cape Cod Folks was the best advertised book published last year.

The steamer Evangeline, with a party of gunners on board, started from Ipswich, Mass., for a trip out in the bay, on the 3d inst. When about seven miles out, Captain Jewitt discovered that the boat was leaking badly, and efforts were made to stop the leaks, but in spite of all that could be done she filled rapidly, and sank in about 100 feet of water. The crew and passengers, seven in number, took to the small boat, and after three hours hard work succeeded in reaching land.

At the meeting of the Philadelphia Presbytery of the United Presbyterian church, held Oct. 3d, Rev. Dr. Barr introduced a resolution to the effect that congregations under the care of the presbytery be enjoined from introducing instruments of music into any of the services of worship; that their introduction would destroy the harmony of worship among the churches. The resolution elicited a discussion which lasted some three hours, and was finally adopted by a vote of eleven to six.

Postmaster Pearson's statement of the receipts and disbursements in the New York post office, during the last three months, shows an increase in the receipts over the corresponding period last year of $76,761.79, and a reduction in the expenses of $1,509.26. The gain in the net revenue is 10 1-2 per cent.

HEART DISEASE IS YOUR HEART SOUND?
Now
Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.
The renowned Dr. Cheadmuing, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease."
The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.
Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. His known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1, per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

HEART TROUBLES

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest eminence on both sides of the Atlantic, as an invaluable Tonic and Restorative in cases of General Debility, Nervous Depression, Enfeebled Convalescence and Female Weakness.
NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a specific for their troubles. It stimulates the digestion, sharpens the appetite, invigorates and builds up the entire system, and confers a generous flow of milk.
WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from taxitude and weariness, the result of disease, over-study, or nervous strain, will derive immediate benefit from its use. It restores the system to its normal condition and brings back the bloom of health.
INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life, and restoring lost strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It imparts pain upon the system and delights the taste.
DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weaknesses of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It improves the digestion, purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and revives the spirits.
WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who require some artificial restoratives—and especially those who are inclined to Consumption—will find this preparation actually extend to their needs. It is agreeable for the Invalid, and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.
AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The whole tendency of its action is to stimulate the digestion of fat-producing foods, and its effect is invariably to give fullness and roundness to the female form, and robustness to the masculine frame.
THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Fluid Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from alcohol. It is readily retained on the stomach and contains more but wholesome and nourishing elements. The genuine preparation bears on the label a fine engraved likeness of Baron von Liebig, and a facsimile of his Signature, as well as that of A. VOGELER & CO., Baltimore, Md., Sole Agents for America.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did, for three months, the first using the Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.
LYNN, March 8, 1882.
DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL,

LIFE INSURANCE!
The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.
Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.
Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.
READ!

KNOW THYSELF.
THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
258th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,
is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,
is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

THE RACES.

The first races of a two-days' meeting at the Rockingham trotting park came off on Wednesday afternoon, the 4th inst.

The first event was a race for horses which had never beaten 3:15, for a purse of $30, for which there were six entries. Four horses started, namely: Billie Bundle, entered by A. T. Roberts of Dover; Butcher Boy, entered by Z. W. Slater of Great Falls; Messenger Boy, entered by Lewis Martin of Portsmouth; Yankee Locke, entered by A. C. Amazeen of Portsmouth. Messenger Boy took first money, the following being the score:

Heats	1	2	3	4	5
Billy Bundle,	1	1	3	3	2
Yankee Locke,	2	4	2	2	3
Messenger Boy,	3	2	1	1	1
Butcher Boy,	4	3	4	4	4

Time 2:51, 2:50, 2:54, 2:5 1-4, 2:53.

In the second race, for 2:45 horses, purses $75, four horses started, viz.: Honest Allen, entered by C. W. Davis of Dover; Col. Allen, entered by Z. W. Slater of Great Falls; John W., entered by E. D. Stoddard of Portsmouth; Richmond, entered by Dan. Mahaney of Portsmouth. The score was as follows:

Heats	1	2	3	4
John W.,	1	1	2	1
Honest Allen,	2	2	1	2
Col. Allen,	3	3	3	3
Richmond,	4	4	4	4

Time 2:43, 2:52, 2:49 1-2, 2:52 1-2.

The track was in fine condition, and the races were closely contested and interesting.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Instruction was held on Wednesday evening, Sept. 4th.

Present Mayor Treat, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Wilson, Messrs. Locke, Goodrich, Butler, George, Knight, Garrett, Vaughan, Batchelder and Pender.

Sunday bills were approved.

The committee on salaries reported, recommending that the salary of Miss Ellen A. Newton, teacher of the Lafayette school, be $300 for the first year; and that after the present school year, the salaries at the Plains and Woodbury schools be made uniform with that of the Lafayette school; adopted.

Resignation of Mr. E. C. Stimpson as master of the Walker school was received and accepted; when by unanimous consent the rules were suspended, so as to allow the board to fill the vacancy at this meeting. Several applications was read, after which a ballot was taken, resulting as follows:

Samuel W. Foss had	1
Charles E. Buzzell	3
James Appleby	6

And Mr. Appleby (who is teacher of the grammar school in Rochester) was declared elected.

Permission was granted to all teachers who will attend the State Teachers' Institute at Concord the last of the month, to close their schools for that purpose.

Voted that a truant officer be elected, in accordance with the law passed at the last session of the legislature, and Thos. Entwistle was so elected, and his salary fixed at $50 per annum—the officer to report to the board at the end of each school term.

The committee of district two recommended that Miss Olive A. Akerman be chosen to the vacancy in the primary department of the Peabody school; adopted.

Adjourned.

DEMOCRATIC SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The democratic convention for the Portsmouth senatorial district, comprising wards one, two and four of this city, was held in the court house on Wednesday evening, the 4th inst., at eight o'clock.

The convention was called to order by Benjamin M. Parker. Samuel Spinney was chosen president, and Samuel R. Gardner secretary. The committee on credentials reported the full number of delegates (fourteen) to be present. The resolutions of the democratic state convention were adopted, and Frederick E. Potter was unanimously chosen as the candidate of the party in this district, Mr. Edward H. Fay declining to stand. Benjamin M. Parker, Benjamin Atwell and Charles W. Stimson were appointed a committee to notify Dr. Potter of his nomination, and the convention adjourned.

ENTERTAINMENT AND SUPPER.

This (Thursday) evening, Strawberry Bank Lodge, No. 54, I. O. G. T., will have an entertainment and oyster supper. Supper will be served at seven o'clock and continue through the evening, with intermissions during which different parts of the entertainment will be given. Much excellent local talent has been engaged, and a first-class entertainment may be expected. Admission is but ten cents, and but fifteen for a good oyster stew. For the benefit of those who do not wish oysters there will be a table containing baked beans, pies, cakes, etc., for which the price is but ten cents.

RAILROAD NOTES.

There is a war between the Eastern railroad and the Revere Beach & Lynn narrow gauge road, the present result being a heavy cutting of passenger rates between Lynn and East Boston by both lines, and a large increase in the number of trains. Beginning on the 4th inst., the Eastern road will run twelve express trains each way daily between Lynn and East Boston, and the fare, including ferry tickets between East Boston and the city proper, will be only five cents.

For several years the Eastern and narrow gauge roads have been doing Lynn business under a contract, by which the Eastern paid the Revere Beach & Lynn $500 a month in lieu of pooling and dividing the earnings. The contract was terminated July 1st, 1882, upon notice given by the Eastern, and during the summer both roads have been working independently. There have been negotiations looking to a lease of the narrow gauge road by the Eastern, but the latter, while willing to guarantee seven per cent on the stock of the other road, would not agree to raise the rental to eight per cent after five years, as the Revere Beach & Lynn road demanded.

Then the latter road reduced single fares between Boston and Lynn to twenty cents from twenty-five, and sold six tickets for a dollar; and the price of season tickets was reduced to $15 from $20. This action led to the big cut on the Eastern road.

In respose to the action of the Eastern, President Waldron of the narrow gauge road decided to run trains every half-hour between Boston and Lynn, in addition to the previous trains, charging a uniform rate of five cents between any two points on the line; and the directors of the road fully sustaining the president, the new order of things went into effect on the 3d.

In Dover, on the 4th inst., John Perkins, while coupling freight cars in the Boston & Maine freight yard, had one arm badly lacerated, besides sustaining severe internal injuries, and was supposed to be fatally hurt.

An Eastern railroad freight train was delayed for some time on Noble's island by a "hot box," Wednesday.

Frank W. Cram has assumed the duties of general eastern freight agent of the Maine Central railroad. Mr. Leavitt, formerly general ticket agent of the European & North American road, is to have a position under General Ticket Agent Boothby of the Maine Central office at Portland. General Superintendent Tucker of the Maine Central has been in consultation with the officers of the St. John & Maine and the New Brunswick railways, in reference to the new time tables on those roads and the Maine Central. The acquisition of the European & North American road by the Maine Central gives great satisfaction to the people of the Penobscot valley. Great improvements in the equipment of the European & North American are to be made from time to time, and the foresight, energy and means at Mr. Tucker's command will all be brought into play to accommodate the rapidly increased freight and passenger business of eastern and northern Maine and the British maritime provinces, and to develop that section of the country, which has many hidden, untouched and half-developed sources of wealth.

The fall and winter time-table of the Eastern railroad takes effect on Sunday, the 15th inst. Trains for Portland will leave Boston at nine o'clock A. M., and 12:30 and seven P. M., (the latter daily.) Portland for Boston, at two and 8:45 A. M., and one P. M. Boston for North Conway at 7:30 A. M. North Conway for Boston 7:05 A. M. The 7:15 A. M. train from this city will run on quick time, as at present.

The October number of the "A B C Pathfinder" gives the latest authentic time-tables on all the New England railroads. Single numbers are sold at twenty-five cents.

Commodore T. D. Wilson, chief of the bureau of construction and repair of the navy, left this city for Washington on Wednesday.

The October term of the supreme court for Merrimac county, Allen, judge, opened at Concord on the 3d inst. After the empanelling of the grand jury, the session was spent in calling the docket.

Since the last spiritualist camp meeting at Lake Sunapee important operations have taken place at the camp grounds. A contract for ten years' services of meetings has encouraged the cottagers. Many grounds have been selected, and buildings for summer use will go up this season.

The county commissioners for Hillsboro' county have decided that the town of Litchfield shall pay $1,200 and Londonderry $800 towards the construction of Taylor's Falls bridge between Nashua and Hudson, for which Hudson paid $10,000, and asks for relief. No assessments were awarded against the towns of Windham and Pelham.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Lancaster is circulating a petition to have the liquor saloons of the place closed.

Twenty-five years ago Asahel Jewett of Winchester sowed four acres of pasture land with pine cones, the result being a dense growth of pines. These have been thinned out and trimmed until now there are about 2,500 trees in the plantation, measuring from eight to twenty inches in diameter. This is believed to be the only cultivated forest in New Hampshire.

When a lecturer has worked the ladies of his audience so near to the weeping point that they have gotten out their handkerchiefs, and then suddenly changes his tone and speaks of the merits of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup he is bound to rouse a feeling of indigation.

A young man who gives his name as Thos. Rhoads and hails from Lawrence, Mass., was arrested the night of the 3d inst. in a bedroom of Councilman A. S. Powers's residence on Walnut street, Nashua. He had stolen a quantity of jewelry, which was found on his person. He answers well the description of the person who has been working depots at Greenfield and on the line of the Nashua & Rochester road. He is about twenty-five years of age.

Mr. Adam Rusk of the Penna. R. R. Co., residing at Centreville, N. J., says: I was cured of severe rheumatism of many years standing by the use of St. Jacobs Oil.

The difficulties between the electric light and insurance companies at Dover have been amicably settled.

The Safest Way.

The safest and surest way to restore the youthful color of the hair is furnished by Parker's Hair Balsam, which is deservedly popular from its superior cleanliness.

The Coos and Essex counties fair opened at Lancaster on Tuesday, the 3d inst., with fine weather, and unusually large entries in all departments.

How She Saved Her Darling.

"I shall not feel so nervous again about baby's teething," writes a grateful mother. "We almost lost our darling from cholera infantum, but happily heard of Parker's Ginger Tonic in time. A few spoonfuls soon cured baby, and an occasional dose keeps us in good health."—Brooklyn Mother.

The case of Sarah A. Knight of Haverhill against David Richardson, which was a suit to recover damages for being run into by said Richardson, has been settled by Richardson's paying about $500.

Catarrh.

Ely's Cream Balm Co., Owego, N. Y., Gents: I have been a severe sufferer from Catarrh for 15 years, having distressing pain over my eyes, gradually the disease worked down upon my lungs. About a year and a half ago I commenced using your Cream Balm, with most gratifying results, and am to-day apparently cured. Z. C. WARNER, Rutland, Vt. April 31, '82.

Elys' Cream Balm has completely cured me of Catarrh, of which I have been afflicted over ten years, after trying almost every remedy recommended, none having proved so effective and thorough. S. J. AIKEN, wholesale dealer in Boots and Shoes, 143 Federal St., Boston, Mass.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a sure cure for all Female Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, and all weaknesses caused by those irregularities which are burdensome to womanhood. This is no Patent Medicine, but is prepared after years of experience, and recommended knowing that it will give new life to any broken-down, worn out over-worked member of the sex.

If you have tried other remedies without success, do not be discouraged, but give Ladies' Tonic a fair and single trial. It never fails to give quick and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, lay aside the doctor's prescription for once, and try "Ladies' Tonic," which we guarantee will positively cure you. One Bottle is Sufficient.

Women's Medical Institute is an Association of Women and Mothers of years' experience, who give advice and answer letters from ladies Free.

Not will be given for Any case of Female Weakness or Inability which "Ladies' Tonic" will not cure. This is a home remedy, made by respectable ladies who know from experience what "LADIES' TONIC" can do. Send stamp for circular.

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind. Dec. 1, 1880.

For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier.

SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils? Why rave with that terrible Headache? Why lay and toss on that bed of pain with Rheumatism? What makes you trouble so? Your nerves are all unstrung, and need a gentle soothing tonic to assist them. Sulphur Bitters is not a cheap glass, like other preparations which stimulate only. It contains no whiskey drink to be taken by the TO DESTROY. It is composed of the choicest Roots, Barks and Herbs combined with the Extract of SULPHUR in such proportions as to make it NATURE'S GREAT SENTINEL.

SULPHUR Bitters

The Dose is small—only a Teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it, and you will be satisfied. Get it of your druggist. DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE

No. 2 Water street, Portsmouth, N. H.

Daily Chronicle.

—A druggist in New Haven, Conn., was asked by a stranger to change a twenty dollar bill on Friday and obligingly complied. After the stranger had gone the druggist noticed that the bill was a fifty dollar one, and that it was genuine.

—"Is your master in?" asks a visitor of the servant of a man-about-town, a treasure of honesty and truthfulness fresh from the country. "He is, but he cannot see any one, sir!" "Ah! Is he sick? Nothing serious, I hope." "No, sir. He's drunk!"

—A plucky woman in Cohoes, N. Y., got rid of a belligerent negro tramp in short order the other day. Perceiving from his actions that he was determined to rob the house as soon as he had finished a generous dinner which she had set before him, she quietly took a revolver from a drawer in the sewing machine, at which she was sitting, and held it within the range of his vision. The negro laughed and said that he wasn't afraid of a pistol in any woman's hand, and he was willing, furthermore, to bet that it wasn't loaded. "Oh yes, it is loaded," she replied. "I put in six cartridges myself this morning, and if you'll keep your eye on that knothole across the room for a moment you'll soon see whether I know how to shoot." She aimed, fired and hit the mark, and then said: "Now get out of that door as lively as you can, or the next shot will be at you." He "got."

Mr. John Colohan and his wife, 301 E. Forty-first street, New York, were both cured, he of a severe sprain and his wife of rheumatism, by one bottle of St. Jacobs Oil.

A freight car dropped a brake at Eagle bridge on the Troy & Boston railroad, Oct. 4th, stopping the train and throwing five cars from the track, smashing them badly. Other trains transferred their loads, and the baggage and mail went through on the next train.

To allay pain and cure diseases use the favorite household remedy, Hop Plaster.

The young man captured by Councilman Powers, of Nashua, while attempting to rob his house, now gives the name of Thomas Hunt, and says he is an Englishman. Mr. Powers discovered the fellow in his bedroom, clinched with him, and after a sharp struggle, in which he was assisted by two young men who were callers at his house, subdued the intruder and bound his hands behind him with a cord. The burglar was then taken in a wagon and delivered to the police.

Covetousness In Disguise.

The wonderful success of James Pyle's Pearline has given rise to a flood of imitations with an "ine" to their names, evidently to have them sound like Pearline. Enterprises of this sort are quite liable to be more selfish than beneficial.

The grand jury in the supreme court at Concord reported the following indictments: Samuel Merrill of Concord, attempted rape; Charles Semott of Newbury, larceny, and breaking and entering; James Williams of Concord, breaking and entering; William Leonard of Concord, breaking and entering; Francis E. French of Franklin, assault; Fred Blodgett of Concord, assaulting an officer; Charles Campbell of Concord, larceny; John H. Bussell, Jr., of Andover, assault; Rose Dailey of Manchester, larceny; Oliver Rivers of Manchester, larceny; John Martin of Manchester, breaking and entering, and larceny; Charles F. Garland of Strafford, false pretences; Daniel Sanborn of Concord, breaking and entering—two indictments. There were five liquor indictments.

The best spring medicine known is that wonderful tonic, Brown's Iron Bitters.

Electric street lights were displayed in Dover on Tuesday night of this week, for the first time.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend S. Sherson, Esq., at present a resident of the town of Rawlings, in the far-off territory of Wyoming. "Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator has helped me right along," says Mr. Sherson. Glad to hear it, old fellow. Yours was an aggravated case of heart disease. The remedy you mention does the same thing in this section too; and better still, it always cures heart disease.—Nast's Weekly Letter-File.

The Universalist state convention at Plymouth opened on the 4th inst., with a good attendance of delegates and others. Various reports were read and disposed of.

"Ladies' Tonic,"

The Great Female Remedy is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and is their favorite prescription for ladies who are suffering from any weakness or complaints common to the sex. It is sold by druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Ladies can obtain advice free. Send stamp for names of those who have been cured.

The democrats have nominated Jonathan M. Taylor of Tilton for senator from the fifth district, and Levi T. Hadley from the sixth district.

Ladies who possess the finest complexions are among the patrons of Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Hiles' Hair Dye, black or brown, 50c. Dyspeptic and nervous people, "out of sorts," Colden's Liquid Beef Tonic will cure. Ask for Colden's; no other. Of druggists generally.

The late Rev. William R. Jewett of Concord bequeathed $5,000 to the Ministers' and Widows' Charitable fund of New Hampshire, and $2,000 to Dartmouth college to found the David Jewett scholarship.

Beware of imitations. German Corn Remover is the only genuine. A magical cure.

Rail laying on the new Pemigewasset Valley railroad is temporarily postponed, having reached Mad river in Campton, about five miles south of the starting point, on account of no bridge having been built across it. Grading, ballasting, etc., is still progressing.

"Figures are not always facts," but the incontrovertible facts concerning Kidney-Wort are better than most figures. For instance: "It is curing everybody," writes a druggist. "Kidney-Wort is the most popular medicine we sell." It should be by right, for no other medicine has such specific action on the liver, bowels and kidneys. Do not fail to try it.

Dover's horse railway has been in running order just three months, and the net earnings in the treasurer's hands, taken from fares alone, amount to over thirty per cent per annum on the whole cost of the road and running stock, so that if the road should not earn a dollar above its running expenses for the balance of the year, that amount would be on hand for a dividend. "Croakers to the rear," shouts the Dover Democrat.

Spring Medicine.

As a remedy to carry off the accumulation of thick bile from the liver and viscid secretion from the other glands of the system, the Swedish Botanic Compound is invaluable. It will arouse all the functions of the body to healthy action, purify the blood, restore the appetite, and carry off those symptoms of languor and heaviness everybody feels more or less as the warm season approaches.—Adv.

Capt. Charles Young of Dover, after partaking of breakfast on the 5th inst., died suddenly in his chair from a paralytic shock. He was eighty-one years old, an old Jacksonian democrat, represented Dover in the legislature forty years ago, was register of deeds for Strafford county several years, and a highly-respected citizen. He leaves a widow and daughters.

A Brave Lady.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1876.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good catharic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, billiousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

AROUND HOME.

Boys who "play bookey" had better keep a sharp lookout. City Marshal Entwistle was elected truant officer on Wednesday night of this week, and on Thursday morning he bagged a truant and took him to the lockup.

The steamer Startled Fawn arrived at this port at half-past one o'clock on Thursday, the 5th inst., with a party of about a dozen persons, three of whom were ladies. The party was from Haverhill, Mass., with the exception of one person taken on at Newburyport. The steamer left at three o'clock on her return trip.

A new bowsprit is to be put in the schooner D. K. Ham, a bad defect having developed itself in the old one.

Hett Brothers have established the office of their baggage express in the store on Pleasant street so long occupied by the late Samuel W. Moses, next the North church.

The coasting vessels arriving at this port since the long September gales report the sea as being the heaviest they have experienced for years.

On Wednesday, the 4th inst., Mr. Christopher Gilligan was badly cut on the head by a lump of coal which fell upon him from a considerable height, while assisting in discharging a cargo of coal into the coal-pocket of C. E. Walker & Co. Dr. J. W. Parsons was summoned by telephone, and took several stiches in the scalp.

The schooner Hattie Lewis, Capt. Brewster, one of the brick fleet, has paid her present owners fifty per cent on the purchase money since she came into their possession. Good for "Jim." Mr. Geo. Scott is the managing owner.

The directors' car of the Eastern railroad passed through this city last Thursday forenoon on the way back to Boston from Augusta, Me., at which latter place it arrived at eight o'clock the previous evening with Hon. James G. Blaine. Mr. Blaine was somewhat wearied with the ride from Kittery, but felt no other ill effects, and on Thursday morning was reported as being quite comfortable.

The lighthouse steamer Iris, Johnson master, arrived at the navy yard on the 5th inst. from Portland, Me.

Mr. George S. Rand of this city, finisher machinist, who arrived here in the flagship Tennessee as one of her crew, is in the hospital at the yard, sick.

Upon the Thacher block, corner of Congress and Vaughan streets, the French roof is being extended from the recently erected part on Vaughan street to the Waldron block on Congress street.

The old building known as the "Tabernacle," at the navy yard village, Kittery, was fired by some person unknown about eight o'clock in the evening on Wednesday, Oct. 4th, and the conflagration spread until three buckets of water were required to extinguish it. The incendiary must be a new comer in the place, or he would have known that he couldn't burn down the old Tabernacle; there have been a number of attempts to perform that feat in years past, but all resulted ingnominious failures.

The county commissioners of York county on Wednesday of this week commenced laying out the new highway from the Hotel Bartlett to York harbor.

The schooner Clara Bella of Kittery, of 6.83 tons register, Capt. Wm. Williams, has been sold to purchasers in Cape Porpoise on private terms.

In Saco, on the 4th inst., while William Owen was guaning in the woods near the Ferry road, he accidentally shot a man named William Emmons in the back of the head, inflicting painful but not fatal wounds.

The September term of the supreme judicial court, of Maine for York county adjourned Oct. 4th after two weeks' session, with a disposition of 130 cases, including eight verdicts and sixteen divorces. The last case, that of E. C. Staples, proprietor of the Old Orchard house, complaint for damages for the taking of his land by the Orchard Beach Railroad company, excited great interest and was on trial four days, resulting in a verdict for Staples for $9674.53. Hon. J. B. Reed was attorney for Staples, and George C. Yeaton and H. Fairfield for the railroad.

News and Notes.

The death is announced, in France, of Miss Adelaide Phillipps, the eminent contralto singer and operatic artiste. She was born at Bristol, England, but came to this country when a child, and has always been classed as an American singer. She went to England several months ago, in hope to recover her health, which had become much impaired. Her last appearance in this city was with the Boston Ideal Opera company.

Hereafter in Worcester, Mass., it will be unlawful for anybody to sell a boy or girl a toy pistol, unless said boy or girl has the written consent of his or her parents. This ordinance ought to diminish the sale of the child-killers in Worcester, to a great extent; but it would be better if the ordinance absolutely prohibited the sale of the infernal toys under any circumstances, for as it is the children of parents who refuse to allow their offspring to purchase the weapons, may suffer from borrowed ones.

The fare on the Fall River line of steamers between New York and Boston or Lowell has been reduced to three dollars.

It now turns out that twelve colored republicans were killed and twenty-eight wounded in the "fight" at Lancaster, S. C., and that one white democrat was slightly wounded. The activity of the republicans is so great that unless similar "negro riots" are held all over the state it is feared four or five republican congressmen will be elected; but the "negro riots" will be held, never fear.

The scene of Mr. Howells' story, "A Modern Instance," is in Fryeburg, Me., the old town in which Daniel Webster once taught school for $350 a year. J. R. Osgood & Co. publish the story in book form.

N. E. Hall, aged fifty-one years, a prominent trader of Winterport, Me., left home early Wednesday morning, Oct. 4th, and did not return. Search being made, his body was found in the river. He is supposed to have fallen from the wharf.

Deputy United States Marshal Marble arrived in Bangor, Me., on the 4th inst., with a smuggler named Lewis H. Grant, of Campobello, arrested in Frenchman's bay. He is supposed to be an old offender. Grant was taken to Portland.

Miss La Forge, who was betrothed to Lieut. Chipp of the Jeannette expedition, died at Ocean Grove, N. J., on Saturday, Sept. 30th. When the news of the fate of the vessel reached America, Miss La Forge became a prey to terrible distress, fell ill, and became a physical and mental wreck. Her physicians recommended the seashore, and she was taken to Ocean Grove, but without benefit.

Charles Rolfe, son of Senator Joseph N. Rolfe of Newbury, who was run over by a cart in Newburyport, Oct. 4th, died of the injuries received that night.

B. Gratz Brown, who ran as democratic candidate for vice president in 1872, is stumping Indiana in opposition to the democratic ticket.

The official vote of Oregon for governor was: Republican 21,481, democratic 20,089.

George Ross of Portland, Me., swallowed a peach stone and is likely to die from the effects.

While gunning, Frank Gibson of North Brookfield, Mass., mistook Charles Cleveland's uplifted hand for a rabbit and riddled it with shot.

There are fifty democrats in the Vermont legislature this year, more than double the number of two years ago; forty-nine in the house and two in the senate.

A young son of H. Kimball of West Randolph, Vt., was fooling with a revolver last week, when it was discharged, the ball entering the hollow of his hand. The surgeon removed it with difficulty.

"The United Service" for October contains "Leonora, the captive Princess of Denmark," a poem by Capt. Henry H. Pierce, U. S. A.; "Our Marines in the Levant," by Capt. R. S. Collum, U. S. M. C.; chapters of "Notes for a History of Steam Navigation" and "Winning His Spurs," and the conclusion of "James Hepburn, Earl of Bothwell; "a paper on the method of appointment and promotion of non-commissioned and commissioned officers in the German army, translated from the French by Lieut. O. B. Mitcham, U. S. A., and other articles. This magazine is always worth more than its price, and is interesting to the general reader as well as to the officers of the army or navy. L. R. Hamersly & Co., Philadelphia; $5 per year, single number fifty cents.

The Newfoundland Dog at Home.

The man who thinks that Newfoundland dogs of noble mien and build troop in droves through the country is, in our Yankee phrase, a good deal "off." The Newfoundland dog is not only, like the traditional prophet, without honor in his own country, but there are very few of him at all. The pure breed is almost extinct. We find any day in a New England town better dogs of the Newfoundland type than I have seen during a week's stay in the city of St. Johns. The streets are filled with mongrels, big dogs, small dogs, spaniels, esquimaux and mastiffs, but almost all low curs of vile breed and pattern. Well-informed Newfoundlanders smile satirically when you extol their famous dogs, and go so far as to deny that the animal originated in the island at all.

As a rule, the big black Newfoundland dog is a much abused beast. He is sought out more for strength than beauty, kept on low diet, used in winter to draw heavy sledges of wood, and is made anything but a household divinity. His temper is good up to five years old, when he is apt to become snappish. The water is his natural home, and he will steal away at night and travel long distances for his bath. The tests of his purity of breed and general merits are a thick-webbed foot, good bushy tail, the comely shape and poise of the head, and deep black color on the roof of the mouth. His degeneration is charged to the abuse of him as a beast of burden and to one of the island's old laws to protect sheep, which has given a policeman fifty cents for shooting dogs found at large—a statute under which many fine dogs have been ruthlessly slaughtered.

The earliest records of the island show that the aboriginal dog of the country was a good-tempered creature of great size, and so strong that he could draw from the water seals weighing hundreds of pounds. He had a passionate fondness for the sea, lived on raw fish, and was a skilful fisher, swimming rapidly under water and catching his prey by the mouth. A case is cited where one of these dogs was seen catching fish for sheer sport, heaping them up on shore, and then plunging in for others. The same records prove, however, that this dog was an extinct species very different from the present Newfoundland, though the latter, in this latitude, is very fond of raw fish.—St. Johns Letter to the New York Post.

—George—"Arabella, dear, I am thinking of going to the country for a day's shooting." Arabella—"Why, all right, of course, but—George—you must not take your gun—there are so many accidents, you know."

—A stranger called at forty-eight different houses and asked, "Is the boss home?" There was no man at home in any one instance, and yet forty-seven of the women promptly replied: "Yes, sir, —what do you want?"

—Young man, get married and make some pure, rosy-cheeked maiden supremely happy with a home, and you will enjoy a monopoly of her choicest and most sacred affections. You will not have to do half of the responsibilities of domestic life alone—the gir.'s mother will come and live with you.

—Labouchere says in the London Truth that America has nearly ruined Bernhardt as "an artist and actress, as it tried to ruin Patti, Nillson, and a score of others. Charles Kean called it the grave of talent and he was right." Labouchere is evidently trying to get square with America for regarding him as a miserable scandalmonger, who runs a libel mill and calls it a society paper.

F. W. A. BERGENGREN, M. D.,
Lynn, Mass. Proprietor.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney (complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL,
Conductor L. & B. R. R.

I consider Swedish Botanic Compound the best Blood Purifier and Spring Medicine in use.
W. B. WATSON, Lynn, Mass.

A lady writes: "After years of severe suffering from female complaints, nervousness and dyspepsia your Swedish Botanic Compound has entirely cured me."

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.
Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.
Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.
READ!

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality imparted by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
258th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,
is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—(London Lancet.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,
is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.
N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

THE WEATHER.

U. S. SIGNAL OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
October, 6 12:00 A. M.

Probabilities for New England:—

Fair weather, light winds mostly from east to south, slight rise followed by falling barometer, nearly stationary temperature.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 50 degrees above zero.

Cloudy.

THE COMET BURSTED.

The nucleus of the big Cruls comet, which has caused so many people to lose their beauty nap, has separated into three unequal fragments, the largest of which is estimated to be 15,000 miles long; the space between the fragments was estimated on the 5th inst. at not less than 2000 miles. We are ready to believe any report of a comet, or anything else, that habitually gets up so early in the morning. The smashing-up of the comet makes no difference in its appearance to the naked eye.

THE RACES.

On Thursday there were two races, the first for horses that had never beaten three minutes, for a purse of $50; the other a free-for-all race, purse $90.

For the first event there were eight entries—Billy Bundle, Butcher Boy, Honest Allen, Richmond, Messenger Boy and Yankee Locke, all of which were on the track in the races of the previous day; also Juno, entered by T. E. Davis of Rochester, and Col. J., entered by Budd Ayers, of York, Me. The starters were Billy Bundle, Richmond, Col. J., Messenger Boy, Yankee Locke and Butcher Boy, and the result was as follows:

Heats	1	2	3
Messenger Boy,	1	1	1
Billy Bundle,	4	3	2
Richmond,	3	2	4
Col. J.,	2	4	3
Yankee Locke,	6	5	5
Butcher Boy,	5	6	6

Time 2:50 1-2, 2:52, 2:50 1-2.

In the free-to-all there were six entries—Screw Driver, entered by John Fifield of Acton; George A., entered by Thomas Marsh of Great Falls; Thomas B. Patchen, entered by "Bob Ridley" of Lawrence, Mass.; John W., entered by Edgar A. Stoddard, Portsmouth; Maud Muller, entered by H. C. Rankin of Rochester; Honest Lion, entered by S. M. Carpenter of Exeter. There were only two starters, George A. and Screw Driver, the former winning in three straight heats, in 2:40 1-2, 2:35 1-2, 2:37.

The judges the first day were John J. Varney of Dover, and George H. Shannon and J. H. Robertson of Portsmouth; on the second day, George H. Shannon, Charles H. Sides and Joseph Hett.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Oct. 5; Batchelder J.

John Flynn and John Harvey, for drunkenness, were assessed $9.90 each, fine and costs. County farm in default of payment.

William Welsh, for brawl and tumult, was fined $1, costs being taxed at $6.90.

ON A LARK.

There was something of a circus in connection with the schooner R. S. Leaming, which arrived at this port Sept. 24th with 755 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker, and sailed on Thursday of this week after being detained some time by the absence of her captain. A tug was engaged several days before the one on which she sailed, to tow the schooner out; but the steamboat skipper, on going aboard the schooner, was unable to find the master, and the intended start was not made. Some papers belonging to the missing man were found on the wharf, and as it was known he had received nearly a thousand dollars of freight money there was considerable apprehension of foul play; but the owners of the schooner, on being written to, reported that they had received the larger part of the money, and the vessel's bills here, which had all been paid, accounted for nearly all the rest. It was subsequently learned that the lost skipper had been seen in Boston, and the schooner went to sea under command of a master sent on by the owners.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Oct. 5th, Mayor Treat in the chair:

Present the full board.

Records of last meeting were read and approved.

Petition of Charles H. Rollins and others for the continuation of Rogers street was received, and a hearing thereon ordered.

The Boston & Northern Telephone Co. asked permission to erect telephone poles from the Congregational church to Stoddard's stable. Referred to the committee on streets.

David Kimball was granted leave to encumber Market street for building purposes.

The request of the cemetery proprietors for a trap and catch-basin on Sagamore road was granted.

The committee on fire department reported that certain bills were not approved by the board of engineers. Report accepted.

An ordinance providing for an immediate temporary loan at a rate of interest not to exceed six per cent for $7000, and authorizing the mayor to hire that amount, was sent up from the Common Council; also a bill providing for the raising of $14,000 (including the $7000 of the other bill) for the expenses of the city to January 1st, 1883. Both bills were passed by the aldermen under suspension of the rules.

Adjourned for one week.

CONCORD & PORTSMOUTH RAILROAD.

The annual meeting of the stockholders in the Concord & Portsmouth railroad was held at Manchester on Thursday, the 5th inst. Stephen Kenrick, president of the corporation, presided.

A committee consisting of Seth Eastman of Concord, William W. Cotton of Portsmouth, and Walter M. Parker, were appointed to receive, sort and count the votes for directors. A ballot being had the following-named persons were declared elected:

Stephen Kenrick of Franklin, Samuel N. Bell of Manchester, Joseph B. Walker of Concord, John J. Bell of Exeter, Benj. F. Martin of Manchester, John J. Pickering of Portsmouth, and Walter M. Parker of Manchester.

After the declaration of the vote the meeting adjourned.

The board of directors organized by the re-election of Stephen Kenrick as president, and William H. Hackett as clerk.

A WAIF.

The persons who saw City Marshal Entwistle coming down street on Thursday afternoon last in company with an urchin about two years old, and who supposed from the close similarity of build between the pair that the youngster was Tom's personal property, were deceived, as he doesn't belong to Tom at all. Neither was he under arrest; on the contrary, he had captured the sturdy marshal, and was compelling that official to transport him to the station house. The little fellow was found sound asleep on the steps of a house on State street by the marshal as he came from dinner, and as he was evidently adrift and could give no account of himself, there was nothing to do but to take him to the station; on the way down Tom invested in a stick of candy for his protege, and had no sooner arrived at the station than he had to go out to buy another one, the first having been devoured with such startling promptness that the marshal was nearly panic stricken, seeing bankruptcy staring him in the face unless the boy's parents should soon turn up,—which they fortunately did before the marshal's financial ruin was completed.

The Portsmouth Cavalry, Co. B, will break camp at Greenland this afternoon at two o'clock, and will form a mounted dress parade on Market square at four o'clock sharp.

First-Lieutenant Frederick L. Dodge, 23d United States infantry, will be relieved from duty at the Leavenworth military prison, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and will proceed to join his company.

The Powhatan has been ordered to tow the old sailing ship Constitution from New York to this port, where she is to be used as a receiving ship.

Charles Abbott, son of Mr. Charles P. Abbott, has accepted a situation in the store of Martin Goodrich & Co. of Boston, grocers.

It was announced on Thursday afternoon, the 5th inst., that Dr. Potter positively refused to accept the democratic nomination for senator from the Portsmouth district, and that the convention would meet again in the court house on Tuesday evening, the 10th inst., to make a third selection. Probably Dr. Potter thinks it useless to waste his money on a hopeless chance.

The U. S. S. Vandalia sailed from the lower harbor at four o'clock last Thursday afternoon, for Hampton roads.

[For other local matter see second page.]

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

That Poisoned Bouquet.

Lawyer George Scoville says in regard to the poisoned bouquet given Guiteau before his execution, that on the morning of that day John W. Guiteau, Mrs. Scoville and Miss Chevalier drove to the jail. On the way they stopped at a florist's. There the flowers for the funeral had been ordered. While waiting, Mrs. Scoville ordered a bouquet. It was handed to John W. Guiteau, who unwrapped the parcel as they drove along, showed the flowers to the ladies, and wrapped it up again. At the jail he gave it to the warden, who took it to the cell. As a matter of fact, Mrs. Scoville never had the bouquet in her hands.

Naval Affairs.

Secretary Chandler arrived in Washington on the 5th inst., from New York.

Among the officers detached from the Boston navy yard by the recent order are Lieut. Comdr. C. H. Rockwell, Lieut. Charles Seymour, and Asst. Naval Constructor John F. Hanscom.

Passed Assistant Surgeon Clarence E. Black has been detached from the naval rendezvous, Philadelphia, and placed on waiting orders.

The leave of absence of Pay Director George F. Cutter has been extended one year from November 1st. The leave of absence of Pay Inspector Edward May has been extended three months from October 1st.

If you can't "bear" a cough, "bull" it, with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

In New York on the 4th, fourteen actors and actresses who were arrested on the previous night in Parker's American theatre for taking part in an alleged immoral play, were discharged on paying fines, and the principals were sent to the district attorney's office, they having been arrested on bench warrants issued from there.

"It is impossible for a women to suffer from weakness after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The state election of Georgia was held on the 4th inst., and resulted of course in an overwhelming democratic victory. Alexander H. Stephens was chosen governor by 50,000 majority or so; the whole democratic state ticket was elected, and nearly all the democratic candidates for the legislature. The vote was very light. Several republican ballots were thrown in the back counties.

☞The most brilliant shades possible, on all fabrics are made by the Diamond Dyes. Unequalled for brilliancy and durability. 10 cts.

Rocco Votra of Providence, R. I., was on the 4th inst. convicted of the murder of Archille Di Robbia, and sentenced to the state prison for life.

Send for One.—A 32-page cook book, engraved cover, containing valuable receipts, household hints, sample and directions for cleaning silverware with Electro-Silicon, sent free to housekeepers. Send address to Electro-Silicon Co., 72 John St., N. Y.

In Rowley, Mass., on the 4th inst., two houses and three barns were destroyed by fire. Engines were sent from Ipswich and Newburyport, the whole town being at one time in danger. Loss not over $8000.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., Dear Sir—I have advised many ladies to try your "Favorite Prescription" and never see it fail to do more than you advertise.
Yours truly, Mrs. A. M. RANKIN,
141 Bates Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

In New York, on the 4th inst., James Stainters, a line-man in the employ of the Brush Electric Light company, accidentally received a shock from a line which he was adjusting at the corner of Elizabeth and Canal streets, and was almost instantly killed. He was at work at the top of a pole making a new connection for the wire. When he received the shock he did not fall, but hung, his foot being caught in the wire. He was alive when taken down, but died shortly after being carried to the station house. The skin on the palms of both hands was hanging in strips, as though it had been seared off with a hot iron, and the man's face in death bore a look of intense agony.

A true tonic medicine, a blessing in every household, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a sure cure for all Female Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, and all weaknesses caused by those irregularities which are so painful to womankind. This is no Patent Medicine, but is prepared, after years of experience, and recommended, when taken as directed, to give new life to any broken-down, worn out or over-worked member of the sex.

If you have tried other remedies without success, do not be discouraged, but try "LADIES' TONIC" and receive prompt relief. It never fails to give quick and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, try under the doctor's prescription Lozenges, and try "Ladies' Tonic," which we guarantee will positively cure you. One Bottle is Sufficient. Women's Medical Institute is an Association of Women and Mothers of years' experience, who give advice and answer letters from ladies, free.

Nothing will be given for sickness of Female Weakness or Debility which "Ladies' Tonic" will not cure. This is a home, safe cure, made by experienced ladies who have from experience what "LADIES' TONIC" can do. Send stamp for circular.

HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Now

Many people think themselves sick and doctor for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Clendinen, startlingly says "one-third of my subjects show signs of heart disease." The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute, night and day, rest and sleep or night! Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves a celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Clendinen's Heart Regulator and can be obtained at your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise.

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind. Dec. 2, 1880.

For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier.

SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils? Why are you with that terrible Headache? Why lay and toss on that bed of pain with Rheumatism? What makes you tremble so? Your nerves are all unstrung, and need a gentle soothing tonic to assist nature to repair the damage which your excesses have caused. Sulphur Bitters is just what you need. It is composed of the choicest Sulphur Bitters is a delicious drink to be taken by the glass, like other aromatic stimulants, and is a cheap and TO DESTROY. It is composed of the choicest Roots, Barks and Herbs, combined with the EXTRACT OF SULPHUR in such proportions as to make it NATURE'S GREAT REMEDY.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Dose is small—only a Teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it and you will be satisfied. Get it of your druggist. DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE

Joseph Clookey, a boy sixteen years old, at work on a gravel train at Skowhegan, Me., on the 5th inst., while coupling cars was jammed and killed almost instantly.

"INDIAN DEPARTMENT," Washington, D. C.

I am anxious to introduce Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup among my Indians, having used it myself for several months, and think it one of the finest remedies I ever found. I assure you, it is the only thing that ever relieved me of a protracted cough, brought on by exposure while on the Sioux Commission last year.

In Washington, on the 5th inst., the Court of Commissioners of Alabama Claims passed appropriate resolutions with reference to the death of the late Hon. Harvey Jewell, one of the former judges of the court; and eulogistic addresses were made by Frank W. Hackett, Esq., Judge Wells and Judge French.

How She Saved Her Darling.

"I shall not feel so nervous again about baby's teething," writes a grateful mother. "We almost lost our darling from cholera infantum, but happily heard of Parker's Ginger Tonic in time. A few spoonfuls soon cured baby, and an occasional dose keeps us in good health."—Brooklyn Mother.

Capt. Lewis H. Grant of Bar Harbor, Me., arrested for smuggling, was bound over in $800 to appear at the December term of the district court. In default of bail he was committed to jail.

Catarrh.

Ely's Cream Balm Co., Owego, N. Y., Gents: I have been a severe sufferer from Catarrh for 15 years, having distressing pain over my eyes, gradually the disease worked down upon my lungs. About a year and a half ago I commenced using your Cream Balm, with most gratifying results, and am to day apparently cured. Z. C. WARNER, Rutland, Vt. April 31, '82.

Elys' Cream Balm has completely cured me of Catarrh, of which I have been afflicted over ten years, after trying almost every remedy recommended, none having proved so effective and thorough. S. J. AIKEN, wholesale dealer in Boots and Shoes, 143 Federal St., Boston, Mass.

Apply into nostrils with little finger. Price 50 cents.

At Springfield, Mass., on the 5th inst., James Powers, an employe of the New Haven & Northampton road, was instantly killed by stepping from one track to another in front of a switch engine.

Covetousness In Disguise.

The wonderful success of James Pyle's Pearline has given rise to a flood of imitations with an "ine" to their names, evidently to have them sound like Pearline. Enterprises of this sort are quite liable to be more selfish than beneficial.

In court at Rockland, Me., on the 5th inst., Warren C. Perrigo, a member of the Knox county bar, had his name stricken from the roll of attorneys, on account of adultery, blackmailing and extortion.

Catarrh.

Relief in five minutes in every case; gratifying, wholesome relief beyond a money value. Cure begins from first application, and is rapid, radical and permanent. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. Complete for $1.

On Monday, the 2d inst., was issued in Waltham, Mass., by Eaton & Reed, the first number of a daily paper called the "Waltham Daily Tribune." The yearly subscription is three dollars, single copies being sold for a cent. The new candidate for public favor starts out well.

"When I publicly testified that I had been cured of a terrible skin humor by the Cuticura Remedies, I did so that others might be cured, and do not regret the time given to answering inquires."—Hon. William Taylor, Boston.

Naval Cadet Clarence Martin has resigned, his resignation to take effect from October 3d, 1883. He has been detached from the Alliance, and granted leave of absence to that date. Naval Cadet Thomas P. Pattison has resigned, his resignation to take effect from the 3d instant.

I would say to my friends, and all who chance to read this, that I have used Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam in my family for a long time, and consider it a very valuable medicine. It cures when all other remedies fail, and I would cheerfully recommend it to those afflicted with Coughs, Colds, Asthma, etc.

E. S. GETCHELL, Augusta, Maine.

The seventeenth annual reunion of the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire, Independent Order of Good Templars, opened at Weirs on the 4th inst. The reports of the officers showed the present number of lodges as fifty-three; number of members in good standing, 3196; initiated and reinstated during the year, 1435; withdrawn and suspended, 1222; died, twenty-six.

The best spring medicine known is that wonderful tonic, Brown's Iron Bitters.

Miss Shufelt, fifty years old, living with a brother in Kensington, committed suicide by eating paris green on Tuesday, the 3d inst. Despondency was the cause.

The Safest Way.

The safest and surest way to restore the youthful color of the hair is furnished by Parker's Hair Balsam, which is deservedly popular from its superior cleanliness.

Geo. Downs of Dover, a promising young man, twenty-eight years old, a drug clerk, died two months since. He was an only child. His death had a terrible effect upon his mother, and she lost her reason. At an early hour Friday morning, the 6th inst., she left her house. When missed search was made, and she was found digging up the casket of her son in the family lot in Pine Hill cemetery. She said she wanted to see her darling son again, and thought by seeing his body it might restore him to life and her old time happiness. She had to be dragged by force from the grave, and taken home.

A Brave Lady.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good catharic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvellous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in throat and chest disorders, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and operation, physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its healing effects, and will always cure where cures are possible.

"Seeking the House!"

A despatch dated Oct. 5th, from Kansas City, Mo., is as follows:

Frank James surrendered to Gov. Crittenden, at Jefferson City, at five o'clock this evening, and will be brought here to-morrow morning and delivered to the Jackson county authorities. Gov. Crittenden telegraphs that officers will leave to-night with the prisoner. Officials here express some surprise at James' action, as no overtures had been made on their part toward a surrender. They think Frank had become discouraged, having in various ways lost all of his old confederates, and concluded it useless to attempt to longer live in outlawry, preferring to trust to the leniency of the law, in voluntarily giving himself up.

A despatch of the same date from St. Louis, Mo., says:

A special from Jefferson City says that when Frank James surrendered to Gov. Crittenden, he handed him his pistols, and said he (the governor) was the only man, except himself, who had touched them for twenty years. Frank was at the McCarthy house this evening, and many prominent citizens were there seeking the honor of shaking hands with him.

AROUND HOME.

Paymaster Edward May will spend the winter at the south.

Asst. Naval Constructor George F. Mallett, U. S. N., recently detached from the Norfolk navy yard, has returned to this city.

The CHRONICLE says "The Mutual Union Telegraph Co. last week commenced painting the poles set in our streets, white on the lower portion and a brick-dust red above." Our genial friend looks with an "inverted vision," else he is getting color-blind.—Journal.

If our brother of the Journal will for a moment take a seat in our editorial chair, he will be able to look out of the window and see the telegraph poles painted exactly as we described.

The schooners Ocean Eagle, Triton and Hattie Lewis, brick-laden and bound for Boston, were towed down from up river on Friday by the tug Ann.

As the U. S. S. Vandalia was leaving the navy yard, shortly after noon on the 4th, a number of the fair acquaintances made in this city by some of the seamen during the vessel's stay proceeded to the attic of the building on Daniel street occupied by them, and from the scuttle signalled adieu to their departing friends, using for the purpose a long beanpole to which they had attached articles of strange device, said to be portions of female apparel. The display of the new signal flags caused considerable amusement to spectators on Market square and in its vicinity.

Capt. Joseph C. Muchmore, the veteran rigger, went to Rochester on Friday to replace on the track the wreck of the engine recently derailed and smashed by the Great Falls & Conway railroad near that town by a misplaced switch, heavy gear having been procured from the navy yard for that purpose. Mr. Oliver Goldsmith, the engineer of the wrecked train, belongs in this city, and was brought home rolled up in blankets, having stuck to his post and been so buried in the debris that it took over two hours to extricate him, the fact that he was so nearly covered with fine coal from the tender probably alone preventing him from being scalded to death by the escaping steam. Though severely bruised and squeezed, Mr. Goldsmith had no bones broken.

Mr. Emil C. Pfeiffer is acting as teacher of the Walker school until Mr. Appleby of Rochester determines whether or not he will accept the position of master. If Mr. Pfeiffer is competent to take charge of the school for even a short period, is he not also competent to continue longer? have we no person in Portsmouth capable of teaching a grammar school? From the number who have gone from here to accept positions in teaching at a salary larger than the city appears able to pay, it would seem as though some one of our own citizens might be found who could be able to teach a grammar school, without having to go outside of our limits to find one; but for ways that are dark and things that are vain our school committee is peculiar.

X.

The season of general ice-using is about ended, and the stocks of the dealers in this city are not far from exhausted. Portsmouth has five dealers in the article, namely: George A. Perkins, who cuts his ice from Jones' pond; John L. Downs, who cuts from his own pond on the South road; John A. Rand, who also cuts on the South road, near Downs' pond; Charles E. Hodgdon, of Newington road, who cuts at Gravelly ridge; and Langdon M. Perkins, who cuts at Rye. The latter was some days ago reported as being the only dealer who had plenty of ice on hand; Mr. George A. Perkins was entirely out, and buying at Rochester, and Mr. Downs expected to be obliged to do the same; while Mr. Rand had some left, but no great amount. The ice season commenced very late, but the hot, dry weather made the ice in the storehouses disappear very rapidly before the demands of the public when once it did commence to go.

A flock of wild geese numbering between two and three hundred was seen flying toward Great bay on Thursday evening, the 5th inst. This is the first flock of these birds which we have heard of as being seen in this immediate vicinity this fall.

The light of a big fire in Rowley, Mass., on the night of the 4th inst., was distinctly seen in Newcastle, the glare being so bright that the spectators supposed the fire to be at the most no farther off than Salisbury beach.

The 35th annual cattle show and fair of York county opened at Biddeford last Thursday, to continue three days. Entries of cattle and horses were quite small, while the display of farming tools was larger than usual. The exhibit in the hall was very good in all the different departments. The agricultural display, although not so large as usual, contained some very fine specimens of farm produce.

Eugene Wells, aged eleven, son of Edward Wells of Wells, went gunning Wednesday afternoon, the 4th inst. Not returning at night search was made, and he was found Thursday morning lying dead beside a tree with his gun at his side. Cause, heart disease.

Look Out For Them.

There is a gang of thieves about Essex county who are working the "plumbing racket." A man dressed in workingmen's clothes will call at a house, and state to whoever comes to the door that he has been sent to see if there is a leak in the gas pipe. Of course the lady will not refuse to let him in, and very accommodatingly will show him down cellar. On reaching there the thief looks around and pretends to discover a leak. He then requests the lady to obtain a light for him to work by. She will depart to get the light, and her caller will immediately make a still hunt for valuables, seizing anything of value he can lay his hands on, and suddenly depart. Last week in one day nearly thirty houses in Salem were victimized that way. Ladies, don't let a stranger come into your house unless he shows the best authority possible that he is what he represents himself to be.—Newburyport Herald.

—"Bridget," said the mistress to her servant, "put a little nutmeg in the custard this afternoon." And Bridget picked out the smallest she could find, and threw it in the custard, where it was found at the evening meal.

—At the Alexandra Palace in London, recently, an American gentleman looked at some stereoscopic views of this country, and was somewhat surprised to find one labelled: "View of New York city from the Illinois shore."

—Six men put in their capital to start a co-operative store. What was left after the manager got into Canada was valued at $250, and this represented one-fifth of what each man put in. How much did the manager get away with?

—"Who is that man?" asked the stranger of the policeman. "He looks like a criminal—looks as if he had murdered somebody and was afraid it would be found out." "Oh, no," answered the policeman, "he sold toy pistols for the Fourth. That's all."

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest eminence on both sides of the Atlantic, as an invaluable Tonic and Nourisher in cases of General Debility, Nervous Depression, Enfeebled Constitution and Female Weakness.

NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a specific for their troubles. It stimulates the digestion, sharpens the appetite, invigorates and builds up the entire system, and assists a generous flow of milk.

WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from lassitude and languor, the result of disease, over-study, or nervous strain, will derive substantial benefit from its use. It restores the system to its normal condition and brings back the bloom of youth.

INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life, and answering into strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It neither parts upon the appetite nor offends the taste.

DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weaknesses of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It invigorates the digestion, purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and revives the spirits.

WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who require some artificial restorative—and especially those who are confined to Unhealthy Occupations—will find its properties exactly suited to their needs. It is a specific for the Coughs and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.

AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The whole tendency of its action is to stimulate the digestion of fat-producing foods, and its effect is invariably to give fullness and roundness to the female form, and robustness to the manliest frame.

THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Fluid Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from alcohol. It is readily retained on the stomach and contains none but wholesome and nourishing ingredients. The genuine preparation bears on the label a fine engraved likeness of BARON VON LIEBIG, and a fac-simile of his Signature, as well as that of A. VOGELER & CO., BALTIMORE, MD., Sole Agents for America.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe dry hard cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying in good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicines, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL,

LIFE INSURANCE !

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

NEWTON VS. THE INSPECTORS.

The suit of Willie B. Newton against the inspectors of check-lists of this city was heard at the office of Frink & Batchelder, before Hon. Jeremiah Smith of Dover as referee, on Friday last. Calvin Page, Esq., appeared as counsel for Mr. Newton; and Wm. Russell Foster, Esq., a member of the board of inspectors, and Frink & Batchelder, for the defendants.

Mr. Newton testified that his name was on the check-list at the November election in 1880, and that he visited the city rooms the day before the election in August, 1881, and found his name on the posted list. When he went to the ward room to vote, about four o'clock in the afternoon of election day, his vote was refused, as his name did not appear on the ward clerk's copy of the check-list. As the board of inspectors was not then in session he was unable to get his name put on the check-list, and so was deprived of his right to vote; and he thought his name was left off intentionally and maliciously.

The testimony of the defendants showed clearly how the mistake occurred. Mr. Gardiner, the clerk of the inspectors, testified that the posted check-list of that year contained the name of Mr. Newton, written on below the printed list, and that one other name, that of Mr. Charles A. Nealley, was written on below that of Mr. Newton. These were the only written names under the letter "N." The copy of the check-list used by the ward clerk was prepared by writing on a printed list all the additions made by the board of inspectors. During the evening while Mr. Gardiner was preparing the copy of the check-list for the clerk of ward two, Hon. John S. Treat, the democratic candidate for mayor, called and requested Mr. Gardiner to furnish him with a copy of the additions made to the check-list. Mr. Gardiner had then finished copying the names under the letter "M." He left his work, gave Mr. Treat a copy of the names, and when he began his work again commenced at the letter "O," thus omitting the two names written on under the letter "N," one of which was Mr. Newton's.

The original check-list as posted, and he ward clerk's copy, showed the omission of these two names on the latter.

Mr. Foster testified that he was present in the ward room when Mr. Newton's vote was refused, and that he then stated to Mr. Newton and to the moderator that it was a mistake, and that Mr. Newton's name should have been on the list, and apologized to Mr. Newton for the omission. He also said that Mr. Deverson and Mr. Waldron, both members of the board of inspectors, were present at that time, and explained that it was an error which they regretted very much; and further, that after receiving a letter from Judge Page in regard to the matter, the whole board had instructed him to see Mr. Page, explain that Mr. Newton's name was left off by mistake, and apologize to Mr. Newton through his counsel for the error, and that he supposed the matter was satisfactory to Mr. Newton until he was sued.

The report of the referee will be returned to the October term of the supreme court to be held in Portsmouth.

THE CAVALRY CAMP-OUT.

The Portsmouth Cavalry, (Co. B, N. H. N. G., unattached,) Capt. Edw. D. Coffin commanding, broke camp at Greenland on Friday afternoon at two o'clock, the camp having continued since Monday.

During the week Camp Gov. Goodwin was visited by many citizens of Portsmouth, Greenland and neighboring towns, the order observed in camp being much commended. On Wednesday afternoon the company was inspected by Inspector General Elbert Wheeler of Laconia, a dinner for the officials and invited guests being served at the close of the inspection. On Thursday evening the company gave a reception and dance, which was largely attended, many persons from this city being present.

On the return of the company to this city, Friday afternoon, there was a battalion dress parade, mounted, on Market square, Sergeant Hodgdon acting as adjutant, and Sergeant Lenigan as sergeant major. The parade attracted a large number of spectators, and at its close the company proceeded to the armory and dismissed.

"P'S, P'S," AND THERE ARE NO "P'S."

It is promulgated that Physician Potter prefers professional practice to political preferment, and politely but positively protests against the promotion proposed by the Portsmouth politicians.

The members of the convention must now come 'round to Candidate Edgerly's platform which so deprecates the use of money in elections, and nominate some one who will not be expected to "come down." We are willing to furnish the convention with a list of eligible gentlemen, though the loss of a candidate is none of our bereavement.

Page, Parsons, Phay and Potter. Now let our democratic brethren try some other letter.

OLD SETTLERS GONE.

The rock-maple trees which have stood in front of the Peirce mansion, on Haymarket square, were cut down on Friday, each having died. These trees were the first of the kind seen in Portsmouth, and were brought from Alton and set out by direction of the late John Peirce, Esq., after he had completed in 1800 the house before which they have since stood. From these maples abundant shoots have been taken, which have multiplied the kind throughout our streets. They have withstood the storms of over eighty seasons, and have beautified the square until a recent period, when the one nearest Middle street appeared at the opening of spring to have lost its vitality, and its mate has seemed all summer to have been clad in half mourning at the loss of its silent but constant companion for so many years of peaceful contiguity.

WOMAN'S TEMPERANCE LEAGUE.

The following officers of The Woman's Temperance League were elected at the meeting of the League held on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 5th:

President, Mrs. D. H. Spinney;
Vice President, Mrs. Susan Deverson;
2d Vice President, Mrs. A. W. Haven;
Secretary, Mrs. R. D. Smart;
Treasurer, Miss Hannah Candage;
Chaplain, Mrs. Silas Philbrick;
Cor. Sec., Mrs. B. F. Thorndike.

A NEW LEDGE.

The Amesbury Villager says that a new ledge of rocks has made its appearance off Salisbury beach within the last few weeks, nearly opposite the cottage of lawyer Goodale. At least it is a "new ledge" to the oldest shore fishermen, who never knew of its existence until this season. At low tide it can be reached from the shore by wading, and has proved excellent fishing ground for catching sea-perch. For a half century or more it has been buried under the sand, and geologists say it is an extension of the ledge formation under the ocean which makes the Isles of Shoals; and if, as some conjecture, the seashore along this part of the coast is gradually changing, other ledges will appear.

There was a small attendance at Music hall on Thursday evening last, when "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was performed by the Sherwood combination. Blanche and Florence Sherwood, as the "two Topsys," were amusing in the extreme; and Romaine Sherwood, a midget who took the part of Eva, also did remarkably well for one of her years.

See notice of valuable real estate to be sold at auction to-day at noon.

"How beautifully they go through their revolutions," exclaimed old Mrs. Homespun as she watched the cavalry from a store door on Market square on Friday afternoon; and then she turned with a smile of appreciation at the military bearing of the "Counsel for the defence" in court martial array.

The Ladies Relief Corps, auxiliary to the G. A. R., will give an entertainment consisting of musical and literary exercises, and a harvest supper, at Grand Army hall, Daniel street, on Monday evening, Oct. 9th, when a most enjoyable social occasion may confidently be anticipated. Admission (including the supper) only twenty cents.

A few snow flakes fell in this city Friday forenoon.

It is rumored that one of the prominent candidates for re-election on the republican county ticket has sent a letter of declination to the county committee, but that the committee have declined to accept the declination.

Frank Simpson of York, Me., employed as a farm hand at North Hampton, attempted to commit suicide by hanging himself a few days ago in the latter town. Despondency is said to have been the cause.

Because you don't use SOZODONT,
The sweetness of your mouth is gone;
Your breath is heavy, and, from this,
Your lips no more invite a kiss.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!
Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and prying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere Twenty-five cents a bottle. eod&wtjan82

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

Lydia E. Pinkham

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND,
Is a Positive Cure

For all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our best female population.

A Medicine for Women. Invented by a Woman. Prepared by a Woman.

The Greatest Medical Discovery Since the Dawn of History.

It revives the drooping spirits, invigorates and harmonizes the organic functions, gives elasticity and firmness to the step, restores the natural lustre to the eye, and plants on the pale cheek of woman the fresh roses of life's spring and early summer time.

Physicians Use It and Prescribe It Freely.

It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach.

That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex this compound is unsurpassed.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S BLOOD PURIFIER will eradicate every vestige of Humors from the Blood, and give tone and strength to the system, of man woman or child. Insist on having it.

Both the Compound and Blood Purifier are prepared at 233 and 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price of either, $1. Six bottles for $5. HEART DISEASE

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think themselves in danger for kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while of the truth were known, the real cause is at the heart.

The renowned Dr. Clendining, startlingly says "nine-third of dyspepsias are signs of heart disease."

The heart weighs about nine ounces, and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood passes through it once in a minute and a-half, resting not day or night! Survey this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Greene, the celebrated physician has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator and can be obtained of your druggists, $1. per bottle, six bottles for $5 by express. Send stamp for Dr. Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise. (1)

Naval Affairs.

Lieutenant O. W. Farenholt, Master A. J. Dabney and Assistant Paymaster J. R. Martin have been ordered to examination for promotion.

The navy department is in receipt of a communication from Rear Admiral Pierce Crosby, commanding the United States naval force at Rio Janeiro, Brazil, under date of August 23d, announcing the presence at that port of the British squadron, consisting of the Amethyst, Dwarf, Rifleman and Firefly; the French flagship Pallas; the Italian frigate Vittor Pisani, and the Argentine gunboat Parona. He described a visit of the Emperor of Brazil to the Italian frigate, and stated that he had extended an invitation to his majesty to visit the United states flagship Brooklyn. Under date of August 28th, Admiral Crosby gives a detailed description of the visit of the emperor to the Brooklyn. The imperial guests were received with all honor, and, on leaving, the emperor expressed his kind feeling toward the United States, and the great pleasure he had derived from his visit.

Mr. T. Atkinson, Lynchburg, Va., says: Having been a periodical sufferer from rheumatism for many years, and having tried many different remedies, at last I resorted to St. Jacobs Oil, and found relief and benefit by the first application.

Paymaster H. C. Machette is ordered to the Monocacy, Asiatic station, per steamer of Oct. 19th for Yokohama.

Why Welcome.

What makes Floreston Cologne welcome on every lady's toilet table is its lasting fragrance and rich, flowery odor.

Paymaster Joseph Foster is detached from the Monocacy on the reporting of his relief, and ordered to return home and report arrival.

Good Advice.

You will prevent and cure the greater part of the ills that afflict mankind in this or any section, if you keep your stomach, liver and kidneys in perfect working order. There is no medicine known that does this as surely as Parker's Ginger Tonic. It will keep your blood rich and pure, and give you good health at little cost. See other column.

Recently John G. Gillies, a business man in a Massachusetts town, was lured to Providence, R. I., to meet a woman then or formerly in his employ. While in her company his watch, money and clothing were taken and photographed. The photographs were sent to Gillies' son, with a demand for $500 to settle. Pretended compliance called the parties to Providence, when they were arrested, proving to be George Good and M. B. Bodwell, also of Massachusetts. Both were held in $500 to answer the charge for larceny, and will be proceeded against for blackmail.

The peculiar action on the kidneys and urinary organs of asparagus is frequently noticed during the season. Prof. Benson recently proved in the case of the Emperor William and others that in combination with malt and quinine it is an absolute specific for diseases of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. His method has been adopted by the Malt Bitters Company, and this great German food is now composed of malt, hops, quinine bark and asparagus.—Medical Times.

The confession of Thomas J. Owens, clerk to the officers of the election held in the almshouse division of the 27th ward of Philadelphia last February, just made public, shows that the absconding Ex-Superintendent Phipps broke open a ballot box and altered the election returns. The result of this was to defeat two independent republicans, and elect two democrats. A charge of conspiracy, it is said, will be framed against several city officials on the strength of the confession.

If you are bilious, take Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," the original "Little Liver Pills." Of all druggists.

Investigations made at Harvard college observatory seem to indicate beyond question that the bright comet now visible is one of short period, and that its return, after it disappears, may be expected in eight or nine years. An elliptic orbit has been computed by Messrs. Chandler and Wendell, giving a period of eight and a half years; but further observations are needed before the period may be considered as very accurately determined.

Doctor Yourself

and save money, and perhaps your life; send two 3 cents stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy of Dr. Kaufmann's great medical work, 100 pages, elegant colored plates.

At Stockton, Me., on the 5th inst., a man named Griffin, while gunning, scared up a partridge, and firing at some moving ferns in which he supposed the partridge to have hidden, hit Mr. Paul Crockett, who was gathering ferns for the Boston market, and wounded him so that he lived but a short time. Griffin was not aware of Crockett's presence, the affair being purely accidental.

—Mr. Wright went out to fish. And he became a Wright angler. He thought he would try and catch a shark. And became a try-angler. He laughed to think how smart he was. And he became a cute angler. But he did not see the shark with his nose under the stern of his craft. He was such an obtuse angler. Until the creature tipped over his boat. When he became a wrecked angler.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a sure cure for all Female Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, and all weaknesses caused by those irregularities which are so commonly complained of. This is no Patent Medicine, but is prepared, after years of experience, and recommended, knowing that it will give new life to any broken-down, worn-out or nervous member of the sex.

If you have tried other remedies without success, do not be discouraged, but give "LADIES' TONIC" a single trial. It never fails to give quick and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, try bottle the doctor's prescription for once, and try "Ladies Tonic," which we guarantee will positively cure you. One Bottle is Sufficient.

Women's Medical Institute is an Association of Private and Mother of years' experience, who give advice and answer letters from ladies free.

Benefit be given for any case of Female Weakness or Inability which "Ladies' Tonic" will not cure. This is a bona fide offer, made by responsible ladies who know from experience what "LADIES' TONIC" can do. Send stamp for circular.

Boston, November 26, 1881.
BROWN CHEMICAL CO.
Gentlemen:—For years I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and could get no relief (having tried everything which was recommended) until, acting on the advice of a friend, who had been benefited by BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, I tried a bottle, with most surprising results. Previous to taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, everything I ate distressed me, and I suffered greatly from a burning sensation in the stomach, which was unbearable. Since taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, all my troubles are at an end. Can eat any time without any disagreeable results. I am practically another person. MRS. W. J. FLYNN, 30 Maverick St., E. Boston.

Daily Chronicle.

An Important Decision.

We are able to afford our readers a perusal of the able and cogent decision of Judge Blodgett, associate justice of the supreme court of New Hampshire, concerning the unconstitutionality of the tax attempted to be imposed upon legacies and successions in the distribution of estates by the act of the state legislature approved August 17th, 1878. It will now be in order to enact some law which shall provide for the refunding of sums paid under the law by those who were induced to comply with this tax under the supposition that it was legal. The text of the decision is as follows, the case being that of Curry vs. Spencer and als.:

This is a bill in equity in which the plaintiff, as executor of one Tebbetts, prays the advice and instruction of the court as to what, if any, tax the estate of said deceased is liable to pay under c. 64 Gen. Laws, which provides that "all estates settled in the probate courts of this state, and all transfers of property from the dead to the living, by gift, bequest, or devise, and every succession made under the laws of this state regulating the distribution of intestate estates, exclusive of the just indebtedness of each and all of said estates, shall pay one per cent on the value of said estates, to be deducted from each gift, bequest, or distributive share, by the administrator or executor, so that each gift, bequest or distributive share shall pay its proportional rate; provided, that all legacies or property passing by will or by the laws of this state to husband or wife, children and grandchildren of the person who died possessed as aforesaid, shall be exempt from tax or duty."

It is not claimed that there is any doubt as to the meaning or intent of the law, and the only question intended to be raised is that of its constitutionality.

It is not to be questioned that the power to tax is vested in the legislature, that it is unrestricted except when it is opposed to some provision of the Federal or State Constitution, and that it extends "to every trade or occupation, to every object of industry, use or enjoyment, and to every species of possession." There can consequently be no judicial interference in the matter of taxation unless the constitutional rights of the citizen are violated; and it is only in cases free from all reasonable doubt that courts will undertake to declare an act of the legislature to be unconstitutional and void.

The subject of the taxation in the present case is plainly one within legislative control, because inheritances, distributive shares and legacies are but creatures of the law; in fact, the only right to take or dispose of property by descent or devise is derived from the sovereign power of the state through its laws. "Wills, therefore, and testaments, rights of inheritance and successions, are all of them creatures of the civil or municipal laws, and accordingly are in all respects regulated by them." 2 Bl. Com. 12.

Possessing this broad and unlimited power, the legislature might in its pleasure alter or repeal the statutes of descent and distribution, and thus effect an utter revolution in the succession to a decedent's estate; and, as a logical and necessary conclusion from the possession of this power, it might unquestionably impose conditions by way of a tax upon those who take the estate, in the absence of constitutional prohibition. And the only inquiry then is, whether the taxation of legacies and successions imposed by the chapter cited is not excluded either by the express terms of the Constitution, or by necessary implication, because if it is not, the power of the legislature must be regarded as having been properly exercised.

By art. 5 of the Constitution the legislature is empowered "to impose and levy proportional and reasonable assessments, rates and taxes upon all the inhabitants and residents within the said state, and upon the estates within the same;" but by the Bill of Rights (art. 12) every inhabitant is bound to contribute only his share, which manifestly cannot be more than his proportional share of the common burden. All measures for the imposition or collection of taxes must therefore conform to this general principle of just equality; and it is consequently immaterial whether the tax imposed by c. 64 is to be regarded as a tax on property, or upon a civil right or privilege, for the same principle of equality and due proportion applies to every species of tax alike. And this consideration broadly distinguishes this case from those in Virginia and Maryland to which our attention has been called, and in which a similar tax was sustained. In the former state the Constitution requires that taxes on property shall be uniform, and in Eyre v. Jacob, 14 Grat. 422, the objection taken was, that the property of the estate having been taxed, a tax on collateral inheritances is opposed to this requirement; but the decision, by a divided court, is put expressly upon the ground that such a tax is not one on property, —Huxley says "there was a time when men walked on all fours." He probably alludes to that interesting time in the early life of us all when we approached a neighbor's melon patch from the back way.

Mr. Isaac Powell, the owner of the Walnut street Livery Stables, Lancaster, Pa., writes: I used St. Jacobs Oil on a horse that was badly galled; it removed the soreness and healed more rapidly than any preparation I ever saw.

—An advertisement for a husband appears in the Fulton (Ky.) Fultonian, and the editor vouches for the advertiser as modest, sincere, pretty, and only seventeen. But she is penniless.

"The great value of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all diseases of women is demonstrated by every day experience. The writer of this had occasion to step into the principal Pharmacy of a city of 140,000 inhabitants, and on inquiry as to which is the most popular proprietary medicine of the time, was answered, that Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound occupies a most conspicuous place in the front rank of all the remedies of this class now before the public.—Journal.

A Brave Lady.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

[Concluded from 1st page.]

but on the privilege of succeeding to the inheritance, and that there is in that state no constitutional prohibition against taxing a civil right or privilege or forbidding discrimination between lineal and collateral inheritances, because the requirement of uniformity applies to property only. A similar objection was taken and overruled in Tyson v. The State, 28 Md. 577, on the ground that the restrictions imposed upon the legislative power as to taxation are explicitly declared in the Constitution, which only prohibits the taxation of polls and paupers and requires a uniform mode of taxation on property according to its value; and that "whilst thus providing for a uniform mode of taxation on property, it was not the purpose of the framers of the Constitution to prohibit any other species of taxation, but to leave the legislature the power to impose such other taxes as the necessities of the government might require."

It is apparent that these decisions can have no weight in New Hampshire; and immunity from disproportional taxation being expressly reserved in our Bill of Rights, and the power of proportional taxation only being granted the legislature by the Constitution, we are wholly unable to find any ground upon which the statute under consideration can be upheld. Its invalidity was in fact practically settled (if not before) in the case of State v. U. S. & C. Express Co. decided at Mar. Adj. T. 1881.

Waiving the question whether the framers of the Constitution ever contemplated a tax upon the right of alienation, this tax is open to many, if not all, the objections suggested in the opinion of the court in that case; for if it is to be regarded as a tax on property, it is open to the objection of unequal and double taxation, and if it is to be regarded as a tax on a privilege or civil right, it is discriminating and disproportional.

The object was, in the language of the statute, "to defray the cost of Probate courts." Whether the expense of administering the probate law should be imposed upon the business of that office is not for us to determine. It is not our province to review or criticise the exercise of legislative discretion; but the Constitution being the supreme law as well as the only source of legislative authority, it is our province to declare when, as here, that body has plainly transcended its constitutional powers. We therefore go no further than to say, that if the legislature deems it expedient to defray the expense of probate courts by a tax upon the recipients of estates there adjudicated, such tax must be proportional and constitute only the just share of those upon whom it is imposed; that it cannot lawfully make discriminations and cast the burden upon one class of beneficiaries and exempt all other classes from its operation; and that it cannot, therefore, for purposes of taxation, exempt legacies and successions to husband, wife, children and grandchildren, and include only those by the collaterals and others than those specified.

It is true that this form of tax comes down from antiquity (Gibbons Decl. and Fall of the Roman Empire, ch. 6,) and that the tax commissioners of this state, by whom it was recommended, say that there can be no question of the legal right to impose it (Report, p. 31;) but, nevertheless, we entertain a different opinion, because, under the reservations of the Bill of Rights and the limitations of the Constitution, it is plainly founded upon pure inequality, and is simply extortion in the name of taxation; and it can therefore never be sustained in this jurisdiction so long as equality and justice continue to be the basis of constitutional taxation.

Ch. 64 must be declared void and inoperative, and the plaintiff is advised accordingly.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Pay Director James H. Watmough is detached from duty as general inspector, and placed on waiting orders.

Pay Director James D. Murray is detached from the naval academy, and ordered to settle his accounts.

Medical Director A. L. Gibon is ordered to represent the navy at the meeting of the American Public Health Association at Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18th.

Chief Engineer Oscar H. Lackey is ordered to appear before the retiring board.

Passed Asst. Paymaster Stephen Rand, Jr., is ordered to take charge of the funds, accounts, etc., of the naval station at New London, in addition to his duties at Newport, R. I., relieving Passed Asst. Paymaster C. I. Lewis, who is detached and placed on waiting orders.

New Hampshire Items.

John DeMeritt depot-master at Madbury, has been awarded the premium by Superintendent Furber for having the best kept depot and the neatest surroundings of any on the Boston & Maine railroad. This premium was open to every depot-master on the road.

In the supreme court at Dover, last week, Moses C. Hill asked that a decree granting his divorced wife a large alimony be reversed, as he has to support the children, which were given into her custody, and for whose support the alimony was chiefly granted; also because since the divorce the woman has had a child by an unknown father.

Rev. I. T. Stewart, of Dover, sailed for Europe from Boston on Saturday last.

News and Notes.

The Boston Herald and Globe on Sunday last contained Gen. Butler's letters to the democratic and greenback state conventions of Massachusetts, accepting the nomination for governor tendered by them. The letters take up nearly three columns of small type in the papers named.

Alexander H. Stephens, governor-elect of Georgia, has resigned his seat in Congress.

At Lovell, Kansas, on the morning of the 6th inst., the house of a Mr. Resencranz was burned, and two daughters, aged seven and seventeen years respectively, loss their lives. The elder one had succeeded in getting out of the burning building with her mother, when she rushed back for her little sister, and had dragged her through the smoke to the head of the stairway when the floor fell with a fearful crash, and both were pitched headlong into the burning mass below. They were burned nearly to ashes.

Rev. Phillips Brooks, Mr. Richardson, an architect of Boston, and Rev. Mr. McVicker of Philadelphia, have been together much of the past summer in Europe. The three gentlemen are nineteen feet in length, and weigh exactly 900 pounds.

At Lewiston, Me., Oct. 6th, a boy named Frazer was drowned in a reservoir.

In Lowell, Mass., on the night of the 5th inst., John Bohannon was stabbed eighteen times by two brothers named Patrick and Michael Gannon, in a drunken row; he died in a few minutes, two of the stabs penetrating the heart. One of the murderers was arrested, the other temporarily escaping.

At Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 6th, seventy-one new cases of yellow fever were reported, and four deaths; total cases to that date, 1111; deaths, 103. Rev. Z. A. Owen, Baptist minister, died on the 6th; he was away from the place when the pestilence began, but returned to be with his people.

FISHERY NOTES.

The schooner Jennie P. Phillips, of Swampscot, Mass., Doane master, arrived at Commercial wharf, Boston, on Thursday last, with 200 barrels of fresh herring—80,000 in number—the largest fare of the kind ever taken into Boston; the fish sold readily at $1 per hundred. The fare was taken at a single haul of the seine off Boston light on the day previous.

Immense schools of mackerel appeared in Massachusetts bay last week, the waters from Thatcher's island to Boston light, and from Minot's ledge light to Marshfield, Mass., swarming with fish. Large hauls were made by the market boats on Thursday and Friday nights, over 2500 barrels of fresh mackerel being landed in Boston on Friday, the fish being of good size and quality, and selling readily at from $2 to $6 per hundred. Some of the boats had over 200 barrels each, and the catch all through was the best of the season. Some of the fares were thickly mixed with herring, which the fishermen interpreted as an indication that the mackerel schools will soon scatter.

Mr. Lewis Holmes will add a number of new sail and row boats to his letting fleet next year; he has two row boats nearly completed now.

In Gorham, Me., one day last week, Ivory Berry gave his mother a brutal beating, and then cut his own throat, dying on the 6th inst.

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

MARINE DISASTER.

The schooner yacht Caroline, a new vessel bound from Bath, Me., to Boston, at which latter place she is owned, went on Hicks' rocks in the lower harbor at about eight o'clock Friday evening. She hit the rocks hard enough to stave in her bow and damage her keel, soon filled with water, and hung where she struck. Her captain went to Boston on Saturday to confer with the owners, having previously engaged the steamer James Sampson to attend on the wreck, and returned in the evening. On Sunday she was at Kittery, having come off the rocks after discharging her ballast, seventeen tons of pig iron.

FREIGHT ENGAGEMENTS.

Among the freight engagements made in Boston last week were two schooners from Perth Amboy to this port, to discharge at Kittery Point, coal, at $1.35; one schooner from Port Johnson to this port, coal, at $1.20; one schooner from South Amboy to York harbor, Me., coal, $1.10 and discharged.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mr. John A. Cate, who for some thirty years past has been garderner and man-of-all-work on the Lord estate on Middle street, died very suddenly early on Saturday forenoon last. He came down town at his usual early hour, from his home on Creek street, near the Woodbury mansion, and about seven o'clock was helped by two men to the residence of Dr. J. F. Hall, having been taken suddenly ill on the street with vomiting, and physical weakness. The doctor administered stimulants, and advised him to go home, offering to take him home in a carriage, which offer he declined, saying he felt much better, and started to walk; but when on Warren street, near Music hall, he fell, and died before he could be taken to a house. He was about sixty years old, and leaves a wife and two daughters. He had long been a consistent member of the Christian church, and attended a prayer meeting on the evening previous to his death.

The Ladies Relief Corps, auxiliary to the G. A. R., will give an entertainment consisting of musical and literary exercises, and a harvest supper, at Grand Army hall, Daniel street, on Monday evening, Oct. 9th, when a most enjoyable social occasion may confidently be anticipated. Admission (including the supper) only twenty cents.

The Portsmouth Shoe Co. pays the usual semi-annual dividend of three dollars per share this week.

Mr. Benjamin F. Mugridge, who some months ago sold his grocery and provision store on Pleasant street, has reopened the store on Market street formerly kept by Mr. L. V. Newell, where he will keep a full stock of standard and fancy groceries, and also meats and vegetables, for sale at as low prices as good articles can be sold for and give the dealer a living profit.

At the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire, Independent Order of Good Templars, held at Weirs last week, Mr. Charles F. Larrabee of this city was chosen grand worthy marshal for the ensuing year.

William Whidden, Esq., died at Alameda, Cal., Sept. 10th, of paralysis of the brain. He was a native of Portsmouth, and at one time was in partnership in the blacksmith business with Thomas Wiggin at Exeter. He left this county over twenty-five years since, and went to California, where he became prominent in politics, being at the time of his death a candidate for sheriff of Alameda county. He was an active Odd Fellow. The Whidden Hose Co. of Alameda was named for him.

The Puddle-dock side of Liberty bridge is in need of repairs, and it is reported the city will have the necessary work done.

The three-masted schooner Henry Waddington, Magee master, arrived at this port on Friday afternoon last from Philadelphia, and hauled in to the navy yard to discharge 724 tons of coal for the department of yards and docks, on J. Albert Walker's contract. She commenced to put out her cargo at half-past eight o'clock Saturday morning.

The steamer Startled Fawn arrived at this port on Sunday with a party of about fifty persons, two of whom were females, from Haverhill, Mass., and Newburyport. After a stay of two hours she started at about four o'clock on her return.

A boy about five years old, son of Antonio Barbarina, who was cook for the cavalry company at their camp in Greenland last week, fell overboard from the floating stage used by the custom-house boat, at the foot of State street, about three o'clock last Thursday afternoon, and was rescued at the last moment by Mr. Stephen Decatur in the yacht Sea Belle. The child was very nearly dead when taken from the water, and was only brought to by long and persistent endeavor.

Two of the city teamsters, Henry G. Whipple and Fred C. Young, gave up their positions on Saturday. Mr. Whipple has purchased a farm near Manchester, on which he will reside.

Smelts are quite plentiful at some points in the river just now, and considerable quantities of them have been seined at Sagamore creek recently.

The orders transferring Naval Constructor R. W. Steele from this yard to the naval station at New London, Conn., have been revoked so far as his assignment to duty at the latter station is concerned, and he is placed on waiting orders.

The following is a sample of the accuracy of one of the Washington newspapers: "The Vandalia, Captain Rush R. Wallace, which has been under repair at the Norfolk yard since June 23d, dropped down to Hampton roads Thursday." The average Washington newspaper, in obtaining its local news from the New York papers, is apt to blunder.

The schooner Storm King, Capt. Joseph Haley, having recently hauled off from mackerel fishing after a very successful season, is being put in good condition for winter fishing; Mr. Warren Keen is putting in a new foremast for her, Charles S. Drown is making her a suit of sails, and she is to have a new set of standing rigging.

The horses owned by Henry R. Stoddard which were used on the Wentworth house coaches during the summer, and have been at pasture on Peirce's island since the close of the season, were removed from the island on Saturday, and Mr. Augustus K. Brown's horses, used on the street-sprinkling carts since last spring, turned loose there to recuperate after their almost continuous labor for six months.

Richard Jenness, a well-known citizen of Rye, while mounting his load of seaweed recently, slipped off, striking a rock and dislocating the collar-bone of his left shoulder. Dr. John W. Parsons of this city having been called by telephone, set the bone, and ere long it is expected that we shall be able to say that "Richard's himself again."

Mr. P. H. Dudley's dynagroph and track inspecting car was in the Eastern railroad yard at Boston on Wednesday of last week, preparatory to making an inspection of the entire line of the road. This car, while running at the rate of twenty miles an hour, discovers and marks all defects in the track, of whatever nature, so that the track-walker's attention may be called to the spot and the defect remedied. It shows the side irregularities of the rails, gauge of track, bad frogs, approximate alignment of the track, elevation of outer rail on curves, and speed of the car. It mechanically sums up into feet and inches the various surface undulations of the rails as the car passes over the track, and records the same. The car weighs twenty-six tons, and thus discovers many loose joints which would otherwise escape the attention of the trackmen until the rails became permanently bent and injured.

A large stable at York corner, belonging to the estate of the late Washington Junkins, and occupied by Moulton Bros., was burned shortly before midnight on the 6th inst., with three carriages, harnesses, hay, twenty barrels of flour, and other articles. There were four horses in the barn when it took fire, but by quick work they were all saved. The property was insured. How the fire caught is not known.

Oh, maiden with grim teeth, avaunt!
Though fair you seem to look upon,
Because you don't use SOZODONT,
The sweetness of your mouth is gone;
Your breath is heavy, and, from this,
Your lips no more invite a kiss.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat
Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption 'Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.
LYNN, March 8, 1882.
DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail, until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL, Conductor L. & B. R. R.
I consider Swedish Botanic Compound the best Blood Purifier and Spring Medicine in use. W. B. WATSON, Lynn, Mass.
A lady writes: "After years of severe suffering from female complaints, nervousness and dyspepsia your Swedish Botanic Compound has entirely cured me."

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who showed other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Blockages, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1, per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to oust the Compound in its popularity."

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

Terrible Accident at Newburyport.

George H. Huntington, with his wife and seven children, and a man named Willis Dow, all belonging in Amesbury, Mass., last week spent several days on Grape island. Saturday forenoon the party were returning in two small boats, Huntington, his wife and four children being in one boat, and Dow and three children in the other. When in Plum island river Huntington's boat, which was behind, was capsized by a squall, and all its occupants drowned, Dow being unable to render any aid on account of the distance apart of the two boats.

no longer from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, want of Appetite, loss of Strength lack of Energy, Malaria, Intermittent Fevers, &c. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS never fails to cure all these diseases.

Boston, November 26, 1881.
BROWN CHEMICAL CO.
Gentlemen:—For years I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and could get no relief (having tried everything which was recommended) until, acting on the advice of a friend, who had been benefited by BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, I tried a bottle, with most surprising results. Previous to taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, everything I ate distressed me, and I suffered greatly from a burning sensation in the stomach, which was unbearable. Since taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, all my troubles are at an end. Can eat any time without any disagreeable results. I am practically another person. MRS. W. J. FLYNN, 30 Maverick St., E. Boston.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS acts like a charm on the digestive organs, removing all dyspeptic symptoms, such as tasting the food, Belching, Heat in the Stomach, Heartburn, etc. The only Iron Preparation that will not blacken the teeth or give headache.

Confessing the Soft Impeachment.

The Charleston (S. C.) News says that ballot-box stuffing in South Carolina is a thing of the past. The country will know better about it after the election. Still, the admission that it has been done in the past is something, in view of the denials of the northern democratic papers, and the indignation of the News when the federal government undertook to punish the offenders.

This admission is akin to that of the late democratic state convention in New Hampshire, which in its resolutions denounced the political tyranny of the great manufacturing corporations over their employes as being as oppressive as the terrorism formerly exercised by the Ku-Klax Klans of the south.

The secretary of the navy has appointed the commmission to report on the question whether it is advisable to sell any of the navy yards, and has made the following selection: Commodore Stephen B. Luce, Chief Engineer Charles N. Loring, and A. B. Mullen, Esq. The secretary has also selected the following officers for the advisory board on the construction of vessels in accordance with the provisions of the naval appropriation act, approved Aug. 5th, 1882: Commodore R. W. Shufeldt, Commander Jno. A. Howell, Lieut. Edward W. Very, Naval Constructor Frank L. Fernald, and Chief Engineer Alexander Henderson. The two civilian experts who are to be on the board have not yet been selected.

Consumption in its early stages is readily cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," though, if the lungs are wasted no medicine will effect a cure. No known remedy possesses such soothing and healing influence over all scrofulous, tuberculous, and pulmonary affections as the "Discovery." John Willis, of Elyria, Ohio, writes: "The 'Golden Medical Discovery' does positively cure consumption, as, after trying every other medicine in vain, this succeeded." Mr. Z. T. Phelps, of Cuthbert, Ga., writes: "The 'Golden Medical Discovery' has cured my wife of bronchitis and incipient consumption." Sold by druggists.

A peculiar case of obtaining a pension by fraud has just been unearthed, and the guilty parties, who are Bartholomew Ryan and wife, of Milford, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Bartlett in Manchester, Friday. In 1871, Ella Kerrich, who at that time lived with the Ryans at Milford, applied for a pension, and afterward removed to Massachusetts. Three years later papers came to Milford, announcing that a pension had been granted. They fell into the hands of Ryan, who took his wife and went to Nashua, where she procured the pension, and she has ever since drawn the money, including arrearages, amounting in all to about $1,800. Ryan admits fraud, but claims it is all his fault, as his wife acted under his instructions.

A Brave Lady.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

A Professional Confession.

The Unusual Experience of a Prominent Man Made Public.

The following article from the Democrat and Chronicle, of Rochester, N. Y., is of so striking a nature, and emanates from so reliable a source, that it is herewith re-published entire. In addition to the valuable matter it contains, it will be found exceedingly interesting.

To the Editor of the Democrat and Chronicle:

Sir:—My motives for the publication of the most unusual statements which follow are, first, gratitude for the fact that I have been saved from a most horrible death, and, secondly, a desire to warn all who read this statement against some of the most deceptive influences by which they have ever been surrounded. It is a fact that to-day thousands of people are within a foot of the grave and they do not know it. To tell how I was caught away from just this position and to warn others against nearing it, are my objects in this communication.

On the first day of June 1881, I lay at my residence in this city surrounded by my friends and waiting for my death. Heaven only knows the agony I then endured, for words can never describe it. And yet, if a few years previous, any one had told me that I was to be brought so low, and by so terrible a disease, I should have scoffed at the idea. I had always been uncommonly strong and healthy, had weighed over 200 pounds and hardly knew, in my own experience, what pain or sickness were. Very many people who will read this statement realize at times that they are unusually tired and cannot account for it. They feel dull and indefinite pains in various parts of the body and do not understand it. Or they are exceedingly hungry one day and entirely without appetite the next. This was just the way I felt when the relentless malady which had fastened itself upon me first began. Still I thought it was nothing; that probably I had taken a cold which would soon past away. Shortly after this I noticed a dull, and at times a neuralgic, pain in my head, but as it would come one day and be gone the next, I paid but little attention to it. However, my stomach was out of order and my food often failed to digest, causing at times great inconvenience. Yet I had no idea, even as a physician, that these things meant anything serious or that a monstrous disease was becoming fixed upon me. Candidly, I thought I was suffering from Malaria and so deceived myself accordingly. But I got no better. I next noticed a peculiar color and odor about the fluid I was passing—also that there were large quantities one day and very little the next, and that a persistent froth and scum appeared upon the surface, and a sediment settled in the bottom. And yet I did not realize my danger, for, indeed, seeing these symptoms continually, I finally became accustomed to them, and my suspicion was wholly disarmed by the fact that I had no pain in the affected organs or in their vicinity. Why I should have been so blind I cannot understand.

There is a terrible future for all physical neglect, and impending danger always brings a person to his senses even though it may be too late. I realized, at last, my critical condition and aroused myself to overcome it. And, Oh! how hard I tried! I consulted the best medical skill in the land. I visited all the prominent mineral springs in America and travelled from Maine to California. Still I grew worse. No two physicians agreed as to my malady. One said I was troubled with spinal irritation; another, nervous prostration; another, malaria; another, dyspepsia; another, heart disease; another, general debility; another, congestion of the base of the brain; and so on through a long list of common diseases, the symptoms of all of which I really had. In this way several years passed during all of which time I was steadily growing worse. My condition had really become pitiable. The slight symptoms I at first experienced were developed into terrible and constant disorders—the little twigs of pain had grown to oaks of agony. My weight had been reduced from 207 to 130 pounds. My life was a torture to myself and friends. I could retain no food upon my stomach, and lived wholly by injections. I was a living mass of pain. My pulse was uncontrollable. In my agony I frequently fell upon the floor, convulsively clutched the carpet, and prayed for death. Morphine had little or no effect in deadening the pain. For six days and nights I had the death-premonitory hiccoughs constantly. My urine was filled with tube casts and albumen. I was struggling with Bright's Disease of the Kidneys in its last stages.

While suffering thus I received a call from my pastor, the Rev. Dr. Foote, rector of St. Paul's Church, of this city. I felt that it was our last interview, but in the course of conversation he mentioned a remedy of which I had heard much but had never used. Dr. Foote detailed to me the many remarkable cures which had come under his observation, by means of this remedy, and urged me to try it. As a practising physician and a graduate of the schools, I cherished the prejudice both natural and common with all regular practitioners, and derided the idea of any medicine outside the regular channels, being the least beneficial. So solicitous, however, was Dr. Foote, that I finally promised I would waive my prejudice and try the remedy he so highly recommended. I began its use on the first day of June, and took it according to directions. At first it sickened me; but this I thought was a good sign for me in my debilitated condition. I continued to take it; the sinking sensation departed and I was able to retain food upon my stomach. In a few days I noticed a decided change for the better, as also did my and wife friends. My hiccoughs ceased and I experienced less pain than formerly. I was so rejoiced at this improved condition that, upon what I had believed but a few days before was my dying bed, I vowed, in the presence of my family and friends, should I recover I would both publicly and privately make known this remedy for the good of humanity, wherever and whenever I had an opportunity. I also determined that I would give a course of lectures in the Corinthian Academy of Music of this city, stating in full the symptoms and almost hopelessness of my disease and the remarkable means by which I have been saved. My improvement was constant from that time, and in less than three months I had gained 26 pounds in flesh, became entirely free from pain and I believe I owe my life and present condition wholly to Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, the remedy which I used.

Since my recovery I have thoroughly re-investigated the subject of kidney difficulties and Bright's disease, and the truths developed are astounding. I therefore state, deliberately, and as a physician, that I believe that more than one-half of the deaths which occurr in America, are caused by Bright's disease of the kidneys. This may sound like a rash statement, but I am prepared to fully verify it. Bright's disease has no distinctive symptoms of its own, (indeed, it often develops without any pain whatever in the kidneys or their vicinity,) but has the symptoms of nearly every other known complaint. Hundreds of people die daily, whose burials are authorized by a physician's certificate of "Heart Disease," "Apoplexy," "Paralysis," "Spinal Complaint," "Rheumatism," "Pneumonia," and other common complaints, when in reality it was Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Few physicians, and fewer people, realize the extent of this disease or its dangerous and insidious nature. It steals into the system like a thief, manifests its presence by the commonest symptoms, and fastens itself upon the constitution before the victim is aware. It is nearly as hereditary as consumption, quite as common and fully as fatal. Entire families, inheriting it from their ancestors, have died, and yet none of the number knew or realized the mysterious power which was removing them. Instead of common symptoms it often shows none what ever, but brings death suddenly, and as such is usually supposed to be heart disease. As one who has suffered, and knows by bitter experience what he says, I implore every one who reads these words not to neglect the slightest symptoms of Kidney difficulty. Certain agony and possible death will be the sure result of such neglect, and no one can afford to hazard such chances.

I am aware that such an unqualified statement as this, coming from me, known as I am throughout the entire land as a practitioner and lecturer, will arouse the surprise and possible animosity of the medical profession and astonish all with whom I am acquainted, but I make the foregoing statements based upon facts which I am prepared to produce and truths which I can substantiate to the letter. The welfare of those who may possibly be sufferers such as I was, is an ample inducement for me to take the step I have, and if I can successfully warn others from the dangerous path in which I once walked, I am willing to endure all professional and personal consequences.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good catharic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Then and Now.

Benjamin F. Butler having formally accepted the double-barrelled nomination for governor of Massachusetts which he had the democratic and greenback conventions tender him, is now the "regular" candidate of the democracy of that state—the confessed head of the party. A couple of years ago, when Butler's "short-hairs" climbed into the Worcester convention by the back windows, and captured it, the "kid-gloved democracy," under the lead of Judge Abbott, cast several thousand votes—about nine thousand, we believe—against him at the polls; but this year the short-haired and kid-gloved gentry are as one for the man who has so pluckily fought his way to the head of the party.

Benjamin F. Butler the "regular" candidate for the "regular" democracy for governor of Massachusetts! What a change of sentiment since the days of the war and reconstruction! No one man, probably, has been more scurrilously abused by the democratic press in the past, than Gen. Butler; even "Ape Lincoln," as many of the democratic papers delighted to call him during his life, was not so hated and vilified as Butler. He was held up to the world as a brutal tyrant, a murderer, a coward and a wholesale thief; and to this day the mass of the people of England and her colonies in the southern hemisphere believe that Butler gave his soldiers in New Orleans free permission to ravish any women who might take their fancy. It was a specially good-tempered day with the average democratic editor, during the war and for years after its close, when he did not refer to the bold general by any more abusive epithet than "Spoon-thief" or "Beast Butler."

Now, after all these years, he has the democratic party conquered; it has taken him longer to subdue the party in Massachusetts than it did to subdue their rebellious friends in Baltimore and New Orleans, but the later victory is as complete as were the others, and henceforth he will no more be called either spoon-thief or beast by the democratic organs.

The Maine State Prison.

The Portland Advertiser thinks something is out of joint at Thomaston, when one murderer is allowed to walk off in broad daylight, and another smuggles a hammer into his cell and nearly brains an officer. If the supervision of the convicts were as strict as it should be, these things could not happen. — Exchange.

True; and if the supervision of the convicts were as strict as it should be, and the discipline maintained what it ought to be, some blathering sentimentalist like "the Rev. Burnham Wardwell" would make a grand row over the oppression practised on the precious murderers and thieves, and get the efficient officials kicked out. The principal out-of-joint thing about the Maine state prison is, the keeping there of a lot of brutal ruffians whose lives have been forfeited by their crimes, instead of putting them under ground, where they would be safe from doing harm.

The Newburyport Horror.

The Huntington family of Amesbury, Mass., which was broken up on Saturday by the drowning of the parents and four of the children, consisted of the following persons: George F. Huntington, the father, aged thirty-six years; Nettie (Dow) Huntington, the mother, aged twenty-nine; Herbert, aged nearly fourteen; Nellie, aged twelve, George, aged about eight, Lillian Maud, aged six, Arthur, aged five, Gracie, aged two, and Nettie, aged one year. Nellie, Arthur, Gracie and Nettie were in the boat with their parents, and were drowned with them. Mr. Huntington was quite a prominent citizen of Amesbury, and highly esteemed; he was a member of Warren Lodge of Freemasons, secretary of the lodge of Knights of Honor, and foreman of Merrimac engine company. Mrs. Huntington was a native of Seabrook, N. H.

News and Notes.

The German steamship Herder, from New York for Hamburg with seventy passengers and a crew of 118 men, was lost near Cape Race, Newfoundland, on the night of the 8th inst.; she ran ashore three miles from the cape in a fog. All hands saved.

About 250 men turned out at Beckel, Mass., last Saturday, to hunt for Dwight Cadwell, an old man who had been missing several days, and his dead body was found in the woods.

The British steamship Mount Lebanon has arrived at Halifax under sail, having lost her propeller on the 26th ult. through its striking a whale. The steamer was on the voyage from Baltimore to Havre.

William Hunt, colored, a porter on the Pullman cars of the Boston & Albany railroad, is under arrest for being too much married, he having in 1873 been united in matrimony to Fannie C. Shaw, a young white women, in Boston, and in 1881 to another young white woman, named Catharine Holland, also in Boston. Hunt kept up two establishments, one in New York with wife No. 1, and the other in Boston with wife No. 2.

An unsuccessful attempt was made early last Saturday morning to blow open the safe of the savings bank at Northfield, Mass. Had the thieves succeeded in opening the safe they would have found nothing to steal.

Frank S. Manson, twenty years of age, was shot and instantly killed at Litchfield, Me., Saturday, by the accidental discharge of a gun. He was the son of Rev. Edwin Manson of Farmingdale, and a promising young man.

DIED.

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest eminence on both sides of the Atlantic, as an invaluable Tonic and Restorative in cases of General Debility, Nervous Depression, Enfeebled Constitution and Female Weakness.

NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a specific for their trouble. It stimulates the digestion, sharpens the appetite, invigorates and builds up the active system, and excites a generous flow of milk.

WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from insomnia and weariness, the result of disease, over-study, or nervous strain, will derive substantial benefit from its use. It restores the system to its normal condition and brings back the bloom of youth.

INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life, and restoring lost strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment, the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It neither pals upon the appetite nor offends the taste.

DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weakness of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It improves the digestion, purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and revives the spirits.

WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who require some artificial restorative—and especially those who are confined to Consumption-well find this preparation exactly suited to their needs. It is a specific for the Coughs and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.

AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The whole tendency of its action is to stimulate the digestion of the proceeding foods, and its effect is invariably to give fullness and roundness to the human form, and robustness to the individual frame.

THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Fluid Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from Alcohol. It is readily retained on the stomach and contains none but wholesome and nourishing ingredients. The genuine preparation bears on the label a fine engraved likeness of Baron von Liebig, and a signature in blue ink, as well as that of A. VOGELER & CO., BALTIMORE, MD., Sole Agents for America.

LIFE INSURANCE !

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.

READ !

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

258th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,

is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Oct. 9; Bufford J.

Georgie Weeks and Frankie Stone, female "drunks," $9.90 each; paid.

Edward Goodwin, arraigned on a complaint for assault on an Indian named Newell Keepland, was discharged; but he was required to pay $8.76 for one drunk by him had and expended.

George Howard and Charles Rayburn, charged with breaking and entering a store in Salem, N. H., on the night of Oct. 6th, and stealing therefrom, entered pleas of not guilty. On motion of the county solicitor, the cases were continued to Thursday, Oct. 12th. In default of bail in $1000 each, they were committed to jail.

CIRCUIT COURT OE THE UNITED STATES.

OCTOBER TERM: Clark J.

The October term of this court began at Concord on Monday, the 9th inst., Hon. Daniel Clark, United States district judge for the district of New Hampshire, presiding.

The jurors have been summoned to appear on Tuesday.

The suits against five cities of this state, brought by Mr. Norton on his valve-patent, were entered by J. C. Caverly of Dover.

At the call of the docket, in the case of Norton against Dover and other cities in this state a motion was made to quash the writs, on the ground that they were made returnable at a time out of term, namely, Oct. 8th; the term began Oct. 9th, and the defendants contend that the writs are bad, and the action cannot be maintained on these writs.

There will probably be no civil case for the jury at this term, as the patent-valve cases will probably be continued, and no other cases are in order for trial but some indictments not yet reported.

The following-named gentlemen were admitted to practice: Edgar L. Taft of Portsmouth, Charles S. McLane, John C. Caverly and John Kivel of Dover.

Several cars of a freight train on the Eastern railroad, bound from this city to Newburyport, got off the track on Saturday afternoon between Seabrook and Salisbury, and delayed other trains an hour or more. No person was hurt, and no damage done beyond the detention.

Mr. Edmund Clarence Stedman of New York, the banker-poet, has purchased of Mr. John Albee an eligible lot of land on the Jaffrey place, Newcastle, adjoining the lot recently purchased by Mr. Jacob Wendell, and intends to erect thereon a summer cottage. Mr. Stedman, while a guest at the Wentworth, saw with an appreciating eye the attractions of this spot, and lost no time in securing a proper site whereon to spend his summer vacation. He is known to many of our readers through several volumes of his poems published during the past ten years, as well as from his sketch of Edgar Allan Poe, published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co. last year, and dedicated to Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

The Pullman train from Boston, Monday evening, was about an hour behind time on its arrival in this city.

The schooner Good Templar, Capt. Robert White, arrived on the 7th inst. with seventy quintals of pollock. The schooner Willie, Capt. Elias Tarlton, arrived the same day with eighty quintals, caught off Jaffrey's. Capt. Oliver Adams, in his whaleboat, brought in 1200 lbs. of cod, and Charles Wallace brought in 2700 lbs., caught with handlines; their fares brought $2 per hundred. The schooner Helen Mar, which sailed from this port Oct. 1st, arrived on the 8th, and stocked $108 for the trip.

Some of the astronomers say that the wonderful comet now to be seen in the eastern sky at early morn will come back again in eight or nine years, and will probably then be visible in the evening. We are very much pleased to learn this; we have been intending for several weeks past to get up early some morning to see the comet, but have now concluded to wait till the procession comes 'round next time.

Mr. T. C. Meagher, the gilder, repairer of picture frames and renovater of old pictures, after being absent from the city all summer has returned and resumed business. He will also make new frames, which he has not previously done in this city.

The time-table of the steamer James Sampson, corrected for the winter trips between this city and Kittery, Newcastle and Kittery Point, can be found in another column.

The list of men attached to the life-saving station at Rye beach has been published, but it contained several inaccuracies, so we give the correct list, as follows: Keeper, George B. Caswell; surfmen—No. 1, Clarence H. Mathews; No. 2, Albert L. Remick; No. 3, Edward N. Downs; No. 4, Fred Philbrook; No. 5, Woodbury L. Jenness; No. 6, John A. Mace; No. 7, Joseph W. Berry. Messrs. Mace and Berry, the latter of whom goes on duty Dec. 1st, are the only new members of the crew, all the others having been in the service in seasons past.

Over 2700 tons of coal arrived on Sunday and Monday to J. Albert Walker, the schooner T. B. Witherspoon having 523 tons, the Jas. Ford 977 tons, the Martha N. Haile 900 tons, and the D. B. Everett 339 tons.

Sending horses overland, instead of by rail, is quite the custom for summer residents. Mr. Frank W. Jones drove his team attached to his dog-cart from Portsmouth to Boston recently. Paymaster C. F. Guild also drove his horse from this city to Newton, Mass., last week. Commodore Chas. W. Pickering has recently arrived home, driving from the Franconia region, in his buggy; and Col. Eastman's pair make the distance between Odiorne's point, Rye, and Littleton, twice a year. One of the sojurners at Foss' beach this season came in his own conveyance from Bradford, Vermont. Many years ago this was the only mode of travel and conveyance of merchandise between Vermont and Portsmouth, and for those who have the time and inclination, there is no better enjoyment than that derived from a long carriage journey.

The Boston Post of Monday says: "It is stated that the laborers in the various navy yards of the country have prepared bills for two hours' extra service per day since the passage of the eight-hour law, and will present them for payment by the government." What truth there is in the statement we do not know; but we do know that the act of Congress fixing the day's work at eight hours has been disregarded and nullified by successive secretaries of the navy for years, though it is still the law of the land.

The schooner Hannah E. Shubert, with 600 tons of coal for the equipment department, arrived at the navy yard on Sunday afternoon from Philadelphia.

Mr. John Rogers, the florist of Kittery, has on his grounds a bed of saffron crocuses. This crocus is a somewhat peculiar plant; in the early spring it shoots up a leaf similar to that of the ordinary crocus, but produces no flower; the leaf soon dies down, and the plant remains apparently dormant until fall, when it sends up a stalk bearing on the end a very large bud, which when it opens discloses from ten to fifteen large and very handsome flowers. The effect of a large number of these flowers in a mass is very rich, there being no foliage visible in the bed.

During one of the heavy gales toward the end of last month, as Albion Libby who lives on the Cutts road in Kittery, was walking around his house in the evening, he narrowly escaped being crushed by a large piece of the house which was blown over by a gust of extra vigor, the other part of the building remaining on its foundations. Mr. Libby is said to think the house was hit by an earthquake, but the opinion of the neighbors is that old age hit it harder than anything else. Mr. Libby will build a new house shortly.

—The Belfast (Me.) Journal gives a ludicrous account of a case of bribery in that city. It appears that a leading fusionist, who was the party candidate for senator, has been giving an Irish-American voter who is a neighbor the refuse of the house day after day, for the pig of the poorer neighbor. Election day the candidate and donor of swill was on hand to take care of the man to whose pig he had contributed so much, but arrived only to see him depositing a straight republican ballot. It was ingratitude itself, and wrung from the long-expectant dispenser the remark: "You'll get no more swill at my house, John." The gentleman who made this remark expected to be governor in the event of the election of Governor Plaisted to the senate.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere Twenty-five cents a bottle. eod&wtjan82

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is seriously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its peculiar burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and relieves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Flooding, all Displacements, and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world, for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

Philadelphia, Pa. (2) Mrs. A. M. D.

This plaster is absolutely the best ever made, combining the virtues of hops with gums, balsams and extracts. Its power is wonderful in curing diseases where other plasters simply relieve. Crick in the Back and Neck, Pain in the Side or Limbs, Stiff Joints and Muscles, Kidney Troubles, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Chest, Affections of the Heart and Liver, and all pains or aches in any part cured instantly by the Hop Plaster.

A Remarkable Record.

The year of the official reports of railroads in Massachusetts closed on September 30th, and the record is very remarkable. Not a single fatal accident to a passenger is given for the year just closed, and no passenger has been seriously injured. The whole number of persons killed during the year was 140, and they were chiefly trespassers or persons carelessly crossing tracks. Some of the unfortunates were train hands, but in evidence it appears that these fatalities were due to carelessness on their part. Last year fourteen passengers were killed, all but four of them from their own carelessness, while the total killed was 184, and the year before 146. This shows the dangerous character of the service on railroads to their employes, of whom more than ten times as many are killed by accidents as there are of passengers killed on the roads.

It is asserted in a New York special that Mr. Davenport has finally been able to obtain evidence which fixes the forgery of the Morey letter upon H. H. Hadley, a so-called Hancock republican, who was an annex to the democratic headquarters in New York. He is said to be an expert penman, and having secured some manuscript of Gen. Garfield, was able to write a hand somewhat resembling it, while a letter from Gen. Garfield's clerk enabled him to buy stationery like that used by the republican candidate. It is said that Mr. Davenport is about to publish the facts in a pamphlet. It will be interesting reading.

Coal Oil or Petroleum may be very nice for illumination or lubricating purposes, but surely it is not the proper thing to cure a cough with. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is looked upon as the standard Cough remedy.

In a quarrel about politics in Memphis, Tenn., Friday night, Mr. Wimberly, internal revenue collector, attempted to shoot Col. M. C. Galloway, editor of the Appeal, but was prevented and arrested.

Good Advice.

You will prevent and cure the greater part of the ills that afflict mankind in this or any section, if you keep your stomach, liver and kidneys in perfect working order. There is no medicine known that does this as surely as Parker's Ginger Tonic. It will keep your blood rich and pure, and give you good health at little cost. See other column.

A suit was entered, Friday, on the part of the A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing company against the United States flax mills of Central Falls, R. I., a portion of the former Sprague estate, and on Saturday the property was attached in the sum of $500,000. The suit is one of assumpsit and indebtedness. This still further increases the legal complications of the Sprague affairs.

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is a most powerful restorative tonic, also combining the most valuable nervine properties, especially adapted to the wants of debilitated ladies suffering from weak back, inward fever, congestion, inflammation, or ulceration, or from nervousness or neuralgic pains. By druggists.

Five men were killed and six others dangerously injured on Friday evening last at Mountain Grove, Mo., on the line of the Springfield & Memphis railroad, by a premature blast; they were railroad men.

Why Welcome.

What makes Floreston Cologne welcome on every lady's toilet table is its lasting fragrance and rich, flowery odor.

There is discord between the Fenians and the Irish Land League. The Irish World, of New York, has closed its columns to further reports of the land league, and declared the organization out of existence. The British government will not shed many tears over the split.

Doctor Yourself

and save money, and perhaps your life; send two 3 cents stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy of Dr. Kaufmann's great medical work, 100 pages, elegant colored plates.

Thomas Kenney, a young man in the employ of Charles Wing & Co. of Amesbury, Mass., was kicked to death by a horse on Saturday. He was twenty-nine years of age.

A true tonic medicine, a blessing in every household, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a cure cure for all Female Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, and all weaknesses caused by those irregularities which are so common to women. It is a tonic. This is no patent Medicine, but is prepared, after years of experience, and recommended, knowing that it will give new life to any broken-down, worn out or over-worked member of the sex.

If you have tried other remedies without success, do not be discouraged, but give "LADIES' TONIC" a single trial. It cost only $1 to give quick and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, lay aside the doctor's prescription for once, and try "Ladies' Tonic," which we guarantee will positively cure you. One Bottle is Sufficient.

Women's Medical Institute is an Association of Wives and Mothers of years' experience, who give advice and answer letters from ladies free.

Free will be given for any case of Female Weakness or liability which "Ladies' Tonic" will not cure. This is a bona fide offer, made by responsible ladies who know from experience what "LADIES' TONIC" can do. Send stamp for circular.

SUFFER

no longer from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, want of Appetite, loss of Strength lack of Energy, Malaria, Intermittent Fevers, &c. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS never fails to cure all these diseases.

Boston, November 26, 1881.
BROWN CHEMICAL CO.
Gentlemen:—For years I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and could get no relief (having tried everything which was recommended) until, acting on the advice of a friend, who had been benefitted by BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, I tried a bottle, with most surprising results. Previous to taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, everything I ate distressed me, and I suffered greatly from a burning sensation in the stomach, which was unbearable. Since taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, all my troubles are at an end. Can eat any time without any disagreeable results. I am practically another person. MRS. W. J. FLYNN,
30 Maverick St., E. Boston.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS acts like a charm on the digestive organs, removing all dyspeptic symptoms, such as tasting the food, Belching, Heat in the Stomach, Heartburn, etc. The only Iron Preparation that will not blacken the teeth or give headache.

News and Notes.

Active work is being done by the police under the stimulus of the heavy reward offered for the arrest of the murderer or murderers of A. W. Ross at Cincinnati. The most generally accepted theory is that the murder was committed by persons who knew Mr. Ross' habit of going by the late train on Saturday night, and that he was accustomed to alight from the train at the crossing near his home in Glendale, instead of riding to the depot. His body was found within 150 feet of the railroad, showing that he was attacked immediately after leaving the train.

In Gloucester, Mass., last Sunday evening, great excitement was caused in the Congregational church by the discharging of a pistol by a boy named John P. Dow, who claims that it was an accident. A boy named Johnson was killed last July by the same pistol, by accident.

We have received from Edwin Alden & Bro., advertising agents of Cincinnati and New York city, their "American Newspaper Catalogue" for 1882, just issued. It contains lists of all the newspapers and magazines published in the United States and the Canadas, with much information about the papers and the places in which they are published, the whole being especially arranged for the convenience of advertisers.

—Dr. Newman Smyth's opening sermon in his church at New Haven was from the text, "Arise, let us go hence." In the principal newspaper office of New Haven somebody blundered to such a frightful extent that this text was rendered, "Amen: let us go home."

A Jersey man has invented a cigar holder by means of which a man can smoke three cigars at one time; but, alas! no man can invent a three-barrelled beer glass.—Ex.

One barrel of beer ought to be sufficient for a drink, unless a fellow has a hogs-head to pour it into.

Every horse owner caring the least for his stock, believes in St. Jacobs Oil.

In Long Island City, N. Y., on the 9th inst., Anthony Comstock raided a number of pool rooms, and captured property estimated to have cost $15,000.

Spring Medicine.

As a remedy to carry off the accumulation of thick bile from the liver and viscid secretion from the other glands of the system, the Swedish Botanic Compound is invaluable. It will arouse all the functions of the body to healthy action, purify the blood, restore the appetite, and carry off those symptoms of languor and heaviness everybody feels more or less as the warm season approaches.—Adv.

At Bridgeport, Conn., on the 9th inst., at the Union Metallic Cartridge Co.'s works, a barrel containing 50,000 breech-loading caps exploded, blowing the building in which it was to pieces, but injuring no person.

A Brave Lady.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 11, 1882.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N. H. as second-class matter.]

"Then and Now."

Our article of the 10th inst., under the above heading, in which we referred to the scurrilous abuse poured out by the democratic editors of twenty years ago upon the head of the present democratic candidate for governor of Massachusetts, seems to have riled our brother of the Times, (hope it isn't conscience that makes him squeak,) who in his issue of that evening says:

The CHRONICLE of this morning had a nasty editorial upon Benjamin F. Butler. It is not often that it ventures into the arena of political discussion, and it is fortunate for its readers that it does not, if to-day's issue is a sample of its production. Whatever Butler has been, or may be now, the CHRONICLE should bear in mind that he has received quite as strong endorsement from republicans as from democrats, especially in his career at New Orleans.

If our brother could manage to read our item understandingly, he would see that we said nothing whatever against Gen. Butler; we merely called attention to the outrageous slanders formerly heaped upon him by the democrats. And further, it may not be impertinent for us to remind our neighbor that the CHRONICLE was always (and is now) ready to give Gen. Butler full credit for his glorious management in Baltimore and New Orleans, even in the days when the Times could find no better names for him than "Spoon-thief" and "Beast."

AROUND HOME.

The Pepperell house at Kittery Point was built by Mr. Safford about eleven years ago, and when finished and furnished there were encumbrances on it to the amount of $12,000. The last mortgage, by the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Co., has just been raised, the earnings of the house having cleared off the entire debt, besides paying the running expenses, and for what new furniture, improvements to buildings and grounds, etc., have been necessary. The successful landlord attributes the greater part of his success to Mrs. Safford, his wife, whose judicious management in her department has not only made the house profitable to the proprietor but highly popular with its patrons, many of whom return year after year, coming early in the season and staying late.

The county commissioners of York county have laid out the road from the Hotel Bartlett to York harbor, and it will be built before the season of summer travel opens next year. This is considered as positively assuring the construction of the steamboat pier at or near Lobster cove, and the putting of a fast and commodious steamer on the line between York beach and Portsmouth, in time for next season's business.

Mrs. T. Bigelow Lawrence is at her summer residence at York Harbor.

Two boarders still remain at the Dunning house, at Long sands, York beach, and are probably the last of the summer visitors; they have been at the house for seven weeks, and will not leave until Wednesday, the 18th inst.

In connection with the recent surprise party at Mr. Joseph L. Marden's, at Kittery Point, it will be well to correct an oversight which occurred in the notice of last week. Mention should have been made of the presence of Mrs. Olive Chaney, the only living sister of Mrs. Marden, who is nearly seventy years of age, and came from Rye, N. H., to be present at the occasion. Also of Mr. Herbert Day and wife, who came from Kennebunk, Me., for the same purpose. Mrs. Day is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marden. Mrs. Nancy Weathers of Kittery was also present, her husband being detained at home by sickness. The evening was one long to be remembered. A.

Mr. Prevaux, the Amesbury and Boston expressman who had a leg broken and received other injuries in the accident on the Eastern railroad at Castle hill, Salem, on the 19th of April last, when F. G. Woodbury of Beverly was fatally hurt, is reported to have made a settlement with the road. The accident, it will be remembered, was caused by the stopping of a gravel train on a side track in such a position that the rear car was struck by a passing passenger train.

The passenger-rate war between the Eastern and the Revere Beach & Lynn railroads, while it cannot be very profitable to the belligerent corporations is a serious injury to Lynn. The storekeepers in Lynn report a very perceptible and most discouraging falling off in their regular trade, the five-cent fare inducing hundreds of people to go to Boston to make small purchases which would otherwise be made of the local dealers. Still another serious cause of complaint in Lynn and neighboring towns is that the low fare induces the hoodlums and roughs of Boston to swarm into the country on Sunday, to the great discomfort and annoyance of decent people in those places. It is said that the two railroads on Sunday last handled 35,000 passengers, and Lynn was overrun with the subsoil of Boston's slums; several drug stores were cleaned out by the roughs, women were insulted on the streets, and the most disgraceful scenes were enacted; the police force had to be increased, and even then the roughs had things pretty much their own way. The people of Lynn, of all classes, earnestly desire an immediate change in the rates.

Wonderful Maternity.

Among the passengers on board the Red Star Line steamer Vaderland, on a recent voyage from Antwerp to this port, were three sisters who had married three brothers, the ceremony in each instance being performed on the same day, seventeen months ago. They are Germans, and belong to the middle class. After arriving at this port the women and their husbands remained at the old emigrant depot on the steamship dock, until the latter obtained employment at their trade, two of them being tailors and the remaining one a shoemaker. A small house was secured on Minerva street, a small thoroughfare in the vicinity of the Philadelphia & Reading coal wharves, at Port Richmond. A few articles of furniture were secured with their meagre means, and the three couples commenced housekeeping together.

On Thursday afternoon the youngest sister became the mother of two fine, healthy-looking girls, the out-door physician of the guardian of the poor in that vicinity being called on to perform the medical service. After the departure of the latter, and while her two sisters were in the act of congratulating the newly-made mamma, the elder of the two found that she was in need of the doctor's services, and before he could be summoned she also gave birth to twin boys. Later in the evening the remaining sister, who is twenty-two years of age and a good-looking blonde, did as well as her other sisters, by presenting her husband with two girls. It is said that the physician, when summoned on the third occasion, concluded to remain at the house all night, thinking that his services in a medical capacity might be required again before daylight with other members of this prolific family.

The children have not as yet been named, and the families have been visited by many of the neighbors and others, each bringing with them a present of some character of baby's wearing apparel for the little ones, and also nourishment for the three German girls who vied with each other in their presents to their liegelords and masters.—Philadelphia Trans.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Oct. 4.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 1902; Sheep and Lambs 9071; Swine 18,635; Veals 56; Horses 95; number of western cattle 1642; eastern and northern cattle, milch cows, etc., 320.

Prices of Beef Cattle ℔ 100 lbs, live weight—Extra quality $7 37½ @ $7 12½; first quality $6 25 @ $7 25; second quality $5 87½ @ $6 12½; third quality $4 37½ @ $5; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, etc., $3 37½ @ $4 25.

Brighton hides 10c ℔ lb.

Brighton tallow 7½ @ 8c ℔ lb.

Country hides, heavy ones 7c ℔ lb; light ones, 7½c ℔ lb.

Country tallow 5c ℔ lb.

Calf skins 12½c ℔ lb.

Sheep skins $2 @ 7c each.

Lamb skins $1 @ 1 12½ each.

The demand for skins is no better than that of last week, most of the wool skins being of a coarse grade, the wool of which is not in so good demand as finer qualities are.

The quality of cattle brought into market the past week was mostly of a common grade, there being but a few lots of nice native cattle offered for sale. Some of the best cattle were taken for the English markets. The trade has been slow at last week's prices, and but few, if any, lots sold at our highest quotations, sales in most instances ranging from 8½ @ 9c ℔ lb live weight. Quite a large number of cattle brought in were Texas and Colorado.

Working oxen are in lightdemand and the supply far exceeds the demand, light for the time past. We note sales of 1 pr, girth 7 ft, live weight 2000 lbs, $150; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2500 lbs, $145; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 7 in, live weight 2700 lbs, $135.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $10 @ $15; 2-year olds $14 @ $20; 3-year olds $25 @ $35 ℔ head. Prices for small cattle depend much upon their value for beef.

Milch Cows and Springers—Good cows sell very fairly, but common grades sell dull. We quote sales of 4 new milch cows at $120 the lot; 3 do at $60 each; 3 do at $50; 3 do at $70 the two; 1 extra new milch cow at $46; 2 new milch cows at $45 each; 1 do at $40; 1 springer and 1 new milch cow at $70 the two.

Veal calves in fair demand at 3 @ 7c ℔ lb, live weight.

Sheep and Lambs—Western sheep cost from 5 @ 6c and lambs 6 @ 7c ℔ lb, live weight. The larger portion were owned by Hollis & Co, who are also handling large numbers of eastern lambs for parties at a commission.

Swine—Fat Hogs—Prices 8½ @ 9½c ℔ lb, live weight. Store Pigs—Trade dull; prices 6 @ 8c ℔ lb, live weight, or from $1 50 @ $6 50 ℔ head.

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

READ!

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

258th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1 25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,

is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

A special meeting of the board of instruction was held on Monday evening, Oct. 9th.

Present, the mayor, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Wilson, and Messrs. Butler, Batchelder, George, Garrett, Goodrich, Knight, Locke, Pender and Vaughan.

It was announced that Mr. James Appleby of Rochester, elected as teacher of the Walker school at the regular meeting of the board on the 4th inst., declined to accept the position; and a Mr. Lord was elected to teach as substitute for the remainder of the school year.

GOT ONE AT LAST.

An adjourned meeting of the democratic convention for the Portsmouth senatorial district was held in the court house on Tuesday evening, Oct. 10th, to endeavor to find some one willing to be the party's candidate.

The convention was called to order at eight o'clock by the chairman, Samuel Spinney, Esq., and a letter from Dr. F. E. Potter, declining the nomination tendered him by the convention at its first meeting, was read.

A ballot for a candidate was then taken, and Thomas E. Call, Jr., having the whole number of votes thrown, was declared the nominee.

Charles W. Stimson, Benjamin M. Parker and Benjamin Atwell were appointed a committee to inform Mr. Call of his nomination, and returned with the information that he accepted it.

A resolution was passed instructing the candidate, if elected, to use all honorable means to secure the repeal of the law providing for the election of a board of instruction in this city, and a return to the old method.

Having at last succeeded in getting a candidate to accept the nomination, the convention adjourned without day.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Oct. 10; Batchelder J.

George Alton, charged with drunkenness, was let off on probation.

John Caton, another drunk, was fined $3, costs $6.90; being a regular customer of the court he was not let off on probation, but was sent to the county farm, it being a peculiarity of this place of business that the more regular a patron is in his calls the less reduction in prices he can get.

IN DISTRESS.

About eleven o'clock Tuesday forenoon a deep-loaded schooner came to anchor off the life-saving station at Rye beach, and displayed her ensign in the rigging, union down. The life-saving crew at once boarded her, and found her to be the Nautilus, of Deer Isle, Me., 39.45 tons register, bound from York, Me., to Boston with a cargo of bricks, and leaking about 4000 strokes an hour. The anchor was lifted, and Keeper Caswell and Surfman A. L. Remick assisted the two men composing the schooner's crew to work the vessel into this harbor, the rest of the surfmen returning to the station. The schooner arrived here between nine and ten o'clock Tuesday evening, and was run on the mud in the dock near Herbert's wharf, the water being then over her cabin floor, though the pumps had been kept going all the time.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

[October Term; Clark J.]

TUESDAY, Oct. 11th.

In the suit of the Boston & Lowell railroad vs. the Manchester & Keene railroad, a hearing was had upon a motion to refer the answer of S. W. Hale and H. Colony for scandal and impertinence. The B. & L. R. R., by Wm. L. Foster, moved to dismiss the bill, and Mr. Foster made the same motion on behalf of the M. & K. R. R. Decision reserved. Hall of Boston for complainant; W. L. Foster for M. & K. R. R. and B. & L. R. R.

The grand jury were sworn, and Chas. H. Worcerter of Hollis was appointed foreman. Judge Clarke in his charge explained the mode of selecting jurors for United States courts from the district, nature of offences against the laws of the United States, and the jurisdiction of this court over offenders against those laws.

In several cases entered at this term, are motions to dismiss on the ground that the writs were made returnable on the 8th of October, which was Sunday, and not on the Monday following, which is the time fixed by law for the opening of the court when the 8th of May or October falls on Sunday.

Quite a large number of lawyers were in attendance on account of the New Hampshire Land Co. cases.

Luther S. Morrill, Esq., of Concord, was admitted to practise as an attorney.

THE "BRICKERS."

There are eight vessels comprised in the regular "brick fleet" which sails from the waters of the Piscataqua. They are built or selected especially for their peculiar business, being necessarily of light draught, good carriers, and most of them fast sailers. Their crews usually consist of a master, mate, and two foremast hands; the captains are good seamen, and some of them have been over the route between this port and Boston so often that it is said they know all the waves by sight. As they are all residents of this vicinity, a large share of their business is done in Portsmouth. The schooners carry from forty to seventy-five thousand bricks each trip, the freight at the present time being $2 per thousand.

The writer recently made a trip in one of these schooners, and the following is a concise account of it: The "D. K. Ham," getting under weigh from Fort Constitution, where she had been for several days detained by a heavy gale, made Thatcher's island in three hours, and Boston in four hours more. After discharging her cargo she made the return trip, although sitting light on the water, in about the same time as the outward trip, the voyage occupying a little more than a week, the schooner having been detained in Boston by adverse weather. In pleasant weather a trip of this kind is very agreeable; sailing as these schooners do, well in to the shore, a fine view is obtained of the coast towns and villages of New Hampshire, and that part of Massachusetts between Cape Ann and Boston. But in the early spring and late autumn, when the brickers commence and end their trips, the crews have hard work and often rough times.

The class of men engaged in this trade is an exceptionally good one; the crew of the D. K. Ham, which may serve as an example, is as follows: Ellery O. Garland, master; Ephraim E. Anderson, mate; Sewell Aderton, (son of Capt. Aderton, of the schooner Satellite,) and an elderly man of Dover, seamen. Capt. Garland entered upon a seafaring life when but a boy, and worked himself up by steadiness and attention to business; he is twenty-seven years old, a pleasant and agreeable gentleman, and the D. K. Ham is his second command. As he is ambitious and energetic, and a good seaman, it is quite likely that some of those interested in commerce by water will assist him to the command of a good three-master, for which position he is abundantly qualified. Of the mate, Mr. Anderson, it is enough to say he has spent some time with Capt. Garland. VIATOR.

Chief Engineer Ezra J. Whittaker is ordered to this navy yard.

Mr. M. C. Foye makes another announcement of interest to the ladies.

The Park Concert company will give a sacred concert in Music hall on Sunday evening next.

The schooner Margaret, Leighton master, arrived on the 8th inst., and the Adeliza, Frisbee master, on the 9th, both from Port Johnson with coal for E. F. Sise & Co.

Over two hundred people were fed by Mr. W. K. Hill, at the Eastern railroad restaurant, before seven o'clock in the morning on Tuesday; an excursion train from Portland made a stop at this station, and the hungry travellers found plenty to eat and drink, as did all who came during the day.

Gen. Charles Sawtelle, U. S. A., chief quartermaster of the military department of the Atlantic, paid an official visit to Fort Constitution recently, and made an inspection of the barracks, hospital, and other dilapitated buildings in the fort, and it is hoped the tumble-down old structures will be demolished as a consequence. As the fort is worthless as a means of defence, the old buildings can never be of any use except for firewood or to build fences with.

Atkinson's Jollities, a musical and dramatic company who have played the "Electrical Doll" in this city on several occasions, have been having an unjolly time lately among themselves, and the entire company left the manager last week at Erie, Pa.

The 29th annual meeting of the New Hampshire State Teachers' association will be held in the city hall at Concord on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 20th and 21st. The Concord & Portsmouth railroad will sell round trip tickets at two cents a mile to all persons visiting Concord to attend the sessions of the association. Any male teacher in New Hampshire can become a member of the association by signing the constitution and paying one dollar; any lady teacher, by signing the constitution.

Lynn, Mass.

Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL,
Conductor L. & B. R. R.

I consider Swedish Botanic Compound the best Blood Purifier and Spring Medicine in use.

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Women," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will act all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1, per bottle or six for $5, and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

Naval Affairs.

Naval Constructor Mintoyne is detached from the Boston navy yard, and ordered to the New York yard.

Naval Constructor Thomas E. Webb is ordered to the Boston navy yard.

The training ship Portsmouth, Comdr. Hoff commanding, arrived at Newport, R. I., on the 8th inst., and went up the river to Gould island. She has been absent since April 17th, when she sailed for Europe in company with the Saratoga, the two vessels having sailed about 11,000 miles since then. Their last place to touch at was Madeira, from whence the Saratoga sailed Sept. 2d, to take a large number of boys to Aspinwall for transfer to the Pacific squadron.

Under date of Yokohama, Japan, Sept. 20th, Rear Admiral Clitz, commanding the United States naval forces on the Asiatic station, reports to the naval department that the trouble between Japan and Corea has apparently been settled, and hostilities will not take place. Cholera still exists in Yokohama. The health of the squadron continues excellent.

—Two Chinese were arrested in Philadelphia for gambling. They explained, through a witness, that they were dealers in Chinese products. Certain suspicious looking cards were records of money deposited, perforated slips of paper were lists of goods sold, watches were on the table so that the proprietors might know when to send the customers home, and dominoes were played just for fun. The story was rather elaborate, but the police magistrate accepted it.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend S. Sherson, Esq., at present a resident of the town of Rawlings, in the far-off territory of Wyoming. "Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator has helped me right along," says Mr. Sherson. Glad to hear it, old fellow. Yours was an aggravated case of heart disease. The remedy you mention does the same thing in this section too; and better still, it always cures heart disease.—Nast's Weekly Letter-File.

A partially starved horse, a buggy, harness and other equipments, sewing machine, man's shirt, and a copy of the Amesbury & Salisbury News of Sept. 14th, have been found in different places in Ellis woods, between Framingham and Southboro, Mass., by E. J. Brown. Some persons think that foul play has been practised.

"The great value of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all diseases of women is demonstrated by every day experience. The writer of this had occasion to step into the principal Pharmacy of a city of 140,000 inhabitants, and on inquiry as to which is the most popular proprietary medicine of the time, was answered, that Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound occupies a most conspicuous place in the front rank of all the remedies of this class now before the public.—Journal.

In the action Angustine F. Long vs. city of Nashua, for damages received by Mr. Long by falling on the ice, the jury returned a verdict of $200 for the plaintiff.

The peculiar action on the kidneys and urinary organs of asparagus is frequently noticed during the season. Prof. Benson recently proved in the case of the Emperor William and others that in combination with malt and quinine it is an absolute specific for diseases of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. His method has been adopted by the Malt Bitters Company, and this great German food is now composed of malt, hops, quinine bark and asparagus.—Medical Times.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a sure cure for all Female Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, and all weaknesses caused by these irregularities which are so common to womankind. This is no Patent Medicine, but is prepared, after years of experience, and recommended, knowing that it will give new life to any broken-down, worn out or overtaxed sufferer of the sex.

If you have tried other remedies without success, do not be discouraged, but give "LADIES' TONIC" a single trial. It never fails to give quick and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, lay aside the doctor's prescription for once, and try "Ladies' Tonic," which we guarantee will positively cure you. One Bottle is Sufficient.

Women's Medical Institute is an Association of Women and Mothers of years' experience, who give advice and answer letters from ladies. Free.

Ladies' Tonic is for any case of Female Weakness or Inability which "Ladies' Tonic" will not cure. This is a bold offer, made by ladies who know from experience what "LADIES' TONIC" can do and stands for its cure.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS never fails to cure all these diseases.

Boston, November 26, 1881.

BROWN CHEMICAL CO.

Gentlemen:—For years I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and could get no relief (having tried everything which was recommended) until, acting on the advice of a friend, who had been benefited by BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, I tried a bottle, with most surprising results. Previous to taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, everything I ate distressed me, and I suffered greatly from a burning sensation in the stomach, which was unbearable. Since taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, all my troubles are at an end. Can eat any time without any disagreeable results. I am practically another person. MRS. W. J. FLYNN, 30 Maverick St., E. Boston.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS acts like a charm on the digestive organs, removing all dyspeptic symptoms, such as tasting the food, Belching, Heat in the Stomach, Heartburn, etc. The only Iron Preparation that will not blacken the teeth or give headache.

DAY LILIES.

O summer day,
Delay! delay!
One waving of thy brooding wing,
One stirring of thy hazy wing,
And noontide light and heat
Will find my dewy shadow-lair
And burn the coolness from the grasses
That swathe my feet
In rank and billowy masses;
And to this claustral twilight bring
The sun's profanest glare.

O summer day,
Delay! delay!
Let naked hill and bare brown field,
Parch in thy torrid ray,
So this dim nook be unrevealed,
Where I,
Deliciously concealed,
Among the lilies lie.
The delicate day lilies,
The white and wonderful lilies!
My dark green haunt so still is
The wildest birdling dare not sing,
Nor insect beat a gossamer wing,
Nor zephyr lift the lightest thing,—
Here, where the lustrous lilies,
The clear, resplendent lilies,
Pour out their heavenly-sweet perfume,
And with their snowiness
In clusters chaste, illume
This dusk recess.

Soft-footed Silence, royal nun,
In this thy humid, emerald cell
Forever dwell!
These flowers supernal ever shine,
Pure-flamed, before thy virgin shrine!
Here, one by one,
Tell o'er thy glistering, coral beads—
A rosary strung on tangled weeds,
And blades and stems that intertwist,
The breath of lilies be thy prayers,
Sweet-odored, wafted unawares
Up through the morning's lucent airs
And evening's pallid mist!
The glittering stars shall o'er thee pass,
Deep-pillowed in the heavy grass:
These broad, smooth lily-leaves shall be
A glossy coverlet for thee,
Thy prayers and penance done,
O royal nun!
By day or night,
In dark or light,
Thy fragrant shrine shall be the same,
These slender tapers lambent still,
Nor blazing sun, nor mildew chill,
Shall quench their alabaster flame.

A gleam as of a crystal wand!
And Day peers in with curious face;
The jealous sunshine, stealing round,
Doth warily chase
The cool, dank shadows on the ground;
The cloister walls no longer stand;
A garish glory fills the space,
And lights the lush grass, loose and long;
And, startled by the wild bird's song,
Soft-footed Silence flees apace;
But still serene the lilies shine,
Pure-flamed before her ruined shrine!

H. M. KIMBALL.

Every one has a will and mind to think for himself, yet many will go about hacking and coughing until a friend recommends Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for that cough.

Ernest Mutch, thirteen years old, of Newburyport, Mass., on Monday got hold of several large caps such as are used to explode dynamite cartridges, and put them in his pocket. Soon after, while running along the street with his hands in his pockets, two of the caps exploded, terribly lacerating the hand that was in that pocket, and tearing an ugly wound in his thigh.

The Safest Way.

The safest and surest way to restore the youthful color of the hair is furnished by Parker's Hair Balsam, which is deservedly popular from its superior cleanliness.

Mr. Mead, who was murdered in the bank at Wapaca, Wis., was worth $100,000. He was evidently shot through the window. Both eyes, most of the nose, and the part of the face from the cheek bone to the left eye were shot away. The relatives of Mr. Mead are wealthy, and a large reward will be offered for the capture of the murderers and robbers.

How She Saved Her Darling.

"I shall not feel so nervous again about baby's teething," writes a grateful mother. "We almost lost our darling from cholera infantum, but happily heard of Parker's Ginger Tonic in time. A few spoonfuls soon cured baby, and an occasional dose keeps us in good health."—Brooklyn Mother.

R. A. Savage, an ex-police officer of North Adams, Mass., was fatally shot in that town on the night of Oct. 10th, by James Barret, keeper of a saloon. The shooting occurred in Barrett's saloon. Barrett had been drinking heavily for some days, and probably had the horrors at the time.

Catarrh.

A Brave Lady.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good catharic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, OCT. 12. 1882.

The Ohio Election.

There was an election in Ohio on Tuesday, the 10th inst., and the republican hosts were routed,—horse, foot and dragoons. The republican majority of 25,000 at the last election was wiped out, and at noon on Wednesday the returns indicated a democratic majority of 25,000 in its place, and the election by the democrats of at least fifteen of the twenty-one congressmen. Beer did it.

West Virginia Election.

The election in West Virginia, on the 10th inst., was carried by the Democrats by a greatly reduced majority, the republicans electing one congressman.

Fire in Suncook.

There was a great fire in Suncook on the night of the 10th inst., a house owned by Nehemiah Woods, the house and barn of Oliver Richardson, Methodist church and parsonage, house on Glass street, the Hancock hotel, and the house, livery stable and carriage house of Daniel W. Jones being burned. Total loss about $35,000; the Methodists have $8500 insurance, their loss being $13,000. Jones' loss was $13,800, and his insurance was $9600. A steam fire engine and men went from Manchester to render aid. Mrs. Joseph Dumais, a French woman fifty-six years old, was instantly killed by a falling chimney.

President Arthur in Boston.

President Arthur, with members of the cabinet and others, arrived in Boston on Wednesday forenoon, the 11th inst., between nine and ten o'clock, having made the trip from New York on the steamer Old Colony of the Fall River line. He was met at South Boston by Gov. Long and staff, and conducted to the common, where the entire militia of the state was assembled, under whose escort the principal streets of the city were passed through. At the close of the march the presidential party were escorted to the Hotel Brunswick, where a grand reception was held in the evening.

News and Notes.

A half-crazy and half-drunken Frenchman named Ernest Dubourgne ran through Fourteenth street, New York, on the 10th inst., and stabbed six women with a pair of carpenter's compasses before he was captured. Two of the women were dangerously hurt, and another one quite seriously; it is thought one of them, who is the wife of the police officer who arrested Dubourgne, cannot recover.

A despatch of Oct. 10th from southern Dakota says: "It has been raining twelve days. No threshing has been done during that time. A quarter of the wheat and three-quarters of the oat crop are in stack or shock here yet. The wheat in shock is badly grown, and will hardly pay for threshing. This will reduce the average heavily. No other portion of Dakota reports rain or damage of any consequence."

Mr. Howard Carroll of New York, in accepting the nomination for congressman at large from the republican state committee, said he would run his canvass in his own way, independent of the committee, from whom he asked no favors, and whose business he did not expect to shoulder. He would not submit to any assessment, nor would he make any pledges to any machine, believing in clean conventions and then in honest elections. The nominee is the son of Gen. Carroll, who was killed at Antietam. He was educated in Germany, and since 1873 has been connected with the New York Times. A year ago he married the daughter of John H. Starin, the steamboat king of New York city.

A deliberate murder by a lad eight years of age has been the criminal sensation at Chicago. The boy, Rudolph Krich by name, lives with his parents just outside the city limits, in the town of Niles. A neighbor has been in the habit of sending his servant girl to Krich's place to draw water from the well. Krich objected to this, and once in the presence of his son threatened to kill anybody who came to his well. A few days after this extraordinary language was used, the child saw the neighbor's servant girl at the well, and running into the house, seized a loaded Enfield rifle and shot the young woman, the charge entering her head and killing her almost instantly. As the boy is an infant, under the statutes nothing can be done with him.

The wife of M. de Lesseps is the mother of ten children, the oldest of whom is only twelve years of age.

A despatch from Cairo, Egypt, to London, says: "When the rebel prisoners were delivered to the Egyptian authorities, the English insisted that they be allowed legal assistance. The Egyptians contend that this condition does not bind them to permit the engagement of foreign counsel. The question will be referred to the British foreign office." Another Alexandria despatch says: "The sheikh who was arrested on Sunday at Tantah for attempting to incite a massacre, has received 100 lashes and will be kept in confinement. Large quantities of arms have been seized at Tantah, and the number of watchmen there has been doubled."

A bill has been introduced in the Vermont legislature to commute the sentence of Lewis Almon Meaker, sentenced to death for killing the little Meaker girl at Waterbury, and who pleaded guilty on trial, to imprisonment for life.

The funeral of George Huntington and two of his children occurred at Amesbury, Mass., on the 10th inst., the Masons, Knights of Honor and Merrimac engine company attending. A reward of $25 each is offered for the recovery of the bodies of Mrs. Huntington and the other two children.

John Sibion, at work in the japanning room of the Terry Clock company, in Pittsfield, Mass., Oct. 10th, was so badly burned by an explosion that he will die. His eyes were burned out, his clothing completely burned off and parts of his body nearly roasted. The building took fire, but the fire was extinguished by employes.

A despatch from Portland, Oregon, says that 2,500 white construction employes of the Northern Pacific railroad in Montana struck Saturday, on account of a raise in their board of half a dollar a week. There was no violence. The suvising engineer telegraphs that the board rates will be maintained and it is thought the men will return to work with Chinese numbering 5,000, not in the strike.

The Harris case, for swindling through the mails, was concluded in the United States court, at Portland, Me., Oct. 10th. The case was given to the jury, and a verdict was rendered, convicting Harris and acquitting Bragg. Harris' counsel will file exceptions.

Advices from Dublin report that owing to the alarming increase of pauperism in the south of Ireland the Dublin union has taken the lead in a proposal to send 1,000 able-bodied men and women to Canada at a cost of £7,000.

British steamship Dallam Tower left New Orleans on the 7th of September with 96,000 bushels of wheat, for Rotterdam, and has not since been heard from, though she was to coal at Cape Breton. She is supposed to have foundered in the hurricane of Sept. 8th and 9th.

A suit for libel, brought against the Free Press of Rockland, Me., was dismissed in the superior court on the ground that the alleged cause for suit (the expression of an opinion as to the fitness of the plaintiff for a political office for which he was a candidate) was not libellous.

Mr. Gladstone denies that he sympathized with the south during the rebellion in this country.

The Exhibition building at Sydney, New South Wales, with all its contents, has been destroyed by fire, the property loss aggregating $2,500,000.

Books, Magazines, etc.

Louisa Maria Alcott tells us that be ing forbidden to write anything at present, she has collected various waifs and strays to appease the young people who clamor for more, forgetting that mortal brains need rest; and so, under the title of "Proverb-Stories," appears from the publishing house of Roberts Brothers of Boston a book of 285 pages, with eight of Miss Alcott's bright stories, which is sold at all the bookstores for $1.25. ——— There also appears the sixth volume of "Aunt Jo's Scrap-bag," which contains "An old-fashioned Thanksgiving" and ten other stories which will interest young readers, and which is sold at $1.00. This series of Aunt Jo's scrap-bag books is now full. The six volumes are neatly bound in cloth, and sold for $6 the set. Mr. Myers has the books on his counters.

The October issue of "Outing, an illustrated magazine of recreation," which has just come to our table, marks a new departure in that new, unique and popular magazine. It is now published by the Outing Company, of which the former publisher is the president, and, while preserving its original recreative flavor, is a first-class low-priced magazine for every family circle. The current number is extremely attractive, both in illustrations and literary work. A daintily illustrated poem by the new editor fills the first page, and contributions from Dr. I. W. Eggleston, Mrs. D. H. R. Goodale, Joel Benton, Anna Ballard and others, with full and lively editorial departments, make up a number that will win praise from all who see it. The publisher announces a strong corps of contributors for future work. The subscription price is one dollar a year, and the place of publication is Albany, N. Y.

Charles Dudley Warner will discuss in the November "Century" the "material and intellectual domination of England," in which he will give due praise, it is said, to the commanding position of England in the modern world, and undertake to define the elements of English power. He will mingle some sharp criticism with the praise, and have a good deal to say about the relations of England and the United States.

The "Jean Ingelow Birthday Book" published by Roberts Brothers of Boston is a beautifully-executed work, with appropriate selections for every day in the year, from Jean Ingelow's writings, with spaces opposite the date for signatures, etc. The book is attractive in its binding, and has red edges, with red lines around each quotation. It has a fine steel engraving by Stuart of the celebrated English poetess, and also has illustrations for each month in the year. A most appropriate presentation volume, replete with choice poetic and prose selections. Sold by W. G. Myers, Congress street.

Oh, maiden with grim teeth, avaunt!
Though fair you seem to look upon,
Because you don't use SOZODONT,
The sweetness of your mouth is gone;
Your breath is heavy, and, from this,
Your lips no more invite a kiss.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat
Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recom mended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest eminence on both sides of the Atlantic, as an invaluable Tonic and Restorative in cases of General Debility, Nervous Depression, Enfeebled Constitution and Female Weakness.
NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a specific for their trouble. It stimulates the digestion, sharpens the appetite, invigorates and builds up the entire system, and excites a generous flow of milk.
WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from scrofulous and wasting, the result of disease, over-study, or nervous strain, will derive substantial benefit from its use. It restores the system to its normal condition and brings back the bloom of youth.
INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life, and restoring lost strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It neither pains nor upsets the appetite nor offends the taste.
DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weaknesses of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It improves the digestion, purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and revives the spirits.
WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who require some artificial restorative—and especially those who are inclined to Consumption—will find this preparation exactly suited to their needs. It is a specific for the Cough and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.
AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The whole tendency of its action is to stimulate the digestive and blood-producing foods, and its effect is invariably to give fullness and roundness to the female form, and robustness to the masculine frame.
THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Fluid Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from alcohol. It is readily retained on the stomach and contains none but wholesome and nourishing ingredients. The genuine preparation bears on the label a fine engraved likeness of Baron von Liebig, and a facsimile of his Signature, as well as that of A. VOGELER & CO., BALTIMORE, Md., Sole Agents for America.

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.
Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.
Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.
READ!

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or by close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.
28th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION,
is beyond all comparison the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing what ever that the married or single can either require or wish to know but what is fully explained.—[London Lancet.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR SELF-PRESERVATION,
is a marvel of art and beauty, warranted to be a better medical book in every sense than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.—[Author.
N. B.—YOUNG and MIDDLE AGED MEN can save much time, suffering and expense by reading the Science of Life, or conferring with the author, who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Address

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 11; Batchelder J.

William Keefe, for drunkenness, was assessed $9.90, fine and costs. County farm in default of payment.

Simeon Pickering, of Greenland, had the $9.90 which he was charged for his drunk, so he will not go to Brentwood this time.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

[October Term; Clark J.]

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 11th.

The grand jury reported sixteen indictments in the afternoon, and were discharged. Among the indictments were seven against Catherine Ryan, and six againt her husband, Batholomew Ryan, for falsely impersonating Ellen Kenrick, and fraudulously procuring a pension and arrears due the said Ellen Kenrick; one against Dr. R. J. P. Goodwin, of Manchester, for obtaining illegal pension fees; and one against Charles L. Ingalls, of Merrimack, for selling liquor without a government license. With regard to Mrs. Kenrick's case, it is said the government will probably repay the full amount due her, notwithstanding it has once paid it, but to the wrong parties.

THE WENTWORTH.

As enlarged according to the plans of Architect F. N. Footman, the length of the main front of the Hotel Wentworth will be 646 feet, and the total length of the verandas extending about the house will be 1,932 feet; these verandas will be twenty feet in width. There will be five towers on the house, the central one fifty by fifty-eight feet, the base of which is to be occupied by the main office; this room will contain a grand staircase eighteen feet wide; also an immense, old-fashioned fire-place of elaborate design. Connected with the office, as an entrance to the dining-room, will be a grand saloon fifty feet square; in the center of this saloon an ornamental fountain is to be located, and also a large fire-place at each side. The dining hall, just beyond, is to be 170 feet long, fifty feet wide, and twenty-three feet high; there will be a gallery at one end, for the accommodation of the orchestra, and the room will be lighted by large windows, with stained glass tops. The house will contain 450 sleeping rooms, 150 of which will have parlors attached, with a fire-place in each parlor.

During the past two weeks the ladies have been flocking to the Wentworth, many coming from Newington and Greenland, for plants, word having been giving out that any one was at liberty to take as many as were desired, the gardener having slipped and reserved all needed for next year's use. On Sunday, the 8th inst., several carriage loads of plants were taken away.

RAILROAD NOTES.

A heavy excursion train, with a large number of people from towns along the line of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad, passed through this city on Wednesday forenoon, the 11th inst., on the way to Boston. About fifty persons went from this city to Boston on Wednesday morning, on the excursion rates.

Mrs. Minnie J. Whitman, who was so severely injured at the Main street crossing in Salem of the Saugus Branch railroad in July, has sued the Eastern railroad for $20,000 damages.

The gross earnings of the Eastern railroad for the year ending Sept. 30th, 1882, were $3,406,340.62, against $3,094,273.74 for the year ending Sept. 30, 1881,—a gain of $312,066.88. The gain for September, 1882, over the corresponding month in 1881, was $22,547.

The relaying of the Maine Central railroad track, from Burnham to Bangor, with steel rails, has been completed, making the entire line from Portland to Bangor of steel. At the latter place important improvements in the terminals are now in progress. Two sheds, each 250 feet long by twenty-two feet wide, are being constructed, and an engine house, 130 feet long by fifty feet wide, capable of holding five tracks, is now in process of building. Several new tracks are being laid, which will increase the capacity of the yard about one hundred cars. Some improvements have recently been made at the depot, and a small office is now being constructed at the western extremity of the building, which will be occupied by the train despatcher. Other changes in equipment, stations and roadbeds along the line are also contemplated.

HEARD FROM AGAIN.

Rev. A. A. Waite, formerly of this city, later of Lynn, Mass., still later in show business, and now we believe once more a resident of Lynn, seems fated to be frequently brought to public notice, and not always in a favorable light. A despatch dated at Adams, Mass., Oct. 10th, says:

Rev. Arthur Waite of Savoy, a Second Advent preacher, was arrested to-day for assault and battery on Rev. H. K. Flagg, his father-in-law, and settled the case on payment of costs, $7.50. Waite is of Chelsea, Mass., and is well known there. He has been an itinerant preacher for a number of years. His father-in-law threatened to arrest him on other charges, but has not yet done so.

Mr. Waite has at various times and places been quite successful as a revivalist, but even as a preacher his methods are those of a showman, and he has evidently mistaken his vocation.

A little daughter of Andrew Buckley was severely bitten on Tuesday of this week by a dog belonging to Capt Jameson, and in the afternoon the animal was captured and taken to the police station, where he was confined under sentence of death. A nice piece of steak, properly medicated, was offered to him in the evening, but he declined the favor, and was locked up to give him time to develope a good appetite. During the night his craving for food got the better of his discretion, and on Wednesday morning he was past biting any more little girls.

At the 36th annual session of the Grand Encampment of New Hampshire Odd Fellows, held in Manchester on Tuesday, Oct. 10th, William W. Cotton of this city was elected grand junior warden for the ensuing term, and John E. Colcord grand representative for two sessions. The newly elected officers were installed in the evening.

The horse attached to Mr. John H. Slater's store team ran away on the 11th inst., owing to the weight-strap with which he was hitched getting around one of his legs. The hind axle of the wagon was broken, but no other damage was done, the horse stopping on being spoken to by a person whom he was passing.

It is reported that some of the scientists predict that on the return, eight or nine years hence, of the magnificent comet which is now visible in the eastern heavens to early risers, it will hit the sun and "poke out" that luminary entirely. Should this be so, what a tremendous boom there would be in kerosene oil and electric light stocks.

The schooner Mary Willey, Williams master, arrived at this port on the 11th inst. from Bangor with lumber for John H. Broughton—her ninth trip this season. On the same day arrived the venerable schooner Commonwealth, Elwell master, from Rockland with a cargo of lime.

A horse belonging to Mr. C. E. Walker ran away on Richards avenue on Wednesday forenoon, the 11th, while unattended, and took to the sidewalk, smashing the carriage against a tree, and clearing himself from it.

Mr. Oscar J. Pfeiffer has been appointed principal of the Wells evening school in Boston.

The schooner E. A. Creed on the 11th inst. took on a big load of lumber for the Isles of Shoals, from Broughton's lumber wharf.

The Park Concert Company, which will give a sacred concert in Music hall next Sunday evening, appeared here in a lyceum course a year or two since, and the concert was pronounced to be one of the best musical entertainments given here since the hall was opened.

Gilmore's band is to appear in Music hall on Saturday evening, Oct. 21st, assisted by eminent vocal talent.

The fishing schooner Celia came off the marine railway at Kittery on the 11th inst., and the schooner Gold Hunter was taken on.

Hon. E. C. Moody, of York, was in this city on Wednesday, the 11th inst. He brought in a load of bark for Hon. Moses H. Goodrich, to whom he has been furnishing considerable quantities, taken from his woods in York.

The schooner Cook Borden, Lunt master, of 178.8 tons register, built at Calais, Me., in 1874, and owned there, which arrived at this port on the 4th inst. with a cargo of coal, and sailed on the 7th for Calais, went ashore on the South head of Grand Menan island on the morning of the 10th, and filled with water. All hands were saved. Tugs and a revenue cutter went to her assistance later in the day, and found her on her beam ends and in a bad position.

Orders have been received at the Boston navy yard to repair the United States ship Shenandoah, and work will begin immediately.

The treasury department at Washington has received the sum of $950,000, recently awarded to the government in the contest over the will of the late Joseph L. Lewis of Hoboken, N. J. The money will be used to aid in the extinguishment of the public debt, but the manner of its application has not as yet been decided upon.

About the middle of July last, a man by the name of Fred Abbott hired a horse of Walter Webster of Piermont, to go to Bradford, Vt., and draw over to Piermont a small load of shingles. The horse was a large one, almost blind, and was owned by A. R. Smith of Plymouth. Abbott took the team to Bradford, and instead of a light load put on 8000 wet, green shingles, and started for home. On going up a sand hill in Piermont the horse could not draw the load, and was whipped shamefully by Abbott. The horse was either knocked down or slipped and fell, and refused to get up. Hot stones and sand were poured into his ears, but that failed to start him. A bundle of shavings was then procured and saturated with kerosene oil, and placed under, or near the horse, and set on fire. This was repeated twice, and the belly of the horse was burned and blackened in a shocking manner. It was said that one eye of the horse was knocked out, but it was a mistake, as he recovered the sight of it afterwards. The story of the abuse of the horse came to the ears of Mr. Marvin of Portsmouth, president of the society with a long name, who immediately came to town to investigate the affair. On his arrival here he had Abbott arrested for cruelty to dumb animals, and he was fined to the full extent of the law. Grafton County Democrat.

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm. It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering for her all-potent counsel. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any advice required as to special cases, and the causes of many which have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world. For the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver, Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

Pinked ruches, called chicorees, are combined in millinery.
Chenille figured goods appear among late fall importations.
Beads will be used again for embroideries of evening dresses.
The small capote and the large poke will be the leading bonnets.
Jackets almost covered with soutache embroidery will be worn.
Tapering crowns are not so fashionable as large square and flat ones.
Ivory white dresses with gold braid trimmings are a fancy at present.
Two shades of small blue are frequently combined in one hat or bonnet.
Scarlet hussar-jackets, embroidered with gold soutache, are worn in Paris.

Why Welcome.

What makes Floreston Cologne welcome on every lady's toilet table is its lasting fragrance and rich, flowery odor.

The anniversary of Father Mathew's birthday was only observed by St. Mary's Catholic Total Abstinence society in Dover, who paraded the streets in the afternoon, and held a ball in city hall in the evening.

Consumption in its early stages is readily cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," though, if the lungs are wasted no medicine will effect a cure. No known remedy possesses such soothing and healing influence over all scrofulous, tuberculous, and pulmonary affections as the "Discovery." John Willis, of Elyria, Ohio, writes: "The 'Golden Medical Discovery' does positively cure consumption, as, after trying every other medicine in vain, this succeeded." Mr. Z. T. Phelps, of Cuthbert, Ga., writes: "The Golden Medical Discovery' has cured my wife of bronchitis and incipient consumption." Sold by druggists.

Caleb Kenniston of Dover reported at the police station Tuesday forenoon, the 10th inst., that while near Garrison hill Monday night he was overpowered by unknown men, who knocked him down and robbed him of his money, $35. He was apparently much scared, and his face bears evidence of a tussle.

To allay pain and cure diseases use the favorite household remedy, Hop Plaster.

The New Hampshire Historical society had its field day in Dover and vicinity this week. Among the members from out of town were John J. Bell of Exeter, John B. Clarke of Manchester, Hon. John Kimball of Concord. Dover has many points of historical interest, and these were visited as far as the time allowed. The visitors partook of dinner at the American house. Mayor Murphy received the visitors at the depot, and was with them all day.

Good Advice.

You will prevent and cure the greater part of the ills that afflict mankind in this or any section, if you keep your stomach, liver and kidneys in perfect working order. There is no medicine known that does this as surely as Parker's Ginger Tonic. It will keep your blood rich and pure, and give you good health at little cost. See other column.

On Wednesday night, the 4th inst., John H. Jahonnet of New Boston was driving four horses attached to a heavy wagon across a wooden bridge, when the bridge gave way, and horses, wagon and man were precipitated to the rocks below, a distance of eight feet. The two wheel horses and their driver were pitched into the rocky bed of the brook, and it was only with extreme difficulty that Mr. Jahonnet was enabled to extricate himself. One of the wheel horses was so badly injured that he was killed on the spot, and two of the others were hurt so that they could not be moved. A suit for damages will be brought against the town.

Be Your Own Doctor.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a sure cure for all Female Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia, and all weaknesses caused by those irregularities which are so common to womankind. This is no Patent Medicine, but is prepared, after years of experience, and recommended, knowing that it will give new life to any broken-down, worn out or nervous member of the sex.

If you have tried other remedies without success, do not be discouraged, but give "LADIES' TONIC" a single trial. It never fails to give quick and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, lay aside the doctor's prescription for once, and try "Ladies' Tonic," which we guarantee will positively cure you. One Bottle is Sufficient.

Women's Medical Institute is an Association of Women and Mothers of years' experience, who give advice and answer letters from ladies, free.

$100 will be given for any case of Female Weakness or liability which "Ladies' Tonic" will not cure. This is a bona fide offer, and we have responsible ladies who know from experience what "LADIES' TONIC" can do. Send stamp for circular.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS never fails to cure all these diseases.

Boston, November 26, 1881.
BROWN CHEMICAL CO.
Gentlemen:—For years I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and could get no relief (having tried everything which was recommended) until, acting on the advice of a friend, who had been benefitted by BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, I tried a bottle, with most surprising results. Previous to taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, everything I ate distressed me, and I suffered greatly from a burning sensation in the stomach, which was unbearable. Since taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, all my troubles are at an end. Can eat any time without any disagreeable results. I am practically another person. MRS. W. J. FLYNN,
30 Maverick St., E. Boston.

Dan. O'Connell's Ready Wit.

At the Clare assizes in Ennis, two brothers, named Hourigan, were arrested for setting fire to a police barrack, the property of Darby O'Grady, Esq., and it was stated the barrack had been ignited by means of a jar of pitch, found half consumed near the burned barrack.

O'Connell was employed for the defense, and by his desire a skillet containing pitch was secretly placed near the witness' chair, and over this O'Connell placed his broad-brimmed hat, so as effectually to conceal it. The principal witness for the prosecution swore "that he discovered the barrack on fire, and knew it was set on fire by pitch, for he got the smell of it."

"You know the smell of pitch, then?" said O'Connell.

"I do, well," replied the witness.

"You seem a man able to smell pitch anywhere?" said O'Connell.

"Anywhere I found it."

"Even here in this court house, if it were here."

"No doubt I would."

"And do you swear you don't get the smell of pitch here?" asked O'Connell.

"I do, solemuly," replied the witness.

"If it were here I'd smell it."

Then O'Connell, taking his hat off the skillet of pitch which was placed beside the witness' chair, cried:

"Now you may go down, you perjured rascal! Go down!

This saved his clients. The jury discredited the witness.

At Limerick, O'Connell had a case to defend which presented slight hopes of his being able to obtain an acquittal. His two clients were indicted for robbery, and the case was substantially proved against them. They called a young priest for testimony as to their character for honesty. He thought to make a parade of his learning by the use of big words, and his replies to the usual inquiries were in the most polysyllable terms he could devise. Having stated "their reputation for rectification of habitual propriety was exemplary and commendable," Judge Torrens, who chafed with irritation as the young priest rolled out each jaw-breaker, at last cut him short with:

"Come, sir, no more of this. Say shortly what you know of these men. Are they honest?"

"As far as my experience of their deportment, I am under that impression."

"You think they are. That comprehends a great deal," said the judge, still displaying temper. Turning to the priest, he said: "That will do—go down, sir."

O'Connell, assuming an air of great indignation, as the priest shuffled off the table, addressing the prisoners in a tone of deep commiseration, said: "My poor fellows, bigotry is on the bench, and when your excellent young priest has been so ignominiously turned out of court, I am in despair of being able to serve you. Here's your brief and fee."

He flung the brief and the notes to the agent for the prisoners, and commenced putting on his cloak, muttering: "My innocent clients, I despair altogether now of your acquittal. You'll be hanged, and never were men hanged more unjustly. The only hope I can look to is that, if your sentence is not carried into execution before the twelve judges meet, I will bring this outrageous case before them."

This had the effect intended. Judge Torrens invited O'Connell to continue the defense of his clients, and to this, after some pretended reluctance, O'Connell assented. The case went on, and the judge, to show that he was no bigot, put the character for honesty given the prisoners by the priest so strongly that the jury, almost instantly, brought in their verdict, not guilty.

A Panama despatch of Oct. 11th says: "An Indian from the San Blas district in this state, on the Atlantic, brings in a report that on Sept. 7th, the day on which the earthquakes occurred here, there were four tidal waves, which overwhelmed and destroyed or badly damaged six or seven little villages on the islands and mainland, and drowned about seventy persons."

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is a most powerful restorative tonic, also combining the most valuable nervine properties, especially adapted to the wants of debilitated ladies suffering from weak back, inward fever, congestion, inflammation, or ulceration, or from nervousness or neuralgic pains. By druggists.

Daniel Camp of Pine Bluffs, Ark., a well-known planter, died Oct. 11th from the effects of carelessly eating a watermelon in which he had placed poison for the benefit of thieves, who made inroads in his melon patch. Three of his children who also partook of the melon are likely to die.

Avoid Fever, Ague and Biliousness by taking Colden's Liquid Beef Tonic. Ask for Colden's; of druggists. Colden's Liquid Beef Tonic will cure indigestion, and perpetuate bodily vigor. No other. Of druggists.

—A southern paper says the alligator destroys millions of mosquitoes by letting them settle on his jaws and then swallowing them. Ladies who are annoyed by the pests might rid themselves of the nuisance by keeping an alligator in the bedroom during the night, but there are some women who would prefer the mosquitoes. They would as soon have a mouse loose in their chamber as an alligator.

"Ladies' Tonic,"

The Great Female Remedy is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and is their favorite prescription for ladies who are suffering from any weakness or complaints common to the sex. It is sold by druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Ladies can obtain advice free. Edward Barnes of Lynn, Mass., states that for over two years he was troubled with frequent spitting of blood, severe cold and cough, night sweats, and general debility, so that I was given up by my friends and my doctor to die. Finally I was advised to try your Remedies, which I did for three months, the Swedish Lung Balsam for my lungs, the Swedish Botanic Compound to build up my constitution and restore my appetite, and the Swedish Pepsin Pills to regulate the bowels. The result is that to-day I am entirely cured, and feel as well as ever in my life.

LYNN, March 8, 1882.

DR. F. W. A. BERGENGREN: Dear Sir—I have been using your Swedish Botanic Compound for Kidney Complaint and Scrofulous Humor, and have derived great benefit from it. This is saying a good deal, as before I commenced to use the Compound I was the greatest part of the time unable to work, and I have tried medical advice and all kinds of medicine, but without avail until I used your Remedy. Since taking it I have been feeling like a new man, and been able to attend to my work. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter. WM. E. KIMBALL,

A Brave Lady.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them as early and favorable consideration as the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

BOSTON, January 1, 1882. 3tawf1m

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good cathartic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your Druggist for them.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, OCT. 13, 1882.

The Ohio Deluge.

The advices from Ohio do not improve a bit with age, the returns up to the close of the 11th inst. indicating even a larger majority for the democrats than was first reported, and that it might reach 35,000; also that not more than six, and possibly only five, congressmen were elected by the republicans.

A Washington correspondent of a Boston paper says that a prominent republican of a southern state regards the defeat of the party in Ohio as a blessing in disguise, as it will stir up the administration and the party in the north to aid the southern republicans in their almost hopeless struggle against the rifle clubs and tissue ballots of the southern democrats. This may be very true; but for choice we should prefer to have our blessings not quite so thoroughly disguised. We have noticed that the men—democrats and republicans alike—who are readiest to discover that a defeat is "the best thing that could have happened to the party," are a good deal quicker than we are to throw up their hats and cheer themselves hoarse over a party victory.

Ohio is a big state, and a close one in its political division; it throws 700,000 votes, and a change of less than two per cent from one side to the other was more than enough to dissipate the republican plurality of 24,000 at the last previous election. The change was provided for by the defection of the German voters, who were enraged with the action of the republican state government in passing a law to tax liquor saloons, and to compel the saloons to close on Sunday. "Free rum and no Sunday" was what the democrats fought for, and on that platform they won; but this does not alter the fact that the republicans were badly beaten, and that the democrats made a great and possibly disastrous (to the republicans) gain of congressmen.

Our New York Fashion Letter.

FALL MILLINERY.

Upon your felt or velvet bonnet you may place a dove, pigeon, hawk, crow, partridge, wild duck, or the like—not all, but any one. Your choice being made, proceed to flatten down your bird; passing your velvet or ribbon trimming over the body and under the wings, allowing the head to nestle either on your back hair, or to look reproachfully from the front. I alone, however, am responsible for the adverb of discontent just employed, since the fashionable intellect approves of such ornamentations, and thinks them "sweet." All-sufficingly sweet, indeed, because one sees little else combined in the way of bows or the like. Again, you can group several little birds together, the assembled cluster being reckoned equivalent to the single large cap. Cocks' heads likewise are highly esteemed; sometimes two together fight a perpetual battle, while masses of cocks' plumage depend on either side. But one can hardly go astray in the way of feathers. 'Tis a season of them, and oftentimes different kinds are sewn together in a patch-work sort of way. Ostrich plumes are indispensable, and the broad brimmed straws with velvet crowns are so covered with them that they will be worn all winter. Felts are in immense demand, colored to suit costumes, while dressier styles are of velvet, shapes being very much like those of last summer—capotes or pokes, with a minority of wide brims. Flowers are hardly seen, though a few very large ones of velvet have been imported. Nevertheless, for theatres, etc., there are lovely little bonnets made entirely of flowers. A word, too, as to your winter's umbrella, since there is an improvement worth mentioning. In buying, ask for one having the new spring-acting catch for holding it open or closed. The old wire springs, so unsightly and liable to get out of order, are completely done away with, and undoubtedly this is the greatest step in advance since the invention of paragon frames.

HELP YOURSELF.

What is to hinder your devising for yourself one of those soutache embroidered costumes that are the special feature of dress this winter? Nothing at all, if you have sufficient ingenuity and leisure. So many yards of cashmere or camel's hair; have the design stamped; set to work, and in a short time behold your costume. Very stylish are pyramidal patterns covering the front breadth, with touches for sleeves and corsage, but as a change come dress patterns provided with bands of various widths, while as to the making, there is more to be said than I can possibly tell you, so I would refer you to Lord & Taylor's fall catalogue, where are not only illustrations of all new styles, but a series of ably-written articles on every department of dress.

OUT-DOOR GARMENTS.

Happy is the woman who will possess a redingote of embroidered wool to match her dress. With admirable foresight, provision is made by which the outside world shall know that she has that costume, since the outer garment is cut to open down the front, disclosing the embroidery. The most illogical reader may now furthermore surmise that if a dress can be embroidered, why not a redingote? The conclusion is most reasonable. So many more yards of wool goods, so much more braid. You are fully equipped, and beyond peradventure, are fashionable. As to colors, there are olive or forest greens, brown, blue, ruby, terra cotta, plum and the wine colors. Different shades of each, or black.

JACKETS.

The day of jackets, however, has not departed. For young ladies, embroidered ones of cashmere, etc., will often be preferred to the redingotes just mentioned, and of course are more easily gotten up at home, because smaller. Velvet jackets too are very stylish; coming in all new colors, and if made of nonpareil velveteen, costing two dollars a yard, are by no means expensive. Its durability can be depended upon, since the great competition in velveteens and the determination not to be surpassed, or indeed equalled, led the manufacturers to seek improvements which have resulted in the production of a fabric without a possible rival, though there are many imitations. It is not obligatory that the jacket should match the costume in color, and we shall find pretty effects produced by contrasts; or again, a black dress could be tastefully enlivened by a jacket, more or less bright in hue. Garnet or crimson would not be too gay according to present ideas, while a choice is given among forest or olive greens, terra cotta, blue, brown, purple or plum. Basques differing from the skirt are too convenient to be relinquished, and this fall seem as much in favor as ever; either of plain goods or brocade, or striped with plain skirt; but indeed there is no rule, and any contrast that looks well is permissable.

LUCY CARTER.

The Smithsonian Institution at Washington on the 11th inst. received from the academy of Vienna the announcement of the discovery by Schmidt at Athens on the 8th of October, of a comet four degrees southwest of the great comet, with the same motion in right ascension and declination. Dr. Lewis Swift, director of the Warner observatory, at Rochester, N. Y., says the new comet discovered by Dr. Schmidt is unquestionably a fragment of the great comet broken off at its perihelion passage. This proves that the great comet must have grazed the sun, and hence passed through a terrible crisis. This is the second instance on record where a comet has been disrupted, the first one being the Biela comet of 1846.

For twenty years the "American Agriculturist," now in its 45d year, has been recognized as the leading agricultural journal of the world. Notwithstanding its past remarkable career, it now enters upon a new era, and proposes to excel its past accomplishments. The October number appears in a new cover, new dress, new type, new engravings, with new artists, and additional editorial writers, making altogether the most superb periodical of the kind ever issued. The proprietors say: "From this time forward the American Agriculturist is determined to avail itself of the best brain power, and the first artistic talent in the country. The proprietors have but to point to its past record as a guarantee of our promises for the future. Never before in its career was the Journal so prosperous as now, and at no time since the first year immediately following the war have subscriptions come in so numerously as they are now coming." Published by the Orange Judd Co., New York, at $1.50 per year.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The first week of the passenger-rate war between the Eastern and the Revere Beach & Lynn railroad companies ended on the 10th inst., and the fight seems likely to be continued. During the week the narrow gauge road carried fully 80,000 passengers, the Eastern carrying less than one-quarter as many. It was reported on the 11th that the Eastern was ready to compromise, and had made a proposition to that effect, which however the narrow gauge managers had rejected, claiming that they were well satisfied with the way things were working, and would make no change.

The headless and horribly-mutilated body of a man was found just above Friends' crossing on the Eastern railroad at Beverly, Mass., on the morning of the 12th inst. Fragments of the body were scattered for rods, and the features were beyond recognition. Near the body was found a communication from the Grand Army to Joseph Chipman, and also a grocery bill belonging to another man.

The Eastern railroad officials on the 12th denied the report that they had sought to effect a compromise with the narrow-gauge road in the passenger-rate war.

Capt. John Handy Robinson, of the schooner Nettie Adams, which arrived from a fishing trip on the evening of the 11th inst., reports having stocked $500 in two weeks, the schooner having taken 25,000 lbs. of fish into Gloucester, Mass., and brought 15,000 lbs. in here, the latter being bought by Randall & Caswell.

The old Congregational church at York village will be re-dedicated about the 25th inst. President Chamberlain of Bowdoin college is to deliver the dedicatory address. A large gang of men are engaged in grading around the church, and fixing up the surroundings generally. A place for a clock has been prepared in the steeple, and the society are now ready to accept the gift of one from some generous and wealthy well-wisher.

A centre-board schooner of about 225 tons, three-masted, was launched from the yard of David Clark at Kennebunkport on the 10th inst. She is named the Joseph G. Deane, and will be put into the fruit and oyster trade by her owners, who belong in New Bedford, Mass.

LIFE INSURANCE!

The Semi-Endowment Policy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is believed to be the most desirable plan of insurance ever offered.

Among its advantages are: A definitely guaranteed cash value at a specified time. A paid-up policy for full value in case of discontinuance. Its period (20 years) covers the productive years of life, when insurance is mostly needed. It provides for old age. Above the age of 40 the rates are less than for life policies in other companies, while below 40 they are but little in excess of ordinary life premiums.

Parties insured in Co-operative Societies are requested to compare the net cost of these policies with that of assessment insurance.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER.

READ!

KNOW THYSELF.

THE untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt these assertions should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; OR, SELF-PRESERVATION. Exhausted vitality, nervous and Physical debility, premature decline of man, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

258th edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. 300 pages, more than 125 valuable prescriptions for all forms of diseases, acute and chronic, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in beautiful French cloth, embossed, full gilt. Price only $1.25; by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Illustrated sample six cents. Send now.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Oct. 12; Batchelder J.

James Gilchrist, alias "Scotty," was before the court for drunkenness, and was fined $10, costs $6.90. In default of payment he went to the county farm at Brentwood, from which institution he only came back the day before from a previous confinement.

John Smith, (not the bill poster,) drunk, let off on probation.

George Howard and Charles Reyburn, for burglary and theft at Salem, N. H., were bound over in $1000 each to appear before the supreme court on the 17th inst. In default of bail they were committed to jail.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

[October Term; Clark J.]

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 11th.

Ingalls pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to sixty days in jail at Manchester, and the payment of $100 fine.

In case New Hampshire Land Co. vs. Tilton and others, counsel for the defendants renewed the motion made at the May term for security for costs to be furnished by the plaintiffs. Objection was made that the time for furnishing evidence has expired, but the court held that motion was properly made. Defendants' counsel also requested an order for the pliffs. to specify as to what lands, and under what grant or grants, they claim.

On account of an accident on the Boston & Lowell railroad, which prevented the passage of trains south of Concord, the judge, who went to Manchester on Tuesday evening, did not reach the court house until two o'clock P. M.

THURSDAY, Oct. 12th.

Bartholomew Ryan of Amherst and his wife Catharine were arraigned, one for fraudulently converting a pension, the other for false swearing. They each pleaded guilty, and were sentenced to three years each in the state prison.

Dr. R. J. P. Goodwin of Manchester was tried on an indictment containing three counts charging him with taking from a pensioner a greater fee for obtaining his pension than the laws provide for. Burns for United States; H. S. Clark and Sulloway for deft.

Cases Thurston (Cocheco Savings Bank plaintiff in interest) vs. Union Ins. Co. of Philadelphia, Merchants' Ins. Co. of Newark, Howard Ins. Co. of New York, and the Metropole Ins. Co. of Paris, France, have been sent to a referee to report the facts, and were continued.

The number of civil actions entered is fourteen.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Oct. 12th, Mayor Treat in the chair:

Present the full board, except Ald. Hackett.

Records of last meeting were read and approved.

The heirs of Dr. Peirce asked for repairs on Court street; referred to committee on streets, with power.

Robert Anderson was appointed special police without pay at the navy yard landing.

Marcellus Eldredge was granted leave to encumber Bow street for repairing building.

City marshal's quarterly report was received and referred to the committee on police.

Bills to the amount of about $2500 were ordered paid, including A. K. Brown's bill for sprinkling streets, $500.

Bills incurred by the attendance of city officials on the several conferences of mayors concerning the valve-patent suits, amounting to $107.02, were recommitted to the committee on accounts.

It was ordered that fourteen days' notice be given parties interested, of a hearing on the petition for the extension of Rogers street.

The petition of the Boston & Northern Telephone Co. for permission to set poles on Congress street was withdrawn, and leave asked to set three poles on Warren street; referred to committee on streets, with mayor added.

Adjourned.

A partridge flew through a second-story window of the shoe factory into the finishing room on the 11th inst., making a hole just about the size of itself in a pane of glass. It seemed somewhat dazed by the shock and the company in which it found itself, and was captured after a short chase around the room.

There were several fishing crafts in the lower harbor on the 12th inst., the weather having a threatening aspect; but most of the fleet being to the westward of Cape Ann, following the mackerel schools, the number of vessels that ran in here for shelter was but trifling compared with what it has been on one or two occasions this fall.

A despatch of Oct. 12th from New York says: "The United States frigate Constitution leaves for Portsmouth on Monday. Fore and aft sails have been bent to be used in case she breaks away from the Powhatan while being towed."

The schooner Nautilus, Capt. Huntington, which came in on the 10th inst. in distress, having sprung a leak on the trip from York to Boston with bricks, was on the 12th discharging her deck load, the intention being to haul her on the beach and endeavor to find and stop the leak, and if successful in this to continue the voyage; otherwise to go on the marine railway. The Nautilus is owned by T. W. Carter, a dealer in bricks and flagstones at No. 730 Albany street, Boston. When loading at York she laid on a hard bottom, and probably strained, the openings filling with mud which washed out when she got to sea. By request of the owner, Capt. F. P. Coleman of this city on the 11th came down from Boston, where his vessel now is, to assist Capt. Huntington in doing whatever is needful.

The Lynn correspondent of the Boston Globe says: "Elder A. A. Waite, pastor of the Bethel church, who was fined for assaulting his father-in-law, Elder H. K. Flagg, at Savoy, on Tuesday, has returned to Lynn. The cause of the trouble is said to be owing to the fact that Mrs. Waite has filed a petition for divorce on the grounds of cruelty and desertion, and that the father-in-law induced her to take this step. Elder Waite has in his possession a letter from his wife dated October 4th, in which she acknowledges the receipt of a roll of bills, besides several other necessary articles."

Mr. Emory Dresser, formerly city marshal of Portsmouth, but for many years past a resident of South Boston, was in this city on the 12th inst. on a brief visit.

In the suit of Granfield vs. Shea, in which the plaintiff sued Mr. Dennis Shea of this city for a settlement of accounts, claiming $8000, the referee, Mr. Burleigh of Great Falls, has submitted his finding to the supreme court for the county of Strafford. Mr. Burleigh decides that instead of Shea owing Granfield a large sum, the latter should pay Mr. Shea $100.14 in order to make things all square.

The contractors' sloop C. T. Derry on the 12th inst. once more took up a position over Gangway rock, to finish some part of the contract which was not completed before the drill-platforms were removed.

The Park instrumental quartette did themselves great credit. Their numbers with brass and stringed instruments were received with marked favor by the audience. The novelty of the performances, all of one family, together with the artistic execution of the selections, made their part of the evening very enjoyable. Miss Annie J. F. Park played each a solo on the cornet and baritone, Miss Georgie played a solo on the crystal chimes, and Miss Annie played a solo on the zither, all of which seemed to give special satisfaction.—Boston Advertiser.

At music hall on Sunday evening; see advertisement.

A letter received in this city on the 10th inst. from Capt. Seaward, of the schooner Annie F. Conlon, reports that she arrived at the Kennebec in twenty-four hours from this port, and had to beat a good part of the way; she sailed well, and for a light vessel worked well. At the time of writing she had finished loading with 868 tons of ice for Washington, D. C.,—all she could take, as it made her draught of water fifteen and one-half feet; she could have taken 1000 tons of ice, equivalent to about 900 tons of coal, but for the impossibility of getting over the bar with it.

The schooners Gold Hunter and Golden Gate are to load with wood for Boston, on account of E. C. Spinney, Esq., of Kittery. The Gold Hunter has just been overhauled on the marine railway, and will come off this forenoon; the Golden Gate was next in turn to go on, but gave up her chance to the large schooner yacht which recently got ashore on Hicks' rocks in the lower harbor.

On the night of the 5th inst. the store of George A. Marshall of York, near Sewall's bridge, was broken into, and goods to the value of about $75 stolen. The thieves also stole a boat belonging to Mr. Marshall, in which to carry off their plunder.

A Story to be Continued Monthly.

At the 148th Grand Monthly Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday, September 12th, 1882, fortune rewarded her favorites most liberally (the wheel was turned under the sole supervision of Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va.) The following will serve as samples, the names of other winners are withheld by request. Ticket No. 42,101 (the first capital prize) drew $75,000, and sold in fifths at one dollar each, sent by mail on application to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., as will be done to any other man on application made before November 14th, the date of the 150th drawing. One-fifth ($15,000) went to D. P. Blair, Pres't East Miss. Natn'l Ass'n, Columbus, Miss.; another to R. R. Deacon, collected through Bates Co. Nat'l Bank, of Butler, Mo.; another to P. N. Johnson of Houston, Tex. No. 22,350 (the second capital prize of $25,000) also sold in fifths—one of $5,000 to Peter O. Johnson of No. 111 Seneca st., Leavenworth City, Kansas; another to Michael A. Finnegan of No. 1 Elder place, Boston, Mass. No. 6,641 (the third capital prize of $10,000) was sold to parties residing in New York City and New Orleans. Nos. 12,134 and 83,16 (the fourth capitals, each of $5,000) sold to residents of Petersburg, Tenn., and New York City, and so on ad infinitum. Next month the names and numbers will be changed, but the story will be the same.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of you rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere Twenty-five cents a bottle. cod&wtjas82

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Boston, Editors:—

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a lifetime, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants to help her answer the large correspondence which daily comes in upon her, each bearing the special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and never much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Prolapsus, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1, per bottle or six for $5, and is sold by druggists. Any advice you desire to be needed cheerfully and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the Liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity."

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to others.

At Evansville, Ind., about two o'clock in the morning on the 11th inst., an armed mob from Posey county surrounded and captured the jail, and took from it a man named Redmond, confined for the brutal murder of an entire family. The captive was placed in a buggy, but the police and firemen arrived on the ground before the mob could get clear of the town; the buggy was upset by collision with a fire engine, and there was a hot pistol-fight between the police and the mob, during which David Murphy, a brother-in-law of the woman murdered by Redmond, was killed. One of the mob dealt Redmond a terrible blow with a sledge, and his body was riddled with bullets.

The steamship Herder, wrecked near Cape Race, Newfoundland, went to pieces on the night of the 10th inst. The wind having veered southwest a heavy sea rolled in, strewing the beach with wreckage. A comparatively small part of the cargo was saved, about 2,500 packages. Had the ship gone three or four hundred feet seaward of where she struck she would have gone clear; had she struck half her length nearer the beach, it is supposed that all hands would have been lost.

Having been troubled with a very bad Cough for about two years and having tried almost every cough mixture that was ever made, I have found none that has given me such relief as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and I earnestly recommend it to all afflicted. BENJ. F. DUGGAN, 14 Park Pl., N. Y.

We are in receipt of a letter from our old friend S. Sherson, Esq., at present a resident of the town of Rawlings, in the far-off territory of Wyoming. "Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator has helped me right along," says Mr. Sherson. Glad to hear it, old fellow. Yours was an aggravated case of heart disease. The remedy you mention does the same thing in this section too; and better still, it always cures heart disease.—Nast's Weekly Letter-File.

Spring Medicine.

As a remedy to carry off the accumulation of thick bile from the liver and viscid secretion from the other glands of the system, the Swedish Botanic Compound is invaluable. It will arouse all the functions of the body to healthy action, purify the blood, restore the appetite, and carry off those symptoms of languor and heaviness everybody feels more or less as the warm season approaches.—Adv.

MRS. VAN BUREN'S

LADIES' TONIC.

A Positive Cure for all Female Complaints.

Ladies' Tonic is prepared by the Women's Medical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., and has been used successfully by ladies for years. It is a sure cure for all Female Complaints, Sick and Nervous Headache, Dyspepsia and all weaknesses caused by those irregularities which are so common to womanhood. This is no Patent Medicine, but is prepared, after years of experience, and recommended, knowing that it will give new life to any broken-down, worn out or over-worked member of the sex.

If you have tried other remedies and found any one, do not be discouraged, but give "LADIES' TONIC" a single trial. It never fails to give good and permanent relief.

If you are troubled with any weakness or complaint common to our sex, lay aside the doctor's prescription for once, and try "Ladies' Tonic," which we guarantee will positively cure you. One Bottle is Sufficient.

Women's Medical Institute is an Association of Women and Mothers of years' experience, who give advice and answer letters from ladies, free.

You will be given, for any case of Female Weakness or Inability which "Ladies' Tonic" will not cure. This is a bona fide offer, made by responsible ladies, who know from experience that "LADIES' TONIC" can do what we say. Send stamp for circular.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS never fails to cure all these diseases.

Boston, November 26, 1881.
BROWN CHEMICAL CO.
Gentlemen:—For years I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and could get no relief (having tried everything which was recommended) until, acting on the advice of a friend, who had been benefited by BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, I tried a bottle, with most surprising results. Previous to taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, everything I ate distressed me, and I suffered greatly from a burning sensation in the stomach, which was unbearable. Since taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, all my troubles are at an end. Can eat any time without any disagreeable results. I am practically another person. MRS. W. J. FLYNN,
30 Maverick St., E. Boston.

Nothing Short of Unmistakable Benefits

Conferred upon tens of thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation which AYER'S SARSAPARILLA enjoys. It is a compound of the best vegetable alteratives, with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron,—all powerful, blood-making, blood-cleansing and life-sustaining—and is the most effectual of all remedies for scrofulous, mercurial, or blood disorders. Uniformly successful and certain, it produces rapid and complete cures of Scrofula, Sores, Boils, Humors, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases and all disorders arising from impurity of the blood. By its invigorating effects it always relieves and often cures Liver Complaints, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, and is a potent renewer of waning vitality. For purifying the blood it has no equal. It tones up the system, restores and preserves the health, and imparts vigor and energy. For forty years it has been in extensive use, and is to-day the most available medicine for the suffering sick.

For sale by all druggists.

—A mathematical professor had been invited by a city friend to visit him at his residence in a certain square, and had promised to do so. Meeting him some time afterward, the friend inquired of the professor why he did not come to see him. "I did come," said the mathematician, "but there was some mistake. You told me that you lived in a square, and I found myself in a parallelogram; so I went away again."

(From the Courier.)

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health seriously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said: "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. BOSTON, January 1, 1882. Stawjnd

The Flower City Furore.

The Commotion Caused by the Statement of a Physician.

An unusual article from the Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle, was published in this paper recently and has been the subject of much conversation both in professional circles and on the street. Apparently it caused more commotion in Rochester, as the following from the same paper shows:

Dr. J. B. Henion, who is well known not only in Rochester, but in nearly every part of America, sent an extended article to this paper, a few days since which was duly published, detailing his remarkable experience and rescue from what seemed to be certain death. It would be impossible to enumerate the personal enquiries which have been made at our office as to the validity of the article, but they have been so numerous that further investigation of the subject was deemed an editorial necessity.

With this end in view a representive of this paper called on Dr. Henion, at his residence on St. Paul street, when the following interview occurred: "That article of yours, Docter, has created quite a whirlwind. Are the statements about the terrible condition you were in, and the way you were rescued such as you can sustain?"

"Every one of them and many additional ones. Few people get so near the grave as I did and then return, and I am not surprised that the public think it marvelous. It was marvelous."

"How in the world did you, a physician, come to be brought so low?"

"By neglecting the first and most simple symptoms. I did not think I was sick. It is true I had frequent headaches; felt tired most of the time; could eat nothing one day and was ravenous the next; felt dull indefinate pains and my stomach was out of order, but I did not think it meant anything serious."

"But have these common ailments anything to do with the fearful Bright's disease which took so firm a hold on you?"

"Anything? Why, they are the sure indications of the first stages of that dreadful malady. The fact is, few people know or realize what ails them, and I am sorry to say that too few physicians do either."

"That is a strange statement, Doctor."

"But it is a true one. The medical profession have been treating symptoms instead of diseases for years, and it is high time it ceased. We doctors have been clipping off the twigs when we should strike at the root. The symptoms I have just mentioned or any unusual action or irritation of the water channels indicate the approach of Bright's disease even more than a cough announces the coming of consumption. We do not treat the cough, but try to help the lungs. We should not waste our time trying to relieve the headache, stomach, pains about the body or other symptoms, but go directly to the kidneys, the source of most of these ailments."

"This, then, is what you meant when you said that more than one-half of the deaths which occur arise from Bright's disease, is it doctor?"

"Precisely. Thousands of so-called diseases are torturing people to-day, when in reality it is Bright's disease in some one of its many forms. It is a Hydra-headed monster, and the slightest symptoms should strike terror to every one who has them. I can look back and recall hundreds of deaths which physicians declared at the time were caused by paralysis, apoplexy, heart disease, pneumonia, malarial fever and other common complaints which I see now were caused by Bright's disease."

"And did all these cases have simple symptoms at first?"

"Every one of them, and might have been cured as I was by the timely use of the same remedy—Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. I am getting my eyes thoroughly opened in this matter and think I am helping others to see the facts and their possible danger also. Why, there are no end of truths bearing on this subject. If you want to know more about it go and see Mr. Warner himself. He was sick the same as I, and is the healthiest man in Rochester to-day. He has made a study of this subject and can give you more facts than I can. Go, too, and see Dr. Lattimore, the chemist, at the University. If you want facts there are any quantity of them showing the alarming increase of Bright's disease, its simple and deceptive symptoms, and that there is but one way by which it can be escaped."

Fully satisfied of the truth and force of the doctor's words, the reporter bade him good day and called on Mr. Warner at his establishment on Exchange street. At first Mr. Warner was inclined to be reticent, but learning that the information desired was about the alarming increase of Bright's disease, his manner changed instantly and he spoke very earnestly:

"It is true that Bright's disease has increased wonderfully, and we find, by reliable statistics, that in the past ten years its growth has been 250 per cent. Look at the prominent men it has carried off: Everett, Sumner, Chase, Wilson, Carpenter, Bishop Haven and others. This is terrible, and shows a greater growth than that of any other known complaint. It should be plain to every one that something must be done to check this increase or there is no knowing where it may end."

"Do you think many people are afflicted with it to-day who do do not realize it, Mr. Warner?"

"Hundreds of thousands. I have a striking example of this truth which has just come to my notice. A prominent professor in a New Orleans medical college, was lecturing before his class on the subject of Bright's disease. He had various fluids under microscopic analysis, and was showing the students what the indications of this terrible malady were. In order to show the contrast between healthy and unhealthy fluids, he had provided a vial the contents of which were drawn from his own person. 'And now, gentlemen,' he said, 'as we have seen the unhealthy indications, I will show you how it appears in a state of perfect health,' and he submitted his own fluid to the usual test. As he watched the result his countenance suddenly changed—his color and command both left him, and in a trembling voice he said:—'Gentlemen, I have made a painful discovery; I have Bright's disease of the kidneys, and in less than a year he was dead.'"

"You believe then that it has no symptoms of its own and is frequently unknown even by the person who is afflicted with it?"

"It has no symptoms of its own and very often none at all. Usually no two people have the same symptoms, and frequently death is the first symptom. The slightest indications of any kidney difficulty should be enough to strike terror to any one. I know what I am talking about, for I have been through all the stages of kidney disease."

"You know of Dr. Henion's case?"

"Yes, I have both read and heard of it."

"It is very wonderful, is it not?"

"A very prominent case but no more so than a great many others that have come to my notice as having been cured by the same means."

"You believe then that Bright's disease can be cured?"

"I know it can. I know it from the experience of hundreds of prominent persons who were given up to die by both their physicians and friends."

"You speak of your own experience, what was it?"

"A fearful one. I had felt languid and unfitted for business for years. But I did not know what ailed me. When, however, I found it was kidney difficulty I thought there was little hope and so did the doctors. I have since learned that one of the physicians of this city pointed me out to a gentleman on the street one day, saying: 'there goes a man who will be dead within a year.' I believe his words would have proven true if I had not fortunately secured and used the remedy now known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver cure."

"And this caused you to manufacture it?"

"No; It caused me to investigate. I went to the principal cities, saw physicians prescribing and using it and I therefore determined, as a duty I owed humanity and the suffering, to bring it within their reach and now it is known in every part of America, is sold in every drug store and has become a household necessity."

The reporter left Mr. Warner, much impressed with the earnestness and sincerity of his statements and next day paid a visit to Dr. S. A. Lattimore at his residence on Prince street. Dr. Lattimore, although busily engaged upon some matters connected with the State Board of Health, of which he is one of the analysts, courteously answered the questions that were propounded him:

"Did you make a chemical analysis of the case of Mr. H. H. Warner some three years ago, Doctor?"

"Yes, sir."

"What did this analysis show you?"

"The presence of albumen and tube casts in great abundance."

"And what did the symptoms indicate?"

"A serious disease of the kidneys."

"Did you think Mr. Warner could recover?" "No, Sir. I did not think it possible. It was seldom, indeed, that so pronounced a case had, up to that time, ever been cured."

"Do you know anything about the remedy which cured him?"

"Yes, I have chemically analyzed it and upon critical examination, find it entirely free from any poisonous or deleterious substances."

We publish the foregoing statements in view of the commotion which the publicity of Dr. Henion's article has caused and to meet the protestations which have been made. The standing of Dr. Henion, Mr. Warner and Dr. Lattimore in the community is beyond question and the statements they make, cannot for a moment be doubted. They conclusively show that Bright's disease of the kidneys is one of the most deceptive and dangerous of all diseases, that it is exceedingly common, alarmingly increasing and that it can be cured.

Perhaps no medicine is so universally required as a good catharic. Swayne's Pills are prepared expressly to meet this necessity, being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other concentrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, and are truly a valuable aperient and anti-bilious medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, biliousness, fevers, drowsiness, colds, aching pains, slight chills, with flashes of heat, and female irregularities. For a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual. Mailed on receipt of price [in postage stamps,] 25 cents, or five boxes for $1. Address Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa. Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, OCT. 14. 1882.

At It Again.

The negroes of the south have commenced the "uprisings," riots," "massacres" and "fights" with which they are accustomed to precede a solid democratic vote in districts where the disturbances occur, and in which only colored republicans are ever hurt.

A despatch from Shreveport, La., (seems to us that we have heard of that place before in connection with a "negro uprising" in which only negroes were hurt,) of the 11th, was as follows: "At Kennersville, Jefferson parish, last night, at a political meeting, Daniel King, a drummer boy, attempted to get his drum from several persons who had taken possession of it. A crowd of negroes fired, and riddled him with bullets. The murderers were pursued and there was a riot, in which many persons were injured."

From Kentucky, on the 11th inst., it was announced that "a band of negro desperadoes have fortified themselves in Fulton county, and defy the authorities. The sheriff and thirty men have gone to arrest them, and bloodshed is expected."

A despatch of the 11th from Columbus, Ga., said: "Information has reached this city of a contemplated uprising of the negroes in Lee county, Alabama. A number of families have fled to this city and points near here for protection from them. It is learned that a trustworthy negro gave information to Robert Sasser, that the intention of the negroes is to burn houses and massacre whites, on Friday or Saturday." This is amply sufficient to justify a "negro riot" in which enough negroes will be killed to prevent the survivors from attempting to vote for the next ten years.

Evidently the Ohio election has been heard of by the southern democrats, and the "solid south" is to be maintained in the old way for a spell longer yet.

South Carolina commenced business some time ago, by a "negro uprising" in Lancaster county, in which twelve colored republicans were killed outright or so badly wounded that they have since died, and twenty-eight others were seriously injured, while one white democrat was slightly hurt.

News and Notes.

Fifty-six new cases of yellow fever and seven deaths were reported at Pensacola on the 11th. Many of the new cases are of a more malignant sort than heretofore. Among them is a son of the late Judge Hawkins, formerly member of Congress.

Eugene Hurd was on the 12th inst. convicted of murder in the first degree at Skowhegan, Me., for shooting his brother last August.

George D. Rise, cashier of the Dime savings bank of Lebanon, Pa., was knocked down and severely kicked and beaten by two thieves on the evening of Oct. 12th, and robbed of a valise containing $30,000 in bills. The contest was witnessed by another man, who supposed it to be a drunken row.

In the inquiry into the murder of two men named Huddy near Lough Mask, Ireland, a man named Kerrigan and his wife testified that the elder Huddy was stunned with a stone as he was serving a process. He was then kicked, and one of the assassins fired four rounds from a revolver into his body, killing him. The younger Huddy's head was then dashed against a heap of stones, and he was afterward shot in the presence of a crowd of villagers. The corpses were placed in sacks and taken to Lough Mask.

The Jeannette investigation is now fairly begun. It is said a letter will soon be presented, written by Melville prior to the departure of the expedition, in which he, after careful examination, denounced the Jeannette as unseaworthy, and said that he never expected to return in the vessel or to get back, unless he came over the ice.

A tug and seven lumber-laden barges failed to enter the Lachine canal on the 12th inst., owing to a heavy gale, and were carried down the rapids and wrecked; all hands were saved by Indian canoemen.

Specials from Manitoba and all crop sections of the British northwest report a favorable season for crops.

Mr. Jefferson Riley will speak for the Society of Spiritualists in Good Templars' hall, Sunday afternoon and evening.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Wayne C. Dodge of Salem, Mass., twenty-seven years old, bookkeeper for Silas Pierce & Co. of Boston, was killed in the Eastern railroad station in Boston on the evening of the 11th inst. in a singular manner. He was waiting to take a train, his trunk being near him on a platform in such a position that it was struck by an incoming train and thrown against the back of his neck, knocking him down and cutting a gash from the effects of which he died in a few moments. He had just bought a gun and ammunition, and was starting on a vacation trip.

The Maine Central railroad is having 400 new freight cars built. The freight business of the road is unprecedented in volume.

The choir of the Church of the Immaculate Conception of this city has received and accepted an invitation to render the music at the dedication of the new Catholic church in South Newmarket on Thanksgiving day.—Times.

Orders for the autumnal maneuvres of the North Atlantic squadron and naval training fleet have been countermanded. The navy department had placed the United States vessel Despatch at the disposal of Admiral Porter in order that he might review the ships, but all this has been changed. The Saratoga, of the training fleet, having gone to Aspinwall, cannot reach Newport, R. I., before the 20th inst., and as a portion of the North Atlantic squadron will be in Philadelphia during the bi-centennial in that city, the arrangements for maneuvres cannot be proceeded with.

DIED.

INGEBRETSEN. In Boston, at the Massachusetts General hospital, Oct. 6th, Waldemar Ingebretsen, aged about 30 years.

Or rich and poor, if you're not won
To brush your teeth with SOZODONT,
You'll one day suffer deep remorse,
For soon they'll crumble in decay,
And soon you'll cry, "Oh, lack-a-day,
That I had never changed my course."

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. Joseph T. Inman, Station D, New York City.

KIDNEY-WORT

HAS BEEN PROVED The SUREST CURE for KIDNEY DISEASES.

Does a lame back or disordered urine indicate that you are a victim? THEN DO NOT HESITATE; use Kidney-Wort at once, (druggists recommend it) and it will speedily overcome the disease and restore healthy action.

Ladies. For complaints peculiar to your sex, such as pain and weakness, Kidney-Wort is unsurpassed, as it will act promptly and safely.

Either Sex. Incontinence, retention of urine, brick dust or ropy deposits, and dull dragging pains, all speedily yield to its curative power.

☞ SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS. Price $1.

KIDNEY-WORT

Acts at the same time on Kidneys, Liver and Bowels.

LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS of the highest eminence on both sides of the Atlantic, as an invaluable Tonic and Restorative in cases of General Debility, Nervous Depression, Enfeebled Constitution and Female Weakness.

NURSING MOTHERS, who suffer from poverty of milk, will find it a specific for their troubles. It stimulates the digestion, sharpens the appetite, improves health and builds up the entire system, and excites a generous flow of milk.

WEAK AND SICKLY CHILDREN, who suffer from lassitude and weariness, the result of disease, over-study, or nervous strain, will derive substantial benefit from its use. It restores the system to its normal condition, and brings back the bloom of youth.

INVALIDS AND CONVALESCENTS will find it admirably adapted for sustaining life, and restoring lost strength. When the stomach is weak and refuses other nourishment the Extract will prove an excellent substitute for food. It not only tempts the appetite but affords the taste.

DELICATE FEMALES, who suffer from the weakness of their sex, will derive lasting relief from its use. It improves the digestion, purifies the blood, stimulates the appetite, and revives the spirits.

WEAK AND DELICATE PERSONS GENERALLY, who dispise some artificial restoratives—and especially those who are inclined to Consumption—will find this preparation exactly suited to their needs. It is a specific for the Coughs and Nervous Affections usually incident to a low state of the system.

AS A FLESH RESTORER it possesses the highest value. The whole tendency of its action is to stimulate the digestion of fat-producing foods, and its effect is invariably to give fullness and roundness to the female form, and robustness to the masculine frame.

THE LIEBIG MALT EXTRACT is a pure concentrated Fluid Extract of Malt, agreeable to the taste, and free from alcohol. It is readily retained on the stomach and contains none but wholesome and nourishing ingredients. The genuine preparation bears on the label a fine engraved likeness of Baron von Liebig, and a facsimile of his Signature, as well as that of A. VOGELER & CO., Baltimore, Md., Sole Agents for America.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

The following recent transfers of real estate in this vicinity have been left for record in the office of the register of deeds:

Portsmouth — Chas. F. Vaughan of Portsmouth, to Susan D. Flynn of Portsmouth, land and buildings, $1605; Wm. H. Rutter of Portsmouth to Sophia Seavey of Portsmouth, land and buildings, $422; Fred L. Dodge of Portsmouth to Frank Jones of Portsmouth, land and buildings, $136.66.

Newcastle—John Albee of Newcastle to Edmund C. Stedman of New York, land, $300.

South Newmarket—Freeman Sanborn of Newmarket to Frank A. Sanborn of South Newmarket, land, $106.

Newmarket—N. H. Leavitt of Newmarket to Nettie B. Jackson of Newmarket, land and buildings, $850.

Hampton — Geo. W. Southworth of Lynn to Joseph Davis of Lynn, land, $600.

To-morrow evening, in Music hall, the Park family will give a grand concert of sacred music. Of this family the Georgetown Advocate says: "The Park family, each and all, are artists, and not confined to specialties. J. F. Park is master of the violin and baritone. Annie is equally good on the cornet, violincello and zither. Nellie plays the alto horn, viola and zither to perfection. Not a single number on a fair lengthened programme failed to please and nearly every number was encored. As a brass and string quartette the Parks did wonders; as soloists they performed admirably. As a whole the entertainment was one of the very best ever given in Georgetown." See advertisement.

Three tramps who gave their names as Wm. Johnson, Chas. Russell and James Ryan, and claimed to be all from this city, were recently arraigned before the police court in Exeter to answer to the charge of theft. It seems that they were very anxious to get lodgings at the county farm, and resorted to theft to secure their end; but instead of going to Brentwood, as they had planned, they were sentenced to thirty days in the jail at Exeter, and to pay the costs of prosecution.

According to the city marshal's report for the quarter ending Sept. 30th, there were 270 arrests made during the quarter by the police, of which 161 were for drunkenness, twenty-six for desertion from the United States service, fifteen for assault, eight for being tramps, seven for vagrancy, seven for larceny, five for truancy, three for malicious mischief, and two each for adultery and breaking glass; there were eighty-two lodgers at the station during the quarter, and one dead body was picked up in the water. The total amount of fines and costs collected was $301.27, of which sum $36.79 was paid out for witness fees, and $264.48 paid into the treasury.

Charles A. Barth, watchmaker, who for some time past has conducted the watch-repairing business on Daniel street, when sober, has gone to parts unknown. He leaves behind him a family, and numerous creditors; and a number of persons who have entrusted him with watches to clean or repair, hope he has left their property behind too, but do not feel sure about it.

Senator H. W. Blair was in town on Friday.

Mr. George Herbert has put a new fish cart on the street.

The democratic committee of ward two organized last Thursday evening, and appointed executive, finance and checklist committees.

There was a running race on Richards avenue, Friday forenoon, between two horses from Stoddard's and Beacham's stables; the course was twice the length of the avenue, and the Beacham horse won.

The weirs at the mouth of the harbor were reported on Friday to be full of herring, the school of spawners having again struck in, the same as they did last year.

Mr. Seth Seelye, a ship carpenter of this city, was brought home very sick on Thursday evening last from Connecticut where he has been at work.

It was decided on Friday to discharge the cargo of the schooner Nautilus, and put her on the railway, the attempt to discover the leak by beaching the vessel having failed.

Asst. Marshal Gray and Officer White on Friday went to the Eastern railroad station to arrest a man who was said to answer closely to the description of Michael Gannon, who is wanted in Lowell, Mass., to answer to a charge of murder. They found the man, who fitted the description all right, except that he was thirty years old, whereas the murderer is under twenty, so he was allowed to go on.

The schooner Storm King is nearly ready to commence winter fishing, having received a new foremast, had her rigging and sails thoroughly overhauled, and been put in complete order. The carpenter work was done by Mr. Warren Keen.

J. W. Fuller, Esq., manager of the Direct Cable Co., who came to this country recently with John Pender, Esq., the chairman of the company, visited the cable station at Rye on Thursday. Mr. Fuller left on Friday morning, going to New York via Manchester, where he made a brief stay. He was met at Raymond by Ex-Gov. Cheney, who with his family were fellow passengers last August with Messrs. Pender and Fuller, on their voyage from England, and who goes to New York to bid his English friends bon voyage.

A man employed at discharging a coal vessel at the Eastern railroad wharf was on Thursday last smoking a pipe belonging to another man, when it fell from his mouth overboard. The pipe was a wooden one, and floated; and catching hold of a rope and throwing two turns of it round his neck, the smoker jumped overboard, recovered the pipe, and was hauled up about three-quarters dead—one-quarter drowned and half strangled. He will put the rope around his waist next time.

The sloop Carrie May, of Boothbay, Me., arrived from there in the evening on Thursday, the 12th inst., with a cargo of dry fish, cod and pollock. The sloop is a somewhat queer-looking craft, being thirty-eight feet long and fifteen feet beam; the skipper says she sails very well, and is so stiff that they never have to reef the mainsail except to save it from blowing away, as the mast would go before the boat would roll over. On Friday the fish were being disposed of in lots to suit purchasers, at five cents per lb., the captain intending if he did not readily dispose of the whole cargo, to proceed to Dover with the remainder.

One of the prominent coal merchants of the city informs us that coal freights are now very low, which indicates that the demand has generally been well supplied. To Portland from New York the freight is only ninety cents a ton; to Boston from New York, $1.05, though Boston is nearer to New York than Portland is, the difference in rates being accounted for by the fact that Portland is so much nearer the ice-shipping ports of Maine, where return cargoes may be had. From Philadelphia to Boston the freight is $1.30. Vessels for this port demand ten or fifteen cents a ton more than to Boston, though Portsmouth is nearer the ice depots, the rapid currents of our river being the ground of the extra demand.

The mayor, city marshal, city clerk and overseers of the poor went to Brentwood on Friday, on invitation of the county commissioners, to inspect the buildings and farm.

Mr. Decatur of Great Falls, N. H., who recently purchased the New Hampshire house at York beach of Mr. Nason, is getting ready to make extensive repairs and improvements on the building.

A number of persons have already been looking over the property along the line of the new road from York harbor to the eastward, with a view to the securing of building sites. The road will add a large amount to the taxable valuation of that part of the town, and do much to continue and enhance the prosperity of the beach-hotel business.

The York County Conference of Congregational churches held its semi-annual meeting at Eliot on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 10th and 11th, in the Congregational church.

The Eastern railroad has been filling in and grading the road on each side of the new over-head bridge in Eliot.

Mrs. Dwight and family, of Boston, left York Harbor for home on the 11th inst., and Mrs. T. Bigelow Lawrence on the 12th vacated the cottage occupied by her since early in the season, leaving but one family of summer visitors at the harbor.

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

A NOTED BUT UNTITLED WOMAN.

[From the Boston Globe.]

Messrs. Editors —

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. She is solemnly devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answer the large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

In personal survey portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by druggists. Any action requested in special cases, and the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply at her Home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is unsurpassed as abundant testimonials show.

"Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver. Her Blood Purifier works wonders in its special line and bids fair to equal the Compound in its popularity.

All must respect her as an Angel of Mercy whose sole ambition is to do good to all.urs.
